making the offense punishable by imprisonment in stricken out. The amendment failed to carry.

Then Perry called a halt by moving that the extreme length of imprisonment for the offense be made five minutes instead of five days, but this also failed.

Senator Thomas suggested that the extreme penalty be imprisonment from sunrise till sunset. Evans opposed this but the amendment carried.

Senator Sweet then moved that the extreme fine be fixed at $1 instead of $10.

The amendment carried by 11 to 4. Senators Evans, Bidwell, Jackson, Tanner, Thomas, Whitney and Wright voting against it.

Evans refused to vote for the bill as finally amended, and the vote on its passage stood:

For the Bill—Senators Carson, Dobbins, Robison, Shurtliff, Smoot, Whitney, Wright—5.

Against the Bill—Aldes, Chambers, Evans, Kerns, Lewis, W. G. Sokalski, Tanner, Thomas, President Nebeker—8.

Absent—Howell.

BILLS INTRODUCED.

The following bills were introduced and referred:

Senate bill No. 18, by Tanner, appropriating $100 to pay one-half of the expense of making maps and plats for the assessor's office in Beaver county.

Senate bill No. 19, by Aldes, providing for the insertion of voters upon constitutional amendments. The measure provides that all constitutional amendments to be submitted to a vote of the people shall be printed on blue ballots as well as on the printed ballots, and placed in the voting booths.

Senate bill No. 40, by Carson, relative to part of the state board of health, providing for the suppression of nuisances and contagious diseases, prescribing quarantine rules and regulations therefor, and relating to burial permits, health of schools, diseased animals and veterinary surgeons. The measure is an exhaustive one, treating the whole subject of sanitation, and providing numerous wise regulations as to quarantine matters, etc.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

Large Batch of New Bills Introduced Today—News of Senate Slaughter.

The House this afternoon commenced slinging the same line of hard work as on yesterday. A large batch of new bills was introduced and referred to the appropriate committees. Several communications were received from the Senate announcing that that body had rejected a number of House bills. The news of the slaughter was tearlessly received and several sharp sallies were indulged in by the members, who displayed a plentitude of I'll-get-even-with-you smiles. Cellner facetiously moved that hereafter the House introduce no bills or resolutions or memorials or make any motions without first ascertaining whether the Senate had acted upon or contemplated acting upon said bills, resolutions, memorials or motions. On motion of Mansfield, S. B. No. 9, which was rejected yesterday, was reconsidered. Mansfield spoke briefly for the measure, but the members still smarting over the killing of their own bills, again rejected the bill by an overwhelming vote. The House then unanimously substituted for the Bledsoe University removal bill for its own, by Cummings, and proceeded to consider the same.

A claim was presented from William Fjey of Deseret, saying that he is reimbursed in the sum of $11.50 for over paid school taxes, paid in Tooele county for the year 1898. State board of examiners.

The committee on judiciary reported on H. B. No. 8, by Stewart, "An act to repeal an act to the service of summons and amending section 2988 of the Revised Statutes of Utah," and recommended that it pass.

S. B. No. 1, by Cannon, was received from the Senate, being "An act authorizing the State board of examiners to make a selection of a site for the Utah State school for the deaf and dumb and making an appropriation therefor." Committee on appropriations.

H. B. No. 14, by Howell, was received from the Senate, being "An act authorizing the State board of land commissioners to make temporary loans for the State and appropriating money for payment." Committee on revenue and appropriations.

H. B. No. 16, by Hilbert, was also received. This bill is entitled "An act providing for the sale and removal of the present site of the University of the State of Utah, together with the appurtenances thereto and the acceptance by the State of the sixty-acre tract of land conditionally granted by the United States government to the State, and for the erection of suitable buildings and the location of the said University thereon, and the appropriation of money to be used for such purposes." Committee on Education.

NEW BILLS INTRODUCED.

