ANOTHER JEFFREYS.

OLD IRELAND in a ferment is not a very unusual thing, and in that interesting condition the gem of the ocean is reported to be just now, the immediate cause — electional and judicial. There is still another Jeffreys come to judgment, and this time neither in Britain nor Utah, but in green Erin, the subject and place the Galway elections, the name Mr. Justice Keogh.

It appears that at the election in Galway 2,823 electors voted for Captain Nolan, the home-rule and tenant right candidate, and 658 voted for Captain Trench, the landlord's candidate. Judge Keogh, a Catholic, has decided that Trench has the valid claim to the seat, because the archbishop of Tuam ("John of Tuam"), the bishop of Galway, the bishop of Clonfert and about fifty priests organized themselves to persuade and intimidate the voters to vote for Nolan. A sixty days' trial showed Nolan to be immensely popular, because of his returning lands to evicted families, and that his election was a foregone conclusion, priest or no priest. It is also stated that the evidence showed that the votes given to Trench, excepting those of the landlords, were obtained by direct intimidation on the part of the landlords, who punished by eviction those of their tenants who voted for Nolan. It was also evident that the bishops and priests worked hard for Nolan.

Judge Keogh, having an old grudge against the archbishop, went to work boldly in the vicious Jeffreys style. He unseated Nolan, declared it was perfectly right and proper for the landlords to compel their tenants to vote for the landlords' candidate, as "nothing could be more wholesome than such influence as this." The judge also went into an irrelevant defence of Oliver Cromwell and his policy, and finished off by pouring upon the devoted heads of the archbishop, bishops, and priests, "a torrent of invectives, the like of which has never been heard since the death of Jeffreys" the original, and declaring that he, Judge Keogh, would report the reverend gentlemen to parliament for indictment, trial, and sentence to seven years' penal servitude.

It is sometimes really amusing, or would be if it were not so painfully annoying, to see the strange and irrational antics which some men play when invested with a little brief judicial authority. But in all these cases of rabidity the judicial gentlemen invariably overshoot the mark, and bring down upon themselves eventual discredit, ridicule, and contempt. Mr. Justice Keogh is not an exception to this rule. Even his friends and observing and influential non-Catholics are startled at his reckless manner of administering "justice" in this case. They talk in the following strain—

Keogh has made a fearful mess of it. He has thrown all Ireland into a ferment, and he has forced the government here into a ridiculous dilemma. They will be asked if they will prosecute these priests; if they say yes, they know they never can get a conviction, and that the prosecution will cost them every seat in Ireland; if they say no, they will be accused of knuckling to Cardinal Cullen. As for Galway, Nolan's brother will be at once elected to the vacant seat, if there is a new election. It is all nonsense to talk about the voters being intimidated to vote for Nolan; they all wanted to vote for him; all that the priests did was to prevent them from being intimidated by the landlords into voting for Trench. Of course, the way in which the priests encouraged and strengthened the voters was wrong; it is wrong to use spiritual means for political ends; but all clergymen do it; there is not a dissenting minister or an Episcopalian clergyman in England who does not do it. Keogh never was fit for a judge. When he was in parliament he made the most impassioned and partisan speeches; he owed his election to the priests; he was the leader of what was called "The Pope's Parliamentary Brass Band;" and when he was canvassing for his own election he did things quite as bad as any of which he now accuses the priests. He has got us into a terrible mess by his present passion—for his late judgment is the utterance of a man in a rage and not of a cool judge. He has denounced the whole priesthood of the west of Ireland as conspirators against the purity and freedom of elections; Cardinal Cullen, and the whole priesthood of Ireland have taken up the challenge; in the coming struggle, in which all Ireland will engage, the government must take a side; and it can take neither side without certain loss to itself. Why, in the name of common sense, did not Keogh leave the matter alone?

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

The Springfield, Illinois, Democratic convention resolved that the Cincinnati ticket was one which liberal men of all parties could unite in opposition to personal government, and instructed the delegates to Baltimore to vote for Greeley.

WESTERN DISPATCHES.

SAN FRANCISCO, 26.—Harvest laborers demand $3 50 per day. The hop raisers of Sacramento Valley are sending to Nevada for Pi-utes as pickers. The grain crop is unusually light.

American Extravagance.

A balance of trade of at least $100,000,000 will be in favor of Europe and against the United States this year. This we have to pay in gold or stocks as good as gold. Besides this we shall have to pay at least $80,000,000 in interest to foreign bondholders. This must be made up in taxes. The whole balance must be dug out of our mines or be dragged from the hidden receptacles of years. Foreign immigration is usually counted on as good for the average of $100 per head in specie. We shall probably this year gain 380,000 foreign immigrants, who will bring into the country $36,000,000. But to offset that gain we shall send about 80,000 rich pleasure-seekers to Europe during the Spring and Summer months, who will average an expenditure of $1,500 each; making an aggregate of $45,000,000, or $9,000,000 more than the 380,000 foreign immigrants will bring from Europe to the United States. It thus appears that we shall probably have to pay the Old World this year nearly $190,000,000 in gold or in stocks as good as gold. In return we take their fine woolens, silks, cottons, shoddies, and "see their sights" from Italy to St. Petersburg, paying as much as would pay half the interest on our public debt for the privilege. Our mines have never yielded so much of the precious metals as they do now, but we shall need more than they produce to meet the liabilities created by the national extravagance.

