THE DISTRICT COURT.

Two Boys, Indicted for Burglary, Skip Out and Defeat Justice.

THEY'RE SEARCHED FOR IN VAIN.

Legal Arguments in an Injunction Suit —Short Orders This Morning.

A special venire for sixteen jurors was issued by Judge Merrit on Saturday afternoon, returnable this morning, to try the criminal case in which two boys, aged about sixteen years, named Fred Spencer and Dave Hughes, were charged with burglary at Dean's general store, at the corner of Eighth East and First South streets, on January 20th. Wm. Waterpulo, a companion of the defendants in the affair, had pleaded guilty last week and was sentenced to the Reform school.

When the case was called for trial Jerry Cotton, United States District Attorney, pro tem., informed the court that the prosecutor—who was not on hands, this morn—had prevaricated sadly, as they were not now to be found.

Attorney Goodwin, who had been retained for the defense, said he had proved that Spencer had informed witnesses that he and Hughes were going on a short fishing excursion and they had not been seen since by their parents. Mr. Hughes sent an elder son of his to Provo to try and find them, thinking they might be with the industrial army there, but no trace of them had been obtained. It was believed that the boys were the victims of some person older than themselves, and that they had been induced away from home.

The court made no order at present as to the disposition of the bonds accepted for the release of a bench warrant for the boys' arrest.

THE ARGUMENTS.

The legal arguments in the mining injunction case, A. Geoghegan vs H. Dickerson, the hearing of which began Saturday morning, and already reported in these columns, commenced immediately after the disposal of certain routine matters, and occupied the balance of the forenoon. C. C. Richards appeared for the plaintiff and C. H. Varian for the defendant.

GENERAL.

John C. Devine vs Hosanna M. Wells et al. The cross-complaint in this case was dismissed as to the defendant Houghton only. Judgment for the plaintiff for $11,594.44 and $500 attorney's fee. Judgment for defendant Gregg on cross-complaint for $1,197, and $75 attorney's fee.

Walter D. Reed vs William Dunn et al. Motion to strike out answer of defendant Stanley and have judgment entered on the pleadings sustained. Exception.

A. A. Jones et al vs Joseph S. Grow et al. Leave was given to file supplemental complaint.

D. A. & M. SOCIETY.

Important Meeting of Directors—Membership and Finance.

The directors of the Deseret Agricultural and Manufacturing society met at the society's rooms in the Constitutional building Saturday, the 12th, at noon. President John R. Winder held the gavel and the directors present were Messrs. Peters, Sears, Bamberger, Cragun, Hatch, Empey, Simon, Melville, Willey and Secretary Pyper.

The chairman announced the standing committees appointed by him as follows:

Executive and Buildings—Bamberger, Jennings, Simon, Sears, Empey.

Premiums and Exhibits—Peters, Empey, Willey, Bamberger, Melville.

Finance—Jennings, Cragun, Peters, Sears, Holdaway.

Printing, Advertising and Transportation—Sears, Holdaway, Simon, Willey, Cragun.

The secretary stated that he had enrolled into the list of his members of the society since the last meeting, and there were dead. A list of the living ones was read as follows: Wilford Woodruff, Romney Ballantyne, R. T. Burton, O. H. Bailey, J. M. Benedict, Mrs. Arthur Brown, William Barber, George W. Bryan, John T. Caine, H. S. Clawson, William Calder, Charles Cooper, Henry Dinwoodey, A. E. Douglas, T. W. Ellerbeck, D. H. Eldridge, H. J. Faust, G. L. Farrell, Aaron F. Farr, Lorin Farr, Isaac Goodwin, Daniel Graves, H. J. Grant, F. A. Hammond, W. S. Hosey, L. G. Hardy, Joseph Harker, T. R. Jones, Mrs. Priscilla Jennings, David James, Thomas W. Jennings, Theodore Lewis, T. A. Hickman, J. D. T. McAllister, George Middle, A. F. McDonald, W. S. Miner, A. M. Musser, Mrs. W. C. Morris, J. Martin, H. P. Mason, H. Pembroke, A. H. Raleigh, W. C. Rysdale, Samuel Roberts, George Romney, John Robbins, E. F. Sheets, Spencer Smith, J. Squires, A. O. Smoot, Cleaty Stokes, J. Way, J. S. Rich, H. A. Woolley, Fred Simon, Charles Twelves, Joseph S. Taylor, William Young, J. R. Winder, G. W. Ward, S. Warner, Thomas Weight, Thomas Weight Jr., George H. Wallace, John H. Wolfe, Brigham Young, John W. Young. Many of these gentlemen had been members for more than forty years.

On motion of M. Simon it was agreed to furnish each one of these members with fresh certificates of membership and the printing committee was authorized to have the necessary lithographs prepared.

The Utah World's Fair committee met in a communication advising the board that in pursuance of an act passed by the last legislature the commission has decided to turn over to the D. A. & M. society thirteen large show cases, together with all the cases, show tables, etc., used in the agricultural exhibit at Chicago. The property was valued at about $2,000 and the commission requires that the society pay one of $100 to pay the expenses of caring for the property.

On motion of Mr. Bamberger the offer was accepted with many thanks, and a committee of three, consisting of Messrs. Simon, Empey and Sears, was appointed to solicit the necessary cases.

