FRAGMENTS.

THE Third district court is "off" for the present week, at any rate.

No new suits had been filed today in the office of the Third district court up to 5:15 p. m.

THE Tusearora society will celebrate Jackson day with a big banquet at the Keonsford tonight.

THE Fourth quorum of Seventies will meet in the Twenty-first ward meeting house, this evening, at 7:30 o'clock.

W. M. TOWNSEND today swore to a complaint against Jack Smith for disturbing the peace. A warrant was issued for Smith's arrest.

THE Thirteth quorum of Seventies will hold their regular meeting this evening in the Nineteenth ward meeting house, at 7:30 o'clock; a full attendance is desired.

CHARLES H. SPENCER, the fellow who broke into Wiesmann's grocery store last night, plead guilty to burglary in Justice Cox's court this morning and was held to await the action of the grand jury.

ARTHUR BROWN, Esq., attorney-at-law, is willing that the two county selectmen elect shall continue to "chew the cud of bitter fancy" until Friday, when he thinks they may safely look out for squalls!

THE regular monthly meeting of the Third quorum of Elders has been postponed for one week, and will be held in the Third ward meeting house on next Monday night, January 16th, at 7:30. J. Z. Higgs, secretary.

THE old County court met this morning and immediately adjourned, the motion being to do nothing of an executive character until the case between the two boards is settled by the Supreme court.

THE stock of furniture, carpets, etc., of the Eagle company on State street, has been sold by U. S. Marshal Benton to Joan T. Ballard for $25,000. Mr. Ballard is the one in whose favor the now defunct firm confessed judgment in the Third district court for about $20,000.

THE annual election of a president, first and second vice-presidents and eight directors of the Chamber of Commerce, to serve during the current year, will take place on Thursday evening of this week at 8 o'clock. It is important that every member should be present to signify his choice for the right kind of men.

In the Supreme court of the Territory this afternoon, as will be seen by the report in another column, Attorney Arthur Brown made an application for a writ of mandamus against County Clerk Maloy requiring him "to perform his duty." The case will come up for hearing next Friday morning.

Jackson's Day Celebration.

Following is the programme for the Young Men's Democratic society of the Fifth precinct for tonight. The meeting to be given in Veteran Firemen's hall, No. 426 east South Temple street:

Medical Examiners Meet.

The recently appointed Territorial board of medical examiners held their first regular meeting on Saturday night. The credentials of several applicants for certificates were favorably acted upon by the board which consisted of Drs. Fowler, Richards, Bascom, Brick, Dart and Shimmick.

The board will meet again in this city on Saturday night next to act upon additional applications and transact such other business as may appropriately come before the meeting.

THE OLD AND THE NEW.

To "New" County Court Met This Morning, and All Was Peace.

A "TONIC" PAUPER IS INTRODUCED

The Board's Session Lasted Two and a Half Hours.—Reports of Officers.—Mandamus Proceedings.

The rival boards fastened upon today as the date of the adjourned meetings for the transaction of county affairs, the new body first going to the minutes. Ten o'clock was the time named for their coming together, and the selectmen evidently realized the truth of the axiom that "punctuality is the soul of business," inasmuch as Moses Cahoon, Morris and Bomberger reported for active service fully ten minutes before the hands of the clock pointed to the hour.

There was a good deal of speculation indulged in as to the probable outcome of today's conferences of the boards, the newly-elected members declaring that they should continue to act unless restrained by the arm of the law. It was not their intention to take the first move to test the legality or otherwise of their present position, but would leave their opponents to adopt whatever steps they might see fit.

When the tomy had settled comfortably down, it was resolved that Judge Bartch be informed that the court had convened, and Clerk Maloy, having deposited a pile of books and documents on his desk, was desired to step out and invite his honor in. But the judge was engaged at that time, and so sent word by the clerk, who parenthetically remarked on his return—"I presume you are willing to wait for him?"

