SALISBURY SPEAKS.

Congratulates Bayard Upon the Result of the Election in This Country.

VENEZUELA CONTROVERSY ENDED.

Lord Salisbury Cannot Allow Interference in Its Key, Because the Army is Insufficient.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—At the lord mayor's banquet this evening, U. S. Ambassador Bayard had a special seat at the table at the main or south table, while all the other diplomats were seated at the side table. Mr. Bayard was the third person to be presented to the lord mayor and lady mayoress. His predecessors were scarcely noticed, but as Mr. Bayard approached the lord mayor and lady mayoress, there were cheers from the guests.

Mr. Bayard responded to the toast "the Ambassador" in the following speech:

"I am assured in being chosen to speak for the corps of which I am a humble member. It confers that until the clock this evening I did not expect to be asked to respond to a toast. However, I have obtained an interview a distinguished diplomat, Lord Dufferin, who recently said that no government of the world was a case of paralysis, serious as that is. The result, he said, of bringing together these estimates was to notify infinitely, spheroid of infinite size, and to place nations in it and set as name and gentlemen, with consideration for each other's feelings and interests. The corps I represent have made a decided move in no narrow sense and in no local or merely national sense, which seems as a verdict and a declaration of fidelity. You cannot today shake civilization, even on its exterior foundation, without affecting its heart. The shock made is felt not for myself or my country, but for the whole diplomatic corps. The world is one. Who can perceive it does not realize the truth and force of the say in which we live."

Mr. Bayard concluded with the word "God speed the city of London."

Mr. Bayard's remarks were received with a volume of applause.

After Mr. Bayard had concluded the lord mayor proposed "The ministry," upon which Lord Salisbury rose, and had cheers, which quickly subsided into breathless silence and where attention to the annual Guildhall speech of the prime minister, which is of minutest exemption indeed to to authority the official announcement of the government's policy to the nation. Lord Salisbury said:

"I thank Mr. Bayard for his presence in the corporate city of London in this historic meeting. By the few words he has uttered he has reached his own place of observation, so high above the heads of party that, though contrary to our policy to make observations on the internal politics of other states, I may be permitted without impertinence, to congratulate him upon this splendid pronouncement which the great people he represents have made in behalf of the principles which lie at the base of all human society. It is rather like pathos to turn that matter to the not very inspiring controversy which his country and ours have had during the recent months, with only the purpose of expressing my belief that the controversy is at an end. [Cheers.]

"It is often surprising by what very obvious arrangements our great difficulties are solved, and to the manner in which Columbus discovered the traditions of Columbus and the egg should be reversed. I may be permitted without offence, and with the United States on behalf of their friends in Venezuela the question has not been whether there should be arbitration, but whether the arbitration should have unrestricted application. We have always claimed, respecting those who, apart from absolute right, had the right which attaches to settled establishment, that from which interests are not interfering actively in Turkey. They were the interests of the interests of vast populations and they would be deeply culpable if those interests were neglected. A general European war on such interests would change vitally affecting the nations of Europe.

"You cannot expect these nations," Lord Salisbury proceeded to say, "to regard the problem in the same emotional and philanthropic light as you in your splendid isolation. You may criticise these military, but you must confess that they have good motives for guarantee.

"We have been told by Mr. Courtney and Mr. Morley (opposition leaders) that we might influence the powers to our way of thinking by abandoning Egypt and Cyprus. That is a pretty and almost lyric conception of international policy, but I do not believe in it.

"And I may say," Lord Salisbury added, in connection with the eastern problem, "that we can be alone to shelter the ruling hitherto passed of Europe a single note of the land we now occupy.

"Having warmly enlarged the with of Mr. Herbert Johnson, the minister of the Egyptian cause, and Lord Cromer, the British agent in connection with the Soudan expedition, Lord Salisbury said that he could say no more than that the concert of Europe seemed to be more real than ever before. He was very much pleased with the concert system of M. Hanotaux, the French minister of foreign affairs, outlining the requirements which the powers would insist upon from the sultan. He believed, he said, that France would do nothing to trifle European action.

Lord Salisbury's remarks contained only a guarded reference to the disclosures made by Prince Bismarck through his newspaper organ of a secret treaty between Germany and Russia which valued prior to 1890. The premier alluded to Prince Bismarck as the greatest statesman which the latter part of the century had produced. He demurred absolutely to the premonition of the existence of a permanent and secret antagonism between Russia and Great Britain. Of this premonition Lord Salisbury said: "That is a superstition of antiquated diplomacy. I have good ground to believe that Russia entertains the same views and pursues the same object as ourselves concerning the terrible events in the east."

ANARCHISTS MEETING.

They Denounce the Executions in Chicago as "Murder."

New York, Nov. 9.—The anarchists of New York held a mass meeting last night which had been announced in blood-red words as a commemoration of the legal murder of August Spies, A. R. Parsons, L. Lingg, A. F. Fischer and G. Engel," the Chicago anarchists punished for the perpetration of the Haymarket dynamiting. The principal speaker was Henry Marx Spielmann, the man who were executed at Chicago were not the first or the last in most that late in this country. He said they were judicially murdered and that the anarchists would not forget them, but would continue to commemorate their murder.

"We are not in Russia or Turkey," said he, "for if we were there would have been none of these legal murders."

The speaker then briefly reviewed the history of the Chicago riot and the incidents leading up to it. He then denounced the jury in the case and declared that anarchism was by no means dead, but that the present peace was but the calm before the storm.

