Petty Larceny.—Yesterday afternoon Matthew Casey, one of 'the burglars arrested on Sunday morning, had a trial before Justice Pyper on a charge of petty larceny, in stealing a Winchester rifle from H. E. Phelps. A verdict of guilty was given, and Casey was fined $100, in default of the payment of which he will work on the gravel beds for 100 days.

Another Burglary.—This morning, about 6 o'clock, the D. & R. G. W. staloop at Pierre Markey and the Saints must go to the

Out of Jail. - Last night three of the soldiers engaged in the disturbance on Second South Street, on Thursday last, were released from the city jail, their floes having been paid. Those liberated were Meyer, Guiney and McNamara. Walsh, the leader who attempted to "run the town," was left to serve out his fine.

A Successful Trip.—Brother Joseph Bull returned night before last from a very successful business trip to the east in the interest of the DESERRY News. During his absence he visited Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Pittsburg, Philadelphia, Baltimore, New York, Boston, and other principal business centres, and also spent one day in Washington, where he had a chance of observing the extreme animosity entertained by many Congressmen for the Latter-day Saints, as well as the noble efforts which are being made by Utah's delegate to stem the tide of opposition to the interests of his constituents, which appears just now to be overwhelming. His trip has extended over a period of seven weeks, and he is glad to be home once more. While absent he purchased for this office one of the best two-revolu-tion book presses, possessing all the latest improvements, which will be a valuable acquisition to the machinery of what is already one of the most complete as well as the oldest printing establishments of this western region. FIFTY-SIXTH ANNUAL CON-FERENCE. SECOND DAY.

MORNING SESSION. April 5th. The choir sang: The time is nigh, that happy time,

That long expected blessed day, When countless thousands of our race Shail dwell with Christ and Him obey Prayer by Apostle John W. Taylor. Sing to the great Jehovah's praise, All praise to Him belongs. Was sung by the choir.

ELDER JOHN NICHOLSON

Was the first speaker. He alluded to each other and all their fellow prisoners. He showed at some length—by relating illustrative circumstances of he past and present-how the existthe past and present—now the existing situation was largely a repetion of what had occurred in past ages. The position of the Saints was clearly defined. The ground upon which they stood was not debatable. They must adhere to the principles of their faith, and maintain human freedom. He spoke for some time upon the suffering which resulted from the present controversy, which was carried on by the aggressors with mercilessness bordering upon barbarity. The hard-ships it entailed upon many innocent peopte were far-reaching. That brought upon those thrown into conspicuous view, such as the brethren thrown into view, such as the brethren thrown into prison, constituted but a fragment of it. Many hearts were pained and torn beyond description, and he wondered sometimes how it was that men could oe found who could deliberately legis-

The Governor has issued commissions to the following; R. C. Lund, Mayor, Horatio Pickett and Joseph C. Bentley, Aldermen, St. George; Aaron Farr, Jr., Mayor, James Z. Stewart, Thomas Irvine, Christlan Larson, Thomas Morgan and Joseph Morrell, Aldermen, Logan City.

The speaker touched apon the interior in the light period that had been thus far displayed by the women of the Church. It was worthy of all commendation. He advised his hear-ser, when they found sisters who were suffering la toomparative sollitude, to pour into their minds the balm of sympathy and appreciation, as they should not be made to feel as it the cold shoulder of neglect had been thus far displayed by the trials through which in the chart of neglect had been thus far displayed by the women of the Church. an important issue. The ends of the present struggle are not to be gained by a giving up of life—although it should not be withheld should necessity demand. They are to be attained by a patient, patriotic, determined meeting of obstacles, and making self-denying sacrifices in life for the cause of truth. Occasionally for the cause of truth. Occasionally weak people adopt the heroic method by throwing their lives in the balance by a resort to arms, and they are de-stroyed. History has exhibited this method of dealing with conflicting questions. The feelings in the hearts of not a few of our young people are not what they should be. Perimps this result has been produced by dereliction of duty on the part of parents. One of the principal sentiments that should be deeply imbedded in the minds of the young is a sacred regard for chastity. Moral purity should in this community be esteemed as more to be prized than life. There are some members of the community who have become tainted with the evils which are dragging the world down upon the road to destruc-tion. The necessity of keeping all the plain commands of God should be duly considered. There should be a strict regard for truth, falsehood being no part of the characteristics of a fol-lower of Christ. But a sin of that de-scription is more susceptible of cor-rection than a breach of the laws of purity. No person who breaks his covenants by unchaste conduct can ever recover his original condi-tion. Those who fall by the commission of such an offense can never fully wipe out the foul blot. It is a crime against which the flat of Jehovah has been hurled. Adulces. All the young should be deeply impressed with the necessity for the preservation of personal purity. That crime, from the standpoint of a Latter-day Saint, stands next to the shedding of innocent blood. The murderer has not eternal life abiding in him. The youth should be careful in relation to the taking of life. This does not refer to one who slays the defiler of his wife, daughter or sister. If any people on earth have exhibited charity to the human family, it has been the Latter-day Saints. They have traveled on land and sea to do good to others. This has been done while they have been trampled upon, abused, maitreated in every shape. This reception tendered to them has not manched the desire in their bearts.

traveled on land and sea to do good to others. This has been done while they have been trampled upon, abused, maitreated in every shape. This reception tendered to them has not quenched the desire in their hearts to do good to the people of the earth. So great has been the exhibition of this spirit that they have been driven five times from their homes. Yet never has a people shown less of a spirit of retaliation. The patience of the Saints has been tried to an extrapordinary degree of late. The privacy of their home circles has been rathlessly and brutally invaded. Tender women and children have been insulted, and sufferings have been heaped upon insufferings have been heaped upon nocent people. The enemies of sufferings have been heaped upon innocent people. do them good if it should be within our power. The speaker concluded by an exhortation to the people to use an influence against the use of all profaue language in the community. The elimination of this evil should be undertaken as a specialty labor by the Church—in the various stakes and wards. He also bore a strong testimony to the divine mission of Joseph Smith and the work of which he was the honored founder, and with which we have the honor of being identified.

addressed the conference. He dwelt the fulness of the Gospel of Christ through Joseph Smith the Prophet, and the organization of the Church 56 years ago. He referred to the predictions of the Prophets in reference to the estab lishment of the latter-day work of the Lord, showing their fulfillment in the travels and history of the Church. He predicted the final triumph of the work of God, through the power of truth. He bore testimony that the teachings and labors of the Prophet Joseph, his brother Hyrum and others-he having been acquainted with them-were true

BISHOP JOHN Q. CANNON, the Presiding Bishopric of the Church, was the concluding speaker. He aliuded to the persecutions to which the Saints were subjected. He contended, however, that these conditions were compensated for by the increase of the power of God in the midst of the people and the many blessings that God was, in His loving the distance bestowing who the States kindness, bestowing upon the Saints. The educational character of the and the necessity of paying the g particular attention training of the y were points specially dwelt upon by the speaker. He held that the youth should be gradually trained, step by step, in the exercise of the powers and duties of the Priesthood. The duties of the lesser branch were particularly emphasized. He bore testimony that the Lord had set his hand to accomplish his purposes, and that they would be attained, and exhorted the Saints to envelop themselves in the cloak of Apostle F. D.
