WAR THREATENED

Between the United States and Great Britain.

TO SETTLE THE MONROE DOCTRINE

Congress Will Have to Authorize the President to Issue an Ultimatum.

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—A special to the Times-Herald from its Washington correspondent says: War between the United States and Great Britain is threatened. It can be avoided only by surrender on the part of England. The contention over the Monroe doctrine has reached a stage which will produce the gravest anxiety on both sides of the Atlantic until the issue become known. If the American Congress will support the President, and of this there can be no doubt, Great Britain will soon be given the choice of surrendering or fighting.

Upon authority which cannot be questioned, news the decision, it is known that this government has received a cablegram from Ambassador Bayard, giving briefly the contents of a note which the Marquis of Salisbury has mailed in reply to Secretary Olney's dispatch of last July. This reply is in substance a refusal to arbitrate any of the territory eastward of the Schomburgk line.

Moreover, Lord Salisbury raises a new issue. He now contends that the Schomburgk line was not arbitrarily run; that it was in fact located upon definite data, and that it can be proved by the records, the treaty delegations and the maps that it correctly represents the western limits of the territory which Great Britain acquired by cession from Holland.

Receipt of this information caused some excitement in the Washington government. Secretary Olney promptly conferred with the President upon it. They agree in their opinion concerning it. Their opinion was that the British premier was trifling with the merits of the question; that he was attempting to evade and delay direct response to the principal issue involved and to bring on a controversy between the two governments as to minutiae, records and topographical data, such controversy, the President and secretary agree, it could be carried upon might run an indefinite length.

The program which the President and the secretary now have in mind is first to ascertain the wishes of Venezuela in the premises. If Venezuela is willing to arbitrate on the Schomburgk line, then the mission of the United States is for the time being at an end. Venezuela has repeatedly stated this, and it is not expected she will give in now. Once being assured of Venezuela's unwillingness to submit to England's pretension, the President will refer the whole matter to congress at an early day for such action as that body may see fit to take. The correspondence will be accompanied by a message from the President, explaining the situation, but probably omitting no recommendations.

Congress, as the only war-making power, will be left to its own deliberation, and deemed sure by some, when this moment arrives the executive will have exhausted his resources. The future course of the contention will rest with the national legislature. It is expected, however, that Congress will at once authorize the President to issue an ultimatum that will cause England to back down or fight.

ON THE CUBAN WAR.

Reported by a Lieutenant of the British Army.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—A special to the World from Havana says: Lieut. Churchill, a son of the late Lord Randolph Churchill, has arrived here from the field. He sends the following signed statement:

"To the Editor of the World—I visited General Suarez Valdez's column at Santo Domingo, and proceeded afterwards under Ceballos to Puerto Principe prepared to meet Antonio Maceo. We had very difficult marches, through a wild country, amid rains and heat.

"Afterwards preliminary skirmishing was had between Maceo and Suarez, December 2d, at La Reurma plantation, where a battle was fought. The country is open and the battle field, half a mile wide, was flanked by dense forests. The enemy was behind ledges, with a line in the rear.

"The Spanish infantry proceeded slowly to within thirty yards of the enemy's position, whereupon the latter retreated.

"Gen. Valdez, in full uniform and on a white horse, rode up close behind the infantry. He was a conspicuous target. Suarez, Garcia Navarro, who, regarding the advance, exposed himself in a manner no commander is justified in doing.

"The insurgents are bad shots. It appeared to me that one of lead passed over the heads of Gen. Valdez's staff, with whom I was. Three otherwise were wounded. The Spanish loss would have been heavy had the enemy's shots told, for the troops marched in close order through the open country towards the protected position held by the insurgents.

"I was much impressed by the science, the courage, and, I may add, the indifference of the Spanish infantry. The men laughed and sang under fire. Their obedience was like that of the Russian soldiers—implicit.

"Twenty-five shots, probably, said to be Gilmartins, were the only good shots the insurgents had. Bold, narrowly escaped capture.

"I returned via Clego de Avila to Havana, thence by gunboat to Cienfuegos. I was treated with much courtesy by Gen. Valdez.

"My general conclusion is that European methods of war are almost out of question in a wild country, where the cavalry is useless except for reconnoitering.

"WINTON CHURCHILL,
"Lieutenant Fourth Hussars, British Army."

Pursuing the Murderers.

LORDSBURG, N. M., Dec. 5.—Acting under orders from the department commander at Denver, a troop of cavalry left Fort Bayard on a forced march on night for the scene of the reported murder of a man and woman near Silverwellville, Ariz., by renegade Indians from San Carlos reservation, where the soldiers will be joined by a detachment from Fort Grant, and the murderers pursued.

