BIG WEEK IN THE PIT.

Trading in Mining Stocks Unusually Active on the Exchange.

TODAY'S CALL BROUGHT OUT GOOD SALES

Jack Edwards on Mining in Wyoming—Outlook for Stockton—Monday a Day of Dividends.

This has been a busy week on the stock exchange. The brokers seemed to realize that Conference time had come and right well did they make advantage of the opportunity to show themselves. The result is that a record has been made to be proud of, and still the market is full to overflowing with good stocks ready to change hands at figures commensurate with their respective values.

Saturday was an equally busy day in the pit, and before 10 o'clock nearly 10,000 shares had changed hands. Dairy was the first to break the ice in one of the six, so to speak, and sold at 62½ cents, with the stock wanted at 62 when the caller's gavel took the brokers to another. Geyser-Marion was only fairly stationary but a sale was made at 46 cents, after which Gloucester took part in the trading, the stock going at 36 and it took Mammoth hold its own in good shape and did business at 32, while Mercur was quite firm in the bidding and Ontario remained with offers at 52 cents. Grand and Bullion were strong but neither, despite good bids, was able to negotiate a single transfer.

The silliest silver was hoofed by South Swansea which sold at $1.24 and $1.24½, Chloride Point found a taker at a dollar, while Overland came out with transfers at $1.35 and $1.36, around which figures the stock was in good demand. Dexter changed firm and made sales at $2 and a little above, while Little Pittsburg handled out shares at 2½ and 2¾ cents, the latter being followed by Golden Eagle, which exhibited an active tendency and threw down lots shares at 3 cents a share. Young America was dead in an 11½ cents, and when the call closed the market was firm, there being very few weak stocks on the board.

The closing figures were as follows:

JACK EDWARDS ON MINING.

Talks of the Four-Mile Placers and the Grand Encampment District.

Jack Edwards, the millionaire sheep and mining man of Rock Springs, Wyo., is in the city. Mr. Edwards is interested in mines all over this inter-mountain country. He reports a crowded summer at his Four-mile placers, Hinsdale county, Colorado. The placers of the Big Hole country, Wyoming, he says, are turning out grandly and the cleanup at the various camps will reach many thousands of dollars. A short time ago he was in the Baker's Park country in Northwestern Colorado, where he has several the pioneer claims. He reports that a great deal of prospecting is going on to discover the mother lode, from which all the placer gold that is scattered over the country must come. He is expending a considerable amount of money in this direction, and is opening a tunnel in Baker's Park past the spot where the schoolgirl Dorman first washed her gold after discovering the nugget which perpetuates her name. He, little wonder is being done on the big placers of the Park, trying to track to its lair the hoofed water to the placers. Mr. Edwards predicts a bright future for the out of the way mining camp.

While about Rock Springs, Wyo., he has taken a great interest in the development of the Blazer Gold-Copper mine, in Wyoming, Mr. Edwards and his family visited the property for some fifty miles in the Medicine and vicinity. He examined the country carefully and was much pleased with it there. He said it was a fine prospective. Some traces of copper are very apparent, said he, but the free gold we saw already gave bad failure to indicate anything of value. What the future of the mine would be he could not say but he said it was one that is a close time it would be abandoned. In speaking of Wyoming as a mining state he said it is to be regretted that for some years to come it would be among the flocks of coal and miners, the Prospecting in the state was very unsatisfactorily carried on, and a great deal of the country had never seen a prospector.

Mr. Edwards is well known in Salt Lake mining and business circles. He will remain in the city for some time.

OUTLOOK FOR STOCKTON.

Sinking of the Reservoir Will Make Matters Quite Lively.

The Highland Boy Mining Co., of Stockton, has moved a mill to the Honerine mine at Stockton, and have erected one at work expecting the machine will be ready for work in a few days. In the Honerine compartment shaft down below the water level. The company will work there in the mine the coming up, which will have the effect of making it another a little livelier than it has been for some time, although at one time there was one of the busiest camps in the country. The Honerine mine was one of the heavy producers for the Stockton district. It is reported on from its length by it lost in which water was continuous from the surface down to the 300 level, which is the water level in that vicinity.

The Hercules has been about done about to have, but work is again resumed by Manager E. F. Mitchell, and two shifts are now employed. As the mood on the property will soon matter, it is thought the resumption of work is a forerunner of an intention to keep up the work.

J. F. Mitchener and others who are interested in the Honerine shipped 12 tons of ore from one of the ledges of the Honerine last week. A few days ago the ledge in question was found to be quite rich and present indications are that monthly shipments will be made hereafter.

