5 O'clock -EDITION.-

TRUTH AND LIBERTY.

NO. 291. MONDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1893. SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH. VOL. XXVI

NEWS FROM HAWAII.

Minister Willis Has Arrived and Presented his Credentials.

ADMIRAL SKERRITT BELIEVED.

Trade Workers at Work.—They Held Up and Rob a Farmer While Waiting for the Train.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13.—The steamer China arrived early this morning from Honolulu. She brings the intelligence that United States Minister Willis arrived there on the morning of Saturday, Nov. 4th, and went directly to Hassett's lodgings here at the Hawaiian Hotel. He remained in seclusion until Monday, resting from the fatigues of the journey, declining to see any reporters. On Monday morning he received his own interview. He declines to touch on his political questions concerning the islands or to make known the nature of the instructions on which he would act until after they had been presented to the island authorities. The interview, however, made evident the fact that he is committed to the proposition that the government and the war vessels are to stay in the city when he makes a demand upon it for the surrender of certain affairs of local government, asking when it would be convenient for President Dole to receive his credentials, and the sending at the same time a manuscript copy of the returns which he proposed to present on the occasion at his presentation.

President Dole promptly replied, fixing the hour at 11 o'clock, Tuesday, for the presentation of credentials. The minister called that morning to see the result of the meeting was known.

The main element was to hold on the Hill. Everything was quiet on the island, the people waiting impatiently for information as to Willis's proposed course. Unless Minister Willis changes was a large gathering at the Union club-house, a private house, having the form of a pavilion, in Kaimukiki had placed the word around that she was to be restored to her throne on Wednesday, Nov. 8th.

EXPECTS BELIEVER.

Admiral Irwin arrived at Honolulu on the steamer China on Nov. 6th, accompanied by Lieutenants Adams and Parmenter, and at once went on board the flagship Philadelphia and relieved Admiral Skerritt and Lieutenants Wilmot and Fox. Mr. Irwin, after taking a formal farewell of President Dole, went on shore on the steamer China which called for San Francisco.

It is the opinion of the passengers from Honolulu that no serious trouble will arise on account of the Hawaiian affairs. It is generally believed that the United States orders the queen put back on the throne, but that the United States will have to keep a force of men constantly on shore to maintain her in power.

New Paddling Furnace.

Special Dispatch to the News.

LEBANON, WYO., Nov. 12.—The new puddling furnace of the Union Pacific rolling mills is now in operation. The first puddling of iron in the West outside of Pueblo was done on Saturday at the mills here.

Auction for Movie Models.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—There is much complaint among exhibitors over the delay in awarding the World's Fair medals as many exhibitors expect to make the most of their success in advertising way. They claim that great delay will rob them of much of the commercial advantage they had expected to reap in return for the heavy expense involved in making the World's Fair exhibit. The design by Mr. Gudelle for official medals is here but the contract for manufacturing the medals is not yet awarded, and it is uncertain whether the work may not be done by the United States mint. The plan of the treasury officials contemplate medals of elegant workmanship which would require four or five months, as it would necessitate the stamping of some of the medals 400 or 500 times, and it does not seem probable the work can be completed before next summer. The blame is laid to the committee of awards or to Designer Gudelle for not furnishing the designs earlier.

Special Dispatch to the News.

Train Robbers Held Up a Farmer.

ST. PAUL, MINN., Nov. 13.—Last night robbers attempted to wreck the Omaha passenger train near Worthington. The track was so obstructed as to throw the train off the track. While awaiting the arrival the robbers held up a farmer who refused a man who demanded his money. This got the railroad officials on their guard. They soon a plan and the robbers found the train guarded.

The man robbed was a farmer on his way from Worthington, where he had just drawn some money. He was shot in the leg. There is no clue to the robbers.

The name of the wounded man is J. B. Ivertes. The railroad officials are inclined to discount the truth of his story and think it peculiar.

Additional Receivers.

OMAHA, NEB., Nov. 13.—On application of the local government the United States district court this morning appointed J. W. Deane, of Chicago, and F. R. Comstock, of New York, additional receivers of the Union Pacific railroad without opposition. The petition sets forth the claims of the government against the road as entitling it to a larger representation among the receivers.

The Washington state commissioner had an account at the Mercantile National Bank, Tacoma, and they have a claim for $500 and a draft for $1000 on account, but the rank had suspended and the payment was refused. The Union National Bank of Chicago had the paper and filing suit to recover the amount advanced.