BOTTOMSVILLE, Ariz., Dec. 5.—Sheriff Wright and posse of eighteen were hot on the trail yesterday of the Indians who murdered Murrill and daughter, near Ash Springs, Tuesday evening. The trail was of two Indians on horseback and four on foot. They were going south in the direction of Stein's Pass, N. M.

Cleveland Takes a Rest.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 5.—The President left Washington tonight on the light-house tender Maple, to recuperate from the strain he has been under in the preparation of his message to Congress, on a hunting trip through the North Carolina sounds. With him are Dr. O'Reilly, Commander Benjamin P. Lamberton, in charge of the light-house district, and private secretary Thurber.

The light vessel was well provisioned, and it is likely if the weather is fair the President will not return to Washington before the 12th or 14th of the month. The Maple was headed for the mouth of Chesapeake Bay, but about dusk, soon after the trip began with a cloudy southwest and a rather raw and biting wind that is commonly regarded as the best possible weather for water fowl in this section.

PLOT DISCOVERED IN CHINA.

Christians Involved in a Revolutionary Scheme.

BOSTON, Dec. 5.—Mail advices received by reliable persons in this city from Canton, China, today give details of an attempt to capture the city of Canton by a secret organization for the purpose of establishing an independent government. The writer says:

"The plot was exposed October 22nd, when the attention of the United States consul was called to a suspicious telegram from a Hong Kong firm of its branch in Canton, concerning the shipment of certain packages. The authorities were notified and the packages, which proved to be five barrels of picrine and ammunition, labeled "cement," were seized on their arrival. On the same steamer from Hong Kong came 400 men, who expected to aid in the revolt. The officials, however, captured another five of them. The revolutionists had no weapons, but it was learned that they were to be supplied by friends in this city.

"The movement has involved the Christians to a considerable extent, and great excitement prevails, especially inside the city near a chapel which had been used, unknown to the missionaries, as a sort of rendezvous for some of the conspirators.

MOTORCYCLE CONTEST.

Prizes Awarded by the Times-Herald Judges.

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—The judges of the Times-Herald motorcycle contest met today and carefully considered the claims of the vehicles which competed in the Thanksgiving day contest. They awarded the gold medal to the Morris and Salom Electrobat of Philadelphia on the following points: Safety, ease of control, absence of noise, vibration, heat and odor, cleanliness and general excellence of design and workmanship.

The first money prize of $2,000 was awarded to the Duryea Motor Wagon company, of Springfield, Mass. The motorcycle came in first in the road race, and also secures favorable notice for range of speed and hill, with compactness of design.

H. Mueller of Decatur, Ill., was awarded $1,000 and is mentioned for good performance in the road race, and economy in operation.

The other awards were: Sturges Electric motorcycle of Chicago, $500; R. H. Meyer & Co. of New York, $500; G. W. Lewis, Chicago, $500; Hayes & Apperson, Kokomo, Ind., $250; Max Hertel, $100; and the De la Vergne company of New York, $50.

Suit for Divorce.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5.—The wife of Lieutenant Chester White of the revenue cutter Bear today commenced divorce proceedings against her husband, who she alleges justified her he had deserted her to go East with an actress.

ERRONEOUS REPORT.

Judge Baker Has Not Ruled that Pima Indians Are Citizens.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 5.—The report that Judge A. C. Baker had ruled that Pima Indians are by treaty citizens of the United States has proved erroneous. The error was caused by confusing the instructions to the jury really given by the judge.

THE RULIANCE SAFE.

The Ship Arrives After an Unusually Rough Passage.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5.—The British ship Reliance, which has arrived here 199 days from Swansea, had a frightfully rough passage. She was in three hurricanes, two of which stripped her cargo of coal, had a man killed at sea and was forced to run around the Cape of Good Hope. She left Swansea on June 27 and four days later a heavy north-northwest gale came up. It caught the Reliance off Cape Clear and raged with fury for twelve hours. The ship's crew shifted during the storm, but fortunately the wind died down from its hurricane force and the crew trimmed sails. Off the river Plate the ship was caught in a second hurricane and part of her rigging was carried away. Her third experience with heavy weather was south of New Zealand, where a revolving hurricane was encountered. It started from the north-northeast and died away fifty-six hours later from a nearly opposite quarter. It blew the hardest from the west-northwest in revolving, and only the most careful seamanship saved the vessel.

FAILURE OF ANDREWS & CO.

The Company's Affairs Had Since the Fire in Salt Lake.

