OGDEN, UTAH, FEB. 4, 1896.

Young Graves's Escapade.

Graves, the young man that took his two companions' clothing while they slept, was before Justice Holmes. In defense he said he put on his friend's clothes because they were better than his own and when arrested was on his way to return them. He had no intention of wearing them and as the justice thought he told the truth judgment was suspended while inquiry was made at Fort Douglas as to his previous character, he having stated that he was recently discharged from the army at that post.

Damage Suit.

A $2,000 damage suit was filed by A. H. Anderson against the Union Pacific for personal injuries sustained while riding in a train belonging to the company near Moxa, Wyo., when the engine became detached from the train, causing the carriage to come to a sudden stop, throwing plaintiff to the floor and causing him to sustain permanent injuries.

Appointments Tabled.

At the meeting of the city council last night Mayor Spencer's appointments were read and on motion of Jones were tabled. They were as follows: R. Burt Anderson, poll tax collector; W. L. Porter, city sexton; Joseph Hanscher, jailor; E. H. Nye, road supervisor; H. E. Hoare, auditor.

Crittenton Party.

The Crittenton party arrived yesterday afternoon from Salt Lake and was met at the Union depot by a committee well provided with carriages kindly furnished by the livery stable men of Ogden. The party was driven around town after which a reception was held in the M. E. Church.

Cancer Removed.

Clifton S. Browning had a cancer removed from over his right shoulder blade; his many friends hope the operation will give him permanent relief.

PROVO.

PROVO, UTAH, - FEB. 4, 1896.

A Big Canal Scheme.

The Chamber of Commerce has appointed a committee to confer with canal companies and others interested in the water question of Provo river in the south with a view to having all interested parties unite in taking all their water out in one canal. The canal, if constructed, will be at the foot of the mountains east of the city and higher than any of the three or four canals that at present carry the water. This will bring quite an area of bench land under cultivation that is now barren sage brush, but with water is specially adapted to fruit culture. The new water way will also prevent waste of water and will enable the owners to carry the precious fluid much further south than is possible under the present conditions. In addition to this, water powers can be established along the canal wherever the water is diverted for irrigation and other purposes, by reason of the elevation of the canal above the surrounding country. Another advantage to be derived is the reclamation of swamp lands below the city, as water will go down the river as under the proposed system, and this it is believed will prevent the water from rising on the low lands west of the city to a great extent and make them valuable for agricultural purposes. The proposed way of handling the water was urged upon the people by President Young forty years ago.

Notice.

Now it is Alpine's turn to furnish a gold excitement. Rich gold ore has been discovered in the mountains east of that pleasant little town and prospectors from adjacent towns are flocking to the place. Several Provo people, who have been over, are sure that one of the richest fields of the State has been discovered.

John Bowerott & Son's Co., of Ogden, have commenced suit against Wm. H. Patten and Martha M. Patten in the Fourth district court to collect $404.95 claimed to be due on two promissory notes executed in favor of C. W. Brewerton and assigned to plaintiffs.

Dan Strong, of Alpine, brought over his 13-year-old son Richard last Saturday for medical treatment. The boy has suffered for some months past with a serious heart trouble and is very weak; hopes of his recovery, however, are entertained.

Robert Smith, a resident of Highland, in the northern part of the county, has received the welcome news that he had fallen heir to $40,000 from relatives in England. The money will be paid to Mr. Smith next June.

Judge Wilson, of this city, who has been ill in Salt Lake City for several weeks, returned yesterday and is now rapidly improving in health.

The chamber of commerce will give a grand ball tonight in the opera house.

PAYSON.

PAYSON, UTAH CO., - FEB. 4, 1896.

Social and Business Notes.

