DESERET EVENING NEWS.

Tuesday, March 31, 1896.

SIX MORE MEN.

That Is the Number Now Needed by the Police Department and Recommended by the Board.

A communication will likely be received at the city council meeting tonight asking that the police force be increased by six men—four patrolmen, one desk sergeant and one mounted officer.

This action was agreed upon in an executive session of the Board of Police based last night, and it is understood, then the retrenchment ordinance recently passed, cutting the force down two men will not have weight enough. The four extra patrolmen are wanted for the surveillance of the railroad depots, those points having been without police protection since the cut was made.

Preceding the executive meeting, routine business was transacted as follows:

A bill for gas and electricity used in the city hall during the month of January was presented by the Salt Lake and Ogden Gas and Electric Light company. It amounted to $98.30 and as it was more than double those of the months of November and December, when no cars that had been used, it was returned back to the company for explanation.

A communication was received from H. S. Walker, agent for the Hammond Typewriter company, asking for an appropriation of $90 to cover the purchase of a typewriter made from him by the fire department in the month of November. Ordered pats out of the fire money now in the hands of the chief.

Chief Devine submitted a communication calling attention to the necessity of an immediate revision of the fire ordinances, and the matter was referred to Commissioner Cohn.

Ex-Detective Aaron Paul presented a claim for $2.50, to cover the expense of horse hire used while assisting in the capture of the desperadoes, Coughlin and George. Ordered paid.

In reporting upon the claim of Thomas Cheshire for $276.75 for household goods damaged by fire, the petitioner alleging that the loss was occasioned by the delay of the department in getting to the place of the fire, Chief Devine gave the information that despite the irregular alarm sent in at the time, the department was not delayed answering the call of an. The distance to the conflagration was about two miles and the department used all possible dispatch in getting there, consequently they could not be held liable for the loss.

The report was ordered transmitted to the City Council.

Mounted Officer Shannon communicated for an increase in salary, stating farm as his reasons therefor the fact that the cost of feeding and shoeing his horse necessitated a monthly outlay of $12, which, after being deducted from his present stipend, left him about $70—the lowest amount paid to any officer on the force. Accompanying the communication was a favorable recommendation from Chief Paul. Referred to Commissioner Neff.

Officer Halsich, who has been doing special duty in the city attorney's office in connection with the city cases before the district court, was returned to report for regular duty next Monday, when whom extra bills were audited and the payroll of the police department allowed and the board adjourned.

DEFENDS HER NAME.

Mrs. Sarah Walker Claims That She Was Maliciously Arrested and Wants $5,000.

A decidedly sensational suit has been filed in the Third district court by Mrs. Sarah Walker against W. H. Jones for $5,000 in which she alleges she has been damaged through malicious arrest and defamation of character.

The plaintiff sets out that she has been a resident of this State for more than six years, and has always borne a good reputation for chastity and morality, notwithstanding which, on January 15, 1896, the defendant maliciously, falsely and without probable cause, swore to a complaint and officially served before Justice Wenger, showing that some was false, charging that plaintiff was guilty of keeping a house resorted to for the purpose of prostitution, and plaintiff was arrested and subjected to the ignominy and shame of a public trial, and was held up to the scorn and ridicule of the community as well as put to heavy expense in defending herself. She was acquitted not guilty, and is restored to her liberty.

Mrs. Walker concludes by stating that the defendant did not believe his charges were true, but stood not silent for the purpose of compelling her to move from the house occupied at the time resided, being No. 455 West Second South street in this city, said house being owned by the defendant. Wherefore she claims damages in the sum named.

Golden Wedding.