He was member of the Chicago Tribune and in September last absconded with $30,000 belonging to that paper. NO OFFICIAL NEWS.

Hawaiian Statesmen May Have Their Exequatures Demanded.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—Officials at the navy department say they have no news from Honolulu by the steamer that arrived at San Francisco. Gresham seems that he has nothing to say on the Hawaiian question and declines to either affirm or deny the reports effect to that he contemplates or recall. The officials in both departments to feel manifest a lively interest in all that can be told them by newspaper men. Soon after the reports received from Honolulu reached the department Gresham hurried over to the state department and had a brief interview with Herbert which may have been only an inquiry as to whether his department had any news to communicate.

Some extremists of Hawaiian Minister Thurston, published this morning, are said to have given offense to the administration and a rumor is afoot that the Hawaiian representatives here will have their exequaturs demanded. Whether the representatives give an acting officer or on their position is an annual one, representing as they do a government which the United States is willing to see depend and a government of the relations between this government and the legation will not be surprising.

THE COUNTY COURT.

Matters Taken Into Consideration by that Body at Today's Session.

PETITIONS OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS.

A City Comes from East Mill Creek—Tax Relief—The County Treasurer Board Trees.

It was one hour after schedule time when the county court got down to business this morning, namely, 11 o'clock. Probate Judge Blair presided, and County Selectmen Cohner, Bensinger and Morris were also in their places.

THE BIG DEPOSITORS.

When the minutes of the former meeting had been read and approved, Selectman Morris reported upon the claim of Wm. M. Hope for $10 and that of E. R. Livesay for $10.50, he recommended for payment. Mr. Morris said the claims showed that there were expenditures for assessment in Salt Lake county and Uinta of late. A levy of five cents per money as fixed by the Territorial board would bring a revenue of $12,000 with which to pay the deficiency. There not being sufficient in the fund to pay for inspection, he recommended that the whole matter be referred to the county attorney for an opinion as to whether the county court could appropriate from the general fund a sufficient balance with which to pay the above claims.

The court so ordered in Mr. Morris's recommendation.

COUNTY WARRANTS.

County Treasurer Spence reported that there were funds on hand to pay all registered county warrants up to No. 5,000 of the series bearing date.

THE COUNTY DEPUTIES.

Joel F. Allen, superintendent of the county infirmary, presented his report for the month ending October 31st, showing which period the number had been increased to 1,000 per day, two died, four were admitted, and the number on the roster at the month's end was 1,000.

TO BE CONSIDERED AGAIN.

Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, west, First North street, sent in a communication with reference to a reduction of her taxes, which amounted in the whole to $2.80. The matter, it appeared, had been previously before the county commissioners and at the time that body had the section up for hearing of objections by taxpayers, and acted upon the owing to some mistake no allowance has been made.

The matter was referred to the county clerk.

FOR THE COUNTY ATTORNEY.

The Utah Mattress company petitioned for relief on the ground of double assessment, certain real estate situate in lot 3, section 35, township 2 south, range 1 west, Salt Lake meridian.

Referred to the county attorney.

IN THE HOSPITALS.

County Physician Worthington reported that of the present date the following county patients were at the city hospital: St. Mark's 6; St. Mary's 7, Deseret 1; total 14.

ALL ABOUT A DRAIN DITCH.

A petition bearing eleven signatures was read, asking the privilege to the petitioners of constructing a drain ditch along the east side of Highway 15, from the southeast corner of the northeast quarter of section 4, township 2, south of range 1 west, and thence along the west side of the highway to the north line of section 35, township 1, north of range 1 west—said ditch to be maintained at the expense of the petitioners and at no point to be less than twenty-three feet from the center of the highway.

The request was granted.

TAX RELIEF PETITION.

A number of petitions for relief from tax sales were submitted and considered.

AN OFFENSIVE HOLLOW.

There were twenty-one names of residents of Salt Lake county to a petition which set forth that three years ago the county court ordered that a state road be placed between section 13, township 2 south, range 1 east, Salt Lake meridian, the carrying out of which work left a hollow on the west side of the thoroughfare where the dirt had been taken out for the building of the grade. The surface water has since that time, say the petitioners, risen in that hollow and damaged the farms below, rendering the same inexpedient for raising a crop. Besides, the water in the hollow was "stagnant and stinking" and likely to prove continental to health. The petitioners therefore ask that the county court pay the expense of constructing a drain ditch to carry the offensive water away.

Referred to a committee of the whole board.

A CRY FROM EAST MILL CREEK.

