WILLIAM WOULD AN ARTIST BE.

Wants to Paint Seascapes for Victoria's New Yacht.

BRITISH ADMIRALTY PLANS

Taking Advantage of Lessons Taught by Spanish-American War—Great Naval Architectural Triumph.

London, Aug. 12.—(Copyrighted, 1899, by the Associated Press.)—Bright, warm weather still prevails throughout England, the walls and gardens are begining to run dry, and a serious state of things is reported unless it rains soon. Deadlines owing to the fine weather, the holiday traffic the past week has been the largest known. The railroads to the north were specially crowded during the last few days with those who were bound to the grouse moors.

The Prince of Wales started for Marlshall Thursday, for which place a large number of Americans and Englishmen are already following.

Sir Hiram Maxim, the engineer, has been seriously ill ever since he returned from South Africa a few weeks ago. He is at Dunalt at present and will be taken to Carlsbad as soon as he can be moved.

Tom Cole, F. W. Harris, of Chicago, who goes as "Chancellor of the National University of Chicago," and some others have expired a few years ago; has broken out again from 31 Tyne street, Chicago, offering degrees to graduates and others in Europe for £20. Mr. Hackett, in a letter, says: "The university has proved a boon to non-resident schoolers in the past, let the fun continue long. Our society (sic) is open to any man who will produce at least a year of resident work for all graduates. Also having our seal we cannot attend a year here in Chicago."

PAINTINGS BY EMPEROR WILLIAM.

Emperor William has expressed a desire to furnish three seascapes painted by himself for the decoration of Queen Victoria's new yacht, which is for royal purposes. His majesty's enthusiasm as a painter of marine subjects is well known. The imperial yacht Hohenzollern is adorned with a series of imperial war vessels, further representations of Queen Victoria's yachts.

WAKED UP A HORNET'S NEST.

The directors of the new Carlton club have accepted a painter's seat by an artist, to compel owners of the white robe to doff evening dress. Recently well known club men have been refused admittance and protests are appearing in the newspapers. It is hinted out that it is strange there must be organized opposition to the white robe. Meanwhile, one there is general approval of the expressed intention of some of the trustees of the registration to carry the matter into the courts as hotels have no right whatever to refuse to accommodate any well behaved person who is able to pay.

MAY DON A FEZ.

His fellow countrymen have started a story that Sir Edw. A. Bartlett, who was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., and who is a conservative member for the Kensington division of Sheffield, contemplates residing in Turkey and donning the fez. Probably the story originated from the fact that he has just obtained concessions for an electric traction road and railways in Smyrna. It is understood we are American will be interested in these concessions. Commencing at the lowest rate, Sir Bartlett has been one of the most distinguished and popular of our American visitors in years, and that all his speeches have tended to his social popularity, good-will and friendship for the United States.

ADMIRALTY PLANS.

At the moment Emperor William was using Congressman Fox that the best four cruisers in a strong navy, Lord Selborne has just passed the British Admiralty for an entirely new class of warships. Great interest is taken in the new vessel, which was designed by Sir E. White, director of naval construction, in the office of the Associated Press the information of particulars.

"We believe she will be the greatest success in naval architecture, both for speed and fighting. Sun will cost, ready to go, about a million and a quarter. Her speed will be a knot in excess of the best warship and she will be armed with the heaviest guns, which, when ready, will be more than a match for anything there, which expressions are used by the Admiralty. Her guns will be of a pattern never before used, and anything yet attempted in this or any other country. Her guns will be protected by a complete armor belt, which is the Dreadnaught, now being built. She is to be the largest and broadest warship ever laid down in the British dockyard, while her draft will be shallow. Her breadth is designed to attain the maximum steadiness under the conditions for gun firing ever yet attained in any warship.

"Forward will be circular tips mounted on a fixed big gun. Her total armament will be 12 inches, and the idea of this caliber for the present seems to be that the 12 inches tubes will carry her two complete rounds, the total of ammunition she will be able to carry. Her speed will be 20 knots. The Spanish-American war showed how important speed is, and nothing will be wanting of it in her. The Dreadnaught, Sun, Sun, Sun. The new vessel, Sun, will be laid down in November or December. Her name will be Sun. Sun will be the ship should be ready. Sun, Sun. She will be the nearest approach to the ideal in a warship, in view of the fighting capacity of a vessel of her type, and we believe she will be the most formidable of a vessel of her type anywhere in the world. THE ANTI-IMPERIALISTS.

