OGDEN.

Preliminary Hearing of Mrs. Laura Gertson—A Defense—Another Foss to Case.

Special for Deseret Telegraph.

Ogden, Utah, May 24.—Drawn thither by morbid curiosity and the hope of hearing something sensational and scandalous, a crowd gathered in Judge Hiles' court room this morning at 10 o'clock a. m., the hour set for the preliminary examination of Miss Laura Gertson on the charge of assault with intent to murder H. H. Fisher. The court was called to order promptly. Miss Gertson waived the reading of the information and pleaded not guilty. The examination of witnesses was then proceeded with. The following witnesses for the prosecution had testified when the court had adjourned for dinner: Mrs. Crocker, the landlady of the plaintiff, H. H. Fisher, the plaintiff, David Marquis, the first person who entered Fisher's office after the shooting, Ben Whitaker, assistant county attorney, the janitor of the building and Deputy Sheriff Joe Dunn.

H. H. Fisher told practically the same story as when he was interviewed on Sunday, but he did not adhere to his former statement, that two shots had been fired. He denies that he had ever promised to marry the plaintiff, Miss Gertson.

Mrs. Crocker, the lady at whose home the plaintiff boards, testified that Miss Gertson had called upon Fisher a course and about the shooting and told her that Fisher should never live with any woman but herself, and that she had told him so. Witness had heard the shots and had seen Miss Gertson leave the door of the parlor and go over to the county attorney. He testified that the condition of the plaintiff at the time he gave her the first report of the affair. He contradicted Fisher in this regard.

Mrs. Fisher, wife of the plaintiff, testified that about a year and a half ago Miss Gertson had told her that Fisher should never live with any other woman but herself—the defendant—that rather than he should do so she would see him dead first.

The testimony of Mr. Whitaker and the janitor were corroborative of that given by Mr. Marquis.

Deputy Sheriff Dunn testified as to the condition of the girl, which was as has been stated.

When the court convened at 2 o'clock p. m. the prosecution called one more witness and then rested. The defense then opened their case by calling to the stand Col. B. Hayes, J. L. Potter and W. G. Webb, when the court closed at 5 o'clock. Miss Gertson was on the stand. She denied every charge and declared that the notes were forged by Fisher, as she had stated in the interview had with her Sunday evening.

The hearing in the Fisher-Gertson shooting case came to a sudden end shortly after 4 o'clock, and the defendant was held under bonds to await the action of the district court.

DEFENSE OF MISS GERTSON.

The Ogden Standard gives space to the following letter in the defense of a young woman:

Please permit me space in your paper to say a word or two in regard to the Fisher-Gertson affair. No one, perhaps, knows as much of the beginning of the affair as myself, outside of the parties immediately concerned. I very much disapproved of the affair in the start, and did all I could to break off the relations, and have unnecessarily lost a friend, and I am sorry I ever had anything to do with it. I wished Miss Gertson that may never be broken.

What compels me to write these few words is the attention of Mr. Fisher concerning her, saying she hounded him to death. I positively know that she was trying to get away from what she "hounded her to death," coming after to see her at my home, and I caused my name against him unless he bring his wife along with him (Fisher dare not deny this), after which he became very angry and cut her.

I felt the dastardly sound would turn on her as he has done, and I told Miss Mae Gertson so. She said it is the same light, but she thought she knew the man better than I, and had every confidence in him.

I do not want any publicity in regard to the affair, but I feel that justice demands that the above explanation I am, respectfully,

MRS. G. GERTSON MARRIOTT.

Ogden, Utah, May 23, 1899.

The straightforward story of the cousin of the young woman who has already suffered much unjustly, whatever folly she may have indulged in, impresses one with its truthfulness and adds to a severe censure of the man in the case. We have no sympathy for the tempter, but we have a great deal of pity for the victim, and we seek a defense by pleading that the attentions of the woman were so persistently forced upon him that the kind has become so weakened to the property and endurements of women that he should be excused. The trousers and the male gender be severely censured in pulmonic, chemical and winding sheets.