For a few minutes the board had no objection to do this, but as Judge Bartch did not materialize within what was deemed a reasonable time, it was moved and seconded that Selectman Cahoon take the chair. Mr. Cahoon had already "taken the chair;" therefore all he needed to do by way of a prelude to the proceedings was to call upon Clerk Maloy to "please read the minutes of the previous meeting."

The Clerk slied in with the performance of that initial duty, but he had not gone far when a sudden halt was called. Meanwhile the chairman had left the room and a dozen or more visitors had entered. These latter included Attorney Arthur Brown (who wanted to know how the "court" was running!) and Judge Powers. The last named had a big chat with Selectman Bamberger and one or two others and then followed Arthur Brown into the ante room. Attorney J. M. Thomas, clerk pro tem of the old board, took up his position against the stove, listened for a while to what was going forward and then vanished. When Selectman Cahoon resumed his colleagues the reading of the minutes was concluded and the routine business was proceeded with. Ex-Clerk Allen was a conspicuous figure, as, occupying the Judge's seat, he formed a sort of background to his successor. Mr. Allen has one or two little matters to square up before he quits the county office entirely, and today he was again working on the books.

A "TONIC" PAUPER.

A decently dressed and well-spoken man waited upon the board and presented a card bearing the signature of Dr. S. I. Hunman, on which was written: "This will introduce Ed. Uncarrow. He is a worthy person for the county hospital." Jan. 9th, 1893.

Asked what he wanted, the applicant complained that he was discharged from the county hospital last Friday by Dr. Machean, the county physician, though quite unfit to leave. He said he could not understand such treatment and that if he was to be subjected to that sort of thing, he would "rather stand up and have a bullet put through him."

Mr. Hinman, superintendent of the county infirmary, volunteered the opinion that Uncarrow was "too tonic" for an poorhouse or like resort. When he was first admitted there he gave orders that his washing should be be done separately from that of the paupers, and also objected to take a bath in the same tub as they. As an alternative for the latter he elected to go up town and enjoy a bath on his own account. "Taking all these things into consideration," said the superintendent, "I do not consider him a fit subject for the poorhouse at all. I think he is too good a man." The doctor reported that he was quite able to leave the hospital.

Uncarrow warmed up the indignantly denied the truth of the assertions made by Mr. Hinman as to the washing and bathing, and said he would not have asked to go to such a place had he been able to find a job. He had worked from the time he was nine years old until a year ago, when he fell sick, and was now fifty-six. He came from California to Salt Lake, and had no friends or relatives here. He was not able to work now, and nearly fell down in the street from weakness and exhaustion last Friday.

(It may be observed here that while the applicant looked thin and delicate, his appearance did not indicate anything for orthodox apoplexy.)

The feeling of the board was that they "must stand by their officers," and therefore declined to make any order for his readmission to the infirmary without a new certificate from the county physician. He was informed, however, that he might call upon the doctor and see what he would do.

A SILENT WHIPPER.

While the further business of the board was in progress Judge Bartch came to the door and beckoned Chairman Cahoon. The two had a three minutes conversation together, but what transpired was not made known.

The remainder of the business was of the ordinary routine character, and during its transaction County Attorney Murphy joined the forces.

ALLEN'S ANNUAL.

Ex-County Clerk Allen presented his financial statement of Salt Lake county for the year ending December 31st, 1892. It is a very lengthy document and will be given in the News later.

Mr. Allen requested that the court would appoint a committee to audit his accounts for 1892 as soon as possible.

TAX SALE REFUND.

A letter was read from J. J. Snell, again asking for refund on account of tax sale, amounting to $27.34. Referred to the county attorney.

WANTS TO GET RID OF IT.

Ex-Clerk Allen wrote requesting that an order be made authorizing him to turn over to his successor $443.50, the amount held by him (on the order of the board of December 29th) for payment to D. P. Beaman for contract work. So ordered.

