

FLINT GLASS WORKERS OUT

By Practically Unanimous Vote
American Federation of Labor
Excludes Their Delegates.

THEY HAD ONCE SECEDED.

Constitution Provides for Action
Taken—John Mitchell Spoke
Strongly in Favor of It.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 10.—The first real fight in the twenty-eighth annual convention of the American Federation of Labor occurred this afternoon on the report of the credentials committee, and resulted in the unseating of the delegates of the Flint Glass Workers by a practically unanimous vote.

The first day of the convention the credentials committee report seating all delegates except those of the Electrical Workers, whose case was referred to a special committee; the operative Plasterers' association and the Flint Glass Workers. The Operative Plasterers' case was referred to a special committee this afternoon. The reason for refusing them seats was the late arrival of their application for a charter, it having arrived too late to be acted upon.

The other cases being disposed of, the fight over the seating of the Flint Glass Workers delegates was begun. For many years the Flint Glass Workers were members of the federation, but withdrew on account of a controversy growing out of a question of jurisdiction with the Glass Bottle Blowers' association.

Having seceded from the federation the Flint Glass Blowers' association cannot be restored to membership, according to the constitution. In controversy over jurisdiction with an organization belonging to the federation.

H. H. Rowe, president of the Flint Glass Workers' association, and elected as delegates from the Ohio federation led the fight for the admission of himself, J. F. Tobin of Munroe, Ind.; W. W. Davies of Hamilton county, Ohio, and Frederick Shane of Toledo, O., who are barred out by the report of the credentials committee.

Mr. Rowe protested in vehement language against the action of the committee, and that the enforcement of the letter of the constitution against himself and comrades, was equivalent to "government by injunction."

The other delegates whose seats were contested spoke along the same lines, one of them contending they were entitled to seats as representatives of state bodies.

John Mitchell spoke in support of the exclusion of the Flint Glass Workers. He said he stood firmly upon the constitution and the law of the federation.

Dennis Hayes of the Glass Bottle Blowers' association also took the same stand, and declared that the Flint Glass men were not only seceders, but that they had waged an incessant war upon the glass blowers; a war even more bitter than contest against non-unions.

Several other delegates spoke against the admission of the Flint Glass men, and President Gompers closed the discussion with a statement of his position, in which he expressed the hope that the differences between the warring unions would yet be adjusted.

The vote was taken which unseated the Flint Glass men.

A number of resolutions were sent to the secretary's desk just before adjournment, one of them being introduced by the Western Federation of Miners, had an informal reception in the lobby of the convention hall. He is not a member of the federation, and did not appear on the floor of the convention.

CONSTABLE KILLS BARTENDER.

Lima, Mont., Nov. 10.—Col. C. H. Boule, constable here, today shot and instantly killed a bartender known as Jack Toney, following a quarrel. Boule is under arrest and will be taken to the county jail at Dillon. The killing is said to have been unprovoked.

SURGEON'S KNIFE

AS CURE FOR CRIMINALS

Chicago, Nov. 11.—The information of criminals by the surgeon's knife is advocated by Dr. C. E. Scoleth, physician at the house of correction, commonly called the Bridewell.

The recommendation is made in the annual report of the institution, issued yesterday by the board of inspectors.

"There is not a day passes," says Dr. Scoleth, "that I do not have four or five unfortunate inmates come to me who are unable to do manual labor on account of some infirmity that could be cured by an operation. A

The Remarkable

Will of a Doctor

He Leaves the Secret of Life to His Children and the World.

One of the world's greatest physicians upon his deathbed called his children about him and said: "When I die I will leave the secret of life as I have discovered it in my practice."

When they read his will it directed them to a safety vault which contained a large envelope marked thus: "The Secret of Life." Upon opening it they read: "Don't abuse the stomach."

This profound thinker after a long life of medicine knew the stomach to be the throne of man.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will help you make a stomach healthy.

If it is worn out and lacks the fluids of digestion these tablets will take the place of such fluids.

If it is filled with poisonous juices, these tablets will neutralize and remove such poison.

If you cannot eat without agony these tablets will show you how you can. If you will eat foolishly, or drink excessively, or if business demands abuse of stomach, these tablets after meals will make such abuse light, for they take the hardship away from the stomach.