A petition was read from nineteen voters and taxpayers of East Mill precinct, as follows: "Whereas certain indictments were recently served in justice of the peace and constable in East Mill precinct at the general election last year failed to qualify within the time required by law, and whereas we complained those officers have been established to be incompetent by authority of the executive of the Territory, therefore we respectfully petition your honorable court to appoint suitable persons to fill those vacancies for the remainder of the term and until their successors are duly elected and have qualified. We therefore respectfully recommend that Horace Cummings be appointed justice of the peace and Cyrus Neff as constable, as they are persons who are qualified for said positions, and we are confident they would discharge their duties faithfully."

Referred to Selectman Morris.

DESERET BOARD.

The court list of offenders confined within the county jail showed that four men had been served in thirty-five prisoners during the month of October.

THEY WANT IT CHANGED.

A petition came in from Grovit, Salt Lake county, with twenty signatures, to remove to that district No. 24 praying for change of the county road commencing at a point at the northeast corner of the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 11, township 2 south, range 1 east, running east about half a mile, so said road in connection with the present road, the same being very, very extremely expensive on account of its close proximity to the railroad and will leave no the opposite side.

Referred to Selectman Morris.

A Violent Explosion.

There was a terrific explosion at the Electric Light Works last Saturday evening a few minutes after the last edition of the News went to press and as a result the entire city was in darkness until an early hour yesterday morning. The explosion was caused by the burning of a defective boiler connection, something that surprised and astonished the chief engineer who says there was only the ordinary amount of steam on when the accident occurred.

For a time the greatest excitement prevailed, as there were fears that some of the other boilers might burst. The fire department was called out and soon had several streams playing on the burning fuse. After they were extinguished it was discovered that no damage had been done to the tools. Great volumes of steam rushed through the opening and drops of water in the form of a miniature pantaloons were formed and so persistent that it took long. There were a number of people who were present at the time who received a slight scalding. The damage to the works will reach several hundred dollars. That the engineers and investigate escapes without a marvelous.

Dr. Sandars Passes Away.

After an illness of many years standing, Dr. A. C. Sandars of this city died at his residence in the Walker Terrace on West Temple street yesterday morning at 5 o'clock.

He was long recognized as an able physician and was employed in that capacity by the Rio Grande Western. He was also at one time president of the local medical society and at the time of his decease was a member of the St. Mark's hospital staff.

The deceased was forty-one years of age and a native of Kilkelly, New Jersey. He leaves a wife but no children to mourn his death. His remains will be forwarded to Detroit, Michigan, for burial.

INTERESTS AT HOME.

News About the Woolen Mills at Brigham City.

UTAH CLAIMS IN CALIFORNIA.

People Paying off Mortgages.—Trouble at the Anchor.—Mining and Other Items.

David Smith, writing from Brigham City to the News says: Being a reader of the semi-weekly I noticed an article in Evening's issue concerning the Brigham City Woolen Factory which is very confusing as far as it goes, but to my mind is not explicit enough, and hardly represents the business as it might deserve. Your informant states it to be a branch of the Brigham City Mercantile Institution, which is hardly correct. It is owned and operated by some of the former stockholders of that institution, who have combined and with cash or stock have purchased and paid for the buildings and machinery at the value of $75,000. The company is incorporated according to the laws of the Territory, and the stockholders are merchants, farmers, and laborers, and even widows are interested, therefore it belongs to the people in and around the settlement. Now, regarding labor in the factory, as you have been informed previously, we are making a very good quality of goods and the hands that are employed are all skilled laborers. They take great interest in their work. The superintendent, Anthony A. Jensen, is wholly control in the business. In the matter of sales of our merchandise he is sure they are putting our goods before the people and will quite a quantity, which is an encouraging showing.

People is coming in to trade wool one get their pay in goods to take home with them. All we need is for the people to patronize the home made, and we will guarantee them good treatment and honest work. If they will do this, they will be sustaining one of our home industries.

TAKE "BEFORE" THEM.

Considerable work has been done on the Eagle's Nest group of claims below town, and the writer is informed that the vein was cut recently and gives great promise of a body of good ore. The work has been performed by William Burns and two sons, who are greatly pleased at the showing they have for pay.

When the employes of the Ontario company were called in to sign the pay roll for last month's work, it was learned that the company had, by mistake or otherwise, raised the price of boxes to the old figure of one dollar per day. To a man they refused to sign the pay roll until the error was acknowledged and rectified. The Salt Lake office was notified, and word came back that the error would be corrected and the difference added to each man's check next month. The guarantee satisfied the men, the pay roll was signed and all is again serene.