IN THE HOSPITALS.

County Physician Maclean reported that the number of patients at St. Mark's hospital, at the expense of the county, on January 7th, was 8, and at the Deseret hospital 5; total 13.

DIDN'T WANT HIM.

Natural Gas Inspector John Woodburn reports that he had visited the gas fields in Salt Lake county on several occasions since his appointment (Oct. 7th) that my services not being required I did nothing more than make an examination of the gas fields."

SCHOOL TAXES.

The ex-county treasurer of Salt Lake (J. R. Toronto) reported as in the county school tax receipts for the year ending Dec. 31st, 1892: Balance on Jan. 1st, 1892, $5,242.10; county school tax, $49,808.03; total $55,102.13. Cash paid out on county superintendent's warrants to school districts and on expense account $52,916.55. Balance county school tax in hand Dec. 31st, 1892, $2,185.58.

The amount expended on superintendent's warrants for the last quarter (Oct., Nov., Dec.) was $17,257.94. Received and filed.

LIQUOR LICENSES APPROVED.

James P. Matherwell, Bingham canyon, and Riley H. Graves, Sandy.

THE COUNTY INFIRMARY.

J. H. Hinman, superintendent of Salt Lake County infirmary, reported that when he took charge of the institution fifteen months ago there were 38 inmates, 21 of whom are still there. Seven had died and 3 been sent to the insane asylum. There had been 95 admitted during the fifteen months, making a total of 133 under my charge. Of these 3 had died, 5 were sent to the insane asylum and 9 ticketed to friends in the states. Of the total number 7 were born in Utah, 38 in the states and 88, or 67 per cent, were foreign born; 2 were two months old, 1 was 53 years of age, one was 86, 7 others above 80, 15 between 70 and 80, 32 between 60 and 70, 27 between 50 and 60, and the balance were between the ages of 19 and 50. At present there were 35 inmates, all the house could possibly accommodate. Two of these were totally blind, 1 was a helpless cripple and 1 an imbecile. During the fifteen months there have been numerous improvements made and those the superintendent enumerated.

TORONTO'S ANNUAL.

County Treasurer Toronto reported for the year ending December 31st, 1892: The balance in hand on January 1st, 1892, was $53,042.01, and that on December 1st of the same year $3,079.59. The heaviest item in the year's expenditure was "Court House and land, $30,088.05." The detailed account will be given in the News later.

PRINTING BIDS.

Four bids were received from local firms for printing the record books for the county recorder. They were laid upon the table unopened for the present.

After the dispose of some other small matters the board adjourned at 12:30 till Thursday next, at 10 a.m.

As the members vacated their seats it was heard that mandamus proceedings would be at once instituted in the Territorial Supreme Court.

SUPREME COURT MEETS.

The January Session Opened this Afternoon, with Three Judges.

THE COUNTY COURT MUDDLE.

Arthur Brown, Attorney, Applies for a Mandamus Against H. V. Maloy, Clerk.

One o'clock this afternoon was the time set for the assembling of the Judges of the Territorial Supreme court at the inauguration of the January term, and there was a very large attendance of members of the bar, not only belonging to Salt Lake but also hailing from neighboring towns in the Territory. Among those present when Bailiff "Dac" Sprague made the announcement, at the request of the chief justice, that the "Honorable Supreme Court for the Territory of Utah is now in session" were Judge Sutherland, Judge Boreman, Judge J. A. Marshall, Judge Anderson, Judge Henderson, Judge Judd, Attorneys Royle, W. H. Dickson, Arthur Brown, F. S. Richards, E. W. Tallock, Barlow Ferguson, J. L. Rawlins, John M. Cannon, Gilchrist, Frank Pierce, Armstrong, John M. Zane, Street, C. S. Kinney, P. L. Williams, Cherry, Le Grand Young, E. H. Critchlow, Waldemar Van Cott, H. S. Warren, Ogden Hiles, S. A. Lewis, F. J. Barker, F. H. Stephens, W. H. King (Provo), John J. Anderson, J. H. Leicher, D. R. Strang, W. C. Reilly.

