READY FOR DENVER.

Musicians Prepared for Competition in the Big Eisteddfod.

A SPLENDID INSTRUMENTATION.

K. of P. Band Drilling—Only Two Entered in the First Class Contest—Salt Lake's Fine Representation.

Manager Zimmerman of the K. of P. band has received from Denver, whither he went to make arrangements for the stay of the band during the Eisteddfod. Quarters have been engaged in a first-class hotel and arrangements perfected for several concerts at the festivity which will be made the temporary home of the musicians. Mr. Zimmerman says the people of Denver were very enthusiastic and appeared to be anxious to do enough to make his stay comfortable. The fame of the K. of P. band has gone before it and Denver people realize its excellence.

So far there are but two entries in the first class eisteddfod—the K. of P. band of this city and Company's First Regiment band of Denver, which is also a first class organization. It was thought by many that the Delta band would compete, but it has not entered so far.

During this week Professor Anton Pedersen has been drilling the band in sections and has achieved splendid results. The fine instrumentation of the organization almost in itself insures success in the contest. There are six bands in the western country that have such an instrumentation, and the director, Mr. Pedersen, is a recognized thoroughbred musician.

Following is a list of instruments which are used by the band: 1 piccolo, 2 flute, 1 oboe, 1 E flat clarinet, 12 B flat clarinets, 4 saxophones, 2 bassoons, 1 contra bass, 4 French horns, 1 trumpet, 4 cornets, 3 trombones, 1 baritone, 1 E flat tuba, 1 double B flat bass, drums and tympani.

To carry a large band to Denver will entail great expense, and the people of Salt Lake City are anxious to see the boys go to Denver. Salt Lake City need not be afraid of its representation in this line when the K. of P. band goes across.

On Sunday next will be given the last of the series of concerts by the K. of P. band at Saltair. Among the selections to be rendered is the contest piece to be given at the Denver Eisteddfod, The Three Dukes from Henry VIII. This is the last chance the boys have to take advantage of this source of revenue and they hope to see a big crowd patronize them.

THE DENVER EISTEDDFOD.

Prof. Stephens Reports His Trip to the Tabernacle Choir.

At the rehearsal of the Tabernacle Choir last evening, Prof. Stephens reported his trip to Denver and Colorado Springs, where he went on business connected with the choir and for a few days rest and pleasure. He was treated in the royal style and given hearty receptions. It is now an undisputed fact that the Tabernacle Choir will attend the Denver Eisteddfod in September and sing.

The Eisteddfod committee and the people of Denver thoroughly realize the attractive power of the New Mormon choir to Americans, and have been busy in calculating the Salt Lake singers during their sojourn in the Queen City. Excursions will be organized from Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo, and the people will be given a chance of money towards paying their railroad expenses, which, together with all the singers will pay and about $1,000 remain as subscriptions and donations, will see them through all right.

The visit to a city will not embrace far enough to make his stay comfortable. The fame of the K. of P. band has gone before it and Denver people realize its excellence.

CHICAGO TO SALT LAKE.

A Last Effort Is to Be Made on Account of the Fire Chiefs' Convention.

CHICAGO, July 31.—The threatened Western passenger war over rates from Chicago to Salt Lake City on account of the Fire Chiefs' meeting in that city August 25th is now assured. Chairman Caldwell of the Western Passenger association made strong efforts today to persuade competing lines to restore the Milwaukee and St. Paul's $50 round trip Chicago-Salt Lake City rate, but was unsuccessful. The Atchison gave notice that it would meet the rate and other roads will do the same today. Of course the St. Paul say they will not withdraw their $50 rate unless the Union Pacific agrees to cancel its diverse route arrangements. The Santa Fe and Northwestern railroads are expected to follow the Atchison in the matter. The round trip rate from Chicago to Denver will probably be reduced to $20, and the one way rates will be half of the round trip.

RARE SURGICAL OPERATIONS.

Performed in New York on Little Ivan Decker of Parowan, Utah.

New York World: Building a nose in a month is the operation which was performed on Ivan Decker, a child eleven months old, who came all the way from Utah to New York to be treated. At the house where the operation took place it was learned that Mr. Decker lives at Parowan, Utah, 150 miles southwest of Salt Lake city.

The mother, with her baby boy, came to New York recently to have the operation performed which, it was hoped, would remedy the strange physical infirmity that left the child without a nose in the middle. There was a wide fissure on the left side of the child's palate, extending all the way back. The affection necessarily caused great difficulty in swallowing and if not remedied would in time have proved a serious impediment to distinct articulation.

Little Ivan was in excellent health when it was decided to perform the operation last Thursday, at the home of Mr. Dyer, No. 146 west sixty-eighth street, where Mr. Decker was staying. Dr. J. H. Bissell, of No. 116 west Eighty-fourth street, who had operated to a similar case, but many of the instruments which were especially made for this kind of operation for years. About seventy-five instruments were employed on little Ivan, who was in the surgeon's hands from 11:45 to 3 o'clock.

The operation begin with the partial division of the two ends of the superior maxillary bone, which were then broken from with little steel chisels, so as to fit together, along the cleft in front. The two sides of the cleft through the hard palate were dovetailed with the knife and drawn together by means of fine ligatures. Two rubber tubes were passed through the lowest portion of the superior maxillary bone.

The child had to be kept fast at the point of anesthetic sleep, and accordingly the application of ether had to be repeated to a nicety so that the patient was just under the influence of the anesthetic, and not at the stage of complete carcotic. Early in the operation it became necessary to remove one of the tubes, and a similar operation was performed.

After the operation by the surgeon, the child was begun to be fed for the first twenty hours, in order to prevent swelling as a result of the anesthetic. The little bones were tied to the child's sides, so that it could not put them in a position which would tear out the surgeon's stitches.

A second operation will be necessary to remove the handles, which is an unimportant matter of a short period, but this will be far more than an ordinary surgical operation, and after that little Ivan will have just as symmetrical a nose as any other man and be able to talk with perfect distinctness when he becomes older.

Ivan is a healthy, rosy youngster, and the result of his operation will make him physically perfect. This is the second case of the kind in this city.

The Frohman Company.

Charles Frohman's Empire Theater Stock Company has just made the trip from home, New York City, straight across the continent, with just an hour's stop in Chicago, to catch its breath, to San Francisco, where it played the seventh consecutive Monday evening (July 27th) at the Baldwin theater, presenting with what is described as capital success Clyde Fitch's adaptation of Henri Murger's French classic, Boheme, or as it is entitled in French, La Vie de Boheme. Two distinguished playwrights have had their plays selected by Mr. Frohman for the exercise of his engagement on its present tour: Henry Arthur Jones, who is represented by the Masqueraders and Arthur Wing Pinero, by a comedy-drama of a most unusually different kind, entitled The Benefit of a Doubt.
