ENGLAND'S DEMANDS

Ultimatum Submitted to the Government of Nicaragua

AND A MAN-O'-WAR TO ENFORCE IT

Preparatory to Action Upon the Honor of American Citizens—The President Has Interfered.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, March 18.—The British government, through its minister here, has submitted an ultimatum to Nicaragua. It demands a satisfactory settlement of the Mosquito question by Nicaragua, or Nicaragua will be held responsible for the expulsion of Mr. Hatch, British consular agent, during the troubles of last year, and for the imprisonment of a commercial agent of the British government, and to investigate the damages claimed by the persons and property of British subjects who were expelled from the Mosquito reservation about two years ago.

By the terms of the ultimatum Great Britain is to retain one of the commercial agents and Nicaragua shall not interfere in any case in which a third, who is not a citizen of the United States, may be involved, or British claims. It was also made known that a British warship is now on the way to Nicaragua to enforce these demands, which must be complied with within seven weeks from the 25th of February last, the date of the ultimatum.

DOUBLE ATTACK.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 18.—It is admissible to learn positively whether the state department has been asked officially or the seven demands made upon Nicaragua by Great Britain, but from one high State Department source it was stated that the ultimatum of Nicaragua to settle the difficulty, officially paid several visits to the state department to complain with Dr. Guzman, the president of Nicaragua, present, it is assumed that our government is fully posted in regard to the matter.

It cannot be denied that this new outlook takes in connection with the public attitude of Great Britain towards Venezuela, promises to lead to some of a very serious character. Nicaragua thus has the sympathy of the country.

There are positions of indemnity existing in Venezuela growing out of claims of some European nations. Any of the claims grow out of the action of those countries to meet their obligations to foreign creditors under the decree of Guzman Blanco, which was one of the worldwide captivation in 1888. As the European governments appear to be willing to extend their intervention in their own behalf, it is a question that the United States will quickly settle as to how far it is proper to permit this process to go on.

Some fear is a rather disagreeable reflection upon American citizens in the opinion that none such shall arise on the commission to adjudicate the claims. On the whole it is probable that the President will intervene in some way to substitute of the sense of his officials by an appeal to the British government, representing the just hardship that it would visit on Nicaragua under her present national condition to prefer a demand for a sum of indemnity.

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS.

Interesting Opinions on the Status of Previous.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 18.—In the case of J. S. Field Jr., receiver of the Brunswick & Cumberland Oil Railroad company, appellant, against Ada Cobbs and the Atlantic Trust company, from the circuit court for the eastern district of Tennessee, Justice Brewer delivered the opinion. It was held that the circuit court has not the power to take the property out of the hands of the receiver appointed by the state court. Justice Brewer said that the bona fide ownership of possession is the before such did not therefore the which was in the first instance wrongful into rightful possession.

The case was remanded to the circuit court for proceedings not inconsistent with the opinion.

BANKS OF VENEZUELA.

An interesting opinion was the opinion of justice was delivered by Justice Brewer. "Congress being at liberty to give or withhold pensions," said the justice, "may determine on the circumstances for which pensions should which may qualify, therefore may be recognized. No man has a legal right to interfere in the matter of obtaining pensions for himself or others. The whole matter is in the hands of Congressional power."

This declaration was incidental to the decision upon the appeal of Henry N. Fenkin, who was convicted and sentenced to three months' imprisonment by the circuit court in Louisiana on an indictment charging that he demanded a greater sum than $10 for his prosecuting a pension claim, in violation of the act of June 27, 1890, which provid that such act is a misdemeanor. The justice said: "It is within the constitutional power of the government to restrain some individuals from some contracts" and referring to contracts for the purchase or sale of money claims in that connection. After stating that a pension granted by the government is a matter of bounty, that no pensioner had a vested right to his pension, that Congress had a right to give, withhold, mitigate, or recall them, Justice Brewer said:

"Having power to legislate on this matter, to prescribe the conditions under which pensions may be obtained, or pensions, it has the equal power to enforce by penal provisions compliance with its requirements. Those can be no reasonable question of the constitutionality of the statute." The conviction was sustained.

Something Wrong at the Canon Hill.

CANON, Nev., March 18.—A note of Mexican government mint inspector and superintendent of the New York assay department, has been in Canon the past week, inspecting bullion at the Union mine mill in this city.

The fact of so much money passed ugly rumors, and this evening it was learned from John Harris, owner and refiner, that something was wrong at the mint and a shortage has been discovered about a month ago. It was learned that another party, the chief assay department, disappeared, and that five months ago with were made in quick succession, as though some clerical error had been made, failed to reveal the cause of the shortage. Harris and gold and silver in that manner and disappeared from the department and Inspector Moore expects to be able to clear up the mystery in a day or two.

Story from Samoa Denied.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The report brought by Judge Drake of Salt Lake City, from Hawaii, that Malietoa Laupepa's restoration will be considered and a general election held for the selection of a successor, is not confirmed by the state department. They also deny the claim of the Hawaiian consul-general that Sanford Ballard Dole has been made president of the republic of Hawaii in his office until 1896.

Representative McCleary, who is referred to in the dispatch from Salt Lake, as having commissioned congressman Dorsey to make an investigation of Samoa affairs, said:

"I wish to deny the whole story. I never met Judge Drake in Hawaii, and did not know he was going with which he had gone. He went to separate the health of his son, Mr. Drake, remaining at San Francisco with a relative of mine. I never heard of an investigation of Hawaii for myself or for the Foreign affairs committee, and I have not and will not receive a report on that subject."

Germany and Samoa.

LONDON, March 18.—A dispatch to the Times from Berlin says that the Imperial Gazette makes the startling statement that the state council in adopting Bismarck's declaration on the subject of Samoa, adopted some of those proposals. "Without prejudicing our imperial territory." The declaration in the current question that Malietoa was in the Samoan was as follows:

"Without prejudicing our imperial territory, and most positive that the difference in the case of good and error continue to record in the interior life. Following therefore the tendency that leads the appointment of settled conditions, I am ready to consider the proposals which the local government, whether we cannot enter again on the changing of opinion as to minimum personal sacrifice with the state value, which has chiefly interested in making the value of silver."

Postoffice Employees Combine.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 18.—The postoffice department has information of the formation of a powerful combination of postal employees, designed to bring pressure upon the government to overturn certain regulations and rules of the department. The employees have been encouraged by success in attaining to the last order affecting appointments in the postoffice which was issued an order of the department. This order was issued for June and directed that before the 1st of every month, everything appointments should remove to some point along the line of route on which they were employed. This was manifestly in