Six or seven cars of framed houses have arrived recently for the Ontario smelting plant, and have been transferred to the building. Thoroughfares were blocked and presented at the works of Contractor Cutler in San Francisco, and constitute nearly all the internal arrangement of the big smelter, and to avoid the work of placing them together will be inconvenient to the near future, though inquiry at headquarters is met with the reply that nothing is known of the company's intentions—the framed timbers are here, that is all that is known. However, as silver is apparently growing stronger gradually, and as the extraction of bullion from the old No. 1 tailings dam would be nearly like finding it, there is some reason to believe that the plant will be completed and put into operation in the near future. It will prove a source of additional profit to the company and help it out to a great extent in the present depression.

Considerable excitement was created Monday afternoon last when it became generally known that Mike Fitzgerald and Hugh Kilkenny had taken advantage of the ownership of a piece of ground crossed by the road leading to the Fisher concentrator—owned by the Anchor Company—and had erected a fence. Interventions proved the ruse. Fell groundless, for the men had plotted a stake in the middle of the road, built a large monument around it, and put up a notice warning everybody that it was private property and that no trespassing would be allowed. James Farrell & Co. hence orders to their foreman to pay no attention to the notice and to drive over the obstruction, and Monday morning these instructions were obeyed to the letter, and the monument was soon wiped out of existence. The next move made by Fitzgerald and Kilkenny was to roll a block across the road and begin the work of staking a stake, being apparently determined to clear the road at all hazards. Superintendent Keith told the boys that under present conditions the Anchor would come down rather than engage in a lawsuit to clear the road, and made especially so in that, when the road was first laid, provided a right of way to every foot of ground traversed by the road. The force of men employed at the concentrator, seeing that they would soon be out of a job unless the road was cleared, marched in a body, headed by Foreman James T. Hosie, to where Fitzgerald and Kilkenny were at work, and argued their wrongs. They refused and made a show of resistance, when Mr. Hosie spoke into the assembled and gave Fitzgerald an. Then Kilkenny stalled to interest, but was soon induced to succumb by Mr. Farrell, and the stake disappeared. The note was filled up and the house that were waiting there, was sent to the concentrator. The matter is not yet settled, as Fitzgerald has a map of the ground in dispute, and says he proposes to carry the matter into court.

Mr. Keith told him that the Anchor did not propose to fight the case, and advised him for his own personal welfare, not to try and force the issue in close order, which it would most certainly do if an injunction should be obtained.

PROVO SMOOTH WORK.

Manager J. C. Cutler, of the Provo Woolen mills, from quite states over the reception the mills product is receiving in California. Mr. Cutler has received from a firm therefore letter in the coast, and states that he found the Provo goods highly spoken of there. They are now in demand and have made their way well in the front. Orders were received and many inquiries made. If the home patronage is kept up, with the custom that will come from the coast there is a good prospect for the mills to keep on the wheel.

PAYING OFF DEBTS.

Money seems to be in port now and is in business circles. Bill is the report of money for sale. It is not in the way of labor, as this is very dull. There is however, a general effort being made by people to pay their debts. Our evidence of this is given in the real estate transfers recorded. There are representations of actual sales of present only to a limited extent. By far the larger part of the business is the clearing off of mortgages, which has been going on lately to an unusual degree.

SMELTER.

Denver News: The Ute and City mine at Lake City is about to be opened on the big scale. Otto Mears, enterprising Alex Adams and William Bailey have signed a lease under which they will take charge of the mine and power and will work it to its full capacity. Under the new management the mine will give employment to 200 men. The output is prodigious, the silver ore being secondary.

Boise, Idaho, Statesman, (Dem.) Colonel G. Y. Bryan, returned yesterday evening from DeLamar, where he has been for several days examining the Lepley group on which the colonel and his brother have a $100,000 bond. He was enthusiastic over the property. "It's simply immense, I tell you—simply immense," he said. "We'll need a second DeLamar over there, mark my words." He will wire his principal that he made arrangements for bonds above mentioned and that the bond intended. Striking had already been commenced on a large ledge of ore that would yield $10 a ton gold and considerable silver.

