THE EVENING PAPER IS THE PAPER OF TODAY. THE MORNING PAPER IS THE PAPER OF YESTERDAY.

Deseret Evening News.

5 O'CLOCK EDITION.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 20, 1898, SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH.

NO. 202 VOL. XXXI.

CUBAN ATTITUDE HOSTILE.

The Natives More Intent Upon Vengeance Than Upon Securing Peace Under a Fair Government.

Reports From Santiago Indicate that there is Possibility of a Conflict at No Distant Future Between the Cubans and the United States Army.

Bulletin Put out at Washington That Congress Did Not Recognize the Insurgent Government—Peace and Prosperity to Be Restored to the Island Whether the Cubans Like It or Not—A Cuban Governor Appointed for Santiago Without Consulting the Commander of the United States Forces.

HAVANA, July 20.—A special to the Diario from Washington says:

The administration is now very well satisfied that Congress in passing the resolution of war refused to recognize the government of Cuba. When the resolution was under consideration the leaders of the insurgent party made support of the government a very serious condition. It was of them according that to depart from it would be an empty gesture, which would be to expend over the rest of the Cubans.

Since both of the United States parties have been acknowledged formally, by the terms contained in the resolution of Congress, and their finances and independence guaranteed under the protection of the United States, it would be a mere matter of form to recognize the government demanded under the rule of the Cubans.

Since both of the United States parties have been acknowledged formally, by the terms contained in the resolution of Congress, and their finances and independence guaranteed under the protection of the United States, it would be a mere matter of form to recognize the government demanded under the rule of the Cubans.

The Cubans at Santiago seem to have anticipated the President's proclamation, when they selected Gen. Demetrio Castillo to be governor of Santiago, and he is the man who signed the first peace protocol.

There was no consultation with the commanding general of the United States army before this was done. There was no consultation of the people of Santiago when Castillo was given his rule over it. Castillo is a man of no mean ability. There was no appointment by Castillo as to what should be the power vested in him or how he was to exercise the responsibility and duties of a governor.

The people of Santiago seem to have assumed that Castillo was to be the governor, and he is the man who was selected by them. There was no consultation with the commanding general of the United States army before this was done. There was no consultation of the people of Santiago when Castillo was given his rule over it. Castillo is a man of no mean ability. There was no appointment by Castillo as to what should be the power vested in him or how he was to exercise the responsibility and duties of a governor.

The people of Cuba acting each time in a way being not envisaged among the Americans, and they are found in direct opposition to the United States in Cuba, chiefly upon the question of the rights of a belligerent of the Cubans who claim to be a government.

The Cubans at Santiago seem to have anticipated the President's proclamation, when they selected Gen. Demetrio Castillo to be governor of Santiago, and he is the man who signed the first peace protocol.

There was no consultation with the commanding general of the United States army before this was done. There was no consultation of the people of Santiago when Castillo was given his rule over it. Castillo is a man of no mean ability. There was no appointment by Castillo as to what should be the power vested in him or how he was to exercise the responsibility and duties of a governor.

The people of Cuba acting each time in a way being not envisaged among the Americans, and they are found in direct opposition to the United States in Cuba, chiefly upon the question of the rights of a belligerent of the Cubans who claim to be a government.

[illegible] with Aguinaldo, there has not been any consultation with the President of the United States. There has not been any