LOCAL BRIEFS.

An entertainment will be given in the Twenty-first ward on next Thursday and Friday nights, the 17th and 18th inst., for the benefit of the Sunday school.

The Salt Lake county medical society will meet in the joint building on Monday evening, May 14th, at 8 o'clock. The order of the evening will be a free discussion of smallpox.

The "News" agent at Cedar Fort says he does not wish to be left out of the procession towards the 20,000 mark. The report of Salt Lake papers received there is as follows: Heralds 3, Tribunes 0, News 22.

The funeral of Elizabeth Laura Lloyd daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin I. Lloyd, whose death occurred on the 11th inst., will be held from the family residence Sunday at 12 m. Friends are respectfully invited.

On account of the benefit for the sufferers of the Scofield disaster in the Webster school house, the primary annual which should have been held in the Tenth ward on the 15th inst. has been postponed till further notice.

The Primary associations of the Granite Stake gave a concert last night in the Farmers' ward meeting house, which was well attended, and the program, which included songs, recitations, drills and tableau, was greatly enjoyed by those present.

The report of the local board of health for the week is as follows: Births, 41; males 17, females 24; deaths 12, equally divided between the sexes; contagious disease flags outstanding, 21 covering 27 cases of scarlet fever; "smalipox" two new cases developed during the week; total number patients in pest house 12.

Boise Statesman: J. D. Flenner left yesterday afternoon for Logan, Utah. He will deliver an address on "Success and Failure in Life" Friday night to the B. Y. college and Saturday night will deliver an address on "The Achievements of Science" to the Agricultural college. He will stop off at Albion on the return home and address the State normal there.

William H. Bramel, a young attorney of this city, has been honored with the invitation to give the University address at the Alumni reunion of the University of Wyoming on June 20th. Mr. Bramel was a member of the first graduating class of the University in 1891. He has accepted the invitation and will be on hand to orate to his old associates.

The pupils listened to an admirable address on Wednesday morning last by Prof. J. H. Paul. His subject was, "Theory of the Beautiful," and was presented in such a pleasing and instructive manner as to captivate all his hearers. With apt illustrations, clear definitions and copious quotations from the poets he held the close attention of the audience for twenty-five minutes, and did not a little to implant a better understanding of art.

At the regular meeting of the Microscopical society Thursday night the officers were re-elected to their respective offices. The resignation of Secretary H. H. Bradford was accepted and the society empowered the council to fill the vacancy. Dr. James E. Talmage, president of the society, gave an address on "Diatoms and Petroleum." The speaker explained the new theory as to the origin of petroleum, showing that recent investigation points to petroleum having been derived from diatoms. The silicious skeletons of these tiny plants make up extensive rock masses of the earth's crust. The occurrence of petroleum over the earth seems to be connected with those diatomaceous deposits, from which deposits the theory claims the petroleum has been distilled by the heat of the crust of the earth. After adjournment time was taken for observation of mounts of diatoms and various other objects under the microscope.

100 VOLUMES OF THE STANDARD DICTIONARY!

This rare work of nearly 2,400 pages, each volume weighing 17½ pounds, beautifully bound in embossed leather, issued by Funk and Wagnalls of London and New York, is now on sale at the Deseret News office. One hundred volumes have just been received. This is the work in the compilation of which Dr. James E. Talmage was engaged as one of the 200 editors. Its thoroughness is well illustrated by its treatment of the single word "Quorum," as follows:

"Quorum:" 1. Such a number of persons of any deliberative or corporate body as is necessary for the legal transaction of business; unless otherwise ordered, a majority. 2. (Eng.) Certain designated justices of the peace commissioned as JUSTICES OF THE QUORUM, without the presence of some one of whom the others could not act. 3. Mor. Ch. A council or organized body of the priesthood; as, an Elders' quorum; the quorum of the First Presidency. 4. Necessary constituents. (L., of whom, gen. pl. of "qui" (who,) from the Latin words "quorum anum—A. B. esse volumus" (of whom we desire A. B. to be one) forming part of ancient commissions, as of justices.

This rare dictionary is offered at $12 per copy. A limited number can be had for Church pay, and our schools and colleges are asked to correspond with us at once should they desire a copy.

THE DESERET NEWS.

KNOCKED DOWN AND ROBBED

The Unenviable Experience of F. W. Jones Last Evening.

For a long time there has been no hold up in Salt Lake. The tough element has confined itself to house robberies and petty thievery. But last night there was a job of highway proportions and the police are worried over it.

About 8:30 last night F. W. Jones, of 328 South Third West, was returning home and when at a point near the corner of Second West and Third South he was suddenly accosted by an affable, well dressed stranger who politely inquired the hour. Mr. Jones took his gold watch from his pocket for the purpose of ascertaining the time but ere he had the chance to speak the stranger struck him a jolt in the neck that almost put him out. He was knocked down and the thug jumped onto him and held him vise-like by the throat while a confederate, who was standing near relieved him of his watch and $21 in cash. After securing his valuables the robbers kicked Jones a couple of times for luck and then ran away in the darkness. Jones immediately reported the matter to the police and exhibited the marks on his neck and face received in the struggle.

MAORI MINISTER HERE.

Visiting the United States in Behalf of His People.

Rev. Wherahiko Rawei, B. A., a native minister of New Zealand, arrived in the city yesterday from San Francisco. He is on his way east, and will remain a day or two, to deliver a few lectures.

Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. Rawei will address the Iliff Methodist Sunday school. At 4 p.m. he will speak at the Y. M. C. A., and at 7:45 p. m. will speak in the First Baptist church. On Monday and Tuesday evenings he will deliver lectures on New Zealand and South Sea life, illustrated with stereopticon views. No admission fee.

