ENGLAND. The English papers come to us issien with news concerning the Fenians. The suffering from want in London and the Abyssinian Expedition are treated as secondary matters. The funeral procession of the victims from the Clerkenwell explosion was over a mile in length. Mr. Finlen, a prominent member of the Reform League, proposed to hold a meeting on Clerkenwell Green, which the police authorities in the promptest and most emphatic manner forbade. It is understood that if any more serious cause of alarm from this source arises, Parliament will be speedily called together to suspend the Habeas Corpus Act. The Abyssinian expedition has not yet penetrated far enough to meet the enemy, but many of the chiefs and people are said to favor it. and the seattle of the set

FRANCE.

The new army bill places an army of 1,200,000 men in Napoleon's grasp, and Europe is troubled at the prospect. In the debate on its passage, Marshal Niel said the real object of the bill was to create a normal contingent in such guise that the effective strength of the army should never be less than 750,000 men; this year's contingent will be 100,000. The result of the bill, he argued, will prevent any power from attacking France with impunity. Rather ominous, seeing that no power threatens to attack the empire with impunity.

By many a European war is looked upon as inevitable.

ITALY. The popular feeling that Rome should be the capital of Italy loses nothing in strength or enthusiasm. Bands of Garibaldians continue to make threatening demonstrations. A large class of the Catholic population of Italy, which since the consolida-tion of the kingdom under Victor Emmanuel has steadily refused to recognize his government by voting, has resolved to abandon its policy of inaction, and will take an active part in the next parliamentary elections. The Patrie, in a leading editorial, says the Governments of France and Prussia have agreed to act together on the Roman question, so far as to restore the relations between the kingdom of Italy and the States of the Church to the exact status created by the September Convention between Italy and France. The Patrie hopes Italy will not interpose any obstacle to the accomplishment of this purpose.

The Levant Herald, published at Con-stantinople, in a recent issue, contained a long and able article in regard to the influence of the United States in the Eastern question. The writer denied that the influence of the United States had been weakened in Turkey by the late exchange of good offices between Russia and America. Notwithstanding even the resolution lately passed by the American Congress expressing sympa-thy for the Cretans, "the confidence in the authority of the United States," the Herald continues, "was never higher than now." -DIR (SERVIA.

It is stated that Prussia has joined France and Austria in their note to the government of Servia censuring its hostile preparations.