It was after 2 o'clock when Chief Justice Zane and Associate Justices Blackburn and Miner took their seats on the bench, and by this time the patience of between seventy-five and one hundred attorneys had become entirely exhausted. More than once the inquiry has gone forth, "What's the matter with the Supreme court?" but nobody was able to answer, not even Clerk Bacon, who is generally supposed to be "on the know" in regard to the court's doings.

Clerk Bacon first read the minutes of the last session, which were formally approved.

KERN, THE MURDER.

In the case of the People vs. Albert Kern the petition for rehearing was denied.

Kern is now undergoing a long term of imprisonment in the penitentiary. As a gentleman he held a conspicuous place up to the time of his arrest, and is the same individual who entered the house of Mr. Watts, a butcher, near the Warm Springs and stole a sum of money, under threats. He more or less escaped from the officers of the law and is altogether regarded as a dangerous criminal.

RE HEARING ALLOWED.

In the case of S. Burger et al., plaintiffs and respondents, vs. St. V. Le Sage, defendant and appellant, the petition for a re-hearing was granted.

In the case of Robert P. Stimpson, respondent, vs. the Union Pacific Railway company, the petition for rehearing was also granted. The original action arose out of the killing of an animal at a place where the railroad run through is not owned by private individuals.

REACHERS REVERSED.

The Zopfel Irrigation Co., appellant, vs. Richard Jenkins and Wm. Rowberry, respondents, was an appeal from Judge Blackburn's court. It was an action in which the plaintiff claimed the exclusive right to the use of the waters of Salt Creek, in Juab county, and the judgment of the lower court, finding for the defendant, was now reversed.

MINES SUSTAINED.

Milton J. West et al., appellants, vs. the Utah National Bank of al., respondents. This was an appeal from Judge Miner's court, sustaining a demurrer to the plaintiff's complaint, for the reason, as averred, that the facts stated did not constitute a cause of action. The judgment of the lower court was affirmed.

A MANDAMUS WANTED.

Attorney Arthur Brown said there was one case of public importance which he would like to have set for an early hearing. It was that of Hatch and others, composing the County Court of Salt Lake county, against H. V. Maloy, clerk of the court. The application which counsel desired to make was for a mandamus to compel the defendant to perform his duty, as clerk. Mr. Brown very briefly stated the cause of the trouble (with the facts of which readers of the NEWS are by this time quite familiar) and urged the desirability of a settlement of the matter as speedily as possible.

Judge Blackburn—Who is on the other side?

Attorney Brown—Well, I really don't know who the "other side" is. (Laughter.) Mr. Maloy has not had notice of these proceedings yet. I cannot say who his counsel are.

Judge Zane—Let the matter be set down for Friday morning next.

THE SETTINGS.

The court then proceeded with the setting of cases on the calendar, the chief justice remarking that in view of the present vacancy on the bench they would first dispose of those cases which were previously tried by Judge Anderson.

THE BLAZARD WILL PERIODICAL.

Attorney J. L. Rawlins applied for an extension of twenty days in which to prepare and file an additional brief in this case. There is a very considerable sum involved in the action. Attorney Dickson opposed the application. Eventually the bench granted fifteen days.

When the NEWS reporter left at 5:30 the judges were still dealing with the settings.

The session will probably last till Friday afternoon.

Within Our Gates.

J. H. Dupaix, merchant and mining operator, of Minersville, is looking around the streets and enjoying the wonderful temperature, of which we have enough and to spare.

* * *

W. H. King and S. R. Thurman, both attorneys at law, both former members of the Legislature, both Democrats and both hailing from Provo, are domiciled at the Cullen, but occasionally take a spin outside.