H. B. No. 93 was introduced by Evanson, being "An act to prevent the adulteration of vinegar and regulating the manufacture and sale thereof." Committee on public health.

Benson also introduced H. B. No. 95, "An act to amend section 9, 11 and 14, chapter 3, of the Session Laws of 1897, being an act creating a State board of horticulture, providing for the quarantine and disinfection of orchards, fruit trees, seeds, cuttings, grafts, bushes and vines, prohibiting the dissemination of useful knowledge pertaining to horticulture and for the compilation of statistics regarding the same, and authorizing the appointment of fruit tree inspectors and defining their duties." Committee on horticulture.

Other Speeches.

Several of the speeches of yesterday's final session were crowded out yesterday for lack of space. They are given today.

MCQUARRIE ON GRANT LETTERS.

Mr. McQuarrie said: There has been so much said about the Grant letters and such a public sentiment worked up on account of them, I thought there was such an uproar. My name was mentioned in them that it was my duty to dispel the false impression that has gone out because of the interpretation that has been put upon those letters.

Not only has the writer of the letters been misplaced, but also the gentleman who is charged with having been so thoughtful that while on a religious mission he was using his Church office to further the interest of a certain candidate for Senator.

It was from J. Golden Kimball and Heber J. Grant. I know of no reason there would be to Church influence used in this senatorial fight, that the Church had no candidate. I know of nothing to our the arguments of Mr. Grant. I was assured by Mr. Kimball, that they were simply Heber J. Grant's personal views and not necessarily his own, and he was not in politics and was not advocating any one's cause. And in a personal letter received from Heber J. Grant, he assured me that he was talking in the letters as a republican as a Democrat. The argument that Wilford Woodruff was not opposed to the election of A. S. McCune was also urged to show that a man who was one of the Church was just as acceptable to them as any other man, so long as he was qualified for the place. Mr. Grant urged that the business interests of the State should be represented by a business man, and that the influence Mr. McCune could bring to bear on the business men because of his ability to invest in enterprises with them, would assist in the material development of the State and that because of such a rival in business he, with others, would have an opportunity for profit, and he had lost during the financial panic. I am not here to defend the wisdom of writing those letters, but I do not think we should condemn a man for a word, but judge him by the spirit that prompted him and the object he had in view. I was not convinced myself by the argument in the Grant letter, and in the presence of several members of this body, I incorporated some parts of that argument. I read my view by the Rev. A. W. McCune.

O'NEIL ON SIMPLICITY.

Representative O'Neil said: A number of the amendments on the floor seem to think the silver-tongue orator's speech of Gen. Cannon, that if we had free silver we have open to this State as bonanza and silversy doubled in the cause of free silver. Now, I am not the author of this assembly, each of the three fathers, has affiancate of free silver as ever, as the best of them. After the polemic expounded immediately before he came upon the scene and will continue to do so long after I am dead. I cared for one minutiae until I saw he could not be elected, and now I am elected, I am for free silver, equally as for the cause of the river, the Rio. A. W. McCune.

CALLISTER ON APOLOGIES.

Representative Callister said: I have no apologies to offer for my conduct, nor have any to make to my constituents, and I regret very much my inability to cast my vote for Hon. George Sutherland.

AFTER THE "SLIP" AGAIN.

Once More Utah Will Memorialize Congress for a Slice Of Arizona.

For years past there has been a southern Utah have been struggling anxious to secure the annexation of that strip of country east of the Colorado, which was once referred to as "No Man's Land." Two years ago, it will be remembered, that the attempt was made to induce northern Utah people to go to Arizona and negotiate with the Indians of that country for the purchase of the strip in question in this state. The scheme met with success, the Indians agreeing to the deal, but it would have been bearing in a detrimental direction to the interests of northern Utah people. These conditions, it is said, do not now obtain, and it is thought for the sake of equitable and amicable adjustment of the matter. With that end in view, Representative Robinson of Kane county introduced the following memorial in the House today:

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States in Congress Assembled:

Your memorialists, the Governor and Legislature of the State of Utah, respectfully memorialize your honorable bodies and represent:

That the counties of Coconino and Mohave counties of Arizona, lying north of the Colorado river, should be added to Utah for the reasons:

First—Topographically they are part of Utah, being detached from Arizona by the Colorado river, which forms an impassable barrier nearly the entire length of the strip, and completely separates said portions of the Tusayan and Mohave counties from the main body of the territory of Arizona.