Secretary Hitchcock Exercises a Lot of Edward Atkinson's Pamphlets.

Washington, Aug. 11.—Secy. Hitchcock and other government officials have been severely rapped by Edward Atkinson, which the latter says has been issued by the department without authority of law. The latter says he will be sent to the committee of such concerning responsibility of officers of the Interior, together with other matter in connection with attitude on the Philippine question from an anti-imperialist point of view.

The letter of Edward Atkinson, as he is, and is headed, "The Anti-imperialist," and is addressed to the members of the committee representing Interior from Nebraska.

Mr. Atkinson says that having been informed that Secretary Hitchcock has his minions and dupes of the Interior from Nebraska urging votes not to re-nominate, had been requested delivery, he thought he would use this occasion. He has resented his efforts to send through the mails to prominent officials in the Philippines the pamphlets refused by the postmaster at San Francisco upon ground that they were not in the form of a letter, for which the author of the above, he says, he "was threatened with prosecution for assault and military arrest of this city officer on my part to carry information to you, citizens and soldiers, which would inform you as to the work being done in the country to stop what we believe to be criminal aggression in the Philippine islands.

Mr. Atkinson adds that these are, also referred to the "The Cost of a National Crime," "The Rod of War and its Penalties," and "Central Aggression, by Which Congressmen are invoking to one of the questions are to the effect of the referendum and to side their views of the Philippines and upon the whole course of the surface in the Philippine islands, involving if possible, the question of the Senate's constitutional election (Benton), "which adverse to the position I have taken or assuming it."

WILLIAM WALDORF ASTOR.

Who has just renounced his allegiance to this country and become a naturalized Britisher. It would be surprised that Britons would be pleased at Mr. Astor's preference. With characteristic good sense in such matters, however, John Bull heedless the man without a country with severe sarcasm, making a pretty plea that Englishmen have as great contempt as Americans for one who voluntarily renounces New World democracy to become a soft Briton.

Claims of American Miners.

Washington, Aug. 11.—Sir Sidney Parkes, British minister, called at the state department today presenting the case of an American miner who was driven off of the Atlin mining district in British Columbia by the authorities, to protest against the action of the British government in the matter. Sir Sidney Parkes said he would take the case up with the Canadian government.

Troops Hurrying after Tagals.

Manila, Aug. 11.—At the end of war the Tagals are concentrating in the mountains of Northern Luzon, in spite of the efforts of the Americans to prevent their escape. The Tagals have fled into the forests and strong fortifications are erected in all the principal passes. The Tagals are scattered, so to speak, in a circle, and the Americans are hurrying after them. The Tagals are now in the mountains of Northern Luzon, and the Americans are hurrying after them. The Tagals are now in the mountains of Northern Luzon, and the Americans are hurrying after them. # TO SUPPRESS SMUGGLING.

Washington Authorities Will Stop it Out in the Philippines.

Advisability of Proclaiming a Blockade of Certain Ports, Discussed by Secy. Root and Alger.

New York, Aug. 12.—A special dispatch to the Herald from Washington says:

Serious consideration is being given by the authorities to the question of suppressing the illegal trade between the Filipino insurgents and the foreign trade, under their control and the outside world.

The situation is complicated, according to advices received from Iloilo, by the action of Aguinaldo in interfering traffic between the native insurgent forces and those of American forces. This consequently, the city, due, is an extension for his action, in refusal to permit to Manila to be opened for trading in the simple products of the Philippines.

Military officers say the entire establishment of Manila port for foreign trade, which is now in force, is due to the Spanish blockade, which they claim stop the trade between Manila and other ports in the Bay of Cavite, and a starving out of Manila.

The authorities are quite excited over the possibility of a general smuggling of Mauser and other rifles, which are expected to come in at a rate which will make the insurgent cause to be equal to a great deal of trouble. Rear Admiral Watson is corresponding with the army in order to prevent the smuggling of arms, and is a blockade to be more effective in the navy, and it is thought that the navy will be able to send out of the country of a French character will be taken. A blockade, in fact, because, it is said, the navy is not in a position to be more effective than the army