* * *

Charles Crane, president of the Utah Woolgrowers' association and a conspicuous figure in the late campaign as one of the chief Republican managers, came up from Ramon, near which point his sheep roam upon many hills and through numerous vales; he left his bold autograph upon the Cullen register last evening.

* * *

The Supreme Court being in session today necessarily brought to us Judges Miner of Ogden and Blackburn of Provo. They with Judge Zane will constitute the court, Judge Bartch not yet being qualified.

* * *

The "east side" Democrats are expected to congregate at the Veteran Firemen's hall this evening and pay tribute to the memory of Andrew Jackson, with refreshments. See programme in another column.

IN MONTANA.

Three Populists Hold the Balance of Power.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—C. R. Tingle, one of the leading Democrats of Montana came to New York a few days ago, to see Cleveland about the Montana senatorship. "The Montana senate," he said, "stands seven Republicans to nine Democrats, and three Populists in the house seem to hold the balance of power. The Populists have agreed to support a Democrat providing his views on the silver question are in accord with theirs. As a result of this deal, a Democrat is almost certain to be elected."

THE CATTLEMEN WAR.

People of Johnson County Talk of Dropping It.

CHEYENNE, Jan. 9.—The people of Johnson county are seriously discussing the question of dropping the prosecution of cattlemen. The cattlemen prosecution will about bankrupt the county, besides the people say they are punished enough already, having been whipped in the fight, imprisoned, defeated politically and lost time and money. Besides conviction is doubtful.

ELECTORAL VOTES CAST TODAY.

A Resolution to Suspend all Purchases of Silver Bullion Taken up in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Dr. Johnson, after remaining in the Blaine house all night, left shortly after 6 o'clock this morning. He said Blaine enjoyed peaceful sleep during the night and was only awakened at such times as necessary to give medicine and nourishment. The doctor puts much more hopeful aspect on the case this morning, but will not go into the details further than to say that the night has been a satisfactory one. At 9 o'clock the attendant at the door of the Blaine mansion said the patient was resting very easily indeed. Blaine is showing remarkable vitality. In yesterday's sinking spells it was thought he could not survive, but the system responded to the remedies administered with much readiness.

One of the closest friends of Blaine, who was admitted to the sick chamber last night, said today: "The light of the life of Blaine is going out. I do not think he will survive the next twenty-four hours. His present condition is a struggle between life and death, which is likely to terminate at any time. He is apparently oblivious of his surroundings, but frequently rouses from his comatose state, and though too weak to manifest any interest in the family, yet gives evidence of consciousness."

DR. JOHNSON TALKS.

At 11 o'clock Dr. Johnson, who just came from a visit to the statesman's bedside, said: "Blaine is very much better. He is as well as he was four days ago and has entirely recovered from the relapse of Saturday night and yesterday morning. He is quite cheerful this morning and I feel very much encouraged regarding him." The members of the family and others spoke to the same strain.

INTERESTING RELICS.

Evidences of Ancient Civilization on the Pacific Coast.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—A morning paper says that a man digging into the mounds in Santa Maria and Cuiama valleys in the coast mountains, unearthed curious copper implements, stone vessels, polished stone coffins and other things, which appear to belong to persons far antedating the earliest races heretofore known on the coast. Near the same places are polished monoliths with inscriptions similar to those on the Egyptian obelisks.

Knicknackery and Mason.

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 9.—The convention of the Knickerbocker and Masonic Interstate Council met here this morning. They will continue in session two or three weeks. Two hundred delegates are present from the United States and Canada.

The Work of Burglars.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Burglars entered the clerk's office at Fairfax court house, blew open the safe, scattered the records over the floor and burned some. The safe contained George Washington's will, but the burglars evidently overlooked it, for it was undisturbed.

Fire in a Furniture Store.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The six-story building, occupied by Doll & Co., furniture dealers, burned this morning. Loss, a quarter of a million. Three hundred people employed in the structure escaped, though many lives were in peril, for a time, as at the first alarm there was a panic and the exits became choked.