ANOTHER PECULIAR CASE.

A rumor was current today that a young connected woman named Rose Nye, an adopted daughter of E. M. Nye, had attempted to commit suicide. The News representative was unable to trace the rumor to any reputable source, while relatives of the girl entered a most emphatic denial of the story. They said she was very sick, that she had been removed from the Tanner block to the Eureman hotel and would be taken home as a hospital at Salt Lake tonight. The latest rumor is that it is not a case of attempted suicide, but of something as bad or worse. The doctor who has been attending the young lady was in Salt Lake and could not be found.

ANENT SUNDAY BASEBALL GAMES.

The meeting of the city council Tuesday evening to consider the petitions for and against Sunday ball playing within the city limits, resulted in a decision to permit the games scheduled for tomorrow afternoon to go ahead, because the manager of the Ogden team had up a bond covering the performance, and petitioned praying that baseball be permitted to be played within the city limits on the Sabbath day. One petition was signed by about 400 business men and the other carried the signature of 1,100 other people. The main argument of those who spoke in favor of granting the prayer of the petitioners was that people would play ball playing on Sunday would drive the young people elsewhere in pursuit of amusement, and take their money out of the city.

Councilman Stoutz, Pingree and Watson spoke in opposition. Councilmen Wilkins and Carter favored the non-enforcement of the ordinance. Watson said he believed that a petition could be obtained to repeal the ordinance and signed by thousands of people, and he did not favor repealing the law. Pingree said he would like to see ball playing, but leave it alone on Sunday. It is not at all probable that the ordinance will be repealed, but that it will hereafter be vigorously and impartially enforced against all offenders of any of the professions.

BRIGHAM CITY.

State Conference—Death of Bishop Jensen of Mantua.

Special Correspondence.

Brigham City, May 24.—The Bowkiler Stake conference was held at the Tabernacle Sunday and Monday. The following were present: Apostles John Henry Smith, John W. Taylor, Anthon H. Lund and Marriner W. Merrill; President Jos. F. Smith's advice was given, and the people stirred up to their duties. The reports from the different Bishops were very encouraging, as they showed the people to be in a healthy state as far as their religion is concerned.

DEATH OF BISHOP JENSEN.

Bishop P. C. Jensen of Mantua, who was reported sick, died Saturday, and was buried Tuesday. A large number of people came and went up to attend the services, which were one of the largest gatherings of people ever held at Mantua.

Bishop Jensen was 72 years old, and has held the honored position of Bishop for nearly years, being loved and respected by the whole community both as a bishop and a neighbor.

Bishop Jensen has left behind a letter from the B in John Baird. He expects to leave, June 23d, for the Eastern States.

Saturday Brigham H. Jones and Miss Vina Christensen were married at the Mantua meeting house by Bishop Jensen. The bride is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Christensen of the Third ward, and the groom is one of the best known and respected attorneys in the state. A reception was held last evening.

The Lorenzo Christensen orchestra of Salt Lake, gave a dance in the opera house Monday night.

An officer of the Salt Lake militia was in town yesterday gathering up the uniforms belonging to the disbanded company. An attempt will be made to again organize a company.

MOAB.

Fruit Prospects—Some Preacher, Pears and Apples Late.

Special Correspondence.

Moab, Grand County, May 21.—As our fruit is over we are able to tell something in regard to our fruit prospects. The center of the valley was visited with a heavy frost, which killed the most of the fruit, the upper end of the valley will have an average crop. The Mt. Rose and Orange peaches suffered most, while the Alberts will have to be thinned. The apples and pears on two or three farms will be good in my neighborhood.

Our quarterly conference has just closed. We had a feast of the good things. Had two visitors from Salt Lake City, Sister Stevenson and Sister Shurtleff.

RANDOLPH.

Bridge Controversy Decided by Ballot—Good Crop Prospects.

Special Correspondence.