They are great digesters, filled with more powerful agents than the system can absorb. They go back into the blood after they have digested a meal, thereby increasing the ability of nature to take care of digestion without exhausting other organs.

High livers need feel no considerable hardship if they will eat one of these little tablets after a rich or late meal.

It is a splendid gift to the stomach and good habit to form. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets sell for 50c per package at every drug store.

Send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package by mail free. Address P. C. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

Of This Unnecessary Misery.

Miserable is the man or woman who suffers from dread indigestion or dyspepsia. There are few diseases which create such misery, long drawn-out suffering, as indigestion. Its pursues them before meals, after meals and between meals; they take it to bed with them. It is with them wherever they go, though indigestion is the simplest disease of all to cure.

Such afflicted ones dear reader, of Pape's Diapiesin, urge the sufferer to go to any Pharmacy here and give 50 cents for a case. Such a sufferer would ever bless you, because five minutes after taking there would be no more indigestion, no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, or heartburn, or fullness and discomfort, no belching of gas or eructations of sour food, debilitating headache, nausea, water brash and other symptoms of a sour, disordered stomach.

Pape's Diapiesin will digest anything you eat without the aid of the stomach.

Diapiesin is a wonderful stomach purifier and should be kept in the kitchen clean and fresh; then your food will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Diapiesin will rest the stomach and increase the gastric juices; this is what is mostly needed—more and better digestive juices—and no gas—then indigestion and all stomach trouble will go.

Each 50 cent case contains sufficient to usually thoroughly cure the most chronic dyspeptic.

man that is unable to work and has no means of support will have to make his living on some one else's earnings. To my mind surgical assistance that transforms an invalid unable to work into a well man capable of doing a hard day's work is the very highest type of humanitarianism.

MINISTERS TURN CATTLE

PENS INTO PULPITS

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Pens and cattle enclosures in the stock yards were transformed into pulpits yesterday by a force of 30 ministers of religion. Sermons were delivered to the killing gangs and a coronetist furnished religious music.

In most of the killing rooms the sermons were preached during the lunch recess.

In one hog house the sermon was delivered to the killers while in the act of doing the killing.

Long knives, from which blood was dripping, were in the hands of the workers at the very moment the message of the gospel was mingled with and slightly interrupted by the squeals of the dying hog.

The "Packingtown squad" of revivalists is composed of local preachers from the principal denominations. They are under the direction of the Rev. Charles Stele, and the Rev. Warren H. Wilson, eastern evangelists.

The unique revival will be continued at noon today and will last two weeks.

STORY OF A SOCIETY

WOMAN'S SPECULATIONS

New York, Nov. 11.—The story of how a society woman of Philadelphia speculated to the extent of $3,000,000 in 20 months, will be told in the supreme court today. The net result of her dealings, said to have been made on "tips" from one of the leading financiers of America, is a debt of $35,376. She is alleged to have won heavily in the bull market of 1906, but her gains and much of her fortune went away in the "silent panic" of the spring of 1907.

The woman is Katherine M. Churchman, wife of William B. Churchman, a close personal friend of J. P. Morgan. Mrs. Churchman is defendant in a suit brought by Edward Harding, assignee for the brokerage firm of Mills Brothers & Company, which failed in August of last year. Harding's complaint will argue before Justice McCall today on a motion for the appointment of a referee to hear testimony.

Mrs. Churchman, through her lawyer, has fought the suit, but she took it once to the appellate division on a question of the cause of the action. Though she denies many of the allegations in the complaint and insists the brokerage firm bought and sold the stock without specific directions from her, the complaint and the attorneys of the firm say that she was imbued with the fever of speculation, and went on the road to win hundreds of thousands of dollars, when the market suddenly took a downward swing. Then the greater part of her dealings, it is alleged, was on margin.

The purchase in one day for her account on several occasions, totaled between $400,000 and $500,000, while $100,000 purchases were, it is alleged, frequently occurred. Her sales on profits amounted to hundreds of thousands of dollars.

WOUNDED MAN KEPT ALIVE

BY DRINKING OWN BLOOD

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 11.—Kept alive and given strength by drinking his own blood which oozed from a bullet wound in his forehead and trickled down into his mouth, Martin McDonough last night in a local hospital told how he had been mistaken for a burglar when about to enter the house of C. A. Stickney by mistake, was shot by a negro coachman; was deserted by his two companions and then walked six miles to Mendota to secure medical aid. Local physicians say if McDonough had not drunk his own blood he would not have lived. Although he has a bullet lodged in the back of his head, he was able to walk around his room tonight and the physicians say he will recover.

