THE MINING MARKET

An Unprecedented Raid on East Golden Gate Stock Today.

TWENTY-FOUR THOUSAND SHARES

Changed Hands During the Call—Sim ndh and Northern Light Dealt in—Also Other Lines.

East Golden Gate stock was played upon by the brokers on 'change today as never before in the history of the present institution, the Salt Lake Stock and Mining Exchange. Transfers of the stock were made back and forth and to and fro, from one broker to the other, until 24,000 shares had changed hands. There is not thought to be any special significance attached to the event, further than that the bulls and bears took their heads to have some fun, even if they had to sell and buy back again at the same figure. The Alta stock sustained its firmness of the past week or so, standing as an offering at 99 cents with 75 bid for it. This company is in splendid condition at present and it is hinted that ere long dividends will begin to materialize. Mammoth showed a degree of activity during the call and sold at $2.06 and $2.07½. It was a standing offer at the latter figure. Mercur remained firm, the stock being offered at $6.10 with $5.90 bid, while Ontario could have been bought at $10.50, and was bid for at $9.25.

Northern Light was the only stock in the unlisted class which ceremonied a sale. A small block went at 45 cents, while more of it was offered at 49. Dunyan and Solitaire Swansea were quoted with good quotations, the latter showing firmness strength in the bidding. Sunbeam was offered at 32½ cents with a bid of 20 cents for the stock.

The closing figures were as follows:

ABOUT STATE LINE.

An Article Descriptive of the New District and Its Advantages.

A correspondent to the Iron County Record, signing himself "J. P." writes the following careful and comprehensive article on the new State Line district and its many advantages:

There has been so much said of late about State Line, that it is now proving a mining camp trying on the corners of western Utah and adjoining eastern Nevada, that it seems almost superfluous to say anything more concerning it; nevertheless, a few words further on the subject may make attention and interest in my notes altogether satisfactory to most of them.

As far as situation and natural advantages are concerned, the camp has about all that could be reasonably desired, being admirably located, easily accessible from all quarters and possessing without an abundance of timber, which together with several springs of pure, cold water scattered here and there, and its high altitude make it a most refreshing, not to say delightful place for a summer resort, aside from its peculiar attraction as a mining camp.

Lion City as the newly made town is called, lies at the junction of two pretty canyons, which meet at its western extremity; it is nicely surveyed and laid out, while its buildings and streets may be said to be all on the square and "strictly in line." The city overlooks Hamlin valley on the east with the mountain range on the west, and includes already a number of restaurants, stores, a restaurant, one hotel, stable, etc.

The town is situated for the most part in the two canyons referred to and is nearly reached by good wagon roads. Considering that the district was only discovered last January and the amount of outside capital, but little money has yet to show up to good advantage, although but little work has so far been done on them.

It cannot, therefore, be said they are yet developed, even in outlines, with so much of immediately rich ore in a gold, but they certainly promise with the necessary development to become good paying properties—undoubtedly if silver be considered—and the road from Milford to extended, as in the former week it surely will be.

The bonanza, regular, well defined and contain, as a rule, small veins of streaks of exceedingly rich ore. While the average value of the ore is not as high as might be desired, yet the indications of finding larger high grade bodies are very encouraging, by the bye, and with a moderate expenditure of capital the district could fair in one course to equal any on the good lands in regard to the quality as well as the quantity of its ores.

The best developed mine in the district, so far, is the Ophir, now down about 150 feet, and which has a strong, well defined ledge of silver ore all the way to the bottom of the shaft, a work that has been put on the property and on expenditure have paid all expenses from the gross proceeds of the ores, having a large quantity of second class ore on the dump. Adjoining the Ophir is the Hurst and Queen of the Hills mines, which as in the case of the Ophir, have also covered expenses for development work by shipment of rich ore sent from time to time to Salt Lake. The same may be said with regard to several other claims in the district, notably the Crown, Gold Haven and Uncle Sam, all having made small shipments of ore taken from streaks and spots in the veins. There are a great many prospects in the camp which like the others when sufficiently developed will become big ore producers.