August Lott denounced the judge, jury and state's attorney in the case of the Chicago anarchists as murderers. All anarchists, he said, would stand together and fight for the rights of the workingmen. Revolution must come. It would be but history repeating itself. The anarchists would yet revenge the murders legally committed at Chicago.

MEN CASTLE.

Hope Entertained That She Will Be Released Soon.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—Ambassador Bayard in an interview today with a representative of the Associated Press on the case of Mrs. Walter M. Castle of San Francisco, now in Woman's Surgeon prison, undergoing sentence for smuggling, said he had been presidents from acting anything official with the home office in the matter, as his relations were confined to foreign affairs, everything else being of a personal nature. Continuing, Mr. Bayard said: "I received a long letter from Mr. Castle on Saturday, which I inclosed to Sir Matthew White Ridley, the home secretary. He is a kind and considerate man, sure to do what is right, although I have not received his answer. The officials have shown consideration in the entire matter, and I look for the speedy release of Mrs. Castle."

Mr. Castle in an interview today said: "I went to the home office on Saturday. Permission was immediately granted me to visit my wife. She was very hysterical, but knew me and seemed to realize the awful position she was in. I tried to console her by reading many cable messages from San Francisco friends. The doctor satisfied she was in a highly nervous state. I have no information when she will be released."

Warning Against certain securities.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—The Financial News says that A. L. Ewer, a Chicago broker, is here with the object of placing Yerkes tramway bin securities and also to raise money to finance a Chicago stock exchange.

The News says intervals that the extended increase have seriously injured the tramway line's profit, adding that when they were most prosperous Yerkes disposed of anxiously to let Britishers participate.

DEMAND FOR PAPER.

Gold Withdrawn for Hoarding Comes Back to the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The treasury today lost $17,000 in gold coin and $51,200 in bars, which leaves the total amount of reserve $121,826,304.

The net gain to gold hoarding at New York and San Francisco was $1,034,700.

The receipts of the treasury are being actively taxed to meet the demand for paper notes of all denominations in exchange for gold. In many cases the gold holders ask for United States notes of large denominations in exchange. The latter are as valuable for reserve as is the gold, but they express a willingness to accept Sherman notes, or if necessary, silver certificates. If the government is unable to furnish United States notes. The demand for large denominations is so imperative, the principal thing being to get paper money.

Reports from all parts of the country tend to show that nearly all of the gold withdrawn during the last several weeks was for the purpose of hoarding, and now that the supposed danger is past, the gold is being offered in the several subtreasuries or is being deposited in banks, and so is finding its way into the subtreasury coffers. The run of gold offers is so great that in New York, at least, the assistant treasurer has been compelled to refuse gold until such time as he was able to handle it, and in a number of instances currency has been shipped from one subtreasury to another to meet the wanted demands. The reserve being passed the $125,000,000 point and the officials have no doubt that it will reach a much higher figure before the close of the year.

The increase in business generally predicted, it is believed, will result in greatly increased receipts from customs and internal revenue, so that the present treasury deficit is likely to be relieved to some extent before the inauguration of Mr. McKinley.

A Railroad Sold.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 9.—A special to the Republican from Aspen, Colo., says: The rumored sale of the Aspen & Western railroad to the Crystal River Railway company were put up at sale by Sheriff Strawbridge under judgment execution being sold to Dunn & Cross junction smelliner. The road is a tap to a rich section in both Pitkin and Garfield counties, and has employed with it have a total length of twenty-eight miles.

Appreciation of Senator Jones.

HOPE, Ark., Nov. 9.—A public reception was tendered Senator James K. Jones at the opera house in this place this afternoon. The meeting was arranged for the purpose of allowing the senator's friends and neighbors to show their appreciation of his work in the recent campaign.

People came into town from all over Hempstead county to welcome the senator, and the little opera house was literally packed, many ladies and children being present, all anxious to shake hands with him. After a cordial greeting, Senator Jones spoke for an hour or more on the campaign and the obstacles that had to be met. He said that the result was a victory for the Democratic party. He said that while they had lost the election they had not lost the fight. The cause of silver was stronger today than it was when the campaign opened, and victory was assured in 1900.

He said a high tribute to W. J. Bryan, and said he had made one of the most wonderful fights that had ever been made by any leader.

LIKE OLD FOLKS

Little Tots Want Coffee for Breakfast.

"Please let me have a little cup of coffee to break my breakfast to-morrow morning, mamma, for I can't sleep!" It is hard to refuse the little little pleas, even when we know that coffee and tea are injurious beyond a doubt, for not coffee and weak, blood and nerves, but a delicate little stomach is not fit to receive such a powerful stimulant. A physician has discovered a method of preparing grains so as to produce a beautiful drink, that wants valuable as the finest Mocha coffee and tastes quite as comforting. If the little little wish a cup of coffee at the little little "coffee." The coffee habit is broken immediately when the new food drink is used in its place, and health is restored instead of sick and dull it is made only of pure and wholesome grains. "It makes red blood" is the motto and Postum is the name. Grocers sell it at 15 cents for the Postum Cereal Co., Limited, Battle Creek, Mich.

A reliable grocer will never offer a cheap or weak imitation of a genuine article, unless he happens to make a little extra profit. But it is always to your interest to have genuine Postum Cereal coffee ordered, that you get Postum and not a spurious imitation offered as "just as good." Sold by Geo. F. Brooks, Jos. McDonald, Jr., and J. H. Williams.