Three of the children and grandchildren of Joseph Bartlett Tripp and Rosanna Sophia Billings Tripp, who live in the city, surprised their parents and grandparents at their residence in the Eighteenth ward, with a picnic supper on Sunday evening, the 29th of March, 1896, it being fifty years since they were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, which took place in Nauvoo, Ill., on the 29th of March, 1846. After surrounding the happy parent with the tempting delicacies Father Tripp asked Uncle Dennis Bishop to offer the prayer, which he generously acceded to. After the repast he was requested to take a seat in order and proceeded upon the table before them a large family record that he had prepared and made it contained, first, the history of the when and where born; third, to whom married; fourth, when married; fifth, temple record. The dates stated that as his father's side he was the son of Wm. Tripp, and he the son of Wm. Tripp, and he the son of Joseph Tripp, who married Mary Thompson, and he the son of Joseph, so far the son of Sylvanus, who married to the town of Kittery, Me., of Mary Fox, on his mother's side he was of Nancy Hall Bartlett, she the daughter of Joseph Bartlett and Annie Hall, he the son of Elnathan, and the son of Joseph Jr., and the son of Joseph Sen., who emigrated from England to Newton, Mass., and there married Mercy Wales. The speaker said he had got the record with the intention of producing into it from the source, all of his progenitors as far back as he had the records, and if his son possessed them, which they probably did, the children, grandchildren and their descendants. He is now in the 72d year of his age and he prays to live for his post. He desires when his Heavenly Father calls him from this state of mortality to immediately find his children and children's children down in the blest paradise should get together and select some one of their number that belongs to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, to take charge of the family record, and of the temple record. He continued: "Let him or her be selected by my posterity to take charge of the records, keep them at all times under lock and key in a secure place from fire, water and vermin; but let none of my posterity be prevented from seeing and perusing the family record in the presence of some one that has the charge of the same; may my posterity always be inspired to select the proper one to take charge of the records, and may those that are selected be inspired of God to carry out all of His wishes as pertaining to these records and doing as he has for the dead in the Temples of our God." Concluding, he asked all who felt to endorse his records and to aid in carrying out his plans and wishes as pertaining to the records, to make it manifest by raising the right hand, and the vote was unanimous.

An informal time in their home with Father Tripp's kneeling upon them.

Late Bishop Weller's Will.

The last will and testament of the late Jacob Weller has been filed for probate in the Third district court. The deceased left property aggregating $46,353 in value.

Among the assets are $6,000 in realty, $4,000 in cash, $4,000 in Z. C. M. I. stock, $4,000 in Deseret National, $2,100 in State issue, $5,000 in Deseret Savings, $5,000 in Utah Commercial Industrial, $2,000 in Utah Loan and Trust, $1,000 in Deseret Dry Goods, $2,000 in Utah Commercial Industrial, $1,000 in Utah Sugar company and $200 in the Provo Woolen mills. The balance is in accounts.

Under the terms of the will there is bequeathed to the deceased's wife Elizabeth McElroy Weller, a house and lot in the third ward valued at $4,000, and $100 per year during her life, and to her son, Elijah Malin Weller, $200. The remainder of the estate is to be divided into six equal parts, the bequests therefrom to be as follows: Emily P. Weller, daughter-in-law, seven-tenths of one-sixth; Annie H. Weller, stenographer of the estate; Mary A. Weller, widowed daughter-in-law, and six grandchildren, consisting: Joseph T. Horne, son-in-law, and four grandchildren, one child, Hector W. Haight, grandson, consisting; Elizabeth Jane Foster Bringhurst and Mary Ann Foster Critchlow, adopted daughters, one-sixth each.

Elizabeth McElroy Weller, Elijah Malin Weller and Joseph S. Horne are named as executors without bonds. The petition for the probating of the will was set for hearing on April 11th.

AMUSEMENTS.

AT THE GRAND.

A cold March night with howling winds and snow could not be expected to bring out the usual first night attendance at the popular house last evening and considering this, together with the big house at the Theater during the opera engagement last week, it is surprising that the house was as well filled as it was. But those in attendance felt decidedly well paid for their venture out. The double bill of My Relative's Wife and Friend of a Wife's Cousin, was presented with the usual vim of this excellent stock company and though a little lengthy, furnished a good evening's entertainment and we predict that it will enjoy a big run for the balance of the week.

The farce was a pretty little nuts-to-crack for amusement, and the unraveling was laughable, giving Mr. Hanson and Madge Carr Cook a chance to shine through. Considering the length of the piece play the last could well be dispensed with in order to bring the final curtain down at a reasonable hour.

Based on a Wife's Peril gives us a chance to see Mr. Ingersoll in an entirely new role, that of the "Philosophic Englishman." Mr. Augustus Cheeseman is a specimen. It is one of the best things he has done here, really quite the best we know of. Mr. Edwards as George Fade, the worldly husband, did well, but so much cannot be said for the Rebel of Rivals of Mr. Hyres, who was very lame in his lines, giving the prompter a chance to display his base voice for the benefit of the audience. Miss Warren as Beatrice Fade, the wife, did well and have as usual received part but looked charming as ever. Madge Carr Cook as Mrs. Merryweather (a widow) was in her element and her "Spoony" scenes with her "Dearie Chumsey" were great. Little Jessie Cooper as the child, Tilly Fade, did her work like a veteran. Mr. Wm. H. Wenger, Mr. Hawkins and Harry Hanson as Joseph made up the balance of the cast, doing their duty well.

