AS THE DAYS OF LOT.

Two Hundred Square Miles of Wisconsin a Sea of Fire.

TOWNS AND VILLAGES IN ASHES.

Ashland People Called From the Religous Services Yesterday to Fight the Flames.

ASHLAND, Wis., Sept. 17.—This has been an exciting day for Ashland. At noon the people were called from worship by fire alarms. The smoke and cinders became almost blinding all over the city. Over a thousand volunteers were added to the fire department to fight the flames, which rushed in on the city from the Odanah Indian reservation. At 3 o'clock there was a cry of despair among the people living near the Milwaukee, West Shore & Western railroad shops. The waterworks had given out. The chemical engines were brought up, but it was useless to try to stop the flames, as a high gale of wind was blowing. The coal chute caught fire and the coal locomotives were fired up to run all the rolling stock to the lake. Household goods were turned and over a hundred families are already homeless.

Twenty men were overcome in fighting the flames and were taken to the hospital. Three families near Saxonge perished. There is no help to go to them. At Parkinville a large iron plant is burning. The large number of women and children who rushed to the lake front were only saved by desperate efforts with patrol wagons.

As near as can be estimated the fire now covers nearly 200 square miles, and is sweeping north.

There are a number of small towns and villages through the burned section that may have shared the same fate—Matengo, White River, Highbridge and numerous others. In the path of the flames back in each settlements as there, men and death have surely been left in the wake. In Ashland itself there is no immediate danger of a general fire unless a cyclonic whirlwind of fire should sweep the city off the face of the earth.

CAPITAL NEWS.

An Interesting Time Looked for in the House.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Repeal will again occupy the attention of the Senate this week, to the exclusion of almost every subject. There will, however, be a break in the monotony tomorrow, caused by the recess in observance of the centennial celebration of the laying of the corner stone of the Capitol, and possibly another change in the program Tuesday, when Senator Vorhees will attempt to extend the day session into the evening.

THE HOUSE BATTLE.

The indications point to a very lively week in the House. Tuesday the bills over the Tucker bill will be resumed and continued for the remainder of the week. The Democratic managers confidently expect a majority of their own. This will enable them to put down the filibustering opposition of the Republicans.

BOAT INSPECTOR ORDERED.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—An important order has been issued by Secretary Morton respecting the meat inspection service of the agricultural department. After October 1st all hogs slaughtered for the interstate and foreign trade will be inspected before slaughter and again when the carcass is being dressed. Instructions are given inspectors covering the inspection of cattle, sheep and swine products, and these will be enforced in all parts of the country.

WILL MARRY A CHINESE GIRL.

One of the social sensations of autumn in naval circles will be the marriage of Commander Walling to Miss Ah Fong, daughter of a millionaire Chinese merchant of Hawaii. The marriage will take place during the present year.

The Cherokee Strip.

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., Sept. 17.—The mystery which, through so many long years of anxious waiting, has shrouded the real character of the Cherokee strip, is swept away. It was the promised land, but has not kept the promise. It may do so a year from now, but at present the strip is about the most uninviting quarter on the face of the earth. Water is obtainable only in a few places. Food is so scarce that bread costs fifty cents a pound, and canned beans is worth a dollar. The drought the past month has left the country turned dry, and a smothering dust, as fine as ashes, and ashes fill the air, adding to the bitter and general discomfort of the unhappy thousands. Prairie fires are blazing in many places, and the boomers are out fighting off the flames.

The centers of interest are now transferred to the government land offices. Thousands of people who yesterday thought we were sick, if it be not true the Cherokee strip are making equally strenuous efforts to get out today. Even as soon after the rush as yesterday evening hundreds of people came out from the strip and took up quarters here. Today the return wave became an eddies.

A dozen dead bodies were found between Arkansas City and Perry. Not all are identified and the manner of death in only a few ascertained. The number who received burns and bruises and other injuries to the rush yesterday is very great and the doctors are kept busy attending to the wounded.

DISGUSTED BOOMERS.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 17.—There was a big excess of disappointed people from the Cherokee strip today. The whole party of people from Illinois, who planned to establish a colony in Mexico on the strip, came back as the Santa Fe. They were the most future-looking party the officials at the Union Depot have ever seen. They made the run on foot from the line north of Orlando, O. T., and got nothing, after having stood in line for four days at the registration booth, sleeping on the ground and subsisting on muddy water and dry bread.

Enoch Hooker of Green county, Ill., acted as spokesman for the party. "Uncle Sam turned humbug sleeper," he said to a reporter. "He turned over a lot of land of no value to poor people, and if they are ever able to pay for it he will be receiving money under false pretenses. The railroads and newspapers are in the play, too. I predict that this winter will see more sickness, suffering and death among the people who have gone to the "Promised Land" than ever has been seen in any pioneer settlement.

"Where we were the crush was something terrible and the casualties numerous. Just before the gun was fired one man started on foot into the strip. The soldier on guard called upon him to halt and raised his rifle to his shoulder. The man's partner rushed up to the soldier and told him not to fire. The man kept on running. The soldier fired and the man dropped dead. The man's partner fired and the soldier dropped dead. Just then the signal gun announced the start of the race and the double tragedy was overlooked in the excitement.