Randolph, Rich County, May 21.—The bridge controversy has been settled by the people voting on the proposition of the commissioners to supplement the $2,000 appropriation by the last legislature for putting a bridge at Dry Creek, near the mouth of Bridger Creek, with sufficient funds to purchase an iron structure, which the Bridger Bridge Line company which they offered to lay down at Sage station for $1,000.

These arguments in the main against claim that a wooden bridge can be built for the amount of the appropriation sufficiently strong and durable for all purposes. On the other hand, considering that the country, with its ordinary resources is unable to render any assistance, the burden must rest upon the result of the election as a local calamity.

We are just finishing up potato planting and putting in gardens. Winter lingered just a little too long in the lap of spring, but the prospects for a good crop are quite good and the warm days now upon us are fast improving the appearance of the brown fields.

BOISE, IDAHO.

Weekly Crop Bulletin and Weather Statement for Our Northern Neighbor.

Boise, Idaho, Tuesday, May 23, 1899.

WEATHER.

There was an average temperature deficiency during the past week of 7 degrees daily for the state. Frost occurred in the mornings of the 17th and 18th, in the 19th, 20th and 21st, in the Twin Falls district, and in the Payette district showers occurred in the mornings of the 19th and 20th. Most of the week, and a rate that exceeded quite generally in the western counties, showers occurred on the 20th, a wet snow storm occurred in the eastern counties. In the central counties there was a heavy downpour on the 20th. The precipitation was deficient for the state. There was much wind, brisk to high from the north, the west continuously weather continued until the 20th, when it became somewhat warmer, though cooler than the average.

CROPS.

Vegetation made slow growth, especially in some eastern counties, where the ground is too cold to germinate garden seeds and grain. Rain followed by warmer weather in the middle and eastern and central counties to germinate garden seeds and grain, in some of Ada, Lake, Bannock, Oneida, Bingham and Fremont counties the spring grain is in marked contrast, owing to the unfavorable conditions which have predominated since the grain was sown, some portions of which sown last has been removed. In the grain growing counties in the western part of the state the results from spring sown grain are satisfactory. Fall sown grain is all section is in excellent condition, consisting of grain and garden making are very promising. Timothy, clover and native grass made good growth in the last half of the week, affairs. Farmers are irrigating, but many streams are low in consequence of the deficiency of the snow, accident to the cold weather.

Fruit suffered to a limited extent last week from the cold. Berries, on general damage, resulted. The cherry principally, has been confined to individual instances. The peach crop is generally overrating. In some sections, years ago, the peach trees were seriously damaged. French prunes were damaged the most in some orchards in Canyon county, and Bartlett pears have done the fruit has failed to mature.

Fruit is cutting in the western section, and the trees are blooming in the eastern sections.

Stock has improved during the past ten days and no loss was reported last week.

POCATELLO, IDAHO.

Threatened Epidemic of Scarlet Fever—Brief News Notes.

Special Correspondence.

Pocatello, Idaho, May 24.—The weather here has been quite warm for the past week, and the farmers in the surrounding settlements are coming in with produce and it is hoped summer has come to stay permanently.

The little 14-month-old boy of Brothers and Sister Edmund N. Harbolt died at their home in the Bonneville addition, yesterday afternoon. The Relief Society of the Stake are a host of friends sympathize with them in their bereavement.

Quite a number of cases of scarlet fever exist in Pocatello the last week, but it is hoped the vigilance of the city officials will keep the disease from spreading.

Mrs. Hoskell, mother of the Hoskell brothers, is here visiting with her son, Mr. A. J. Hoskell, for a few days.

Hon. Aquila Nickoler is a Pocatello visitor today.

Elders Jones and Freshman of Rockland were here Sunday in the capacity of home missionaries and much timely advice was given the people.

The quarterly conference of the Pocatello Stake will be held here June 3rd and 4th.

I consider it not only a pleasure but a duty I owe to my neighbors to tell them the wonderful cure effected in my case by the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I was taken very badly with bowel complaint and was in great agony. A few doses of it effected a speedy cure. I take pleasure in recommending it to other sufferers from that dreadful disease.—J. W.
