THE DESERET EVENING NEWS.

TRUTH AND LIBERTY.

FORTY-NINTH YEAR. WEDNESDAY, MARCH 1, 1899, SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH. NUMBER 84.

TESTIMONY IS ALL IN.

Arguments by Attorneys, in Relation to the Bribery Charge, are Heard Today.

WILL BE FINISHED TONIGHT.

Senators Aquila Nebeker and D. H. Peery, Jr., Representative Callister, and Mr. D. W. Thomson Testify Before the Committee at Today's Session.

A sigh of relief went up from those who have been in daily attendance at the bribery investigation proceedings, when it was announced, shortly after 11 o'clock this morning, by counsel on both sides, that there would be no further testimony taken. Arguments were then begun, the committee limiting the time to three hours on each side. Judge Dey opened for the prosecution, occupying an hour and a quarter in argument. At 11:45 an adjournment was taken until 2 o'clock.

The investigation proceedings commenced promptly at 9:30 this morning. At the request of members of the committee, Aquila Nebeker, president of the State Senate, was called to the witness stand. Mr. Nebeker, in answer to Mr. Stewart, said he met Representative Judd in the Walker House a few weeks ago and talked with him about the senatorial situation. The effect of the conversation was, as witness understood, that the sum of 1,000 would be paid anyone who would vote for A. W. McCune. Peery had told witness he, too, so understood it. Didn't of his own knowledge know about improper offers being made. He did not intend to be discourteous to the committee by failing to put in an appearance yesterday afternoon. [illegible]

MR. McCUNE RECALLED.

Mr. McCune was recalled and stated that in his previous testimony he had not intended by the statement that Mr. Thurman was one of his men, to mean that Mr. Thurman was working for his election, but was only his attorney. Mr. Thurman had not taken any part in particular in the senatorial contest.

SENATOR WHITNEY RECALLED.

Senator Whitney made the following statement:

Yesterday afternoon I had a conversation with Senator Frank J. Cannon, as to whether he had authorized his brother Hugh to negotiate with me or whether he had himself made the negotiations. My memory was and is that he himself had first made the arrangement, which was completed by his brother.

The difference was only on this one point, and each was willing that the other should have it his way.

TESTIMONY CLOSES.

All the witnesses having been heard, the arguments were begun. By previous agreement, each side is to occupy not more than three hours in argument.

Raymond Special Runs Into an Engine on Central Pacific.

THREE TRAIN MEN KILLED

Engineer Schreiber of the Helper is Badly Injured in the Wreck.

OGDEN MAN AMONG DEAD.

Fireman Hendershott, who Lived in the Junction City, Loses His Life.

Ogden, Utah, March 1.—An engineer and two firemen were killed in a collision on the Central Pacific near Hot Springs, Nev., at 11 o'clock last night.

A Raymond special running as first section of eastbound passenger No. 1 collided with a helper engine on what is known as White Plains Hill. The helper had just pushed a freight over the heavy grade and was running on orders against section 2 of the passenger and on combination orders with the first section. Misunderstanding the orders the engineer immediately backed his engine down the hill, running into the passenger a mile east of Hot Springs station.

DEAD.

Fireman Hendershot (Ogden) of the helper.

Engineer Yeargin and Fireman Dillard, of the passenger.

INJURED.

Engineer Schreiber of the helper is badly injured.

A heavy rain at the time contributed to bring about the accident.
