Political Pointers.

Senator Frank J. Cannon was in the capital on business today.

Nephi Republican—The Democrats in Salt Lake don't seem to be as reporters as we.

Bingham Bulletin—It is safe to say that the women of Bingham who date not register (the list) and vote for Bryan and Sewall is not a big silver mark.

D. C. Dodge sends from Fort Omaha Sunday morning: He will go east immediately after the next few days to take part in the campaign for silver.

The Sunset Limited will meet in Salt Lake and tender a call for a Bryan notification reception to discuss campaign affairs.

Hon. W. H. King, of Salt Lake, will address the citizens of Alta and Evanston on the political issues of the day. At Alta Tuesday, August 25; at Evanston Wednesday, August 26.

Park Record—A strong McKinley man stepping from Ohio to a prominent Parnassus speaking in public vacation, said: "Well, I guess we are all right, we can't escape that the silver cause is growing in Ohio."

Joseph Bell Jr. formally announced himself today as a candidate for indorsement by the Democratic ticket. Mr. Bell is a resident of the Third precinct which he says will go to the convention fully strong.

Evening Post—Silver threes are on the gold. The silver streaks are coming so numerous that eastern gold bugs show signs of alarm. The silver streaks dissolve in convenient silence, preventive in the country before the close of the campaign.

Bingham Bulletin—There will be a strong discomfiture shown at the Salt Lake convention tomorrow to populists and populist men. Neither party will have a walk-away, and it stands both in least to see to it that they are not sandbagged by impossible candidates. The outcome ought to be signed set of county officers.

The McKinley satisfaction meeting at Ogden on Saturday night was well attended. Several of the speakers whose names were announced did not appear. Those who addressed the audience were Judge Bennett, Senator Brown and ex-Governor Thomas. Both by questions and conduct the meeting proved itself to be overwhelmingly for Bryan, Sewall and silver.

The Bingham Bulletin suggests Tom Kearns or C. E. Allen's successor in Congress and in support of the suggestion says: "Mr. Kearns was one of the St. Louis lottery, is a silver man of the strength, and his name would give much strength to the ticket." And it might be worth while, says an exchange, that if nominated he will be elected, for there is no man in the State more popular among her people than Tom Kearns.

Southern Cross—We still a protest from the Park Record, against the threatening campaign literature that some corporations are sending into the west. We will welcome all fair reasonable arguments in favor of the election of McKinley or the maintenance of the single gold standard, but the Western business house should not and, if we know them, will not deal with any company that attempts any such games.

Provo Enquirer Senator Dubois is doomed to defeat in Idaho, and it serves him right. By loyalty to his party, he could have been re-elected by a handsome majority, but his bolt at St. Louis has landed him in the soup. That unwise action on his part has repeatedly divided the Republicans of Idaho and insures a victory for the fusion ticket which was Friday nominated. Under the issues, the Democrats get the senate, the governor, justices of the supreme court, attorney-general, treasurer and mine inspector. The Populists get United States Senator, lieutenant-governor, secretary of state, auditor and superintendent of public instruction.

Eureka Democrat: The citizens of Silver City held a large and enthusiastic mass meeting on Thursday evening of last week and organized a Bryan Silver club. Hon. C. J. Penrose and Messrs. Wessler, Rosman and Mirbe addressed the meeting and their eloquent and patriotic remarks were received with hearty approval by all present. A Bryan Silver club with a membership of twenty-six, each pledged to contribute one dollar per month for the cause of bimetallism. The following officers were chosen: T. A. Walley, president; C. V. Wessler, vice president; Mrs. C. H. Hancock, treasurer; E. W. Rosman, secretary. It is confidently expected that the club will entreat every voter in the precinct before the campaign closes.

Miss Lily Snyder.

The announcement made in Last Saturday's News that Miss Lily Snyder would give a recital on her native evening at the First Presbyterian church was an error. The concert is under the auspices of the church and Miss Snyder has consented to give the entertainment. The balance of the program will be continued as Prof. Otto Hemsteen and Miss Emma Schoner, cornetist, the latter will also be present. The recital will be repeated in a proper manner.