REALTY AND BUILDING.

Building Inspector Ulmer issued the following permits during the week:

Total, $27,900.

FARRINGTON'S STABLES,

Now Located on State Street, Among the Finest in the City.

John Farrington, the well known livery man, has moved from his old quarters, on west South Temple street, to new and more modern stables at 162 and 164 South State street, formerly occupied by the Consolidated Implement Company. Mr. Farrington has been in business in this city since 1882, and under his wise and able management he has twice been enabled to move to more commodious quarters. Kindly in his manner, and of the strictest integrity in all his dealings, he commands the respect of the citizens generally.

A representative of the "News" last evening called upon Mr. Farrington at his new place of business, and by him was taken through the building which has a frontage of 49 feet by 180 feet deep. The outside presents a most attractive and appropriate front, while the inside resembles a mammoth carriage establishment. On the first floor there was seen a large number of very fine call carriages, broughams and light vehicles. The second floor, reached by means of a freight elevator, contains several dozen small buggies and carriages of all kinds and descriptions. In the rear of the building the horses are kept in iron box stalls, with dirt floors. It is no exaggeration of the truth to say that these stalls are the best in the city, so neat and well arranged are they.

"Until now," said Mr. Farrington to the reporter, "I have been unable, for lack of room, to do my patrons justice. Now, however, I am prepared to do all kinds of livery business, and propose to give special attention to boarding and caring for horses."

Those who know Mr. Farrington best say that his pronounced success in business is the result of a humble endeavor to give satisfaction. His numerous friends and patrons wish him continued success and prosperity.

EMERY COUNTY TEACHERS

Superintendent Luke Announces Institute at Castle Dale, June 4 to 15.

Pres't J. H. Paul of the L. D. S. and Mrs. Lilian Cannon of the B. Y. A. are the Instructors.

Mr. B. F. Luke, county superintendent of schools for Emery county, has issued an announcement and program for the official institute which will be held this summer in Castledale, Utah, from June 4th to 15th inclusive. He says the instruction and work to be given will be especially adapted to the practical needs of the teachers there; and that the exercises will be presented in such a manner that all the points advanced will be plain, forcible and in accordance with the best modern ideas of education. Prof. J. H. Paul, president of the Latter-day Saints' College, and Mrs. Lillian H. Cannon, training teacher of the B. Y. Academy, have been engaged as instructors. The superintendent says a most profitable session is thus assured. All teachers expecting to teach in Emery county schools will be required to attend this institute.

The program consists of lectures on psychology, language, nature studies, and methods by the instructors; and of papers and discussions by the county teachers.

On the first day, June 4th, at Castledale, an interesting program of opening exercises has been arranged.

Public evening lectures will be given at:

Orangeville, Tuesday evening, June 5th.

Huntington, Wednesday evening, June 6th.

Ferron, Friday evening, June 8th.

Emery, Saturday evening, June 9th.

Castledale, Monday evening, June 11th.

Cleveland, Tuesday evening, June 12th.

The lectures will be devoted to the encouragement of the young people in their efforts at self-improvement, and to the enlightenment of the public as to the present trend of educational thought. Much interest is felt in the approaching session, and the teachers are awaiting with pleasure a two weeks' session of pleasant and profitable work.

THE TRUTH STATED.

Statement of Facts in Regard to the Death of Mrs. Halverson.

To the Editor:

In order that no false impressions may go abroad in regard to the supposed or real death of Sidonia Reiser Halverson, about which so many conflicting stories are afloat, the undersigned wish to make a statement of facts in relation thereto.

Dr. E. L. Colburn without solicitation from any of the family asked that he be allowed to treat Sidonia and entered into the following written contract.

"I hereby certify that if Mrs. S. R. Halverson does not want to continue after five months, I will give her a receipt in full to date without any charge. E. L. COLBURN."

So saguine was the doctor of success in this case that he offered to bet $5,000 that he would cure her.

It might be well to state that hers was a case of malignant cancer, for which she had undergone an operation performed by Dr. Pinkerton in November last. Other physicians had examined her and pronounced her case hopeless. He commenced treating her on the 1st of the present month, every instruction of the doctor was fully carried out with the result that she continued to get worse and became weaker until she passed away on the fifth inst. at 8:05 p. m.. Dr. Colburn came to the house about 9:30 p. m. After looking at her he remarked, "poor girl, it is too bad; she did not have the vitality necessary to successfully pass the ordeal," or words to this effect. After making two or three tests, he pronounced her dead. About 2 p. m. on Sunday Undertaker J. E. Taylor, in responding to a call took charge of the body, learning that it being her request whenever she died that her funeral should be held on a Sunday, suggested embalming as the surest method of preserving the body. To this the family objected, and asked the use of the ice box. Undertaker Taylor said in view of her amaciated condition outward applications in connection with a little ice in bottles placed around the body would answer every purpose. This plan was adopted, and the body is today in a fair state of preservation.

Imagine our surprise at the doctor coming to the house at 4 p. m. Sunday and without asking permission he applied what is called the match test to the first joint of the index finger of the right hand and burned the skin. Evidence of death was thus demonstrated. He now desired to use the battery and this being refused he became angry and declared she was not dead and that he would not sign the death certificate.

The family were very much disturbed and reported the matter to Mr. Taylor, who furnished at once unmistakable signs of her death which were perfectly satisfactory.

The climax to the whole story was reached on Thursday last when the doctor consented to sign the certificate of death and made this remark: "I knew she was dead from the first, but I did not want to scare the family. I have done the best I could in the case."

Comment on our part is unnecessary.
