ATHLETIC BENIFIT A BIG SUCCESS.

Widows of Murdered Street Car Men Will Receive a Generous Sum.

THE THEATER WAS CROWDED.

Fine Program of Boxing, Wrestling, Fencing, Rope Skipping and Fancy Club Ringing.

WHAT FAMILIES WILL GET.

A count of the tickets and money at the box office this morning disclosed the fact that $1,083.25 had been taken in. In addition to this, returns are expected from two ticket sellers who worked on the outside. When they make report the sum total may be increased another $50. The expenses are very slight and each of the stricken families will get a sum in excess of $500.

The athletic entertainment given at the Salt Lake Theater last night by the Shamrock Athletic club for the benefit of the families of Amasa Gleason and Thomas Brighton, the street car men who were shot and killed by J. M. Shockley on the night of Jan. 6, was a success in every sense of the word. The historic old playhouse was crowded from parquet to "nigger heaven," and in all the galleries standing room was at a premium. Every number on the interesting program was greeted with cheers, and it is safe to say that no one left the building feeling dissatisfied.

The credit for the success of the entertainment belongs chiefly to S. J. Kelley of the S. A. C., Sergeant Roberts of the police department, Assistant Chief Wood and Secy. Hart of the fire department and J. F. Matthews of the street car company. Officers in both departments worked hard in selling tickets and arousing great interest in the event. In this connection, the kindness of the theater management in giving the house freely; the stage hands, the band from Fort Douglas, and the athletes whose services were secured, must not be forgotten.

Everything worked out harmoniously, and it is difficult to tell just which event met with the most hearty approval. The audience was a great one and included scores of ladies. Interest was never allowed to wane as there was "something doing" all the time.

The performance started off with an exhibition of rope skipping by Jerry McCarthy. He did a dozen fancy steps and wound up by jumping 102 steps in thirty seconds. The first boxing contest was between Tommy Markham, lightweight champion of Utah, and Roy Condie. They went four rounds and did some very clever work. Markham had all the better of it as Condie was not in condition for the bout. The next bouts were between Billy McCoy, one of McCarthy's boxing partners, and Otto Sieloff, the welterweight champion who is to fight Jerry next Friday night at the Grand theater. They boxed a two minute round and during the rest between rounds, Jim Williams and T. Van Buskirk exchanged gloves. Williams looked like a pigmy against the big fellow who once fought Jeffries, but the Salt Lake policeman made his burly antagonist cry quits before three rounds were ended. In the bout between Sieloff and McCoy, those interested in the boxing game had a chance to see something of the former's style of fighting, and that he made a good impression that he is no doubt. Both Sieloff and McCarthy were careful, however, not to "give away" too much. They played icky.

The event that simply "brought down the house" was the four-round contest between a couple of little boys who will not tip the scales at more than 60 pounds together. They were introduced as Young Corbett and Jimmy Britt. The tiny chaps jabbed, uppercut, swung and hooked in the most approved style, and in the second round one of them went to the mat for the count of nine. Then he jumped quickly to his feet and continued the "mighting." Between rounds, Jerry McCarthy and Ray Barney did some lively work.

The event that followed was not on the printed program, but it was certainly well received and the audience witnessed something new here. It was a fencing contest between Prof. Walter Price and Capt. Warwick.

This was followed by a four-round bout between Lawrence Mangum and Harry Smith, two youngsters who are pupils of Eugene Thompson. Their exhibition was about the best of the evening from a scientific standpoint. They went at each other unmercifully but both escaped unhurt. The illuminated club swinging by Prof. George Bishop was another event that met with hearty applause.

The wrestling events were watched with great interest. Prof. Eugene Thompson and Clarence Driggs gave a very clever exhibition during two five-minute rounds. Thompson demonstrated how hard a man had to work in getting out of tight places. He gave the headspin and some very clever bridge work.