In the event of a foreign war we should suffer frightfully from the sudden depreciation of our stocks, which are becoming in great part a means of meeting these heavy annual balances against us. The chief cause of the great annual rush of Americans to Europe is the extortionate charges of our own hotels and railways. It really costs less now to a resident of the Atlantic States to cross the ocean, visit England, France, the Alps, the Rhine, the Po and the leading cities of Italy, than it does to spend the summer at Saratoga, Long Branch, Cape May, or Newport, and much less than to come to California and to visit Yosemite, Lake Tahoe, Santa Cruz, Los Angeles, and the Big Trees. Shoddy, abnormal wages of labor, high taxes, conscienceless railway corporations, and plundering hotel-keepers, are conspired together to drive all prudent pleasure-seekers to Europe, where prices are moderate at the hotels and railways are not allowed to rob their passengers. Here, for example, we are charged $20 from this city to Lake Tahoe and back for passage alone; while the modest American traveler can buy a ticket from London to Paris and Naples and back again for as much, his hotel charges paid by the company for a day in Paris and a day in Naples. Our universal greed is telling against the country and especially against those most addicted to it. Travel for pleasure is falling off everywhere in the United States, and if prices be kept up for a few years more, it will cease entirely.—Sacramento Union.

HOW TO GET RID OF SUPERFLUOUS FLESH.—Not long ago a gentleman of threescore, who had hardly ever been sick in his life, thought he was too fleshy and began to Bantamize. He succeeded famously, and boasted to his friends that he had got rid of ten pounds in a few weeks. A little later he was attacked with a painful and dangerous malady, from which he has been suffering more than a year. If a man can sleep soundly, has a good appetite, with no unpleasant reminders after meals, the bodily habits being regular every day, he had better leave himself alone, whether he is as big as a hogshead or as thin and dry as a fence rail. Several cases of Bright's disease have been reported by medical men of reputation as a direct result of practicing Bantam's plan for getting lean. The very best and safest way to get rid of fat is to work it off. This may be aided by eating food which contains a large amount of nitrogen and a small amount of carbon. Nitrogen food is that which gives strength, power to work, as lean meats; carbonaceous foods are those which make fat, such as cheese, potatoes, rice, corn, peas, beans, tapioca, arrowroot, corn starch, milk, sugar, syrup, and oily and fat food. Raw fruits and berries largely eaten are great aids to reducing weight. But, after all, the great reliance should be on exercise and work in the open air. Barclay, the great English pedestrian, who performed greater feats than Weston, lost ten pounds in two or three days' walking, and was never the worse for it.—Hall's Journal of Health.

CONCENTRATED LOVELINESS.—A correspondent writes that the natives of the Navigator's Islands are the finest specimens of mankind that have been found in the Polynesian world. They are polite, intelligent and hospitable, and are good Christians; their language is soft and harmonious. They are renowned for their chastity and moral behavior. They have intelligent and pleasant countenances, and modesty of demeanor, and a most noble carriage of their persons. Many of the females are no darker than a Spanish brunette, are very handsome with the most symmetrical forms. They have never been drawn up in a machine of torture that was never heard of among all the diabolical inventions of the Inquisition—a machine of whalebone and steel, and cord, and pulleys and levers; a machine far more ridiculous and mischievous than the iron shoe of China, as the body and vitals of a human being are of more value than the foot. But they stand out in their beatific nudity and loveliness the emblem of the great Master's handiwork in his happiest mood, a combination of beauty, grace and innocence, which no Christian can look upon without the deepest sentiments of love and admiration both towards the Creator and the created.—Ex.

FISH BROS. UTAH WAGON.
JOHN W. LOWELL—GEN'L AGENT, SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH.

These Wagons are designed especially for the Utah and Montana trade, with many important improvements never before used—improvements which experience has taught us are required for this section.

They are made of the toughest Oak, Ash and Hickory that the forests of Ohio, Michigan and Wisconsin can furnish.

This timber is thoroughly seasoned, being kept from three to five years in open sheds. The Hubs are then subjected to a degree of heat sufficient to make them perfectly dry, without injuring the fibre or strength.

The Hubs are of black Locust, and warranted not to check.

The felloes are soaked in boiling oil before being painted, and will not shrink.

The entire work of these Wagons is seasoned, so as to stand the severe test of this peculiarly dry climate.

They have clips around front Axle for the bound brace, and stay-chains instead of a bolt through the Axle. The Tires are fastened with the famous double-headed California Rivet. On all medium and heavy Wagons the tire is one eighth inch thicker on hind than forward wheel.

They are the best proportioned and best ironed Wagon that ever crossed the Missouri river. We challenge comparison on each of these points.

The bottoms of Boxes have double cleats in the centre secured by double straps that hook over the top, instead of being simply rivited to the sides of the box.

Both lower and top boxes are ironed on top.

We use a Patent Talmbie Skein of our own make, set by a Patent Axle Guage, which secures perfect uniformity, and makes the Lightest Draft Wagon that can be made.

We use the Patent Bent Round on the smaller sizes.

We have no hesitation in saying that our California Brake is the very best. We have patented an improvement by which they can be used without the box being on the Wagon. N. B. This improvement can be used by no other manufacturer.

The bolsters are iron plated, and there are corresponding plates on the edges of the box. They have our Patent Skeins for King Bolt (found on no other wagon), which leaves a smooth surface for the bottom of the box, and prevents the king bolt from wearing into the bolster.

We give the following Warranty with each Wagon:

"We warrant the Wagon No..... of our manufacture, to be of good seasoned timber, and well made. Any defect within one year, resulting from defect, either in material or workmanship, we agree to make good without cost to the purchaser."
