SNAKE IN THE GRASS.

Railway Hands Alarmed at an Apparently Innocent Announcement.

WILL STREET CARS CARRY MAILS.

The Employes, They Say, Are at the Mercy of the Corporation, According to Gleary's Famous Decision.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13. — The Chronicle says:

The announcement by Postmaster Frank McCoppin that he is endeavoring to bring about the carrying of the mails between suburbanites and the central postoffice on the street railway lines of this city is looked upon very suspiciously by railway employes, and especially by members of the American Railway Union. While not impugning Mr. McCoppin anything but the best motives to facilitate the transmission and dispatch of mails generally, the railway employes claim to see behind the proposition the hand of the railroad corporations which control the Southern Pacific railway. They claim that it is nothing more or less than a scheme of the railway company to bring its immense street car system within the protection of that celebrated decision rendered by Attorney General Olney, during the strike against the Pullman Car company.

The provisions of that decision were broad enough to bring under its wing all railway companies carrying mails. It was maintained that the refusal of the employes to move trains carrying the mails was indirectly an interference with the United States mails, and consequently a serious offense in the statute relative to crimes.

There is a rumor afloat that the officers of the Market street combine would like, if possible, to trim the wages of its employes a little, and it is openly announced that certain quarters that the moment mail cars begin running the idea of the reduction will go into effect. In case of a strike under these conditions, Attorney General Olney's decision would cover the case very nicely and could be clapped on promptly and its classified employed. A general strike would of course tie up the mail cars as well as the others, even in case the company used separate motive power in carrying the mails, and would be very sharply construed into an interference with the mails.

In this city there are about 8,000 men employed on the street railway lines, 85 per cent of which force is controlled by the Southern Pacific railway under the name of the Market Street Consolidated railway system. A general "walk-out" would result in a very bad state of affairs for both the public and the owners of the lines. But the latter would be much the worse sufferers. In the past there have been some very lively strikes on some portions of these systems, two of which ended disastrously for the companies. Should the street cars begin carrying mails, so long as the Olney decision is interpreted as it at present, a general strike would bring the strikers in direct conflict with the Federal authorities, so it would be impossible to keep the mail cars running if the roads were tied up.

R. D. Mallett, ex-president of Lodge No. 16, American Railway Union, of this city, says Mr. McCoppin need have no fear of the success of his scheme.

"I am only surprised," said Mallett, "that it has not been thought of before. As the Olney decision is at present interpreted by the Federal courts the running of mail cars over street railway lines will go there under the protection of the Federal power to raise no trouble. Once those mail cars run over the Market street lines all danger of a big strike is up, so that system is practically over. The boys know this as well as any one else, and the movement as they do about it. Simply nothing. In a case of war weed, say nothing and trust to the appointment of new judges in the Federal bench."

Senator Incubs a Candidate.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Ex-Senator J. J. Ingalls, of Kansas, arrived last night at the Victoria hotel. He declared that he was a candidate for a seat in the United States Senate. He declined to discuss public questions further than to say that he considered Chicago the only place to hold the national Republican convention.

Case to the Supreme Court.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 13.—Appeal has been allowed to the United States Supreme court in the case of Henry Pearson, who was to have been hanged on November 1.

Next Republican National Convention.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—"The location of the next Republican convention lies between three cities—San Francisco, Pittsburg and Chicago," said National Committeeman John M. Thurston, of Nebraska.

Senator Thurston is at present on the coast in the interest of the Union Pacific railroad, relating to the recoverable in the appeals from orders made from the state of Oregon.

Mr. Thurston was inclined to be communicative on matters pertaining to politics and stated that Joe Manley, one of the national committeemen from Maine, had expressed the wish to him that San Francisco might be the next convention place of the Republican party and that many other members of the eastern states had expressed the same desire.

"As for myself," continued the senator, "I have not made up my mind. It is safe to go to either Chicago, Pittsburg or San Francisco, and any one of the three places named will suit me."

Against Letter Carriers.

An Earthquake Expected in the Pacific Ocean Soon.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—A special to the Times-Herald from Washington says that the mail which left Washington last night for Chicago carried 175 letters which will create an earthquake in the Chicago postoffice. They were sent by the first assistant general and were addressed to letter carriers in Chicago. They notify 175 men that charges have been filed against them sufficient to cause dismissal from the service, and that they will be given ten days to show cause why they should not be removed.