The match between Garvin and Charley Ross, was won by the latter. Ross agreed to throw Garvin three times in thirty minutes for a side bet of $10. Garvin proved himself a wrestler of no mean ability and got out of many tight places, but Ross was entirely too much for him and when he secured a half-Nelson and bar hold on Garvin, the latter's shoulders were forced to the mat. Garvin was badly used up and hurt by the fall, and he concluded he had had enough and was willing to let the other falls go to Ross by default. The fall was secured in six and one-half minutes. Garvin was taken to his dressing room and it was necessary for Dr. J. S. Witcher to work over him for some time before he recovered. Ross and J. C. Johnson also gave a good exhibition of mat work.

But the last event of the evening capped the climax. It was the battle royal between four burly and black Ethiopians, among them being "Muldoon's Cyclone." There was a negro in each corner of the "squared circle." Charley Lange, the official referee for the Shamrock club, refereed this contest ,and armed himself with huge sword and a big axe. How the audience howled and shrieked with laughter when the four blacks began to mix it! The battle simply baffles description. One of the negroes made a swing at another, missed him about a foot, but landed on the jaw of the third. Then there were only three left. Muldoon's Cyclone began to get in his work here and soon had another son of Ham on the mat. This left Cyclone and the largest black of the four, in the ring. The latter refused to go on but Cyclone went after him and made him fight. After about a minute of hard swinging and falling against the ropes, Cyclone caught his man on the jaw and put him down. Cyclone was declared "champion of the world."

MATCH IS COMPLETED.

Wrestler F. S. Lewis Returns Articles of Agreement Duly Signed.

This morning the sporting editor of the "News" received a letter from Frank S. Lewis, ex-middleweight wrestling champion of the world, stating that he would come here immediately and complete his training for the wrestling match with Charley Ross at the Grand theater on Feb. 5. Mr. Lewis returned the articles of agreement sent him by the writer. They are duly signed, and the only change he made in them was that the gate receipts shall be divided 65 per cent to the winner and 25 per cent to the loser. This is entirely satisfactory to Mr. Ross, and the match may now be considered made.

HERERA'S PUNCH GONE.

Best He Could Do Was a Draw With Charles Neary.

Milwaukee, Jan. 22.—Charles Neary of Milwaukee and Aurelio Herrera of California fought six rounds tonight to a draw before th eMilwaukee Boxing club. In the first round Herrera chopped Neary's face with straight punches and left hooks, drawing blood.

In the second Neary began strong, but hooks, uppercuts and jabs from Herrera gave the Mexican a decided advantage. Herrera began to mix it in the third, but Neary gained the advantage in infighting. In the fourth the fighting was chiefly at long range, Neary forcing, but Herrera maintained his advantage.

The fifth and sixth were rather tame. Eddie Saffry and Maurice Sayers went six rounds to a draw.

SAW IVER LAWSON.

Chief Webb of Sydney, Australia, Speaks Of Salt Lake Riders.

Chief Webb of the Sidney fire department, left Salt Lake this morning for San Francisco, where he will take steamer back to his home in far away Australia. This morning the chief stated that he had met Iver Lawson and the other Salt Lake bicycle riders in Sydney and had witnessed several of their races. He spoke in very high terms of Lawson, McFarland and the other American riders. He said they were well thought of and that Major Taylor was very popular with the Sydney race goers.

"You have a man over there named 'Plugger Bill Martin,' said the chief. "He is not racing now, but he is doing well in the hotel business, and is making considerable money. Your man Iver Lawson is considered the best rider over there now."

Races at Oakland.