AT THE TABERNACLE.

Despite the rainy weather prevailing last night, a fair audience assembled to witness the initial performance of Hoyt's La. The drama with its pathos and fun scenes and lavish display of unfortunate weapons of offence is intended to inspire the audience with the profound depth of pity, in Jerry Meeks, Hinkey, Dinkey and Mike Hoyt's character deserves a better fate than to be cast in a play of the above stamp. Nevertheless undoubtedly the play will cause good business, as the individual impersonating of Hinkey and Jerry comedy goes with a vim that has the effect of stirring low average gallery gods to delirium.

The play calls for the entire strength of the company, and the individual merits of each member of the company are fully sustained.

Mr. Hoyt occupied the dual role of the twin prisoners in a capable manner that held the audience interested, although we think it could go for six days without a drop of water when he does not know all around him was uncertained. Mr. Hunker in the role of the villainous grocer was also good and made the most of a small part.

Miss Hall indulged in a song and dance before retiring down to serious business, but Annie made by being a good little sister to the heads of that capable little actress.

To Mr. Steele, Jennings and Williams was assigned the task of unraveling the mystery, both of whom had good make-up; Mr. Jennings in particular showing up well as Jim Rodder, the typical irrepressible westerner. Johnny Williams as the judge in the last act (that was essentially an operatic) did very handed the role in his usual well known style. The balance of the cast were well up to their parts, and together the play went smoothly without the stumbling over lines so prevalent on the average first night next door. As a number one bill Hoyt's La should be a drawing card.

AT THE THEATER.

The Bicycle Girl is on at the Theater tonight and tomorrow night and from the kind of advertising indulged in by Miss Nellie McHenry, who rents the row now, the bicycle boys of the city ought to be in attendance. The title seems to indicate the curiosity of the New York public, so much so that, on the opening night, the house was packed to the doors. The success of the play was immediate and during the entire New York engagement, the Blue Tunsler was crowned. The play was a success, the scenery good, the company evenly balanced.

Friday and Saturday nights, April 3rd and 4th, the American Dude will be presented at the Theater. The San Francisco Call says: J. P. Rowe's American Gill company packed the Alcazar Theater last night, and, as usual at the end of each act there were two or three curtains. The applause at the end of the second and third acts was deafening. The end of the second act belongs entirely to the Twins, Little Quentin as Virginia and Master Wood Isom as Prince Roy. The curtain goes down on Virginia's song "I'm going to write to papa," the little lad scarcely old enough to talk plainly brings tears to the eyes of mom of her audience. It is a race taking to find two such children as these.

Richard Mansfield opens his engagement at the Theater Monday night, April 6th with Beau Brummel and during six our nights here will present in succession the roles where A Parisian Romance, Prince Karl and Beaucaire in the order named.

School Attendance.

The appended statistical report discloses the attendance and punctuality of the pupils of the city schools for the month beginning February 24th and ending March 20th:

How to Cure Rheumatism.

ARGOS, LOGE COUNTY, OREGON, November 19, 1895.—I wish to inform you of the great good Chamberlain's Pain Balm has done my wife. She has been troubled with rheumatism of the arms and hands for six months, and has tried many remedies prescribed for that complaint but found no relief until she used the Pain Balm, one bottle of which has entirely cured her. I take pleasure in recommending it to that trouble. Yours truly, C. A. BULLOCK. 50 cent and $1.00 bottles for sale by druggists.

In the fall of 1893 a son of Mr. T. A. McFarland, a prominent merchant of Live Oak, Suwanee County, Florida, was taken with a very heavy cold. The pains in his chest were so severe that he had to stop and was threatened with pneumonia. He further gave him several large doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy which broke up the cough and cured him. Mr. McFarland says whenever his children have croup he invariably gives them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it always cures them. He considers it the best cough remedy in the market. For sale by druggists.

"It is with pleasure I tell you that by one day's use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy I was relieved of a severe cold. My head was completely stopped up and I could not sleep at night. I can recommend this remedy." Chas. M. Gotsel of Rosebery, Fresno County, California." A cold nearly always starts in the head and afterwards extends to the throat and lungs. By using this remedy freely as soon as the cold has been contracted it will cure the cold at once and prevent it from extending to the lungs. For sale by druggists.