JUDGE S. S. CALHOUN DEAD.

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 11.—Justice S. S. Calhoun, of the supreme court of this state, died suddenly at his home here last night of heart disease. He was born in Brandenburg, Ky., in 1833.

MRS. DEVINE COLLAPSED.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Wearied by complicated court proceedings in which she could see no justice, Mrs. Edwin C. Devine, wife of the broker who is charged with various high handed deals in finance, collapsed in Judge McCuskey's court last night when she saw her husband sent back to jail.

Mrs. Devine, who has been married only five months, sat by her husband's side all afternoon and when the court's decision came she fell limply from her chair into the arms of her husband. Devine comforted the weeping woman as best he could before he returned to his cell.

Judge McCuskey will decide Saturday morning whether Devine must return to Boston to answer the charge of defrauding A. B. Tracy & Co. out of $32,000 worth of bonds by means of a bogus check.

GIRLS MISTAKEN FOR CONVICTS AND FIRED AT

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Locked in the Bridewell where they had gone to visit one of the matrons, unable to find an attendant to pass them through the enclosure, and fired at as fugitives when they scaled the high wall, was the experience of Miss Margaret Costello and Miss Alice Zimmer, two Austin girls, last night.

Miss Costello had been invited to visit the Bridewell by her aunt, Miss Ellen Guerin, a matron at the institution, and Miss Zimmer accompanied her.

After being shown through the house of correction by Mrs. Guerin the girls, who are each 17 years old, were invited to remain for luncheon. It was dark when the matron bade them good-bye at the prison door and they started for a gate in the outer enclosure. They discovered they were locked. They hurried back to the building, but on trying the doors found that they, too, were fastened for the night and that ingress or egress was cut off.

After pounding on the doors and shouting without result the girls decided to scale the walls. Choosing a point near a gate, they assisted each other to the top and were lowering themselves to the other side when a guard appeared, commanded them to stop and fired his revolver.

Fearing they would be shot as fugitives, the girls leaped to the ground and ran, later boarding a car for home.

AMERICAN LITERATURE.

Bliss Perry Thinks Few Men Have Understood Its Full Spirit.

South Hadley, Mass., Nov. 11.—Bliss Perry, editor of the Atlantic Monthly, thinks that this country's literature has attracted few men "broad-minded enough to understand the full significance of American literature," but in this generalization he makes an exception of "Mark Twain." Mr. Perry gave utterance to this opinion in an address on "The New Literature" before the women students of Mount Holyoke college. He declared American commercialism as the trouble and went on:

"The new literature isn't yet representative of the best thinking and feeling of the country. Magazines are more immediately representative, but they are less truly representative than the newspapers. The daily press gives a more adequate and on the whole, a more reassuring, indication of the trend of contemporary affairs than do the magazines."

"WHAT'S IN A NAME?"

One in Sult in N. Y. Supreme Court is A Jaw-Breaker.

New York, Nov. 11.—While the name given a few lines down may be easily negotiated by a Norwegian tongue it is a fearsome thing for an American tongue, even that of a court clerk. The name appears on the New York state supreme court calendar in trial term, part II, before Justice Plutzek, and it is that of the plaintiff in this case.

"Dampskiselselskabet Hermod vs. Federal Insurance Company." Clerk MacDonald and Chief John McSherry are confronted with the uncomfortable prospect of having to frequently repeat it when the trial of the action takes place on Nov. 18. The plaintiff with the mouth-twisting title is a Norwegian corporation and it owns the steamship Hermon. The action relates to the stranding of that vessel outside the harbor of Cardenas, Cuba, in 1905.

SHOT BY FREIGHT ROBBERS.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Yardmaster C. Barton was found unconscious in a Wash railroad yards at an early hour this morning. He was suffering from a protruding pile in the head and was taken to Merz hospital, where it was said, his wound probably would prove fatal. It is believed he was shot by freight train robbers.

Itching piles provoke profanity, but profanity won't cure them. Doan's Ointment cures itching, bleeding or protruding piles after years of suffering. At any drug store.