"We are glad to get back and there are no sour grapes in it. We honestly would not take a claim in the new country as a gift now, after what we have seen of it."

More Lynchings.

NEW ORLEANS, Mon., 17.—Valsin, Basile and Paul Jallet, brothers, and Rosolus Jallet, who murdered Judge Victor Estopinal in Jefferson parish last Friday afternoon, were arrested yesterday, charged with being accessories to the crime, and were confined in jail at Montpelier. Last night a party of armed men broke open the jail, took the three men out and hanged them in a grove near the jail. Two other negroes, cousins of Jallet, were taken from the jail, severely flogged and ordered to leave the parish in 24 minutes.

Chief of Police Gaden was appealed to for protection, there being repeated rumors that the negroes are gathering and threatening. No doubt there is considerable excitement among the negroes regarding last night's lynching, but no violence has yet resulted, nor have any whites been ordered to leave their homes.

ESTHER'S INDEBTEDNESS.

The Future of the White House Baby as Told by the Stars.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Little Miss Esther, has a future before her that is romantic and exceptional in its vicissitudes, if the portents of the stars and the signs of the heavens are to be trusted.

"It is indeed a fortunate nativity. The baby is destined to arrive at great eminence, to become famous and prominent, like her father. She is sure to be well made, a rather tall woman, mostly closely resembling her mother, of compact and graceful frame. She will be of light complexion, brown haired, with a high forehead and deep expressive eyes. The planets tell of a courteous and gentle disposition. Good nature, mildness and charity will be her chief characteristics. The forecast of the early part of her life shows stormy seas and trouble of a critical sort. After that her health will gradually improve, though minor critical times are to come.

"Her intellectuality is very marked and there is every sign of her becoming a notable woman. As a woman she will have rare gifts of music and song. She will take a place in public affairs, in all probability. Wealth she is certain to acquire, if not through her own mental exertions, through marriage at any rate. The planets say this will not take place before she is 24, and she will enter the marriage state only once. Her marriage will be one of great worldly advantage. Her future husband the signs make out to be of a character not at all unlike hers. In appearance he will resemble herself. The marriage is destined to be a very happy one. They will have no more than three children, and they are likely to be boys, but there is danger of two of them dying in infancy. Miss Esther is destined to long life."

The Yellow Fever Pestilence.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Sept. 17.—A special to the Morning News from Brunswick tonight says: "Twelve new cases of yellow fever today and six epidemic declared." Such was the announcement made by Colonel Goodyear at the board of health meeting today, sending a thrill of horror through the grief-stricken residents of Brunswick. Honorees raised in the trains this afternoon. There are poor in Brunswick, for whom the government and people of the country must think.

CONFERRING THE PALLIUM.

A Catholic Ceremony in an American Church.

DUBUQUE, Ia., Sept. 17.—The pallium was conferred upon Archbishop Hennessy at the Saint Raphael cathedral here today, in the presence of more than 2000 spectators. The scene within the church was grand. At the appointed hour a gorgeous and stately procession moved from the archiepiscopal residence towards the altar. Cardinal Gibbons, Mgr. Satolli and Archbishop Hennessy were enthroned immediately on arrival at the altar, and all was in readiness for pontifical high mass. The celebrant, Mgr. Satolli, then entoned, and the mass was sung by the papal delegate as it had never before been heard in this arch-diocese.

At the conclusion of the mass the pallium was conferred by Cardinal Gibbons, with the accustomed blessing of the investure. The new archbishop accepted the altar steps and, as the first archbishop of Dubuque, solemnly blessed the entire assembly.

Canada's New Governor.

QUEBEC, Sept. 17.—Lord Aberdeen, the new governor general of Canada, landed today. The swearing in of the governor will take place at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning in the council chamber.

The Rate War.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 16.—The Santa Fe announces today that on Tuesday next it will meet the cut of $15 to Chicago which the Southern Pacific announced for Monday.

A Famous Yacht Stranding.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—At 5 this morning the great English yacht Valkyrie, will have been out twenty-six day, since which time not a word has been received as to her whereabouts. The Valkyrie's experience in this respect is indeed remarkable, for rarely so prominent a vessel escapes being sighted at sea.

Looking for Bandits.

CALUMET, Mich., Sept. 16.—King, Chelew and Gorman, or Hunter, as the name is now given, arrested yesterday on suspicion as being train robbers, are still held. John Cox, who was also detained as a suspect, was released, having proved an alibi. Several detectives are now on the grounds, and nearly 100 deputy sheriffs are scouring the country. The official learns that yesterday afternoon a small slow-moving boat was seen out on the green lake, sulking north, having evidently left the shore a few miles west of Calumet.

Citizens Arrested.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Sept. 17.—Thirteen Calumet, who were attempting to enter the United States Deputy were arrested this morning by Deputy officials at Oyster Bay, a secluded inlet twenty miles from here, infested by Indians and Calumet oyster gatherers.