As to the early future of the district all depends on silver and the transportation. With the white metal remained railroad communication would quickly follow and so would ample capital for development and suitable facilities for working low grade materials—both gold and silver—on the ground. Meanwhile the plucky fellows that will stick to their work and persevere in doing their development as their limited means will aid, will pick their reward, for while the political future, on which our financial interests depend—cannot with certainty be predicted for a single day, it is undoubtedly all at promise, and owner of later in the natural things cannot fail to work out to profit as in analogy with eternal justice in the speedy emancipation of the mines from the curse (penny of piecemeal) demonetization.

Rise and Spurs.

The song sum of $45,000 was distributed in dividends today—$30,000 from the Bullion Beck and $15,000 from the Mammoth.

The Mammoth company was scheduled for a meeting this afternoon and it was not known whether a dividend would be declared or not.

Brigham Woolley came back from his short outing this morning. He took advantage of the open duck law and bagged a few of the feathered tribe before returning.

It is reported that a two-foot body of surface ore carrying assays of 32 per cent lead, 21 ounces silver and $6.61 in gold to the ton, has been discovered in the Superior lode at Park City.

The Ajax company held its annual stockholders' meeting yesterday when the following officers and directors were elected to serve for the ensuing year: Frank Knox, president and treasurer; H. M. Ryan, vice president; W. G. Nebeker, secretary; George A. Lowe, William H. King, G. H. Robinson and L. P. Regin.

The Japan Mining and Milling company, with a capital stock of $250,000 divided into $1 shares, has filed articles of incorporation. The company will buy, sell and operate mining properties and its trustees are Thomas Smith, John Rigney, W. F. Scollan and Charles Auerbach, of whom are directors and officers of the company.

AMUSEMENTS.

AT THE GRAND.

My Partner was the bill at the Grand last night, and it was given before the usual Monday night attendance. It is one of the old time dramas, full of heart interest and abounding in thrilling situations, though some humorous comedy scenes pervade it. It is strongly suggestive in plot and action of Milton Nobles's play From Sire to Son. My Partner is the play with which the Walker Opera house was opened in 1885 and was then presented by Addison and Parsons and a strong supporting company. Mr. Addison is still the owner of the manuscript and it was from him that Manager Rigers procured it, for this week's production. In the hands of the Grand company the play was well presented last night, generally speaking, though it is necessary to reiterate that Miss Dalgarno is hardly fit for such the Beacon, which requires soulful expression and sympathetic acting. Walter Edwards impersonated well the rough but good hearted Saunders, one of the partners, and Mr. Wygant made a good impression as Ned Singleton, the other partner. Miss Chamblin while doing her part well, a better fitted for character work such as Cinderella in Lost Paradise. Mr. Edmonds as Mr. J. Bell was all that he thinks would show, and his success in the scenes as a candidate for the legislature was full of tips for our local politicians. Mr. Blakemore made another ten strikes as Wing Lee, the Chinaman, and created several of his. Mr. Balmer did his best work here last night as Josiah Scruggs, while Margaret Marshall, the new acquisition to the company, did fairly well as Paula Pentland. She is not a Sadie Carr Cook by any means, from present appearances, though other characters may give her a better chance. My Partner should prove attractive to the public, it is the kind of play that is generally liked. The new drop scene showing Mt. Shasta is a meritorious thing and was painted expressly for this company by J. S. Atkinson. My Partner will be given during the balance of the week with the usual Saturday matinee.

THEATER.

Tricky comes to the Theater for a one night engagement tomorrow night. This will be the last chance afforded to see this famous play and to insure a large attendance will witness the performance. The sale of seats begins promptly tomorrow.

On the Bowery.—The sale of seats for the three nights' engagement of this company, opened at the box office this morning.

THE ORPHEUM.