Second—That owing to the isolation of the strip and the long circuitous route of travel, lies through a wide and rough country occupied by Navajo and other Indians, the settlers and taxpayers of said strip are practically cut off from the citizens and courts of Arizona and are compelled to suffer from the individualism of a few lawless men, composed of their flocks and herds become a protection to or can be afforded them by said citizens and courts.

Third—That the residents and taxpayers of said strip have heretofore repeatedly petitioned your honorable body to annex said strip to Utah.

Fourth—That said strip is very sparsely settled, having thereon but one small settlement which is within four miles of the Utah line, and that the social, commercial and legal relations and interests of the people of said strip are wholly with the people of Utah.

Fifth—That said strip is impossible for irrigation and suitable only for grazing purposes, that the large flocks and herds thereon are owned in Utah, and are subject to the taxation of Utah, giving the owners any governmental representation whatever.

Sixth—That Utah affords absolutely no protection to the settlers or stock owners of said strip on account of the distance from her courts and the great expense that would have to be incurred in an attempt to do so.

We, therefore, earnestly ask that these portions of Coconino and Mohave counties lying north of the Colorado river, be attached to and make a part of the State of Utah and the Colorado river be the dividing line.

And it shall bound your memorialists will ever pray.

PREFER PUBLIC DOMAIN.

People of Utah County Want a Big Section of Land to Remain.

Representative O'Neil introduced a memorial in the House a few days ago praying that certain lands in Utah county be restored to the public domain. Since then the gentleman has received some specific information from some of his constituents in relation thereto, and last evening he moved the introduction of the following substitute:

To the honorable, the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States in Congress assembled—Your memorialists, the Governor and Legislature of the State of Utah, respectfully memorialize your honorable bodies and represent:

First—That under section 24 of an act dated March 3d, 1891, entitled "an act to repeal timber culture laws, and for other purposes, by a proclamation of President Harrison, dated February 21, 1892, (Vol. 27 U. S. Statues, at large, Vol. 28, page 48), certain portions of the public lands in the State of Utah were declared to be, and thereby became a public reservation.

Second—That a section of the area of said Reservation lies within the county of Utah in said State; that said county is composed at the time of the issuance of said proclamation, a population of thirty thousand persons; that it is and has been ever since, and that by reason of the contour of the country all of such population resides in valleys adjacent to the rivers and in the tributaries, and are wholly dependent for water, timber, fuel and building material, and for pasturage, range for live stock upon the lands included within said Reservation; that the extensive conformity of all of such population, were made upon the assumption that they would be permitted the use of the timber, range and water within said Reservation, and that the loss of such settlements may continue and grow in population, prosperity and importance, it is and should be, and it seems as if it should bear to itself in pieces. PREST. M'KINLEY COMING WEST.

Utah People May See the Nation's Chief Next Summer.

EXPECTS TO MAKE THE TRIP

Salt Lake Building Bill May be a Law Within a Week or Ten Days.

Special to the Deseret News.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 15.—Utah people may have a chance to see President McKinley this summer. He told Congressmen-elect Kahn, of California, today, that he expected to make a half of the Pacific coast states a month or two after Congress adjourns.

SALT LAKE PUBLIC BUILDING.

Chairman Mercer of the public buildings committee went before the committee on rules this afternoon, and stated that another day be allowed in which to pass those public building bills which have already passed the committee of the whole. The committee made no decision, but Chairman Mercer has received friendly assurances that this time will be granted.