Dereliction of the most serious nature have been discovered among the letter carriers. Even some of the subordinate officials of the office have been caught in the net. The town will come to Postmaster Hesing and the carriers themselves like lightning from a clear sky.

The state of affairs disclosed in the Chicago office that subordinates has astonished the officers of the postoffice department in Washington. The service has been found even worse than it was in Philadelphia, where a wholesale cleaning out and reorganization was necessary.

For a period of twenty-eight days, beginning September 6, a large force of special secret agents of the postoffice department conducted a systematic espionage of the Chicago letter carriers. When the reports of the special agents were all in, it was found that 503 carriers had been reported. The cases of 172 were serious enough to demand attention individually.

Ship Destroyed by Flames.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—A special to the Herald from Valparaiso, Chile, says: An American vessel, the Pathfinder, Captain Carter of Bath, Maine, bound from Liverpool to San Francisco with a cargo of coal on board, was burned at sea 600 miles off the south coast of Chile. The crew took refuge in the boats, one of which, that under charge of the second mate with seven on board, reached this port. The other boats have not been heard from.

THE U. S. SUPREME COURT.

Motion for the Advancement of California Irrigation Cases.

Ex-President Harrison Expected to Appear in the Oregon Land Case.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The Supreme court today heard many motions from attorneys, the majority of which were for the advancement of cases on the docket. Motion to advance was made in the cases of the Pacific and Central railway companies vs the People of California.

California irrigating cases, involving the constitutionality of the Wright law were under consideration a short time on motion by Mr. Hubbard, representing the Fall Brook irrigation district for consolidation of the case with that of Tregea vs the Modesto district. Joseph Choate, representing the opposing side, assented.

The Tregea case had been set down for argument on the 21st inst., but the court consented to a postponement and stated the motion for consolidation would be taken under advisement, as the cases for the argument announced later. These cases involve similar questions, but one reaches the supreme court from the state courts and the other from the federal courts. In one case the law was pronounced constitutional; in the other unconstitutional.

Mr. Choate called attention to this fact and said that in view of this fact the cases ought to be heard by a full bench. To this suggestion the chief justice only replied it was obvious that the Tregea case should not be heard at so early a date as the 21st. It is reported ex-President Harrison will appear in these cases.

Honoring Germany's Ruler.

COUDERSLIPS, Oct. 15.—The streets were profusely decorated today and the railroad station was crowded with people eager to greet the emperor and empress of Germany upon their visit to Alsace-Lorraine. They arrived at 9 o'clock and were received at the railroad station by Baron von Hohenstein. The emperor and empress proceeded to Chateau Urville. The route was lined with members of veterans' associations, school children, etc., who enthusiastically cheered the imperial party and paid their majesties with flowers. The Emperor Frederick monument at the battlefield of Woerth will be unveiled on Friday.

THE STANFORD SUIT.

All Anxious for a Speedy and Final Settlement.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Attorney General Harmon will make motion in the U. S. Supreme Court to advance the Stanford case and bring it on speedy hearing. This will be a view of procuring a final decision as early as possible. About $15,000,000 is involved.

Mrs. Leland Stanford had an interview with the attorney general this morning. She was very ill, it is understood, to make a plea to allow the case to rest where it is, but when she ascertained it would be appealed to the Supreme Court, she concurred with this attorney general in the opinion that the government's interests, the interests of the Stanford university and her own interests would be best subserved by an earliest possible final decision.

Cleveland Bound for Washington.

CAPE HENRY, Va., Oct. 15.—The steam yacht Oneida with President Cleveland aboard passed in Chesapeake Capes this morning bound for Washington.

ALASKA BOUNDARY SURVEY.

England Claims More than this Country Concedes.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Superintendent Duffield of the coast and geodetic survey has been informed that the parties which the survey has had in the field at Alaska during the past summer have concluded the season's work and are now on Mary's Island, waiting to be picked up and brought to San Francisco on the Patterson, which vessel has been engaged in hydrographic work in Alaskan waters.

