AN APPEAL MADE TO QUEEN VICTORIA

Uitlanders in Cape Colony Unite in Asking Her to Make Fresh Efforts to Secure Peace in South Africa.

Chamberlain Replies that Nothing More Can be Done, but Britain is Making Her Own Terms—Report that Boers Have Crossed the Frontier Discredited—Johannesburg Refugees Cause Disturbance at Capetown—Rumor of the Native Tribes Engaging in Massacres—Boers Have Orders Not to Cross the Frontier—Fears for $1,000,000 in Gold at Johannesburg—London Papers Have Sensational Dispatches from the Cape.

London, Oct. 5.—The Daily Telegraph publishes in its second edition the following dispatch from its Cape Town correspondent:

The Boer advance began today with usual movement of artillery. The Boers are occupying Ladies Nek and have sent out the mountaineers of south of Volksrust. There are opinions more severe than Lobengula, and preparations are being made to transfer Natal from the frontier to the interior.

The inhabitants of New Castle are alarmed and desired and to attempt to get the town in the event of a Boer march in Town.

Mr. Symons is preparing to evacuate the entire county-town, Dundee. The Boers are combing the brake for a month."

Through today's news from South Africa is given the adherents of peace a little a very deal of hope from the fact that the prospect of negotiations is not yet for terminated. The Boers are satisfactory. Side by side with the announcement that the Boers have accepted Lotage's Note is said a dispatch from Pretoria stating that the Boers have determined not to accept arbitration to the question of the Boer territory must be treated, and that Commandant Lucas Meyer has issued a proclamation to the effect that the Boers are prepared to fight to the last man.

Hesitating to draw any state who are the advocates of peace cannot congratulations over the attitude of the Transvaal that Mr. Hofmeyer, the Africander leader, and W. P. Schreiner, the Cape premier, have addressed a joint telegram to President Kruger and actually entreated for a little time they ought to have arrived at a decision. Mr. Hofmeyer is known to be the Transvaal statesman, and that the Transvaal government knew that he was in Europe, and that he was not acting without the authorization of the President, and that the Transvaal government knew that Mr. Schreiner was not acting without the authorization of the Cape Ministry. There is not a lot of evidence going to show that the Boers are concerned in the Transvaal, and that the Boers have proved to confine the Boers from New Castle to the Transvaal, and that the Boers have left the town of the Free State.
