A CONSULTATION

Between Harrison and Blaine Concerning the Legal Points in the Dispatch to Rudini.

THE CONVENTION OF MINERS AND OPERATORS.

Preparing to Carry Out the Provisions of the Fortification Appropriation Act.

By Telegraph to the News.

BLAINE'S REPLY TO RUDINI.

Consultation Between the President and the Secretary.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—President Harrison was in consultation over an hour this morning with Secretary Blaine. It is learned that the conference was upon the phraseology of the legal parts of Blaine's answer to Rudini's dispatch. The previous correspondence in the matter has been handled solely by Blaine, but it is understood that the question of treaty obligations has assumed a work of serious nature and it is necessary to have set forth in regard an interpretation of the treaty when will stand. President Harrison is anxious to have the forthcoming reply to appear in such language that the meaning cannot be distorted.

The Strike of the Burlington Men.

OMAHA, April 9.—The strike of the Burlington men is assuming a serious nature. The yards are guarded by a strong police force. The strikers are taken advantage of, but threaten to injure the non-union men at work.

THE MINERS' CONVENTION.

It Comes to a Sudden and Inharmonious End.

PITTSBURG, April 9.—The Interstate Convention of Miners and Operators came to an inharmonious end sudden-ly this evening. After a fierce battle of words and opinions, further talk was declared positless and the conference adjourned made sine die. This action means practically that the interstate agreement has been abolished and the miners and operators will be thrown on the mercy of the law of supply and demand that have existed between the two classes for the past five years are broken off and may not be resumed. It also means that 25,000 miners in Ohio and Pennsylvania regions will stop work on the 1st of May, affecting 50,000 people directly and hundreds of thousands indirectly. As the mine workers of the country will also demand the eight-hour day, a continuation of work after May 1st now seems almost impossible. Two great organizations, the Knights of Labor and the Federation of Labor, are back of the men, and their money will be at their disposal.

W. P. Reed, of Chicago, was the only one of the speakers favoring the eight-hour day; the others said it would be so that they could not stand it, and that the cost of production would not be increased by it, etc.

After the adjournment of the conference the miners held a meeting and decided to demand an advance on May 1 equivalent to 10 cents per ton, on a basis of eight-hour day, failing which a strike will follow.

Late longer some of the leaders of the miners stated that they were satisfied that the influence of the country were at the back of the operators in their fight against the eight-hour movement, and the fight would extend to the miners also. The operators, in a general way, conceded that some western mines were supporting the fight against hours, but denied any concerted move.

The Fortification Appropriation Act.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The ordinance officers at the War Department have been earnestly at work for weeks past preparing to give effect to some of the more important provisions of the fortification appropriation act, which go into operation after June 30th. To avoid loss of time, most of the advertisements for proposals to supply material have been prepared and will be issued in advance of the beginning of the new fiscal year. Those ready for issue are as follows: For twenty-five sets of forgings for steel field guns of 32-inch caliber; sixteen sets for field mortars 30-inch calibre and six steel carriages for the same; steel forgings for large 8, 10 and 12-inch coast defense guns; 8, 10 and 12-inch armor-piercing projectiles for the large coast defense guns above referred to.

Congress appropriated $200,000 for procurement of the necessary forgings, and the material will be assembled at the Watervliet factory and finished guns turned out. The thirty-seven mortars mark a new departure in military field operations. They are intended to replace the small Cohorns, which are used in trenches for shelling an enemy behind earthworks or like defenses, and out of direct fire of field guns. Their range is nearly three times as great as the Cohorn and unlike mortars, the projectile is more than twice as heavy, and great accuracy of fire is claimed for it. The weight of the piece is about 325 pounds, so it can be easily transported in a wagon or carried about by the men in the trenches. The armor piercing projectiles are to be manufactured by private concerns, but upon specifications that will secure the use of some one of the modern processes of armor plate. For their procurement an appropriation of $100,000 will be available.

The President's Itinerary.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The itinerary of the President's tour was finally prepared today. The personnel of the party is not finally determined, but it is believed that Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. Dimmick, Postmaster General Wanamaker, Secretary Rusk, Private Secretary Halford, Marshal Blanchard and E. General Passenger Agent Boyd of the Pennsylvania road will have general charge of the train which will start from here next Tuesday morning, going via Chattanooga, Birmingham, Memphis, Galveston and Los Angeles to San Francisco, and returning via Portland, Salt Lake City, Denver, Omaha, Springfield and Indianapolis.

SENSATIONAL STORY

Relative to the Incarceration of Anna Dickinson in an Insane Asylum.

TUPPER DENIES THE INTERVIEW WITH SERGEANT.

Braining Two Children with an Ax, and Taking a Dose of Concentrated Lye.

By Telegraph to the News.

ANNA DICKINSON.

A Startling Story Relative to Her Incarceration.

NEW YORK, April 9.—The Herald will tomorrow publish a startling story relative to the incarceration of Anna Dickinson, the famous lecturer, in an insane asylum. It says Miss Dickinson came to New York today with Dr. Seward of Goshen, N. Y., at whose home she has been since she escaped from Danville, April 2nd. They came for the purpose of apprising Mr. Dickinson's friends in New York of the wrong she has suffered, and to secure legal advice as to the steps necessary to secure her freedom if she returned to Pennsylvania.

Miss Dickinson lays the blame for her incarceration upon her sister, whom she accuses of harboring an intense feeling of jealousy and hatred. She also accuses her sister's physician, Dr. Hileman, of being in the plot against her. She says she was taken by force from her sister's house to the asylum, she resisting till the girls was torn from her arms and her garments torn to rags.