Bryan in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17. — Professor Bryan, of heavy trial fame was given a rousing welcome today in the parliament of religions, and his liberal sentiments were given the heartiest response. Theosophists, Seventh Day Adventists and Swedenborgians were also in session.

A Liberal Party.

DENVER, Sept. 16.—A meeting for the purpose of organizing the Liberal party was held this morning. J. Cook Ja, talked an hour. A liberal ticket was put in the field for the county election.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

President Peixoto Reported Driven Out of Rio Janeiro.

Thurston on Hawaiian Affairs—Distress in Spain—Europe Enjoying Military Shows.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The Herald's Buenos Ayres special says: The news received from the Brazilian revolution today is unfavorable to President Peixoto. It reported that the naval squadron sent against the revolutionary uprising in Rio Grande do Sul revolted. The officers refused to take orders from any one except Admiral Mello who is in command of the rebel fleet. The bombardment of Nitheroy was concluded. The ships of the revolting squadron attacked and silenced the forts. President Peixoto threw many officers of the army into jail to prevent them from joining the revolution.

Admiral Mello now has a squadron of thirty war ships and merchant steamers, which are all well supplied. President Peixoto, it is reported, has retired to Santa Ana, with the troops still loyal to him. It is expected that he will join Castilhos in Porto Alegre, where he will make a final stand for retention of power.

The damage resulting from the bombardment is much more serious than heretofore reported. Many persons were killed, including an Italian sailor, for whom the government paid $500 indemnity. One German is also reported killed. In repulsing an attempted landing at Nictheroy, twenty prisoners were killed. Admiral Mello proposes to blockade Rio and starve the capital into submission by cutting off all supplies.

The fire spreadsed the fire from the vessels vigorously and many rebel officers and men were killed. The attitude of the foreign war ships cannot be understood. The Trafalgar still remains outside of Montevideo, but no one knows how she is able to manipulate her guns. The United States cruiser Charleston will sail from Montevideo for Rio on Monday.

THE REBELS IN FULL POSSESSION.

BUENOS AYRES, Sept. 16.—Official advices announce a continued bombardment during the past few days at Rio Janeiro. The president and government were driven out of Rio, and are now encamped with the loyal troops at Santa Ana, twelve miles from Rio, awaiting the rebel attack.

The insurgents are receiving reinforcements from all sides, money and provisions being sent at their disposal. They are confident of ultimate success.

President Peixoto endeavored to make terms with the insurgents, but received a reply that nothing but unconditional surrender would be accepted.

The Hawaiian Government.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17. — L. A. Thurston, Hawaiian envoy, has returned to this city. He was seen by a reporter of the Associated Press this evening and said the last information he received from the provisional government was to the effect that there was a surplus of $150,000 in the treasury and the postal savings bank had a surplus of $35,000. He regarded as the most significant sign of the government's stability, the fact that on issue of $130,000 6 per cent bonds for internal improvements were put on the honolulu market and sold, a few of them at 95, but most of them at par.

"The attitude of Hyrockie," continued Thurston, "is simply a matter of business. He wants cheap coolie labor, and knows this system would be done away with if the country was an American state."

Thurston, in conclusion, said most emphatically he considered the provisional government strong enough to hold the reins until a final decision was reached. It is the strongest government Hawaii has had for years, if she ever had a stronger.

Portugal Too.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—The Portuguese government has decided to send another warship to Rio Janeiro.

The Disaster in Spain.

MADRID, Sept. 17.—The deluge in the double districts of New Castle contitues, and the loss of life is greater than anticipated. Fresh storms and a continued downpour have delayed the dispatching of relief trains. Some villages have been entirely isolated for days, and starvation is stalking the inhabitants in the face.

About eighty bodies have already been recovered, but this number is said to be far below the actual total loss of life.

Great damage was done in other parts of the peninsula. Plantations, vineyards and buildings to the value of hundreds of thousands suffered severely, and large numbers of cattle were drowned.

Europe's Military Forces.

BERLIN, Sept. 16.—Emperor Francis Joseph left Vienna this afternoon to attend the Hungarian army manoeuvers, which take place in the presence of the Duke of Connaught. This is interpreted in certain quarters in Germany to mean a consolidation of the existing entente between Great Britain and the Dreibund.

In anticipation of the Russian fleet visit to Toulon the large towns of France are already making preparations for the reception of their Russian allies. Russia is not pleased at the event in which the Frenchmen are going to demonstrate their affection for the Czar and his subjects. It is claimed that Russian statesmen are of the opinion that no more demonstration would be irritating to Germany, and as the new rifles for the Russian army are all finished, and the new loan has yet to be raised, Russia is desirous of not angering Germany.

But France and Russia are not alone in the demonstration business. Emperor William has his share at Metz, Strasbourg, Carlsruhe and elsewhere. Emperor Francis Joseph is now making his little demonstration; Italy, through the crown prince, has one here, and Great Britain, not to be left entirely in the cold, is sending her Mediterranean fleet to the Gulf of Taranto, where the Italians are preparing a demonstration in England's honor, as an offset to the demonstration in France in honor of Russia.

Thus is all Europe demonstrating that there are war clouds on the horizon.