A NEW WARD ORGANIZED.

A Correct Record of What Occurred During the Proceedings.

The annual conference of Sugar House ward occurred Sunday evening. There was a large audience in attendance and the usual interest was manifested. The declaration of principles promulgated by the general authorities of the Church last October was presented and adopted and the Forest Dale District was detached and formed into an independent ward with its own presiding officers. The proceedings were conducted by a sharp and happy hand who made the home of a very enjoyable and entertaining affair. In a morning paper, Briefly reproduce the account.

Bishop Driggs continued the services. The Stake presidency was in attendance and also the usual visiting authorities of the Sugar House ward. Elder W. W. Palmer made a few remarks explanatory of the purpose of the meeting and of the reading of the declaration of principles and certain amendments to constitutions had been raised against it and which were heard in a few through communications. During all of this time the attitude of the audience was that of quiet prevailed.

After the reading of the declaration of principles by Elder Joseph F. Taylor Bishop Driggs moved an amendment to Sugar House ward, whereupon one member arose to ask a question as to the meaning of the first paragraph. An apparently satisfactory explanation was then given by Elder Pearson, after which the question went to a vote with only one hand being raised in opposition to it.

President Cannon who was very ill having been seriously indisposed for more than a week, arose and referred to the state of his health and then moved that Apollos G. Driggs be continued as Bishop of Sugar House ward. When the contrary vote was called about a half dozen persons raised their hands in disapproval. One dissentient stated he didn't want to vote for Bishop Driggs, but did not like to the ward over which he was to preside. Elder Cannon explained that the vote was simply on the selection of a bishop for Sugar House ward and nothing else.

Daniel S. Harrington at this point interposed objections on the same ground to which Elder Cannon replied as before. Harrington contended that Elder Cannon had stated the question was to be considered and a new one organized. Elder Cannon responded that he had made no such statement and repeated that the only question before the meeting was whether Bishop Driggs should be continued as such.

Harrington persisted in the claim that Elder Cannon said the ward was to be divided. The latter once more entered an emphatic denial and added that the only thing said on the subject was an incidental reference to it by Elder Pearson, one of his counselors, that the question as necessary coming to by Mr. Harrington was no better the meeting to say shape and than a man of intelligence and information on points of order ought to understand that the only question to be considered was the one which would decide the Sugar House ward bishopric. But Harrington was not satisfied and a spirited colloquy ensued. It was brought to a sudden and unexpected termination by Constable Bee Harrington trying to the stand, turning towards Harrington and commanding that there be peace. A ripple of merriment passed over the congregation and order was practically restored when a young man objected to the selection of Bishop Driggs on personal grounds. Elder Cannon explained that all such offenses must be settled in accordance with regularly established court rules by the parties interested. Elder Cannon then explained that the question of residence was not before the meeting; rather that it make any difference; there were several bishops in the state, whom he named, who did not reside within the boundaries of the ward over which they presided. Actual residence was not necessary as an essential qualification to the validity of such office. As long as the man was properly ordained and accepted by the people, that was sufficient.

With the exceptions named, Elder Driggs was unanimously sustained as Bishop of the Sugar House ward. Then Elder Cannon invited all who resided in the district in Sugar House ward, which was to be organized, to signify the fact by rising, which they did. He then proposed that the ward be organized (describing its boundaries) with James Jack as Bishop. Both propositions were unanimously adopted. Elder Cannon then called Royal B. Young and James Hardy as his counselors and these were also unanimously sustained after having signified their willingness to serve. Bishop Driggs being his with the counselors, Royal B. Young, formerly his first, was called upon to name his counselors and nominated Joseph W. Taylor as first and M. S. Alwood as second counselor. These were, like the others, unanimously sustained.