A sort of dramatic fever has lately pervaded our city, due to the presence of Archie Gibbs, and a "amateur company" under direction of one Gross. Mr. Gross has organized two young people's societies, "The Juveniles" and "The Young People's Dramatic Club." The first named, composed almost entirely of children under fifteen years of age, gave its initial performance on Thursday evening last, the bill being Nick of the Woods. The audience was light, owing to a stormy night, but the efforts of the little folks were much appreciated. The play will be repeated tonight. The Young People's company are working on a piece called Rag, the Poor House Girl, and will present it at Salem and Santaquin during this week, and at the Payson opera house on Saturday evening next. The Home Dramatic company, assisted by Mr. Gresham, appeared on Saturday with last in The Country Hall. As otherwise pleasant performance was considerably marred by the necessity of the "prompter" taking a "leading" part.

The funeral services over the remains of Mr. Edward Selman were held at the First ward meeting house yesterday afternoon and were well attended. The deceased is the son of Mr. Wm. Selman, who formerly resided at Payson, but for the past year or two has been located at Price, engaged in the business of carrying the U. S. mail from that city to Fort Duchesne, Uintah county, in which undertaking he was assisted by his son who has been taken away in the very springtime of his life. The lad made a visit to his relatives in Payson during the Christmas holidays and had returned but a few days when the news of his death from the effects of typhoid fever was received, and the body was brought to this city for interment. The sympathies of the community are with the family in their hour of bereavement.

Query: Has a public school teacher to urge or force upon his scholars the use of any particular "brand" or kind of note book? Several of your readers complain that such has been done in this portion of the country, by one or two teachers, and as almost every merchandise store in so as well as the stationers, handle this line of goods as people very naturally wish to purchase where best they can, your answer to this query will be read with interest.

The usual annual gold excitement has taken place and several promising claims have been located in the mountains just west of town. It is reported that great gift has been noted and that development work will be pushed.

Two of our progressive young men propose to establish a live newspaper and printing office in this city in the near future. They are parties well adapted to such an undertaking and the venture will no doubt be a success.

Mr. Will Houte, of Springville, is in Payson arranging with local dramatic people to organize a combination which will tour Sanpete and Utah counties.

A portion of Jos. S. Douglass's hardware store has been fitted for a dancing hall, and parties were held there on last Thursday and Friday evening.

Two or three produce peddlers now make weekly trips to Mercur and report a flourishing business in that camp.

Mrs. L. O. A. Calvin, who is suffering with a paralytic stroke, still lies very low, and is hardly expected to recover.

Mrs. Oscar Fillmore has gone to Eureka for the purpose of opening a restaurant in that camp.

LOGAN.

LOGAN, UTAH - - FEB 4, 1896.

Court News.

Court has been in session here during the week, but only two jury cases were tried, the first being a suit on an appeal bond; the other was the State of Utah vs James Cunningham Jr., on the charge was the attempted rape of a five-year-old female. The case of the State vs U. G. Goodwin was dismissed. By request of Judge Hart the divorce case Jens P. Christensen vs Margaret Christensen was tried in chambers by Judge Hart. The complaint of plaintiff was dismissed and the defendant granted a divorce on her cross complaint, and an equal division of the property ordered. On Wednesday morning a grand jury was impanelled, and on Thursday evening their labors were completed and they reported having examined fourteen witnesses, ignored two cases and returned one indictment. The State vs Carl J. Danielson was dismissed on account of a defect in the indictment, but was remanded to the grand jury, who found a true bill against him. The charge is grand larceny, he being alleged that he stole a horse. Saturday was occupied principally by probate work. The conviction in the Cunningham case was the first in the State of Utah.

Notes.

On Friday evening a sad accident occurred by which Morgan, the two-year-old son of Postmaster Blair, nearly lost his life. He was thrown from a horse, which, it is supposed, afterward kicked him on the right side of the head, near the crown, badly fracturing the skull and pressing a portion against the brain. The doctors raised the depressed portions, and it was necessary to entirely remove some pieces. The boy rallied from the shock of the accident and subsequent operation, and stands a chance of recovering.

President W. J. Kerr of the B. Y. college, delivered a highly instructive and entertaining lecture on the growth and progress of education in America, before the Temple association on Saturday. The history of educational development was traced from the landing of the Mayflower up to the present, as was also the history of the leading American Universities.

