BREVITIES.

The best thing out—An aching tooth.

What is the key-note of good breeding? It is natural.

Lord John Russell has just been made the grandfather of twins.

Does a man with one arm have an off-hand way of doing things?

Jeff. Davis considers Federal hospitality a cell.

One of the few immortal names not born to die—Anonymous.

Thad. Stevens says the military will rule this country for 25 years.

Why are strikes unscriptural? Because they are contrary to the hire law.

"Working for bare life" is defined to be making clothes for a new baby.

"Much remains unsung," as a tom cat said when a brick-bat cut short his serenade.

A "boy" in Brattleboro, Vt., has attended the same Sabbath school for fifty years.

At a recent sale of autographs in New York, George Washington's brought $5, and Tom Paine's $7.

"Which is the entrance out?" asked an Irishman, at a railway station, the other day.

A man in Bloomington, Md., while in a fit, fell into a fire, burned both eyes out and one ear off.

In Searey, Arkansas, a pair of twin girls were born a few days ago, each having twenty fingers.

The World says Horace Greeley is a "self-made man who worships his creator."

Bethel, Conn., has no rumshops, no poorhouse, no paupers, no town debts. "There is a happy land."

The Iowa girls are having a walking match through the State from North to South for $500.

Many persons write because they have nothing to do, not considering that they have also nothing to say.

The London Times advertises: "To invalid, hard-worked, and young clerical men, six hundred manuscript sermons for sale."

A Texas negro was so tickled at receiving his first ballot that he fell dead of joy and heart disease before he could deposit it.

An illiterate man, wishing to enter some animals at an agricultural exhibition, wrote as follows to the secretary: "Also enter me for the best, jacks; I am sure of getting the prize."

The first newspaper ever printed west of the Mississippi was The Louisiana Gazette. It was started in 1808, and still flourishes, though under another name. It is now called, The St. Louis Republic.

"Dear Gim—Cum rite off if you air cummin at all. Ed. Collins is insisting I shell hev him, and he hugs and kisses me so continually that I can't hold out much longer, but will have to have in."

Mr. Ward Hunt, the new Chancellor of the Exchequer, is six feet six inches high and proportionately stout—the tallest and heaviest man in the House.

A cedar tree which is shown by its rings to be 186 years old, was recently cut from the crevice of a rock on the summit of Mount Holyoke, and was only 4-8 inches in diameter, so scanty had been its subsistence.

A young buck of the soaplock order, who wore an unshaven face, because as he said, "It looked foreign," lately accosted a Yankee as follows:

"I say, fellow, some individuals think I am a Frenchman, and some take me for an Italian; now what do you think I am?"

"Wal I think your a darned fool," replied Jonathan.

"Sir," said one of two antagonists, with great dignity to the other, during a dispute which had not been confined to words, "you have called me a liar and a scoundrel, you have spit in my face, you have struck me twice. I hope you will not arouse the sleeping lion in my breast, for if you should, I cannot tell what may be the consequences."

A gentleman was chiding his son for staying out late of nights—or rather, early next morning—and said: "Why, when I was of your age my father would not allow me to go out of the house after dark!" "Then you had a deuce of a father—you had," sneered the young prodigal. Whereupon the father very rashly vociferated: "I had a confounded sight better'n than you, you young rascal!"

Goddu's patent shoe-pegger is a new instrument, destined to do all the boot and shoe pegging of the country, as soon as its merits are fully understood. The machine makes the hole, cuts off the peg, and drives them home, and steps forward far enough for another peg by just turning a crank. A workman can easily peg a boot or shoe in one minute, which is a great saving of time, and the machine does the work in a much more thorough manner than it can be done by hand.

An attempt was made in this country ten or twelve years ago, to produce photographic pictures in colors. A similar experiment in France is noted by the Pall Mall Gazette.

"By a process, which is still a secret, M. Adolph Braun, of Dornach (Haut Rhin), has produced an immense number of absolute fac-similes of the best drawings left by the great masters. These new photographs are superior to all former works of the same kind in the ordinary excellences of detail and surface quality. They also produce exactly the tint of the original, neutral, brown, red or greenish, as the case may be. They are confidently asserted to be absolutely permanent, but this must, of course, remain to be proven by time."