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—"A. H. Andrews & Co. assigned!" exclaimed the manager of the Chinese Carpet company, when asked as to the views of auditors circles regarding the defunct firm. "Well, I know nothing about that, although there are the bonds have expected such an occurrence for some time. Ever since that crushed deal in Salt Lake City I guess the company's affairs have been in a bad condition. You know their agent in that city made a contract with the authorities to supply a great amount of office furniture for the various city executive departments. I think the furniture was shipped and the company awaiting payment when it was discovered that the agent had obtained the contract through questionable means, and by dividing a lot of boodle among the councilmen.

"The city authorities refused to pay the bill and the firm has not yet received control of the furniture. The biting produced a big scandal. Then hard times also had something to do with it. Mr. Andrews himself is a very honest man, and I think the affair was carried on without his knowledge. It is too bad that the crash came."

Bids Securities Cheap.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 5.—Securities of the Jarvis-Conklin Mortgage Trust company of the face value of $1,775,000 were sold here at public sale today by J. F. Dowling, receiver for the company. The North American Trust company, of which H. R. Conklin of the Jarvis-Conklin company is the controlling officer, bid in all the securities in the bulk for $236,000. A large amount of California, Georgia, Utah and Oregon securities brought a very low price.

Thirty-seven Baxter City, Or., water and sewer bonds, par value $37,000, sold for $25,000.

Thirty bonds Bear River Irrigation and Ogden Waterworks company, par value $30,000, sold for $200.

Two hundred and twenty-nine shares of stock in same company, par value $22,900, sold for $1.

Three hundred and seventy-three more shares in another series went at the same rate.

One hundred and forty-one street railway bonds of Ogden, Utah, par value, $141,000, sold for $200.

Two hundred and nine Ogden, Utah, street railway bonds, par value $209,000, were sold for $200.

Two hundred bonds Washington Park Land company of Kansas City, par value $100,000, sold for $25,000.

Four bonds Oceanside school district, San Diego, Cal., par value $4,000, sold for $1,700.

Two bonds Richland school district, same county, par value, $1,000, sold for $550.

One bond Dimert school district, same county, par value $1,000, sold for $150.

Two bonds Oceanside school district, same county, par value $2,000, sold at $1,450.

GREEK CATHEDRAL IN CHICAGO.

Russia Wants to Spend $300,000 on an Ecclesiastical Building.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—Bishop Nicholas has been instructed by the Holy synod of St. Petersburg, to build a great cathedral in Chicago, to cost not less than $300,000. It is a part of the scheme that the cathedral shall cover an acre of ground; the architecture must follow the established lines of the ecclesiastical forms of Russia; the general design shall reproduce the famous St. Vasili of the Kremlin, of Moscow; the priest house shall be the home of the head of the dissemination in the western world, and the diocese of Alaska, and the Aleutian islands shall be renamed to include this country, or a new one will be created.

This is the greatest mission work ever undertaken by the synod. It was advised by the bishop in a long report to the body during his visit last summer to the czar and the empire's capital. His exposition of the needs of the thousands of Russians, Dalmatians, Bosnianians, Servians, Bulgarians and Greeks, as well as others of Slave brought home for the first time the opportunities for a vast field of growth. He argued that at least 100,000 communicants of the creed were citizens in the new country, with no religious home worthy of their mother church.

Harold Julius Boss, the supervising architect in the cabinet of the czar, will direct the erection of the cathedral and a Chicago architect will draft the plans for submission to the synod. His only instruction was to equal in size and wealth any similar edifice in the city with an architecture that nothing shall appear in it except that prescribed by Greek architects.

Bishop Nicholas has said that his royal highness has become the special patron of this enterprise. He promised to subscribe from his personal revenues an abundant sum, a little guarantee that his message to the Chicago Russians was genuine.

It is probable that some site in the vicinity of Garfield Park will be chosen for the new church.

A Long Tramp.

MUNCIE, Ind., Dec. 6.—Charles Roberts, wife and three children, finished a long tramp in this city last evening, having walked the long distance from central Texas, since August 15. Roberts left Delaware county in good circumstances six years ago, emigrating to the Lone Star state, where he lost everything. His children are aged 7 and 12, the younger two being twins. Roberts said they evaded the railroads and were kindly treated by farmers along the route.

Henry Waterson Did Not Come.

WEBSTER CITY, Iowa, Dec. 6.—Henry Waterson was advertised to deliver his lecture on Abraham Lincoln in this city last night. Great preparations had been made for the event, but Mr. Waterson did not come. The local committee cannot account for his absence.

A MYSTIFIED WOMAN

The Wheels Wouldn't Go Round.

Mothers and Daughters as Well as Fathers and Sons May Profit by Her Experience. Something Wrong.

