NEWS OF THE WEST.

Arrest of a Murderer in Montana After Many Years.

THE SORROWS OF A CHINAMAN.

New Mexico's Day at the World's Fair.—A Lady's Mysterious Disappearance.

It is stated that forty thousand dollars is the amount of damage to the Wolfley (Ariz.) dam. The center of the dam, 350 feet, was washed away. The dam is 100 feet long.

Dr. J. W. O. Snyder, for twenty-six years a resident of Pueblo, Colo., died on Tuesday evening. He was at one time postmaster of the city, was a prominent Mason and a successful physician. He leaves a very large estate.

A canning and packing company has been organized at Fort Laramie, Wyoming, by M. H. Porter, E. A. Holcom and V. A. Bell with a capital stock of $10,000, divided into 100 shares of $100 each. The company will do a general packing and canning business under the name of the Fourche Valley Packing company.

Denver is horribly to be afflicted with a giant "trailer center" or summer toboggan, says the News of that city. William Gudgen, famous the country over for his ingenious and hair-raising contrivances on this line at Coney Island, and similar Eastern resorts, has been looking over the various suburban pleasure grounds for the purpose of selecting a site.

Mrs. Henry Gloyes left her home in Mexico on February 18, 1893, for Grass Valley, Cal., and has not been heard of since. Her husband is employed in the railroad shop near Chihuahua. Some time ago a relative died in Ireland leaving quite a little fortune, and Mrs. Gloyes, as one of the heirs was going to Grass Valley to see her relatives about the business. Fears are entertained in regard to her safety.

Ed Hill, arrested for murder committed in Colfax, Wash., who made his escape from the law officer in Pueblo a month ago, arrived at Yuma, Arizona, on Tuesday, in custody of Sheriff Thompson of this county, who arrested him at the very spot in the mountains north of Globe, where he was first arrested. He is in jail awaiting the arrival of an officer with a requisition from Washington.

The Chinaman who was locked up on Monday night at Great Falls, Mont., to prevent a crowd doing him violence, was released about midnight and turned loose on the outskirts of the town, very badly scared. He lost no time in making himself scarce. It is said he came from Utah (says a dispatch), and many think he was sent here by the big Chinese companies of San Francisco to make a test case.

The great project of irrigating Mojave desert by means of a mammoth dam to be built at Victor Narrows, on the line of the Southern California railroad, appears to be an assured fact, says the San Francisco Chronicle. Documents for the formation of a company have been completed and signed and will be filed in San Bernardino tomorrow. The capitalists interested are Eastern men from Duluth and elsewhere. The expenditure involved is about $1,500,000.

Some time ago a man named Hagan arrived at Hot Springs, Ark., from Denver with his wife. It is alleged that Hagan blew in about $1200 gambling and returned to Denver, leaving his wife in a critical condition and with only $10. Some nights ago she gave birth to a child and a physician who was called in found her in a deplorable condition and with no one to give her any assistance. The child subsequently died and the kind doctor endeavored to make the poor woman comfortable and paid the expense of the burial of the infant.

A. Goodman of the firm of Goodman, Zeigler & Co., doing business at White Oaks and San Pedro, New Mexico, was shot twice by James Cheaves on Monday on the road between San Pedro and Golden. The shooting grew out of a domestic difficulty involving Cheaves' wife, the mother of two small children, and the daughter of Sam Wright, formerly justice of the peace at San Pedro. Four shots were fired by Cheaves, two of which inflicted flesh wounds on the left side. Cheaves was arrested and released on $2500 bail to await the action of the grand jury.

A dispatch from Cheyenne (Wyo.) says: Word has been received from New Orleans that "Timbrelline Fleury, a cowboy of this state, arrested in Montana by Deputy Marshal Tom Smith of Wyoming, has been identified as the murderer of a woman in the Crescent city in 1887. Fleury worked on northern ranges. When he was summoned as a witness on a case in Cheyenne, he fled to Montana. Smith thought he must have a bad record and, looking it up, found the fellow fitted the description of a murderer wanted at New Orleans. There was a standing reward for Fleury.

At Saratoga, Wyoming, the price of coal has been reduced from $7 to $6 per ton. There is a war between the dealers. Two important coal discoveries have been made on Sperry creek, not far from the Colorado line, in the southern part of Carbon county. One measure is six feet of anthracite, for which the discoverer has been prospecting more than three years. The locator is a man from Pennsylvania, who believed the Indians told of the existence of genuine anthracite. The other find is a nine-foot vein of coal almost the same as that mined by the Van Dyke company at Rock Springs.

The Cheyenne Leader has started a popular teachers' contest, the winner of which will be furnished transportation from any point in Wyoming to the World's Fair. Here is the Leader's offer: The teacher receiving the highest number of votes will be given a round trip ticket to the World's Fair and return, by the Leader. This will include free transportation from any point in Wyoming and return, including, from any railroad point, Pullman sleeping car accommodations, $50 in cash for hotel and incidentals in Chicago and admission to the fair grounds for seven days. There will be no second prize.

The Cheyenne Leader has the following: "The commissioner of immigration at the port of New York writes the governor to the effect that a man by the name of Matias Hamburuna reached that port March 20 from Liverpool and to the authorities gave his destination as Carbon, Wyoming. When in quarantine a case of smallpox was discovered, but as only one passenger speaked infected, the remainder were permitted to land and go on to their destinations. Whether the man bound for Carbon came on or not is unknown, and the governor was notified in order for precautionary purposes. Private Secretary Hill notified the Carbon authorities and they will be on the lookout for Hamburuna."

Governor Prince has fixed Saturday, Sept. 16, as New Mexico day at the World's Fair. In making the selection he had in mind the fact that Sept. 15 had been selected by the republic of Mexico, while the states of Colorado and Nevada would have their days early in the week following, thus giving New Mexico people an opportunity to meet at Chicago friends from Mexico as well as from relatives on the north. An eye sketch was also had to the fact that about the middle of September New Mexico fruit and farm produce will be in the zenith of their glory, enabling New Mexico producers to take to Chicago with them large and valuable additions for display in their departments. Active preparations are making in the territory of New Mexico for forwarding and placing exhibits. The mineral colored specimens display will possess a value of over $100,000.
