ELDER JENSON'S DEATH.

Further Particulars Concerning the Demise of a Laborer in the Mission Field.

[Millennial Star, March 17, 1898.]

The following letter written by Elder George Christensen from Copenhagen, Denmark, on March 14, 1898, furnishes particulars concerning the death of Elder Joseph H. Jenson, a brief announcement of which appeared in the last issue of the Star:

"President Lund returned from Goteborg late Saturday evening and started early this morning for Jylland. Some he requested me to communicate to you the following facts concerning the death of Elder Joseph H. Jenson, of which he informed you by telegram on the 8th inst.

"Elder Joseph H. Jenson, son of Peter Jenson, was born in Union, Salt Lake county, Utah, and was about 22 years old at the time of his death. He arrived in Copenhagen on the mission June 16, 1896, and was appointed to labor in the Goteborg conference, where he labored successfully in the following branches: Joskoping, Hamsted, Trollhattan and lastly since the general conference, in Vesterrik, where he presided over the branch. He seemed to enjoy good health until the middle of February inst. when he took sick. It began with pain in the stomach and frequent vomiting. For a couple of weeks he was in bed most of the time at the branch headquarters; then his companions, Elder Charles M. Olsen, concluded that it would be best to take him to Goteborg, where he could receive better treatment. They started on Monday, the 7th, and arrived at Goteborg on the 8th, after a ride on the train of about 190 miles. Here they were received by Elder H. M. Pearson, president of the Goteborg conference, and Elder Jenson was taken to the home of Brother Soderberg, where he was given the best possible care. Brother and Sister Soderberg doing all in their power to alleviate his suffering.

"A physician was called in who at once pronounced his condition very critical, stating that he had inflammation of the bowels.

"Brother Jenson was administered to by his brethren from time to time during his illness, and after his arrival in Goteborg the brethren and the Saints fasted and prayed for him and administered to him, and he seemingly rallied, but failing again, passed away on Tuesday morning, the 8th inst. at 4:20. He retained his consciousness to the last.

"The funeral took place on the 11th, at 1:30 p. m., and was conducted by the Saints, who were given permission to do so by the municipal authorities. Six Elders from Zion were present, viz., C. N. Lund, H. M. Pearson, August H. Rose, William Anderson, Charles M. Olsen and John Johnson. At the grave hymns were sung and the dedatory prayer was offered by President Pearson. In the evening the Saints gathered at the hall and Presidents Lund, Pearson and Elder Olsen spoke feelingly of the excellent qualities of the deceased and gave utterance to many excellent thoughts which were called forth by the sad occasion.

"Through the efforts of President Pearson a piece of ground was secured in the Saints' Churchyard at Goteborg and permission secured to remove the body of Elder John A. Quist, who died in that conference March 12, 1896, and place it with that of Elder Jenson, and they now rest side by side.

"Elder Jenson was numbered a good, faithful man, had labored in the mission field nearly two years, and bore an excellent character. We keenly feel the sadness occasioned by his death, and our deepest feelings of sympathy go out to his family and friends."

SHAFROTH'S ARID LAND BILL.

How Grants are to be Made in the Various States and Territories.

Arid Lands Defined as Non-Mineral—Must Produce Agricultural Crops Only by Artificial Irrigation.

The full text of the bill of Congressman Shafroth of Colorado to grant arid lands to the respective states and territories in which they are situate upon their reclamation, is at hand. It has created a good deal of discussion throughout the West, and as it is of deep interest to "News" readers, it is herewith reproduced:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, that so much of the arid lands of the United States not held for military reservations, Indian reservations, or other public purposes of the United States, through its governor may apply for, shall be patented to such state or territory in which the said arid lands shall, by means of irrigation, be reclaimed for agricultural purposes.

Sec. 2. That such state and territory shall be entitled to reclaim, under this act and all other acts, not more than one million acres of such arid land, all of which must be situate within its own borders.

Sec. 3. That arid lands within the meaning of this act shall be deemed to be lands not mineral, which will generally produce agricultural crops by artificial irrigation.

Sec. 4. That reclamation of any tract of land under this act shall be construed to have been made when an ample supply of water is actually furnished to a substantial ditch or canal, or to an artesian wells or reservoirs to irrigate the same.

Sec. 5. That a lien or liens may be applied for by the state or territory in which such lands are granted for the actual cost of reclamation and reasonable interest thereon; and such state or territory is hereby authorized to make all necessary contracts to cause the said arid lands to be reclaimed, but in no event shall the United States be in any manner directly or indirectly liable for such lien, liabilities or contracts.

Sec. 6. That any state or territory desiring to avail itself of the provisions of this act may, through its governor, from time to time file in the United States land office of the district in which the lands are situate an application for the temporary segregation of the tract or tracts of land which the state or territory proposes to reclaim, pending the surveying and mapping of the same, which application shall be under oath, and shall state that there is sufficient amount of water available for the irrigation of said lands. Upon the filing of such an application the lands applied for shall be withdrawn from entry for the period of six months.

Sec. 7. That within the period of six months from the filing of such an application the state or territory, through its governor shall file in the office of the secretary of the interior a map of the lands proposed to be reclaimed, which shall exhibit a plan showing the mode of the contemplated irrigation and the source of the water to be used for irrigation. If the state or territory shall fail to file said map and plan within said period of six months, then such lands at the direction of the secretary of the interior, shall revert to the public domain.

Sec. 8. That if the secretary of the interior shall approve said map and plan and the practicability of such contemplated irrigation, then within ten years from the date of such approval in which to cause to be reclaimed said tract of land, and such approval it shall be conclusively presumed that such tract is arid lands; but if the state or territory shall fail within said ten years, to cause said tract of lands to be reclaimed, then said land, at the discretion of the secretary of the interior, shall revert to the public domain.

Sec. 9. That nothing in this act shall be construed as affecting any valid claim to land under any of the laws of the United States existing at the time of the filing of the application for temporary segregation.

Sec. 10. That the secretary of the interior is hereby authorized to make such rules and regulations for the purpose of enforcing this act as may be just and proper.

A room that is decorated according to the rules of art needs but little furniture to make it attractive and pleasant. Indeed, if you lay a good carpet on the floor and hang the walls with suitable paper it is half furnished. Our display of Wall Paper this spring is

A Veritable Art Gallery.

It contains the cream of the very best and latest designs to be found in the United States. To a person of artistic taste, it is a rare treat, just to examine our patterns; and we cordially invite you to do so. You will simply wonder how such beautiful works of art can be made for such ridiculously low prices. Words fail to describe the lovely display. Come and see for yourself.