Schillings minstrels proved a drawing card at the Orpheum last evening, when the curtain rose to a packed house. Every seat from the stage to the more was occupied, and the lucky ones enthusiastic audience, which was not slow to show their appreciation of the many good things presented. The reputation minstrel first part was good and the end men, Meserts, Schilling, Crandall and Stoddard are artists in their line. In a minstrel scene the best of the evening was the Trombone quartette which with the awful jugling of John Rice, and the acrobatic feats of the La Rose brothers, makes up an ideal minstrel show that is well worth seeing. Performances will be tonight and tomorrow night and by special arrangement Manager Gates will give a matinee to be given tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Salisbury on Silver.

Deadwood, S. D., Oct. 18, special to the Denver Republican.—In a three-column letter to the morning's Daily Pioneer, U. J. Salisbury of Salt Lake, ex-member of the National Republican committee from Utah and president of the First National bank of this city, tells why he left the St. Louis convention and appeal to all his friends here to vote for Bryan. He is the business of a silver man Jew G. Blaine and the silver states and the Black Hills, where he has made the bulk of his fortune.

Special Militia Election.

Special orders were issued from the adjutant's general's office today for the election of a major of the First battalion Foot infantry, N. G. U., on the 22nd inst. The companies that will participate in the election are A and D, of this city and H, of Farmington. Two elections have already been held, both of them being unsuccessful. It is believed, however, that a selection will be made this time.

STATE NEWS.

Randolph Bonneville, O. Jacobsen has finished threshing and will lay his machine aside for another year. He threshed about 20,000 bushels for different parties and is now in the saddle for the purpose of buying 150 ewe and two-year-old sheep, and will go through the Bear Lake country for this purpose.

Grand Valley Times: A conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints for Mesa ward has been held the last week. Among other business was the selection of a Bishop. Mr. Jeremiah Hatch was elected Bishop, vice Moses Peterson. Uncle Hatch is well fitted by character and education for the high office he has been chosen to and the Church will undoubtedly prosper under his guidance.

SAM IS GONE.

THE PIUTE WALKING DELEGATE HAS PASSED AWAY.

"Captain Sam," the boss of the Piute hop-picking brigade, and who was as well known in Gunnison as he was in Nevada, is dead. He left there sick last week, and went home to die. Bowering to his taking off, the Wadsworth Dispatch says:

"Captain Sam, Piute statesman, went to Sacramento some weeks ago in charge of a number of Indian hop-pickers. Two weeks ago he died, and he was taken sick and lingered there in hopes of his health improving, but as it did not he was wafted to Wadsworth, arriving here last Saturday. He died Monday evening between 8 and 9 o'clock and the immediate of the Indians were loud and continued all night.

"Tuesday a delegation of the prominent Piutes here called at the Dispatch office and said that they and Captain Sam, who was always their friend and the white man's friend. They wanted to show him all respect and could not do so for lack of means to bury the deceased in the old cemetery. Their request was complied with, the community throwing the business open and granted, but afterwards recalled.

"Captain Sam was well known in the state. He always is the two silver medals on his breast and was an expert piano player. He was shrewd enough to gain a livelihood by his wits, never did any manual labor and was beloved with his people. He was buried Wednesday morning about 10 o'clock near Fraternal Cemetery."

Increase of Tramways.

Ten years ago there were four tramway companies in Colorado, capitalized at $11,437,000 and working nine miles. Today there are twenty companies, having a capital of $187,500,000 and operating 242 miles, the horse car has practically disappeared, the motive power being electric, 170 miles cable, 42 miles lift, 10 miles, 11 miles. New electric lines are building, that will increase the total city mileage to 400 miles. In other lines than those above mentioned 407 miles of tramways, while the light street railway of tramways is only 136 miles, all worked by steam power.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

WILD With Eczema

I was a sufferer for eight years from Eczema, for which I was entirely cured. The power of my hands were covered and very painful. Other remedies failed to give me relief. I was induced to try Cuticura, and after using the first application I slept all night, which would have been impossible before. By the middle of the month part of my hands were healed, and almost all well. I put a few drops of Cuticura Resolvent on my tongue, and in a few days I felt a change in my blood. I continued taking Cuticura Resolvent, and other blood purifiers, and in two months I felt cured, and my blood was healthy. I have not had a return of Eczema for two years. I feel confident that $5,000 worth of Cuticura Remedies saved me.