The Salt Lake bill will probably be a law within a week or ten days.

TWO COMPANIES INCORPORATE.

Secretary of State Hammond received by today's mail articles of incorporation of the Silver Bullion Mining company, with headquarters in Provo, and the Scientific Mercantile and Manufacturing company of Spanish Fork. The incorporators of the Silver Bullion are: J. F. Thompson, Eureka; Nelson Westergren, C. L. Van Leewin, Diamond; H. V. Le Seur, S. E. King, and L. C. Le Seur of Provo. The capital stock is fixed at $1,000, with shares at 10 cents each. The company's property consists of the Silver Bullion Mine, S. E. Land is situated in the Tintic mining district, about one mile south of Diamond.

The object of the scientific company is the buying and selling of general merchandise. The capitalization has been fixed at $1,000, divided into shares of $5 each. The officers are: Reginald Johnson, president and director; Peter Engstrom, vice president and director; Erick Hansen, Halma Hansen, and John Johnson, directors.

H. L. DRIVER ARRESTED.

H. L. Driver was arrested this afternoon by Police Officer Pitzsmurine for shooting down the values in the gas mains last night. It is said he has secured Judge Hoge as attorney for his defense.

THIEVES SENTENCED.

The Murray burglary case was up before Justice Sommer this afternoon. Al. Workman and Chris Johnson were charged with entering the slaughter house of C. E. Bagley and stealing certain articles from the premises. The information was changed from burglary to the petit larceny of some hides valued at $17.50. To this charge both pleaded guilty. Justice Sommer sentenced Workman to three months in the county jail. Johnson, who is under twenty years of age, was given two months.

HAVE FOUND ONE BODY.

J. W. Garretson Taken From Under the Snow, Dead.

The Slide in Bingham Had Engulfed Him—Looking Now for Dewey.

A message from Bingham at 5:30 this afternoon announces that the body of J. W. Garretson, one of the men caught in the snowslide at the St. James mine, Bingham canyon, had been found under three feet of snow. The body of Dewey has not yet been discovered. The rescuing party went to work about noon despite the storm, and is still on the ground. The place where the body of Garretson was found shows that the slide had passed over it, thus accounting for the small quantity of snow over the body.

Happened to Read About a Similar Case—Followed the Other Man's Example and Was Cured.

The following incident is given by Charles Morris, general jobber, 35 Lexington Avenue, North Cambridge, Mass.:

"Several years ago I became poisoned by Ivy. I tried many medicines, spending a large sum of money without obtaining a particle of good. My sleeves were sine afflicted with the same disease. We were all constant sufferers with an awful itching sensation, and it seemed as if I should tear myself to pieces. I picked up a paper in which I found printed a technical treatise on the Gulf Stream and had been similarly afflicted and had taken Hood's Sarsaparilla with benefit. I bought a bottle, which we took and it did

WATER OF PARLEY'S CREEK

Trial of The Issues Between Salt Lake City and Mrs. Dudler, et al.

Testimony of Witnesses—Mother Re-adopts Her Child—Cattle Boys Convicted Again—Other Items.

The case of Salt Lake City against Mrs. Susan Dudler et al. the trial of which commenced yesterday afternoon, was continued yesterday afternoon and this afternoon. The trial will continue today and the probabilities are that at least two more days will be occupied in the hearing. The question involved is the waters of Parley's canyon creek. The city claims to be the owner of 14 per cent of the water in the creek and hopes that the remaining 1½ per cent belong to parties other than the defendants. Last September the defendants took possession of a portion of the water in question, leaving about one third of the water, and only desisted when the city obtained a temporary restraining order enjoining the defendants from further interference. The plaintiff asks for $20,000 damages and a permanent injunction against the defendants.