Mr. John E. Price has received his commission as secretary of the Thatcher Milling and Elevator Co. and of the L. P. L. & H. U., to accept the position of manager of the Science of W. F. Remington & Co. at Portsville.

Esther Shoemaker, of the Republican, has moved his family to Logan and established his residence here. His sister-in-law, Miss La Priel Billings, will assist him in the editorial department.

A fine girl has been added to the family of R. F. Rider, and on Friday afternoon Mrs. W. W. Woodside, wife of the U. P. agent, gave birth to a ten-pound boy.

The B. Y. College gymnasium is now secured, and will be in operation as soon as the rooms can be prepared and the necessary paraphernalia obtained.

De Witt & Co. have commenced the excavation of a cellar on Main between Third and Fourth, and will erect a brick business block in the spring.

The citizens of Clarkston and Newton are going to unite in the erection of a creamery. Over $2,000 has already been subscribed.

In Pretty Good Standing.

"If wish you wouldn't invite that man home, Edward," said Mrs. Blatherd. "I'm sure he doesn't move in the best circles."

"Well," replied Mr. Blatherd thoughtfully, "I don't know much about social circles, but I have reason to know that he moves in the very best looking circles and that is good enough for me."—Chicago Post.

A Sad Accident.

"How did you come to lose your job on the road?" asked the sympathizing friend.

"Oh, just by accident," answered the ex-brakeman, a faraway look coming into his eyes as the picture of the freight wreck rose before his mental vision.—Indianapolis Journal.

OBITUARY NOTES.

EMILY CORA WILSON.

The funeral services over the remains of Sister Emily C. Wilson were held at the family residence, Feb. 3, 1896. Elder Robert Patrick presided. The music was furnished by a quartet from the Eighteenth ward choir. The opening prayer was offered by Elder W. D. Roberts. The speakers were Sisters R. Patrick, Eliza Kinder and Julia Hare. Some of these brethren had known deceased from her childhood and testified to the high terms of commendation of her character, her integrity, virtue and its near endurance during her long severe illness. All testified that their very believed that her suffering had been sanctified to her and through which she has been made perfect and has secured to herself the right to come forth in the morning of the first resurrection. The benediction was pronounced by Elder J. G. Kimball.

Deceased was the daughter of James F. Wilson and Julia Hall Wilson. She was born Jan. 10th, 1868, at Salt Lake City. She was born in the Church and has always continued faithful and true to the gospel. In 1885 she accepted a position in the Bell Telephone office in this city as an operator and by her industry and attention to duty, finally became chief operator in that institution. She continued in the employ of the company five years. After that time she was taken sick. She was confined to her bed for a long time. Indeed she never recovered. For some six years she was a patient sufferer until the last few months when she passed peacefully away to her eternal rest. She has left behind a legion of kind friends in whose hearts her name and memory will be ever sacrosanct. On behalf of the family I thank the kind friends who were unwiring in their attentions to her and rendered such efficient aid during her sickness and demise.

YOURS TRULY, JOSEPH HALL.

ABEL PARKER.

Tooele Transcript: Abel Parker was born at Brookville, Canada, West, on the 27th of June, 1825. He was married to Isabella Marshal on the 28th of June, 1850, who was born at Dunnion, Perthshire, Scotland, on August 17th, 1826, and whose death preceded that of her husband one year eight months and twenty-two days. She her Parker was first baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in the spring of 1846. He removed to Iowa in the year of 1852, intending to come to Utah the same year, but was prevented by Johnson's army being in route for Utah at that time. He came to Utah in the year 1862, arriving in Salt Lake City on June 26, and soon after arrived in Tooele, where he has since resided.

He was one of the president of the High Priests' quorum in Tooele Stake for about fifteen years. He never wavered in his faith and died in the hope of a glorious resurrection.