The Centers have been at work in the main tunnel of the Argent, and are now a hundred feet before the shaft is being run to tap the vein.

In the Mono, two shifts are employed in the drift, which should cut the vein within the next 10 feet.—Mercur Mercury.

Monday a Day of Dividends.

Monday is a day of dividends. First of all the Silver King will pay one-fifth regular monthly—of $37,500, and the Mammoth will distribute among its stockholders the sum of $5,000. At the same time it is expected that the Mammoth company will increase its current dividend of $3,000 and that the Bullion-Beck will pay one of $12,000, these to be paid a little later on. On the 15th inst. Grand Central will make a dividend of $21,250, and before the month closes other properties will unloose their dividends, the total thus making a magnificent record for the month, and one that Utah mining may justly be proud of.

TRAPPER GOOD BONDER.

Gold Mountain Mine to be Handled by Newth, Ross and Smith.

Edward Newhart, of Kamosh, was among the visitors to the county seat Tuesday, says the Milford Progress. He stated that M. M. Ross and himself had bonded their Gold Mountain property, the Trapper group, at Gold Mountain, to J. A. Ross and George A. Smith, of this county, for $10,000 in all, the payment, $500 in hand December 15, and the balance due a year hence. These lessees have driven a tunnel 60 feet, and have cut a vein of ore which for ten of the vein averages three ounces in silver and $4.61 in gold to the ton. Negotiations are being made to sell the property will be placed all this ten.

Mr. Newhart also reports that Parker, Walts and Dorrie are still pushing work on the Adelaide group in that district. They are looks better as they go down, and they believe they have a bonanza.

Work is also being pushed on the Major mine, which is owned by Jake Miller and Johnny Jakes, of Kanosh. They have commenced a tunnel to tap the main ledge at a depth of 100 feet, which they hope will expose big bodies of ores.

The Mammoth Rich Strike.

Superintendent Earle is placing the old reliable Mammoth in the front rank of the Utah producers, and its days of dividend paying are being projected into the indefinite future. For a long time Mr. Earle has believed in the existence of a rich ore body on the 600 level, and on last Tuesday his belief was justified by the uncovering of one of the richest strikes in the recent history of the mine. A body of high grade copper was first cut into, which will run to per cent in that metal. This was found to be in the footwall of a big vein of quartz that assays from 40 to 50 ounces of silver and 2 ounces of the yellow metal. The extent of this strike is not yet determined, the vein having been cut a distance of ten feet at this time. Truly, "Great is Tintic."—Tintic Miner.

DIPS AND SPURS.

Silver King sold 43,750.

Arthur Hickles is now superintendent of the Sunbeam.

The Horn Silver directors are expected back from the mine this evening.

Two feet inches of ore are reported in the Harry Harrison mine at Fish Springs.

Shipments from Tintic during the week amounted to 79 cars of ore, 6 cars of concentrates and 1 car of bullion.

Harry Joseph went to Fish Springs this morning, his purpose being to examine the recent strike in the Gidiona.

Since the closing of the Golden Gate refinery in August last, it is estimated that close to $100,000 worth of gold bars have accumulated.

Tooele Transcript: The Hecla mine started last Monday and it is now as warm in Stockton that had to send to Rhyolite for hands.

A strong company, it is said, is being formed for the development of the St. Paul group of claims in Camp Gardfield, in which there is said to be a 22-inch vein running as high as 14 a ton.

The output of the Republic mine, in Republic camp, for September was 2,000 tons milled, which produced 1,000 ounces gold and 143 tons shipped, which yielded net above all expenses $3,000.

Lower Taylor of Mish came into the city this morning. Mr. Taylor is interested with Ed Lount in the Big Chief copper mine in the La Sal mountains. He reports that things are booming in the La Sal country.

A good strike is reported in the Silver King mine at Brooklyn. The vein is now carrying ten inches in which assays as much as 25 per cent lead, the mine also carrying $12 in gold to the ton. This was discovered in a drift of the 300-foot level.

The second payment of $1,000 on the Big Indian copper mine was made by Messrs. Taylor and Lount. The property will now lay about 1,000 feet of tunnel, and there is an immediate shipping of ore running from 5 to 60 per cent copper.

Ogden Standard: H. C. Baker returned from Brigham City Monday, where he has been on a tour of inspection of the property of the Consolidated Mining company, and especially of the Dutch mine. He reports the work progressing finely and says that work at the erection of the new mill will begin with the coming of spring.

