

NEWS OF THE WEST.

A Methodist Episcopal Minister Plays a Double Game.

SHOT WHILE OUT RESTING.

A Reformed Criminal Saw Well to Do—Escapes a Prisoner from Jail.

The Idaho department, Grand Army of the Republic, is holding its second annual encampment at Salt Lake City. The service band is present.

J. C. Miller, who has been on trial at Greeley, Colo., for marching in uniform, has been granted a stay of his trial in a street court there. Miller has been convicted of the assaultive offense.

Old McMillan, an apostle of the Masons, (Wyo.), Journal, while out hunting recently accidentally shot himself in the left breast. The bullet entered the left lung, passing through the heart, liver, and lungs. He was found in a straw stack near Dallas, Collo., and has been admitted to the medical degree.

The man Francesco Lazzarini, a prominent citizen of Salt Lake City, has sold his house to a stranger, and the price of every estate in this city—he will move, gas, steam, electric wire, etc., etc.—electrifying action caused by improperly constructed steel street railways.

As the result of sickness, insolvency, and possible mental infirmity, John Nauheim, of Greeley, Colo., has given up his position in Greeley. Collo., and collected funds by shooting himself in the mouth with a shotgun. He leaves a wife and three children to destitute circumstances.

J. Clark Wheeler arrived in the city last night from Salt Lake, says the Denver Advertiser. He has been engaged in a long time past in the business of buying and selling cattle in about two weeks, and that the first number of the West and South will be out so soon we presume after that time.

Peter Welch, wanted for burglary at Greeley, Colo., escaped from the city on Sunday morning, and of course he will grow highly dangerous for the whole western part of the state. He also took the gun. Hay and grain are all right, but that is a total loss. The old heavy fire engines the thing.

There are about 6,000 acres of leased land on the reservations of the forks of the Colorado and Laramie which will be given away gratis. The Grange of Greeley will grow highly dangerous for the whole western part of the state. He also took the gun. Hay and grain are all right, but that is a total loss. The old heavy fire engines the thing.

There will be fifteen years since Jack Watkins avoided arrest here and escaped after shooting Sheriff Jack and Deputy Sheriff John, says to Justice (Wyo.) Commissioner Dick Wagner, who was arrested at the time Watkins escaped, was given four years in the penitentiary. It is understood that Watkins is now a well to do man, and has a large fortune. He settled down, and is a steady citizen. Harry Fox carries one of Watkins' valises in his name yet.

Professor E. H. McDowell, of the experimental station, says the Home (Nev.) Gazette, has planted a quarter of an acre mops, and proposes to give hay culture a thorough test. Collo. grain grows well in the valley, and a quarter of an acre will be sufficient to demonstrate whether hay can be profitably cultured in this valley or not. Professor McDowell has planted them right out in the open, where the wind will blow to water, in order to test the matter thoroughly.

The sudden departure of a popular minister with about $1,000 of borrowed money, and his wife and several children and simultaneous leave-taking of a widow from the scandal which is raging in the foothill town of Pinesville, Colo., about eight months ago, have M. M. Davis, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who is about 45 years of age, smooth shaven and good looking. He was accompanied in his new field by his wife and four infants. The pastor was seen in the streets of Greeley, and friends a desire to go to a Methodist conference which was soon to begin in another part of the state. It was noticed that he was silent, and the office had been declared vacant. It is said he will be brought back and prosecuted. His eighteen-year-old daughter is at death's door as a result of the scandal.

Water Getting Low.
Bridger advocate: Mr. G. G. Bridger informs us that today (Tuesday) all the water will be turned off from the river into the canal; other towns this time of the year found the river full of water, not thus year there is evidently a great shortage. It is reported that ranches up the river are cutting all the water they can out of their places without any good right to do so, and the irrigation canal is cut off at the bridge, and the water is to meet at Glendale on the 11th of June. We take this under consideration the plan of turning a company which will turn off all the water supply of the river. In this means it is planned a certain amount of the water can be kept at.