Mrs. Dudler and the other defendants claim the water in dispute belongs by prior right, alleging that they held and it continuously from 1866 to 1896. Mrs. Dudler testified that her father first was introduced to her by her husband, Joseph Dudler, in 1866. It is also alleged Mr. Joseph Dudler had lived at Dimond in Dimond constructed a canal and placed a measuring box in the channel of the creek, which diverted the water has flowed through it since 1875. The act of the city in disposing of the water and the other defendants of the water in question set out in the answer and damages in the sum of $5,000 are prayed for as well as an injunction against the city.

The following witnesses have been examined thus far: In behalf of the plaintiff: C. H. Wilcken, Amos Gisbert, A. P. Chesnutt, M. H. Beeler, J. C. Kelsey, George Chenney and S. M. T. Seddon, the present watermaster. The burden of the testimony seems to show that for years past Mrs. Dudler had only used a small quantity of water for a kitchen garden, and that she was getting just as much if not more, though the 2-inch pipe put in last year.

The attorneys in the case are: Moses Hall, Stewart & Richards & Varian for the plaintiff; Hoge, Zane & Costigan for the defendants.

This afternoon Judge Hiles announced that he would ask the jury to adjourn tomorrow and try a case, as it is quite likely when court adjourns this evening a continuance will be taken until Monday, possibly.

CURTIS BOYS CONVICTED.

Adjudged Guilty of Two Offenses and placed on Trial for a Third.

If the State succeeds in convicting the two Curtis boys of the numerous crimes charged against them, the chances are they will spend a good portion of the remainder of their natural lives behind prison walls. The jury in the case of the Curtis boys, charged with grand larceny, and Monday were placed on trial for burglary, yesterday afternoon the jury returned a verdict of guilty as charged, and today they were tried for assault with a deadly weapon. The assault upon Norton Curtis, the elder of the two, was alleged to have been committed in the spring of 1897.

The assault complained of was made upon the person of John C. Mackay, who alleged that while he was in the search of his stolen property he was confronted with a shotgun.

The assault case the jury late this afternoon, but up to the hour of going to press a verdict had not been returned.

Owing to sickness in the family of Attorney Daniel Harrington, Judge Hiles today continued the case of Anna Gibson vs. Thomas R. Taylor to the front of the present calendar. Mr. Harington is attorney for the defendant, Mr. Taylor.

Martha B. Taylor filed a suit against Stewart J. Jenkins today to recover the sum of $1,000 on a demand note for money and that the said amount is secured a lien on certain land formerly owned by Jackson Bullion and against which there was a judgment, which, it is alleged was well known to the defendant when he bought the property.

Sale of Hook's Hot Springs.

Today was the date set for the sale of Hook's Hot Springs, under the order of foreclosure recently made in favor of Hooper Bank and the Deseret National bank. The sale did not take place, however, but was postponed pending the suit of Frank Hook against Charles Boettcher et al, the trial of which is set for next Tuesday before Judge Hiles.

Petition for Re-Adoption Allowed.

The petition of Annie Marie J. Jackson, a single woman, asking that she be allowed to re-adopt her six-year-old child, Pearl Jackson Jarman, was granted by Judge Hiles today. Since the 11th of February, 1896 the child has been living in the care and custody of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Jarman of this city, through an order of the probate court. The mother recently obtained a decree to regain possession of her child and to resume possession of her child, and this transpired. Judge Hiles today signed an order granting the request.

Monarch Improvements.

The Monarch on the West Dip at Mercur has just been equipped with a Davis Rotot and a substantial shaft house has been built. Messrs. Hall, Bingham and associates, Mr. Bingham says the others are not cutting anything yet, but the report which they have every reason to believe lies the lode is continuously growing more ominous, things are booming on the West Dip, nearly all the mines being in active operation. Mr. Bingham says that work is being pushed on the Cedar Hill and Gray Rooster mines, from both of which a large quantity of ore is being taken. James Chenney is also working claims with good results, the ore there being ready for the early discovery of the ore body.