There have been five parties from the coast survey engaged in the work in Alaska during the summer under Messrs. Dickens and Walker. Their principal work has consisted in fixing the point where the Portland canal crossed the fifty-sixth parallel of latitude. This is the extreme southeasterly point of the Alaskan possessions. Its location will have a great deal to do with determining the boundary line between Alaska and British Columbia. The work of last year consisted of the location of Mount Saint Elias as on the boundary between the two countries. Next season the more delicate work will be begun of running the line between these two points. England claims much more than the United States concedes as to this boundary. The surveys so far made tend to confirm the contentions of this country.

CORBETT AND PARTY.

The Fight Expected to Come Off in Arkansas.

PALESTINE, Texas, Oct. 15.—James J. Corbett and party will spend today in Palestine. They arrived last evening from San Antonio. The opera house has been engaged and he will go through his usual course of training, probably giving a sparring exhibition this evening, after which the party will proceed to Arkansas, where the great contest is expected to take place as advertised.

An English Armed Force in Brazil.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—A special to the Herald from Buenos Ayres says: A telegram from Para, Brazil, has been received in Rio de Janeiro stating that an armed British force is marching through Brazilian territory. The objective point of the body is that part of Venezuela claimed by the British government. The column has already crossed the Tacutu river.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—At the office of the Venezuelan consul in this city, a representative of the Associated Press was informed that the consul general had received no news whatever of the reported march of British troops to Venezuela.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The foreign office officials questioned today regarding the report that an armed British force is marching through Brazilian territory to that part of Venezuela claimed by the British government, said there was no British force there and there would be no object in marching through that portion of Brazil, even if a British force had been available for the purpose mentioned.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The report that British troops had been landed in Brazil, and were proceeding to the disputed British-Venezuela territory, is discredited by Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British ambassador, Signor Mendonca, the Brazilian minister, and Senor Andrade, the Venezuelan minister.

Cabled From the Antarctic Station.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Two cable messages were received by Secretary Herbert today from the Antarctic station. One briefly announced the arrival of the gunboat Petrel at Chemulpo; the other simply announced the arrival of Manzina at Shanghai.

Cleveland Streets Opened.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 15.—Between midnight and daybreak the city government took possession of the lake front which has been in litigation for many years between the railroad companies and the city. The mayor and council personally directed the work by which a number of streets closed for years were opened to the water's edge.

Can Not Fight in Mexico.

LAREDO, Tex., Oct. 15.—The Mexican consul of this city, Lamela Diaz, said today that President Diaz would never consent to allow the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight in Mexico, and owing to the good will of the people towards the president, they would not participate in anything to meet his disapproval.

A representative of the Associated Press was shown the official dispatches from the Mexican capital which authorized the consul here to state that the fight should not occur on Mexican soil.

Crushed to Death.

BRADFORD, Pa., Oct. 15.—As the northbound freight train of the Buffalo division of Western New York and Pennsylvania Railroad was passing Eldred station this morning, the locomotive plunged down an embankment, followed by eleven loaded cars. Fireman Jesse Baxter was crushed to death; Engineer Brockway and Brakeman Hagnale were seriously injured.

THE KU CHENG RIOTS.

Investigations Ended — Mongolians Will Be Killed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15. — Minister Denby and the British minister to China have succeeded in overcoming the obstacles which threatened to make the Ku Cheng commission a failure as far as it was intended to secure the punishment of the Chinese who participated in the riots at Ku Cheng. At each stage the commission has been hindered by the local Chinese officials and the viceroy of the province, Sachuen himself, stood in the way of the punishment of the guilty parties. Finally an appeal was made to the Tsung Li Yamen directly, and the result is specified in the clauses of the ministers, as evinced by the following cablegram received at the state department today from Mr. Denby:

"Pekin, Oct. 11.—Seventeen criminals will be executed at Ku Cheng. The Yamen agrees that all the leaders in the rioting shall be executed, all the participants sentenced and all implicated tried. The commission will probably be adjourned. An imperial decree has been issued which refers all of the Szchuen officials implicated to the board for punishment."

It is supposed the commission has concluded its work.

Will Be Lynched.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 13.—Jeff Ellis, the negro criminal captured on Saturday near Holly Springs, Miss., is on his way back to Braden, Tenn., the scene of his crime, in custody of three officers. He will almost certainly be lynched on his arrival at Braden.

American Bankers Confer.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 15.—The American Bankers' association began its session today with an unusually large attendance. The visitors were welcomed to the city by Mayor King and to the state by G. G. Jordan, president of the bankers' association. President John J. P. O'Neil responded and delivered his annual address, in which he declared there was more trouble in store for the country unless the system of governmental pole issue be abandoned.