San Francisco, Jan. 22.—Iridius won the six and a half furlongs, which was the feature of the card at Oakland today. His victory came as a surprise, all the money going in on San Nicolas, the favorite, and Futurita, the latter being played 3 to 1 to 9 to 5. Iridius got away flying and was never headed, winning ridden out from Futurita and O'Hagen. San Nicolas ran out some at the start and was never better than fourth. In addition to taking the handicap, Walter Jennings landed the last race with Stillchio, who was the only favorite to reach the wire in front. Amasa proved a surprise by winning the first number at odds of 15 to 1. Young Pepper, favorite for the 3-year-old race, made a poor showing an dfinished outside the money. She Cure won by a head from Celebrant. Results:

First race, six furlongs, selling—Amasa won, Rustic Girl second, Lady Kent third. Time—1:14¾.

GANS FAILED TO LAND.

Could Not Knock Out Joe Grim in Ten Rounds.

Baltimore, Jan. 22.—Joe Grim of Philadelpia won the purse hung up by the Eureka Athletic club in a ten-round bout tonight and an additional $100 from Gans, who thought he could put out "the human punching bag" in six rounds. Gans weighed about 135 pounds. Grim seemed to be twenty-five pounds heavier. The lightweight champion cleverly ducked many vicious swings of the Italian, who failed to land a telling blow, while Gans played throughout for the face, and landed enough right and lefthand blows to have put any man in his class to sleep in the first few rounds. Grim was so badly cut about the face and head that the police interfered in themiddleofthe tenth round.

Ascot Park Events.

Los Angeles, Jan. 22.—Two favorites won at Ascot park today and the gen won at Ascot park today and the general public lost a large sum. The last race was one of the most disastrous to the betting public that has been run here. Lunar, Merwan and El Oriente were played all along the line by the talent, and Montana Peeress was the only one to get inside the money, and she could do no better than third. Labor, at 25 to 1, won, and Invietus, at 30 to 1, got the place. Weather fair; track good. Results:

First race ,six furlongs—Gottlieben won, Negrusca second, Rosseric third. Time—1:15¼.

Second race, Slauson course, selling—Gehelmness won, Effervescence second, Phyz third. Time—1:11.

BAD CATSUP PEOPLE.

County Authorities File Chmplaints And Will Now Prosecute.

County Attorney Westerveit has filed eight complaints in the police court against as many grocerymen, charging them with selling impure catsup and thus violating the pure food laws of this state. In view of the fact that the men from whom the samples were purchased for analysis have removed the impure catsups from their shelves and have promised not to sell them any more, it is very likely that the suits will not be pressed against them at the present.

Those against whom complaints were issued are:

J. E. Healy, home-made catsup, manufactured by the Beebe Cramel Pickle company, Denver, Colo.

William Layton, People's Co-op., Kaysville catsup, Kaysville, Canning company, Kaysville, Davis county.

HARBOR ENDORSED.

Commercial Club Names Committee and Promises to Help Los Angeles.

The Commercial club heartily endorsed, last evening, the scheme to secure a big congressional appropriation for the completion of the inner San Pedro harbor, the secretary was instructed to draft resolutions in accordance therewith, and a committee was appointed to visit Washington and work for the proposed appropriation.

The first business of the evening, was the annual election of officers by the board of governors as follows:

President—Col. Edwin F. Holmes.
Vice President—Mayor Richard P. Morris.
Secretary—Joseph W. Houston.
Treasurer—Louis H. Farnsworth.
Assistant Secretary and General Manager—Fisher S. Harris.

The re-election of Col. Holmes and Mr. Harris was a foregone conclusion some time ago, and the choice of Mr. Farnsworth as treasurer was in the same catagory.

The board acknowledged the receipt of maps of Utah lake and the city's proposed water systems from City Engineer L. C. Kelsey, when the San Pedro matter was taken in active hand.

It was stated that an estimate had been made for the deepening of the inner harbor, and in order to secure the remaining money necessary Congress would have to be labored with and the following committee to engage in this work was chosen: President E. F. Holmes of the club, State Engineer A. F. Doremus, Senators Kearns and Smoot and Congressman Howell. The following letter was read from the Los Angeles chamber of commerce on the matter:

If you want sweet, juicy fruit, ask for Newhell Navels.