Everyone in the street slipped. Even a child could see that there was something wrong. Every time the horse started the sparks flew from where the tire touched the rubber. That is why the lady got out. A crowd gathered and stood curiously while she examined the horse, the harness, the vehicle and the wheel that wouldn't go round. A policeman came forward and suggested that the nurse was lazy. A gentleman who belonged to the Society with the long name, said that the beast was overworked, and should be unharnessed and rubbed down. Another man advised her to back a bit and take a new start. A fourth suggested that if she would drive right on, sparks or no sparks, the difficulty would remedy itself; while still another insisted that unless a new tire be put on the wheel, the whole affair would collapse. Thus confounding questions poured the confusion of the distressed lady, but they did not make the wheel go round.

Just then a carriage drove up, a gentleman got out and asked what was the matter. One of the bystanders said it was a breakdown, while another eleven cheers gave a different explanation as to why the wheel wouldn't go round. The stranger examined the turnout, let the pony forward a step, and as the sparks began flying remarked: "Madam, your horse, harness, cart and wheel are all right. The sparks that the tire draws from the curbstones are merely outward symptoms of the inward ailment. The real difficulty is not with the tire of the wheel, but with the axle, or the hub." Just what the man did next is not necessary to state, but in less than ten minutes the entire trouble was ended. He had removed the cause instead of tampering with the effect. As the lady drove on refusing someone remarked: "How few people in the world come down to the root of things, and at the same time carry in their heads the 'know how' that makes the wheels go round."

It is this little task of reasoning down to the root of things that is to day causing intense suffering to thousands of men and women, and for this suffering, to a great extent, man is to blame.

Refined, intelligent, educated men, who have spent eight or ten of the best years of their lives in colleges, medical schools and hospitals, owing to the false, childlike theory of observing the tire as it were, instead of curing the axle, or the "blood." They direct their attention to where the pain shows its form, instead of working upon the hidden spot where the real trouble lies. The consequence is, they never acquire the "know how," which enables them to regulate the wheels of life.

When the sparks of pain fairly fly from a woman's head, her back, her limbs, or the most important and sensitive organs of her body, it is as senseless to resort to "local applications," pain cures, or stimulants, as it is to grease the tire, whip the horse, or drive on regardless of consequences. Those people try to cure symptoms instead of reasoning to the root of things and removing the cause or the disorder. The result is physical patchwork and failure instead of success.

A most conspicuous exception to this rule is the man who, nearly thirty years ago, proclaimed that he would not make such mistakes, but would devote himself to reasoning to the root of disease, and to the discovery of a new principle for its treatment. Many thousand letters of gratitude from former patients in all parts of America, have told this physician that he has been successful beyond even his own expectations. This man is Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., who has for more than a quarter of a century been the head of the most complete and successful Health Institute in America, the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, and whose "Golden Medical Discovery," "Favorite Prescription," and "Pleasant Pellets," have converted thousands of men and women, in every state of this Union and in nine foreign lands, from absolute misery to physical vigor and happiness, and whose People's Common Sense Medical Adviser has had the greatest sale of any medical work ever published—amounting to over 680,000 copies.

In his research and practice Dr. Pierce proceeded on the common sense principle that the blood could carry life or destruction to every part of the body. That the liver was the "butler-keeper" of the human system. That when the liver becomes disordered the blood is charged with poison which is carried through the body and produces such ailments as consumption, scrofula, skin diseases and bronchial troubles, as well as liver complaint, dyspepsia and "female complaints." His "Golden Medical Discovery" acts especially upon the liver and other excretory organs. It cleanses the blood, repairs the tissues and gives new life to the whole system. The action of this "Discovery" is aided in stubborn cases of constipation by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, which also embody an entirely new principle. While there are not three cases of these diseases in a hundred which Dr. Pierce's remedies will not relieve or cure, it happens sometimes that chronic and serious complicated and long neglected disorders require additional home-treatment. In such rare and exceptional cases Dr. Pierce will, upon receiving particulars by letter, send free of charge, confidential advice as will enable the sufferer to find relief and cure if the case is curable. All correspondence is treated in strict confidence.

When Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, New York, published the first edition of his work, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, he announced that after 900,000 copies had been sold at the regular price, $1.50 per copy, the profit on which would repay him for the great outlay of labor and money expended in producing the work. Continued the past year he has sent the first edition free. As the number of copies of this most complete, interesting and valuable medical work ever published—the recipient only taking trouble to write for it, at the above address, with 21 cents in stamps to cover cost of mailing—the coming year he will send the work, cloth bound, free, on receipt of 21 cents only, and the book will be sent post-paid. It is a veritable medical library, complete in one volume. It contains over 1000 pages and over 300 illustrations. The Free Edition is precisely the same as those sold at $1.50 except only that the binding is not as strong, usually taken only where money is scarce. Send now. Cloth at the office cover. Only one copy of the Free Edition to one address.