LEGAL PROCEDURE.

The Cliff House Searched for Stolen Goods.

SENT TO THE PENITENTIARY.

Suit for Calder's Park Improvements —Civil Business—Court Notes.

The Cliff House, at the corner of East Temple and Third South streets, was searched today by an officer armed with a search warrant issued from U. S. Commissioner Greenman's court. The trouble which led to it was a dispute between two women, Nellie Bevenne and Mattie Walker. The latter charged the former with stealing an onyx slab, a bronze lamp holder, five double-bed sheets, one comforter, one pair of feather pillows, one pair of extra pillows, and a tin oil can, the whole valued at $20. Several of the articles named were found in the search. The dispute as to the ownership will be settled at the trial, the date for which is to be agreed upon this evening. Meanwhile Nellie Bevenne is out on bonds pending the investigation. Both chief parties to the action are middle-aged women.

JUDGE BARTCH'S COURT.

The business transacted in Judge Bartch's court today, boiled down to the smallest compass for the busy reader, may be stated as follows:

People vs John Byrnes, assault to rape: Nellie Sullivan, on May 31, 1895; defendant arraigned and pleaded not guilty.

People vs W. H. Hoffheimer, perjury; set for trial on Oct. 25.

People vs James Shorey; convicted of assault to rape; motion for new trial argued and submitted.

After considering the case till the afternoon session of the court, Judge Bartch overruled the motion, and the defendant was called for sentence. Attorney had borne a good character previously, the judge said that under the circumstances he would make the sentence light. He then fixed Shorey's term of imprisonment in the penitentiary for eighteen months.

Hugh J. Cannon vs Hawkburn Gold and Silver Mining company; dismissed at plaintiff's cost.

JUDGE MERRITT'S COURT.

Upon the application of the plaintiff, today, in the case of Mary Ann Worthen vs Walter Worthen, an order issued citing the defendant to appear in court on Saturday, October 19, to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt in not paying the alimony previously ordered by the court.

In the suit of Samuel Simpson vs S. Bamberger et al the evidence was closed, and the case argued and submitted.

Commercial National Bank vs Joseph G. Jacobs et al; case consolidated with that of Mason & Co. against the same defendants, and George L. Nye appointed referee to take testimony and report findings.

John A. Groesbeck vs Joseph H. Smith et al; trial in progress.

BEDAN A LAWSUIT.

Annie E. Morrow began suit in the Third district court today against Charles C. Merritt and George Calder, for $672.50, being the balance alleged to be due for $1,057.30 worth of material and labor furnished in constructing buildings, fences, etc., and making repairs at Calder's park during April, May, June and July of this year. Annie E. Morrow is doing business in this city as a contractor, builder and carpenter, and has given notice of mechanic's lien on the property of defendants at the park.

NOTES.

U. S. Commissioner Sommer was busy this afternoon in the trial of Novella Elliott, a young girl accused of receiving stolen goods. Bail—$500.

Judge Barlch goes to Ogden tomorrow to hold court.

Judge Merritt will have two contempt cases before him on Saturday, where the parties have failed to pay the alimony awarded in divorce suits.

Ex-Selectman Herman Bamberger was before U. S. Commissioner Greenman today, and gave bonds for his appearance to answer to the new indictments found against him by the grand jury, and he will be tried next Saturday afternoon, in connection with the Novella Elliott case.

The number of criminal cases that will be continued from this term of the district court for subsequent hearing is exceedingly small, and mostly of minor importance; so that the prosecuting officers of the court state that they take up the business if the Territory is admitted to Statehood before February, 1896, will not have a very large heritage of this character to worry over.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

The Passing Show at the Theater—Attractions at the Grand and Lyceum.

Beauty, wit and talent were the genii presiding at the Theater, last night, when the Passing Show was presented, for the first time, but unlike Milton's genius in the wood, they were all visible—very much so. And the result was a bewilderment of brilliant effects of a most diversified kind, that held the immense audience as under a charm for over three hours. The Passing Show is a vaudeville entertainment of the highest class, and probably no better compliment could be paid the principals on the stage than the fact that, while the occupants of the higher regions of the Theater went nearly wild in their demonstrations as each new and striking feature was presented, the equipment was apparently no less to other parts of the house, occupied by some of the elite of Salt Lake society.