Murdered a Priest.

MADRID, Jan. 9.—Robbers entered a hermitage near Puen Santa and tortured and finally murdered the priest for refusing to disclose the hiding place of the valuable votive offerings. They then plundered the building and set fire to it.

CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—In the Senate this morning the resolution of McPherson (N. J.) directing the secretary of the treasury to suspend all purchases of silver bullion under the act of July 14th, 1890, was taken up. McPherson addressed the Senate in favor of its adoption. He took as his text the plank in the last Democratic platform denouncing the Sherman act as a cowardly makeshift and declaring that it must be repealed. He said it was on the strength of that pledge that more than 1000 electoral votes which Cleveland would not otherwise have received, were cast for him. The people demanded to be so benefited and they would be fulfilled.

In obedience to that demand the distinguished senator from New York (Hill) had introduced a bill to repeal the Sherman act. As a foil to that bill the distinguished senator from Nevada (Stewart) again vamped into the arena with all his old time vigor with his "dollar of the daddies" and open mints.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Waits (Populist (Georgia) introduced in the House a bill to create the office of public inspector of coins and gold and to provide for the issue of certificates of deposit, and issue postoffice money orders thereon.

LOOKING FOR GOLD.

Fifteen Thousand Persons Gathered in a Mexican Camp.

CHIHUAHUA, Mex., Jan. 9.—There is no abatement in the mining excitement near Ures, Sonora, over the rich gold finds, made a few weeks ago. It is estimated that the new camp now has a population of 15,000 persons, mostly Mexicans, with a few American prospectors from the southern parts of Arizona. Traces of old workings have been recently discovered. This fact gives color to the belief that the long lost mines of fabulous riches of the Aztecs are about to be rediscovered. There has been no trouble so far between the prospectors and Yaqui Indians, although the latter view with sullen silence the encroachment upon their domain.

ELECTORAL VOTES.

The First Democratic Elector for 40 Years in Ohio.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 9.—The Ohio members of the electoral college met this morning and cast twenty-two votes for Benjamin Harrison and one, by J. P. Seward, of Mansfield, for Grover Cleveland. Seward is the first Democratic presidential elector in Ohio in forty years.

THREE FOR HARRISON AND ONE FOR WEAVER.

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 9.—The members of the electoral college met today and cast three votes for Harrison and one for Weaver.

NEW YORK FOR CLEVELAND.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 9.—New York's thirty-six presidential electors met and organized and after endorsing Edward Murphy for United States senator, cast their vote for Cleveland and Stevenson.

INDIANA VOTES FOR CLEVELAND.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 9.—The electoral vote of Indiana was cast by the electors today for Cleveland and Stevenson.

TENNESSEE FOR CLEVELAND.

NASHVILLE, Jan. 9.—The Tennessee electors met at noon and cast their votes for Cleveland and Stevenson.

MONTANA FOR HARRISON.

HELENA, Mont., Jan. 9.—The electoral college met and cast three votes for Harrison and Reid.

MINNESOTA FOR HARRISON.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 9.—Nine Minnesota electors met at noon and cast their vote for Harrison and Reid.

THE IOWA ELECTORS.

DES MOINES, Iowa Jan. 9.—The Presidential electors met at noon. After electing Milton Rumley, Iowa City, second elector at large as president, and Ed. Chassell, Lenara, secretary, they adjourned till 2 p.m.

ILLINOIS VOTES FOR CLEVELAND.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 9.—The electoral college met today and cast the vote of Illinois for Cleveland and Stevenson, 24 votes.

David C. Enslow, of Carlinville, was chosen official messenger to carry the result to Washington.

NEBRASKA FOR HARRISON.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 9.—The Nebraska Presidential electors met at noon and cast their votes for Benjamin Harrison.