Tooele Transcript: The Ophir left port bears its own record for the month of September. Over fifteen hundred tons of concentrates was shipped from the mill for that month, the net of M. Dalton paid out over two thousand dollars to the immediate shareholders for September's banking. It is the best month showing work the mill started years ago.

The Utah Gilsonite company has filed articles of incorporation with John C. Kleiter, William Budding and J. W. Pine, all of Colorado, the incorporators. The company is capitalized at $500,000 divided into shares of $1 each, and its business is the buying, selling, working, leasing and development of any and all kinds of mineral deposits, particularly gilsonite claims.

Eureka Democrat: Assays have just been made from the ledge encountered a few months ago in the War Eagle in West Tintic, which shows as high as 175 ounces silver, 15 per cent copper and $1 in gold. The ore body is quite extensive and is located on the 300-level. Robert Patterson is arranging to resume work on the property in a few days.

GOOD WORK WELL DONE

The Third National Encampment Ends in a Great Blaze of Glory.

PRIZE WINNERS HAVE A CONCERT.

Big Musical Festival and Competition in Now a Pleasant Memory—Dr. Parry's Lecture Concert.

The third national Encampment is ended and it will go into history last night in one magnificent blaze of glory.

Several thousand people gathered in the big Tabernacle and listened to a concert made up of numbers by prize winners and some who have taken part in the great festival since its commencement on the afternoon of Wednesday last.

Dr. Parry, one of the most noted musical authorities in the world, was very strongly endorsed as the guiding hand in the ceremonies that ended the great musical feast. The Eisteddfod is now a very pleasant memory, which causes the people to wait in expectancy for the next fest.

The participants in last night's concert, under the Tabernacle choir, Salt Lake, were Messrs. Mrs. Woodward, H. B. Dixon, Madame Gerritsen's pupils, Miss Lizzie Thomas Edward and Mrs. Lizzie Thomas Edward and Dr. F. Mosbis. To praise the work of these artists would be superfluous here—the name alone is a sufficient guarantee of the highest excellence.

Tonight Dr. Parry will give a lecture viewed in the Tabernacle, assisted by some of the musical talent which had already delighted the people.

The lecture is highly entertaining and instructive, and the illustrations from the works of the great masters offer a rare, rich treat. The lecture will be divided as follows: (1) Biographical sketch of three Greek. (2) Rhythm and characteristics.

Mozart—His remarkable genius, his life and some of his works, with illustrations by first class local talent, vocal and piano.

Beethoven—The world's greatest song composer, his genius, his last chamber-music, with appropriate selections.

Beethoven—The musical Shakespeare and the world's greatest tone poet; his symphony and his life.

Schumann and the modern romantic school—His genius, style and and works, with appropriate selections.

Chopin (the Polish national composer)—The world's greatest pianoforte artist, his tone poems, etc., etc.; with appropriate selections.

During the course of the evening Dr. Parry will sing several of his best compositions, which will serve to 25 cents.

The Emery county chorus will remain over in the city until Monday and will furnish the music at numerous morning services in the Tabernacle. The Emery enterprise is coming here in highly commendable.

Without doubt the officers and members of the Cumberland association have are deserving of great praise for the successful promotion of the top festival. The officers of the Eisteddfod and the Eisteddfod have always been indefatigable in their efforts and have surely allowed themselves time to eat or sleep since the opening day. Too much cannot be said for them.

Musical Notes.

The juvenile choirs, central, north side and south side, will all join together to sing at the Sunday School Union at the Tabernacle at 7 o'clock tomorrow night. Let the children be early on hand.

The Emery Stake choir, who competed at the Eisteddfod, will furnish the music at the Tabernacle tomorrow morning. Though not a winner, this choir deserves great credit for its coming to the Eisteddfod, and under the most adverse circumstances, they and their leader have accomplished wonders.

This is the program for Dr. Parry's lecture concert tonight:

1. Organ solo ... Prof. J. J. Daynes
2. Song, My Friends of Old ... Parry
3. Male chorus, Welsh (the composer)
4. Solo, Ode to Beauty ... Dr. Parry
5. Male chorus, The Sound of War ... Beethoven

Big Sale of Sheep.

Jack Edwards is closing out most of his sheep business in Wyoming and northern Colorado though yet retaining many of his ranches and ranges in the neighborhood of Rock Springs. For some years Mr. Edwards has been in collusion with the sentiment of northern Carbon county, Wyo., and northwestern Rioto county, Colorado. These disturbances have at times reached intimate circumstances. Here the death of his daughter Hilda, Mr. Edwards has determined to produce peace if money could be his mining criterion. With this end in view he disposed of 47,000 head of sheep which he had on his ranches in that portion of the country.