On Saturday, the 25th of January, at 2 o'clock, the funeral services were held at the meeting house, this city. A large number of people followed the remains from the home of the deceased in Middle canyon to the meeting house, where other friends were waiting to attend the funeral, making it all one of the largest funerals Tooele has witnessed for a long time. Elders F. M. Lyman, H. J. Grant, John Gillespie, of Tooele, and W. C. Rydalch, of Grantsville, all spoke with much feeling regarding their departed father, after which the remarks were consigned to their last resting place in Tooele cemetery.

JOHN TALBOT.

HOOPERSON, Cache Co., Utah, Jan. 27, 1896.—Dear Joan Talbot, one of the early Pioneers, who passed away at our place Jan. 19, 1896, was born in Armagh, Ireland, March 2, 1802, was baptized in Canada Jan. 18, 1836, by one of the first missionaries in Canada, and joined the body of the Church in Missouri in the spring of 1838, he passed through the sufferings that were heaped upon the Saints in Missouri and Illinois; he was at Nauvoo when the corner stone of the Temple was laid and worked upon it until completed; was intimately acquainted with the Prophet Joseph Smith, and was at Nauvoo at the time of the martyrdom. On being driven from Nauvoo he went back to Quincy, Ill., where he labored and collected the wherewith to come to the valleys of the mountains, where he arrived in the year of 1852. He first settled in Bountiful and resided there a good many years; and the good people of Bountiful will long remember him for the good work he did among them, serving in the capacity of Bishop's counselor, president of the Teacher's quorum, superintendent of Sunday school and instructor of theology, in each position being a credit to himself and a honor to his fellow workers. He also served the people of this place for eight years as justice of the peace, administering the law in righteousness.

Father Talbot was first married in Mercer, Ireland and seven children by his first wife; was married again March 11, 1861, which wife survives him and is the mother of nine children. He has forty-four grandchildren, one hundred and eleven great-grandchildren, and one great great-grandchild.

The latter part of his life has been spent in his home in Richmond, surrounded by his family and friends, where he lived in peace. "To know him was to love him."

He was a wise counselor, being well versed in all Church matters and up to the last hours his mind was as active and strong as when he was forty, though he was 93 years, 10 months and 17 days old when he passed away.

The funeral services over his remains were held in the ward meeting house on Sunday, Feb. 2, 1896, when the following remarks were made by Elders M. W. Merrill, of the Apostle; Elders Hyer and Hulbert of Richmond, and Woodruff of Mendon. Bishop Jensen, who for whom had known the deceased for upwards of 40 years. It is said of him by those who knew him best that he was one of the most upright men, and one of his fellow beings and though he has been permitted to live to a good old age and has filled up the measure of his creation in goodness, still he will be missed by his family and friends as a good father and a wise counselor. As was said at his interment, he has entered a reward and will be crowned with the just. ANON.

TURNING GRAY AND THREATENED

WITH BALDNESS

The Danger is Averted by Using

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

"Nearly forty years ago, after some weeks of sickness, my hair turned gray and began falling out so rapidly that I was threatened with immediate baldness. Hearing Ayer's Hair Vigor highly spoken of, I commenced using this preparation, and was so well satisfied with the result that I have never tried any other kind of dressing. It stopped the hair from falling out, stimulated a new growth of hair, and kept the scalp free from dandruff. Only an occasional application is now needed to keep my hair of good, natural color. I never hesitate to recommend any of Ayer's medicines to my friends."—Mrs. H. M. HARDY, Avoca, Neb.

Horses Kick

In self-defense. It is their most vigorous form of protest against the abuse of Spavins, Splints that are thrown into their flesh by cold steel. Stop the abuse and save your horses from such pain in ignorance of the danger that is liable to follow.

This is what happens. One part comes out where it should be, but the other goes into the tender flesh. Such cases are the result of the Cold-Rolled and by which the blows of metal are impacted and cast often to point apart with the length of nail. The nail is not at fault, as easily distinguished by the rough edge along the entire rear the point.