NOTES OF THE PIT.

TIES FOR UTAH & PACIFIC.

Shipment En Route Will Enable 3 Miles Day to be Built.

Train from Colorado—Short Line in Idaho—Car Coupler Decision—Other Railway News.

Contractor Hendricks of the Utah and Pacific left this morning for the front. The work of track laying has been very much retarded owing to a scarcity of ties. It was learned at the office of the road today that a large shipment of them was on the way to Lund, and that Mr. Hendricks has the usual ante a day would be built.

Mr. West is still on the road and will soon be in this city for two weeks. The road is now between 41 and 50 miles out of Milford, being several miles beyond Lund.

Decision on a Coupler.

Judge Adams, in the circuit court at St. Louis, Mo., today handed down an opinion in the patent suit of Mc'Cunnan and Torley against the Shickle, Harrison and Howard Iron Co. The plaintiffs allege that the St. Louis company infringed their patent on the Janey coupler, the coupler on which the complainants claim a patent was granted Feb. 21, 1893. Judge Adams rules that the complainants had a close patent or this novelty, and that it has been infringed. The opinion stated "that a bond will be entered granting a perpetual injunction against any further infringement, and referring the case to Judge James A. Seddon for an accounting for the damage sustained by the complainants from the infringement.

Short Line in Idaho.

Mr. Bancroft, the general manager of the Short Line, left the city yesterday afternoon on the train for the north this morning. Mr. Bancroft is suffering from a bad cold. He says things are all right west of Pocatello as yet, and that he has no fear for the future. Superintendent Calvin is still in the north.

D. & R. G. Gets Through.

Passenger train No. 1, west bound over the D. G. W., came in this morning behind a baggage car from D. and R. G. connection at Grand Junction. This is the first occasion when the train has been allowed to come into Salt Lake City.

The Colorado Midland is still blocked west of Leadville. The eastern portion of the road only being open.

RAILROAD NOTES.

Live Stock Agent Tuttle of the Short Line came in from the north last night.

Live Stock Agent Hudnutt is in southern Utah. He is making arrangements for future shipment of cattle.

General Agent Warren of the Santa Fe left this morning for Kansas City in the interests of the road. He will spend several days in the south.

While the big engines were being blocked up with sawdust, the Denver and Rio Grande yards in Salt Lake Valley line was having troubles of its own, and for several days was tied up. The line is open again.

Today was pay day on the office staff of the Rio Grande Western. The boys were lining up before the door of the local treasurer, their faces wearing the broadest smile of a smile.

Two car loads of pumice stone have been shipped from Kanosh siding on the Short Line, for the Chicago market today. Mr. Gaugler will push the work of getting out the pumice and expects to be able to send at regular intervals hereafter.

Traveling Passenger Agent Clark of the Rio Grande Western, and General Agent Frith of the Denver office of the same system, who have been in Salt Lake for the past few days, returned from the north this morning. Mr. Frith leaves today for Denver.

A San Francisco dispatch says that on Monday last the Southern Pacific general Ford submitted to the railroad commissioners an opinion, in which he says that the commissioners have the power to adjust rates of the Pullman car company. The board decided to take the case under advisement until the next monthly meeting.

C. M. Hagenbach, assistant to President Ripley of the Santa Fe road, is in San Francisco. W. G. Kennedy, the Pacific coast manager of the line, is due there in a few days, and with him will come Paul Morton, vice president of the road. When they arrive, a general conference will be held regarding the proposed entrance of the line into San Francisco over the route of the San Joaquin Valley road.

A new train will be put on the Burlington from Chicago to Denver for the special purpose of connecting with the Denver & Rio Grande. It will run over the Ashton cutoff, and not through Omaha, and will make direct connection with the Denver and Rio Grande's trains Nos. 2 and 3 east and west, or Denver. By this route a traveler can be rushed through to Chicago by spending two nights on the road. The change takes effect on Feb. 19th.