A financial statement rendered by the secretary showed the society was about even on May 1, 1894, and the appropriation of the last legislature, recently, $1,000, was ready to be paid on warrants on the order of the board of museum. This amount was to pay the expenses of two years and a deficiency for the past. On motion, the secretary was authorized to draw warrants from the auditor for the whole sum of the appropriation.

Numerous inquiries from prospective exhibitors were referred to the committee on premiums.

The chairman stated that he had formulated the letter recently published in the daily papers in relation to a live stock exhibit and the secretary had received many replies from societies, some in favor of the live stock department and some against it. Many of those thought the stock had received such a set back that it would be useless to attempt to show them. Others thought the live stock show was the chief attraction of the Fair.

Those opposed, or not inclined to show, were J. F. Freeze, Walter Templeton, W. F. Brown, L. G. Hardy, A. L. Burnham, W. O. Creer, William R. Preston, R. T. Burton, while those in favor of the show were J. W. Sanborn, Thomas Matthews, White & Sons, Reed Smoot, J. McCoy, J. H. Truman & Sons, H. H. Rolfe, J. T. Alexander, E. D. Parsons, J. E. Mecray, Heber Bennion, F. H. Hansen, Samuel Bateman, E. E. Ellison, Geo. Brimley, John Haggard.

The matter was earnestly discussed, the prominent feeling being in favor of an attempt to get the stock men to exhibit, and some directors seeking ballots for the whole fair should the show show be omitted. Finally, upon being put to a vote, the directors declared in favor of the stock exhibit, cut down the premiums due in that department, and referred the same to the premium committee.

The annual membership fee was fixed at $1. This was $2 in 1892.

The president announced that he would immediately appoint the superintendents, the delay in that regard being caused by the uncertainty of a live stock show.

A petition for the ninety-year-old privilege was laid on the table for the present, the board considering it too early to discuss sale of privileges.

On motion of Mr. Peters the president and secretary were authorized to formulate an address to the citizens of Utah calling for their sympathy in this movement and especially urging the offer of special premiums and the purchase of life memberships.

A cut of 20 per cent was made in the secretary and janitor, and of 15 per cent in the per diem and mileage of the directors. This was done to be in line with the directors' announced policy of economy.

On motion George D. Pyper was elected secretary of the society. This action was partially considered at the last meeting and finally postponed until this meeting of the board.

Adjourned subject to the call of the president.

CHASED DOWN AND CAUGHT.

A Detective Indictment Didn't Give Jennings His Freedom.

A Stalwart Face Which Deputy Marshal Tanner and a Fast Team Quickly Showed Him.

Special Dispatch to the NEWS.

BEAVER, Utah, May 14.—On Saturday afternoon Jennings, indicted for obtaining money under false pretenses, suddenly and mysteriously disappeared. His attorneys had previously succeeded in having the demurrer to the indictment sustained. The case was immediately resubmitted to the grand jury, which subsequently found a new indictment, but while this was going on Jennings was also going on. As soon as the indictment was found and the warrant issued, Deputy Marshal Tanner realized the situation, and started with a fast team for the fugitive, rightly surmising he would make a break for his ranch near Meadow Creek, Millard county.

Jennings had an hour and a half the start, but Tanner beat him in the race, and was waiting to ambush till Jennings entered the house.

The deputy returned with his prisoner yesterday. The latter claims he had no intention of escaping, and says his attorneys misled him.

The long-winded water case of Biddle vs Beaver is not yet concluded. When it is over, criminal business will be resumed and pushed with lengthened hours. The court and everybody else are evidently getting tired at the sluggish manner in which business is being dispatched.

Notice to Attorneys.

Judge Merrit announced this morning that the equity settings made for tomorrow would come up on Wednesday instead, and all other cases will be carried a day beyond the dates previously named.

Salt Lake County Democrats.

Chairman Grow, of the Salt Lake County Democratic committee, is about to issue a call for a convention to be held in this city on June 2nd, for the purpose of electing delegates to the Territorial convention to be held at the Salt Lake Theater on June 16th, electing a new county committee and attending to other business.

Sale of City Bonds.

Regarding the sale of city bonds Mayor Baskin stated to a NEWS reporter this afternoon that he was of the opinion that they would be disposed of to good advantage within the next few days or at any rate at a period not far distant. Promising negotiations were, he said, now on.

OGDEN.

Ogden, Utah, May 14, 1894.

A Big Excursion.

On Saturday evening last an excursion of 200 Cowlitzites accompanied by about 100 tourists passed through Ogden city en route to Lincoln city, Oregon, where they will attend the general assembly of the Presbyterian church commencing May 17th. At 10 o'clock, a special train was made up and the excursionists made the run down to Salt Lake, where they spent Sunday in sight seeing. Rev. H. G. Hodge, secretary of the Cumberland Presbyterian board of extension, in conversation with a NEWS representative said: "The party seemed very much delighted with your city and greatly appreciated the beautiful scenery of Utah after crossing over some sixty miles of Wyoming. We will this evening make a run to Salt Lake and expect that a few members of the assembly will accompany a car of stock to the Mormon Tabernacle tomorrow."

The entire party were bent on hearing the Tabernacle choir and seeing the large organ.

The excursion on its return from Salt Lake arrived in Ogden at 1 p.m. and continued their journey on towards Oregon. This party is but a portion of the number of delegates who will be in attendance at the general assembly.