Bishop Driggs at the close of the meeting made a few remarks in which he expressed the hope that he had hurt the feelings of no one, but had endeavored to please all and taken pleasure in the meeting. He invoked the blessing of peace and quiet on the congregation, after which Elder Joseph F. Taylor pronounced the benediction and the meeting came to an end.

Musicale to Teachers.

PAYSON, Utah, Aug. 22, 1896.—The musicale given by the Utah county teachers, under the direction of Prof. Fred J. McClellan Jr. last Thursday evening, was a success in every way. The appearance of our gifted young fellow-citizen, Thomas McCarthy of Salt Lake City, brought out the seven hundred people—the entire audience ever assembled at a place in this city—and over 150 more from the seating capacity of the opera house. It was a rare entertainment and the efforts of the performers were rewarded with deserved applause. The stage was beautifully decorated with palms, potted plants, flowers and foliage.

At 8:30 the Brothers Cyril Brothers mandolin opened the concert with a fine number rendered in wonderful. Mrs. Edwards followed with a charming selection, which showed the wonderful resources of her voice and her adaptability to pleasing and expressive song. Miss Lucie Gates of Provo next followed with McDermid's Lost Hope, which the young lady played in art look out, which is remarkable for a person of her age. A trio trio, Slumber Song (Rinkers) sung by Josie Allen Hurst and Thomas and Miss Mae Gleason proved to be one of the choicest numbers of the evening. The singing of the trio of young men is lively. Mr. Edwards next captivated the whole house with Don Vino (Il solar) and was compelled to respond to a rousing encore. Other songs were rendered by her artistic talent, especially the Absence (Words by William Dole, music by J. J. Mc Dermid of Salt Lake) the concertina sung with her wonted heart and throw all the pathos and free charming into the Utah song, which is necessary to achieve performance. Mr. Hay by request sang a royal welcome here at any time. Mr. George H. Dunn played a very pretty solo in good style. Miss Josie Allen Hurst by special request sang a tender song to very tedious way.

Payson Globe: Chas. Grenfield, a Tyrol-old man, while passing around some bunks down at the mouth of Ora Simon Wednesday evening, received a very bad kick from one of the animals. The horse's hoof struck the boy squarely on the point of the chin knocking him a complete somersault. It appears, from what we have learned concerning the affair, that Elmer, Ballard and Jim Potter were driving home and the horse became tangly and Ballard and Potter got out to hold the team whereupon Elmer jumped out and began to clean them with a knife. Ballard, in attempting to ward off a thrust, received a bad cut in the hand, the gash extending down the wrist across the ball of the thumb. TRACKS AND BARRETS.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Aug. 24.—Stock market opened lower with the sentiment substantially sold based on the expected news of Bryan's silver nomination and received a further downward impetus.

The volume of business was extremely light at first and experienced fluctuations, the most important being in sugar.

Speculative interest was exercised in operations about 10 o'clock which resulted in general recovery and a moderate higher plane of values.

The afternoon was marked about noon on sales to take profits on which Manhattan rallied 1½ and other leaders proportionately. Some stocks, after a fractional change, closed with a net gain of 1 to 2 points, the general tone being quite firm.

Opening prices were nearly all gained.

TURNING GRAY AND THEREFORE
WITH BALDNESS
The Danger is Averted by Using
AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

"Nearly fifty years ago, after some weeks of sickness, my hair turned gray and began falling out so rapidly that I was threatened with immediate baldness. Having Ayer's Hair Vigor highly spoken of, I commenced using this preparation, and was so well satisfied with the result that I never tried any other kind of dressing. It stopped the hair from falling out, stimulated a new growth of hair, and kept the scalp free from dandruff. Only on occasional application is now necessary to keep my hair of good, natural color. I never hesitate to recommend any of Ayer's medicines to my friends."—Mrs. H. M. Hunter, Avoca, Neb.

Gladness Comes
With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many painful ailments which result from the old-fashioned efforts—quantity efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not caused by any actual disease, but simply by a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, gently removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all responsible druggists.
If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If affected with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.