One of the first to capture the audience was Lucy Day, most fitly described as "a bit of da clog sensation." Like an electric spark she seemed to be here, there and everywhere, all at once, and every time she touched the floor it was with a bound that showed the brilliant star in the comic action, shining all through the performance, his quiet jokes took immensely with the audience. Verona Jarbeau's singing was as much appreciated as her personal charms were admired and Cheric's Simpson's Reamond came in for a share of the honors of the evening. John Gilbert created an uproar both as a "good, young lover," and in his specimen of mimicking. May Tecumseh and her three "Amazon charges" furnished another part of the amusement and George A. Schiller in his various disguises was immense, actually in his "Charley's Aunt" and his unexpected appearance as the leader of the orchestra and his turning upon the audience the ghastly rage of Svengali.

There were several other features of the "show," all of which were vigorously applauded.

Owing to a derailed car on the Rio Grande Western, the passenger train carrying the company was delayed several hours, and the members of the company had hardly had time to shake off the dust of the road before they appeared before the public. That they nevertheless succeeded so admirably is a testimony both to their ability and their anxiety to please.

The Passing Show closes its engagement tonight, and there is every indication that the Theater will again be crowded.

AT THE GRAND.

Money and Matches is a neat, light piece of comedy—to be enjoyed when one is tired with the serious work and worry of the day. There is not a thing in the play to tax the ability of the players to any considerable extent, but it is possessed of one great feature so desirable to all dramatic work—consistency. There is none of the impossible in it, its foundations, the dialogue and situations are all natural, and the ones with which the parts fit the players and the gown with which they are worn makes one forget that in the place there is no call for any great flights into the difficult. In the second act, where Lyon discovers his business friend Johnson embracing Milly, there was not quite enough made of the situation and the consequent explanation and friendly, openhearted make-up. While what was done was performed nicely—was a delicate little bit—there was not quite enough of it. The piece as a whole, when taken into thought with other and heavier plays, is readily given its place as a bright little snip of a diamond without which the entire dramatic design might be incomplete.

The play will be on at the Grand for the remainder of the week.

THE LYCEUM.

The New Lyceum (formerly Wonderland) will open its doors tomorrow, Wednesday, Oct. 16th, with the Old Old Story, presented in this city for the first time. The place has been nicely fixed up for the season, and the company engaged promises well.

St. John, Kansas, Notes.

The last issue of the St. John, Kansas, News, contains the following items of news that will interest Utah people:

Elders J. C. Lyon and Alvin A. Beesley started out for a week's missionary trip Tuesday morning.

We are informed on good authority that Elder Henry Ehrman, of the Saints' Church, who, during the meeting of conference of that Church December last, afforded our people so much pleasure with his organ recitals, will, in a month or six weeks, be transferred from the Indian Territory to the city of John Brandon, which will be pleasing news to the many friends he made during his short stay in our city.

The St. John branch of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints will soon place a fine five-octave chapel organ in their beautiful building on the "Hill of Zion," the city, which fact will not only be appreciated by the Elders and members in charge, but the already fast increasing many friends of the organization; and that those who are working among us are doing a good work, none but the prejudiced will deny, and that a nicer set of gentlemen than the Elders stationed here cannot be found no one will dispute. We only regret that we haven't more of them among us.

The entertainment given at the Baptist church Friday evening the 4th, was greeted with a well filled house, and proved one of the most pleasant affairs given for some time in our little city. The entire entertainment was well rendered, but the most pleasing feature to the greater part of the audience was the instrumental music furnished by a trio consisting of Professors A. Bater, violin; M. Kane, cornet, and Alvin A. Beesley, organ which as a trio have no equals in this part of the country; these gentlemen bring all fine musicians.

Y. M. M. I. A. Conference.

The Y. M. M. I. A. of the Salt Lake Stake will hold their annual conference Oct. 27. At 10 a. m. an officers meeting in the Assembly Hall, which every officer is expected to attend, and general meetings in the Tabernacle at 2 and 7 p. m. Very interesting programs and singing has been prepared. Everybody is invited.

Sent Back to Rexburg.