Spokane, Washington, Review: A specimen of peculiar clay found near Cheney and curiosity was exhibited at Tammen's assay office yesterday, with the information that some had expressed the belief that it contained aluminum. "There is an extensive plex with reference to aluminum," the professor said. "While it is true that aluminum is present in all clay we merely all our country rocks there is no process known for extracting it from clay as a practical commercial proposition. The aluminum not yet was come in the presence of silica, which is reduced as a metal with the aluminum, rendering it brittle and unfit for use. All the aluminum produced for commercial purposes is from cryolite and bauxite, the former coming from Greenland and the latter from the Alleghany mountains and other places. Cryolite is a mineral having the appearance of alum. Bauxite is a brown mineral resembling fine sandstone."

DEEP CREEK GOLD.

Large Body of the Precious Metal in the Queen of Shrubs.

GOLD HILL MINES SHOW WELL.

Assessment Work Relief Law.—Silver Mines Closed.—The Utah at Fish Springs.

The Deep Creek country is coming to the front as a gold producer. Dr. H. J. Faust has come in from there, and reports the progress made. There has been, says he, a good strike made in the queen of Shrubs mine, in Spring Creek district, owned by Moore, Hodges and Bailey, the former of this city. The mine of ore is about eight feet thick, and carries a heavy percentage of gold. The precise amount is kept a secret by the owners, but it is known to be large. The rich body of ore was struck about two weeks ago. A thorough examination has proved to satisfactory that the owners of the mine are preparing to put in a Crawford mill at once.

The Gold Hill property is in Clifton district, and is owned by Moore, Fitzharris, Martin, Bunyon and Woodman, of this city. The two mines now being worked there are the Kane Springs and the Alberta. Forty men are employed on these, five Crawford mills being in operation. This property, the doctor says, is looking and doing better than ever before, and is proving a big gold producer.

The recent congressional act dispensing with the necessity of working out assessments for 1893, has, says the doctor, worked more to the injury of the working miners in the Deep Creek country than to their benefit. Those who own presents in Nevada, but live in Utah, are not affected, as the owners of silver must be in the same state or territory to be benefitted. The law came so late that all the working miners had done their assessment work. Some of the rich companies had deferred this labor, realizing that late in the autumn they could get men to work cheaper than early in the season, and so the assessment work was not made. The assessment work has cost many miners a month lost opportunity for the miners to earn a little money.

The silver prospects throughout that region are, as a rule, closed down. If there was a railway close by some of them might pay for working, but as it is their operation would be almost a total loss.

The Utah mine at Fish Springs is reported by Mr. Faust to be in excellent condition. It is turning out good ore and giving steady employment to twenty men at the mine.

CANNOT BE GARNISHEED.

That Is What the U. P.'s Attorneys Say Regarding that Road.

The following legal opinion from the Union Pacific's attorneys at Denver on the question of garnishment is of more than ordinary local interest: "That on Oct. 15, 1893, all of the property of the Union Pacific Railroad Co. passed out of its hands into the possession of the receivers; that as to garnishment process served upon agents of the receivers, which was against and are addressed to the Union Pacific railway, or to any other company connected in the system, service of which process is attempted to be made by delivery to the agents of the receivers, the agent upon whom service of process is attempted should inform the officer attempting the service that he is not an officer, employe or representative of the Union Pacific, and declines to accept the service.

"In case of service of and garnishment upon any agent of the company directed to the receivers, agents should notify the officer that they are agents of the receivers, and said receivers being officers of the court, cannot be served with garnishment or even sued out in any other court, and cannot make answer to the interrogatories herein propounded."

Laid Him Low.

The Tribune was the scene of an exceedingly funny and lively scrap on Saturday evening. The principals in the affair were an ex-Liberal who identified himself with the Citizens' movement in the recent campaign and who worked hard in his particular sphere for its success, and a fellow by the name of Goddard who is connected in some way with a small weekly publication call the Globe.

It appears that the two men met at the same place earlier in the day and that Goddard accused the other man for deserting the Liberal party, and is reported as saying to him among other things: "And for not a two to one fellow you didn't bet all you knew, too," and that he would "wrap" him "up." When the paper came out that evening sure enough the "wrap up" was there.

This fact was called to the attention of the "newspaper" fellow, and an immediate meeting took place, the latter being accompanied by a view and a volley of indescriptible. Then, like a flash and without expatiating, Goddard was piled up among the beer kegs, where he remained for some time. The result of his unusual collapse was a couple of terrific punches on the jaw from his opponent.

Republican Ratification.

A large number of prominent Salt Lake Republicans will go out to Ogden tonight over the Union Pacific to attend a grand ratification at the opera house in the Junction city. Arrangements are being made for the party to return on a special train after the meeting.
