LOGAN.

LOGAN, UTAH, - - Nov. 13, 1895.

Review of the Boys in Blue.

Inspector General Tanner will review the two local companies N. G. U., and the Brigham City and Richmond companies, on Friday afternoon. It was intended to have a military ball on the evening of review day, but the date was uncertain, and when finally fixed the "dispute arose," the young ladies' literary society of the B. Y. College, had arranged for a grand ball in the opera house. The boys in blue then abandoned tactics, and they and their guests will probably attend that given by the ladies.

Meeting of Agricultural Society.

The Cache County Agricultural society will hold the first meeting for the present season, in the east basement of the Logan Tabernacle, on Saturday afternoon, when the season's work will be outlined. Last season's work was very profitable. Specialists were engaged to lecture on agriculture, horticulture, arboriculture, dairying and all other subjects of interest to farmers, and a very general interest to attend the methods was aroused. By combining their interests they also secured the highest prices and lowest rates of transportation for their produce, and shortened the middle man.

Severely Injured.

Anthon Anderson Jr. was rather severely, but fortunately not dangerously, hurt while working at Anderson's mill on Monday last. He was attempting to put a belt, on a rapidly revolving pulley, and got his arm caught between them. He was thrown some distance with great force and his head struck a nail projecting from a post. Two long scalp wounds were inflicted and the head was otherwise badly bruised. The wonder is that his arm was not either torn from its socket or broken badly.

Glee Club Appreciated.

The Logan glee club was received with the utmost enthusiasm last Saturday evening at Paris, Idaho, where it assisted the Paris choir in giving a concert. Each number rendered by the club, and each song sung by its famous tenor H. C. Keeton were encored. Nothing less would satisfy their admirers.

A Temperance Lecture.

Under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., Mr. Albert O. Taylor, of Chicago, will deliver the first of his series of three temperance lectures this evening, in the M. E. Church. The title of this evening's lecture is, That Boy of Yours.

Had His Leg Broken.

Frank Pollett, of Hyde Park, was knocked down and stepped on by a young and fractious horse on Saturday last and had a leg broken.

General Notes.

The Hercules Power Co. received its first carload of machinery yesterday, and it will soon be in place as the power house is ready for its reception. The other work is being prosecuted vigorously, and the citizens of Logan will soon be able to light their houses at the rate of 40 cents per month for a sixteen candle power incandescent lamp; a great reduction from the rate at present charged by the Logan City and Thatcher plants.

Mahara's Minstrels amused the Logan public at the Opera House on Monday night. Their band was excellent, so was also their dances and the concertonist; but their singing was not up to the standard required in these days.

It is quite likely that afternoon meetings will be continued in the Tabernacle during the present winter instead of in the several wards as has been the case during previous winters.

On Saturday evening Leslie J. Carter's Tornado will be here. As the public generally is fond of startling scenic effects a full house may be expected.

The A. C. of U. football team is holding daily practices, preparing for its encounter with the High School team of Salt Lake on Saturday next.

Joel Shomaker, formerly editor of the Manti Messenger, has been here in the interest of the Denver Field and Farm.