Linnie Bovell was furnished railway transportation by the county yesterday, evening and sent back to her home in Rexburg, Idaho. This action was taken by the county authorities as being the best way of helping the unfortunate lass out to her parted parents. The girl's story is to the effect that nine eighteen months ago she came from her home in Rexburg, Idaho, to seek employment here. She procured a position as domestic in a lodging house, where she was made the victim of much attention from a man calling himself Smith. The innocent country girl was completely taken in by the stranger and about seven months ago he succeeded in placing her under the influence of a drug, when he compromised his devilish purpose. Linnie wandered into a house on Sunday in search of rest and her condition was noticed by the good lady of the house, who immediately notified the county authorities. County Physician Wright gave the girl medical attention and yesterday evening she started for home. "Smith" has not yet been found, but no doubt will be a matter of solicitude on the part of county officials who will still be on the lookout for him.

RAYWARD'S ULTIMATUM.

He Refuses to Pay 18 and Three of His Men Quit Work.

For several days past there has been considerable talk at the linemen of the Salt Lake & Ogden Gas & Electric Light company demanding an advance of wages to $3 per day. The principal cause of the discontent among the linemen of the above named company, who are and have been receiving but $2.50 per day, is that men similarly engaged by the Ogden & Electric Light company were receiving the amount desired. The linemen of the Salt Lake & Ogden Gas & Electric Light company thought it was nothing but fair that their pay should be as great as that of linemen in other companies, therefore their dissatisfaction.

Manager Hayward, of the company interviewed, says that the whole trouble arose through the action of the Citizens' company in acceding to the demands of its employes and granting an advance to $3 per day. The men had not yet taken any decisive action in the matter, although talk of a strike has been indulged in provided the company refused to grant their demand. However, Manager Hayward of the Salt Lake & Ogden company has issued an ultimatum to the effect that his company would pay no more than $2.50 per day to its linemen. The throwing down of the gauntlet caused to the resignation of three of the six regular linemen employed by the company.

No formal demand had yet been made to the company for the advance, but Manager Hayward took the action indicated in view of an understanding that such a demand was to be made. Mr. Hayward feels secure in the fact that because he is aware that the the amount of time work to be done locally is very small just now and that the season for its accomplishment will not last long, therefore men who are capable of doing the work will be glad to hold their positions without complaint.

The Big Cottonwood Power company is paying two of its linemen, who do the most hazardous work on the sixty-foot poles, $3 per day; and this fact helps to make Mr. Hayward's men dissatisfied.

It was learned at the office of the Salt Lake and Ogden Gas & Electric Light company this afternoon that there were no new developments, that there was no strike and with the exception of the resignat one of the three men before alluded to, everything was going smoothly. The places of these three men were immediately filled without difficulty.

Pig Skin Kickers in Town.

The members of the Nebraska University Football team arrived in town this morning on their special car en route for Butte City and the coast.

The boys lay over here to take in the sights and incidentally get a few pointers from the Y. M. C. A. kickers as to the Route team's style of playing. Mr. E. C. King was in hopes of arranging a match with Salt Lake, but owing to the fact that the N. U. boat Sioux City Athletic club 26 to 0 a few days ago the home talent gave very emphatically decliued up to cope in single in that quiet and gentle sport for the edification of the Salt Lake sportive fraternity, the detriment of their own classic profiles and a universal corner on arnica and skin plasters in general. Incidental to a nasty mistake in interview with eleven of Nebraska's brawny and athletic graduates on the gridiron.

Caught a Runaway Outfit.

A large bay horse attached to a delivery wagon ran away on East Temple street, about 11 o'clock this forenoon. As the outfit crossed Second South street and dashed on towards Third South, there was a great scampering on the part of pedestrians to get out of the road to escape being run over. Near Third South street a young man, whose name was not learned, but stopped wide enough to allow the outfit to pass without breaking him, and then made a rush for the wagon, caught the hind end of the wagon, climbed in on over the seat, passed out on to the shaft bar and picked up the lines which were dragging on the ground and brought the horse to a halt, after which he turned around and drove up street and restored the outfit to its owner. The passing man performed a heroic act and was warmly praised for his clever work.

To the District Court.

Papers in the following cases were filed with the clerk of the District court, by Police Clerk James, today:

The People vs Frank Jones, charged with malicious mischief upon the person of R. H. Walker; the People vs Marcellus Nelson, charged on the complaint of Ellen Ongman with grand larceny; both having been held by Police Judge Smith to await the action of the grand jury in bonds of $150 and $1,000 respectively.

