OGDEN, UTAH, JUNE 14.

SEARCHING FOR TAYLOR.

The Prevalent Belief Is that He has Been Murdered.

The friends of J. Henry Taylor, the Plain City man, who left home last week and has not been heard of since, feel much exercised over the affair. Three large searching parties were organized yesterday and started out in different directions in the hopes of finding some clue as to his whereabouts. Among the searchers are a party of Ogden men, viz.: Constables Stone and Briggs, City Marshal Happ and a half dozen others, who took the Ogden canyon route, expecting to join the others on the Ogden Valley divide.

The scene at the home of the missing man is said to be painful in the extreme. His aged parents, wife and children are prostrated with grief.

The generally expressed belief is that Taylor has met with foul play. Many rumors are afloat regarding threats certain men have been heard to make on Taylor over litigation in mining claims.

Weber County Court.

Judge Bishop presided over the regular session of the Weber county court yesterday. The following business was disposed of: Geo. E. Carter and William A. Moffat asked that the school district of Eden be included in the Huntsville district. Referred.

David B. Burnett of Farr West sent in a communication asking the court to remit the amount of a merchandise license. Old age and inability to follow his regular occupation were the grounds upon which the petition was based. Referred to Selectman Swensen.

G. C. Wilson and many other prominent citizens of Hooper sent in a petition asking the court to extend the county road from Plain City to Hooper.

William L. Stewart, justice of the peace at Plain City, submitted his financial report for the past quarter, which was read and filed.

W. G. Wilson asked for a license to sell intoxicating liquors. Laid on the table for one week.

Lorenzo Fisher petitioned for damages for the loss of a valuable mare, that had to be killed through an accident that happened on account of the roads in the district of Salt Creek. The county attorney gave it as his opinion that the county was not responsible for this.

After one or two other items had been attended to, the court adjourned.

Police Court Items.

Henry Allen was arrested yesterday charged with fighting in a saloon on Washington avenue. This morning he was introduced to Justice Clubson, and the case continued, the prosecuting witness failing to appear at the hour set for the hearing.

Robert Adams stole a pair of shoes, the property of Enoch Oakhood yesterday, and got twenty-five days in the city jail.

W. J. Hall was arrested early this morning by the police on the charge of robbery. He was turned over to the U. S. marshal.

Railroad Accident.

The Rio Grande Western passenger and mail train was twelve hours late yesterday. A rumor got circulated that an accident had happened. The railroad people would neither affirm or deny the rumor, maintaining their usual reticence. When the train arrived, information was obtained of one of the passengers to the effect that the engine had in some unaccountable manner got loose from the other part of the train, in crossing a switch at a place called Desert. The engine ran through a Chinese wash house near the track and finally landed in a ditch. The baggage and express car of the other portion of the train met a similar fate. The passengers, beyond a general shaking up and an all round scare, were uninjured.

Sleeth Won't Be "Bounced."

The city council having tabled the mayor's veto of the measure decapitating Officer Sleeth, it was thought that would end the matter. But not so. Yesterday Sleeth donned his uniform and star and did his little best as in days of yore.

When asked if he was doing duty for his health, seeing the summons had struck his name off the pay roll, Sleeth replied, "I am acting under instructions from the mayor and shall continue to do so until I know the reasons why the city council want to get rid of me." The mayor has also ordered the men of the fire department to remain at their posts. It was decided by a unanimous vote at Monday night's councilic reduce their number six. The council meet again tonight when those who attended on Monday night in anticipation of some fun, but were disappointed, may get all they want.

Notes and Personals.

PROVO, JUNE 13, 1893.

CITY COUNCIL.

New Ordinances.—Street Railway Operations.—Quarantine Physician Appointed.

A session of the city council was held last night. The principal item of business was the consideration of the new ordinances being prepared by the special committee. W. P. Bennett represented that he had made arrangements for the running of the Provo City Railway during the summer, but he understood the franchise of the road had been forfeited. He asked for the privilege of operating until November 1st. The matter was referred to the committee on streets and alleys. The appointment of Dr. George Smart as quarantine physician of the city was confirmed.

At the Asylum.

Services were conducted at the Insane Asylum on Sunday by Elders J. H. Keeler and William H. King, music being furnished by members of the Tabernacle choir. The patients were quiet and orderly, and apparently listened attentively.

Narrow Escape.

Some of the passengers of No. 4, R. G. W. train received a terrible shock to their nerves as they passed through Lake View at about 7 o'clock on Sunday evening. A shot was fired from the hillside east of the track, the ball whizzing through the car, cutting a neat, round hole in the window pane as it entered on the east, passing through the left side of half a the head of a lady's head, scorching another lady's throat, coming so close to a third lady's nose that she felt the hot atmospheric friction, and out through the window, cutting a hole in a second window pane. Several persons in the car state that they were struck with minute particles of glass. The train speed on, but several ladies of that car will never forget that they had an uncomfortably close call in second the golden state. The ladies are unknown, as they were passengers for the East.