Dr. Seward, it appears, became informed of the facts and secured the release of Miss Dickinson. He expressed himself entirely confident of the sanity of Miss Dickinson. Miss Dickinson herself when seen by a reporter was perfectly calm and rational. She will prosecute her sister for the mental and physical suffering she has undergone.

He says that he cannot only substantiate with accuracy all he stated but he can show that the best interests of the company were sacrificed by the president's miserable mismanagement.

This morning, before the children, a girl and boy, aged 7 and 9, were dressed, she took them to the bedroom and with an axe crushed their skulls. She then replaced the bodies in bed, nailed the doors shut, and after taking a dose of concentrated lye, called out of the windows for the neighbors to come and see her children. When the door was forced the sight was sickening. On the bed by the mangled forms of the two little ones, while in the kitchen the insane mother lay writhing on the floor. THE UNION LEAGUE

Condemns the New Orleans Affair and Considers the Immigration Question.

NEITHER DUNN NOR CALL PLEASES THE FARMERS.

Advices Received of the Success of the British Forces Near Manipur.

By Telegraph to the News.

NOTHING BUT MURDER.

The New Orleans Killing is to Treated by the Union League.

NEW YORK, April 9.—The committee on political reform of the Union League Club tonight submitted a long document on the recent killing in New Orleans, which was adopted. It considers the matter gravely from a judicial standpoint, saying that, while it is highly probable that there was a kind of mob justice meted out to the victims, it was, under a government of law and order, nothing but murder. The event cannot be viewed with any great equanimities. Such examples are contagious and no one can tell when the next mob will undertake to correct failures that are supposed to occur in the administration of the law, nor how many such mobs will be our system of government will endure.

Attention is then given to the immigration question and the document says: "We have always boasted that this land is an asylum for the oppressed of all nations. For many years we have been an asylum of the criminals and paupers of all nations. We have taken in such a kind of ignorance, pauperism and crime, and clothed it with the full panoply of citizenship that Americanism is being diluted and tainted to a way truly alarming. All the better elements of the country should unite in dealing with this flood. The time is propitious to agitate these questions before it is too late and see if something cannot be done to save our country and institutions from the peril that menaces them.

"If the present laws are not sufficient, others should be framed. To postpone or fly from meeting this issue is perilous and cowardly. The doctrine contended for is not applicable to any one nationality, but to all."

Resolutions were adopted calling upon the Governors of the several States to use all lawful means to prevent the importation of criminals and paupers, declaring that the courts be rigid in administering the laws as to naturalization, and calling upon the press and public to agitate and discuss the subject of importation of criminals and paupers.

DUNN AND CALL.

Neither Can Be Supported by the Farmers, it is Said.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 9.—The sensation of the day is the publication of a letter from President Rosser of the State Alliance in which he says he cannot support Dun for United States Senator "because he is a National banker," but Call, either, "because the latter is not in sympathy with the demands of the National Alliance." The letter appeals to the Alliance legislators to unite on some clear majority, to unite upon a straight-out Alliance candidate. Over half the Alliance legislators are supporters of Call, however. Call does not favor the free Treasury bill, but is in sympathy with the Alliance on its other demands.

Another sensation was sprung this afternoon by the distribution to the members of a circular issued by Senator Call, denouncing as "an absolute and malicious falsehood" the statements made by Editor Dunning of the Farmers' Alliance that he (Call) was hostile to free silver coinage and to all the principles of the Farmers' Alliance. On the sub-treasury scheme he says: "I have frequently expressed the opinion that the sub-treasury system ought to be modified so as to accomplish all the objects desired by the Alliance.

THE BRITISH IN INDIA.

The Manipuris Willing to Recognize the British Authority.

SIMLA, April 9.—The letter of the Manipur leader also contains the following: "I deeply regret the sad event, which was due to the rashness and indiscretion of the British officers."

A second letter was received, saying the surviving British subjects, with the exception of the clerk and interpreter, were liberated before the disaster, and he regrets the Government for their release had been received.

Advices are received here of success for the British forces near Manipur. The dispatches say the Manipuris made a fierce attack on the force of Gholas commanded by Lieutenant Grant, who received the aid of Ft. Thaba, driving out the force of Manipuris at the point of the bayonet, after playing sad havoc in their ranks by a well-directed fire. Two men of the Gholas in addition to the killing of their leaders, was very heavy. The dispatch adds that much needed reinforcement has arrived at Ft. Thaba. This, combined with Lieutenant Grant's victory, has so disheartened the Manipuris that they have now announced that they are ready to recognize the authority of the British officials. Additional troops are on the way to Manipur, where the measures adopted, and the subsequent fate of Quinton and his party will be thoroughly investigated.

SECRETARY PROCTOR

Has No Intention of Resigning His Office Immediately.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—It is learned on good authority that Secretary Proctor has no intention of resigning his office immediately. His return from the West to Washington was caused by personal reasons, in addition to a desire to see the President before the latter left. He will resume the discharge of his duties at his office when he returns to Washington, but if Governor Page, during the adjournment of the Vermont Legislature, should continue to appoint the Secretary to the United States Senate to fill the vacancy caused by Senator Edmunds's retirement, it is stated by authority that Proctor will accept the appointment.

Omaha, Neb., April 9.—Secretary Proctor and party passed through Omaha this evening en route for Washington. In reply to a question the Secretary said: "I am not a candidate for Senator from Vermont.