Probate Court.

Minnie H. Nugent, widow of the late Henry H. Nugent, who was killed in Park City about a month ago, today filed a petition in the county court asking that the will be admitted to probate, and Saturday, the 26th day of October was set as the date for the hearing of said petition. The value of the estate is placed at $12,000 consisting of cash, real estate and personal property.

WILL RESIGN LATER.

Commissioner Noble Refuses to Step Out of Office Now.

CASES TO BE HEARD FIRST.

Tenure of Office of Hiss-it and Commissioner Empey Will Expire January 1st Next.

Fire and Police Commissioner W. P. Noble, talked of in political circles recently as a possible candidate for Mayor on the Democratic ticket, was interviewed on the street this afternoon by a News man in relation to the Chapman resolution introduced at the meeting of the City Council last week asking for his resignation on account of protracted and continued absence from Salt Lake.

Mr. Noble said, "I have just got home and haven't had sufficient time to inquire in detail into all of the troubles of the fire and police departments. However, I shall not resign now. It is my intention to remain in this city until the latter part of the week by which time the cases now pending before the board will be disposed of."

Mr. Noble conveyed the impression that it was his intention to resign from the board after the cases now on the docket had been heard. Still it was perfectly plain to see that he did not like the idea of being "resolved" out of office. But as he is going away again to remain for a considerable period, it is reasonably certain that he will soon vacate the place Councilman Chapman is so anxious to have filled by another.

Mr. Noble's business is now mainly in Wyoming, where he has a bank, two stores, 17,000 head of sheep and a large number of cattle and several ranches, all of which require his personal attention to a greater or less extent.

FIRE AND POLICE BOARD.

Donovan's Trial Set for Thursday Morning—Complaint Against Jailer Kimball—Crosby's Resignation.

The fire and police board held a meeting last evening with Commissioner Noble present, but Chairman Jennings absent, thus again interfering with the hearing of Captain Donovan's case. Chairman Jennings's absence, however, is only temporary, and as Mr. Noble leaves town again on Thursday night, Donovan's trial was set for Thursday morning at 11 o'clock, at the conclusion of which the cases against Fireman Fitzgerald and Tremayne will come up.

P. H. Norton, who was confined in the city jail about a week ago, for drunkenness, appeared before the board and there and then charged Jailer Kimball and the guards over the city prisoners with inhumane treatment to him while he was under their jurisdiction. He said he had been forced to work when he was not in a fit condition to do so, being subject to fits; that because he is not being able to do a good day's work on the rock pile, he was thrown into the jail and kept on bread and water. He also alleges that the cell into which he was put, had a rubber fright floor, but he was forced to remain there without fire or blankets.

No action was taken in the matter as the commissioners wanted to consult the jailer, and as he had gone home, no result was there be seen.

Byron Crosby, one of the suspended firemen, sent in a communication in which he tendered his resignation as a member of the fire department, which was promptly accepted.

The Meyendorff Lecture.

The Meyendorff lecture at the Congregational church this evening promises to furnish entertainment and instruction to those in attendance. It is highly spoken of by the papers in Montana and Washington, which gave it flattering notices. The following are a few of the press comments:

Helena Herald—"While he speaks with a slight foreign accent, he has a good command of English and can make every word heard and understood. He made a very favorable impression."

Spokane Spokesman—"He spoke entirely without notes, and so, feelingly and earnestly that he held the close attention of his hearers throughout. A slight suspicion of a foreign accent lent an air of piquancy to his story."

Anaconda Standard—"The lecture was very entertaining and instructive and pleasingly delivered."

Seventeen years—"It is a chapter in the world-old struggle for human freedom told with sublime pathos by one of its important actors."

Police Court.

Andrew Jauron, J. A. Christensen, A. F. Christensen and Ed Nelson were arraigned this afternoon, charged with cutting timber from the city lands in City Creek canyon. As the stands under which the arrest was made was not forthcoming, the parties were ordered to appear for trial tomorrow afternoon and allowed to go on their own recognizance.

E. W. Cohen and James W. Piper, who were arrested on complaints of Officer Hemple, for cruelty to animals, were also fined on that charge at $5 a time.

Auditor's Report.

Auditor Baybould has just finished his monthly report, showing the receipts and disbursements of the city for the month of September, which will be presented to the City Council at its meeting tonight.
