BANQUET.

The Scandinavian Democratic Society and the Central Clubs Jollify.

The inauguration banquet under the auspices of the Scandinavian Democratic society Saturday night in the G. A. R. hall was a fine affair, the success being largely due to the ladies' committee, of whom Mrs. P. W. Madsen was the chairman. The ladies' committee was ably assisted by Messrs. P. J. Nelson and F. S. Ericson. Fully three hundred persons partook of supper.

The Norden band furnished the music. Toastmaster P. W. Madsen introduced the guests in hearty welcome.

Hon. H. P. Henderson responded to the toast, "Grover Cleveland," and in few words mentioned the triumph with which this great man again cheers upon his duties as chief magistrate of the American nation.

A beautiful solo was rendered by Sir. H. Emigh.

F. S. Ericsson appropriately answered to the toast, "Our Adopted Home."

Hon. F. S. Richards responded to the call for "Utah Democracy" with his usual eloquence and force.

Judge Judd in speaking to the toast, "Statehood" made a strong argument in favor of Utah's admission to the Union.

President C. M. Nelson replied to the toast "The Scandinavian Democrats."

A. T. Schroeder was listened to with interest when he responded to the toast: "The First Lady."

Mrs. L. Cushing rendered a beautiful piano solo.

W. H. O'Brien responded to the call: "The Central Society."

F. S. Ericson, introducing the Scandinavian society, explained the object of its organization and the service it will render to the Democratic cause in the future. The climax of enthusiasm of the evening was reached when he held up to the view of the audience a gold-headed cane with the following inscription: Presented to C. M. Nielsen by the Scandinavian Democratic society March 4th, 1893, handing it to the president to show the estimation of his faithful labor for the society. Mr. Nielsen thanked in feeling words.

H. S. Laney responded to the toast: "Adlai Stevenson." The Nielsen military company under Captain H. M. H. Lund's command entered the hall amid much applause. The boys gave clever exhibitions and were much cheered.

J. R. Letcher spoke of the great services rendered by Utah Delegate John T. Caine and felt assured that Hon. J. L. Rawlins as future delegate would guard carefully the interest of the Territory.

O. J. Andersen responded to the toast: "The Press."

Miss Emma Jurgensen rendered two solos accompanied by the whistler, Mr. W. Christeley.

The banquet was wound up by an excellent piece of music by the Norden band. H. M. H. LUND, Secretary.

Wonderland.

A new, bright and sparkling program is announced at this resort for the week commencing Thursday, March 9.

The popular stock company will present the military drama Lynwood, with a full cast and new scenery and accessions. The play is one of the best yet presented by this company, and is deserving of a large patronage.

On the bijou stage in curio hall a complete change will occur, and such artists as Ed Pringle, the laughter, Miss Alice Evans, the vocalist, and McLean and Hall, acrobatic song and dance artists, will appear, which features so interesting performances in this portion of the house.

Wednesday, March 15th, being souvenir day, the enterprising management will eclipse all former efforts by presenting to each lady attending a handsome silver butter knife. But a limited number could be secured, and on that date they will commence giving them out and continue until the supply is exhausted.

SKELETONS EXHUMED.

The Burial Grounds of Some Forgotten Race Opened Up.—High Water.

A telegram from Ukiah, California, says: The mountain streams seem not to decline in the excessive volume of water attained during the storm of a fortnight ago. J. K. Bigelow of Bigelow ranch reported today that his section of country was cut off from Laytonville, their natural supply town, on account of high water, and have to trade in Eden valley.

News was received today that Anderson river has unearthed, from somewhere along its course, the burial ground of some forgotten race, and that human skulls have been brought down by the freshet and landed on the sandbar two miles north of Boonville. The foreheads are high and the back part of the skulls large, indicating that the individuals possessed large brains and possibly powerful intellects.

ODDEY OCCURRENCES.

The Coming California's Congress.—The Story of a "No Funds" Check.—Other Items.

Among the indictments returned by the present grand jury was one against Fee Yuengling, the alleged millionaire who caused attachments upon the Hotel Rio Grande upon her dog across the continent. While in Ogden nothing was too good for the heiresses. The best rooms at the Reed hotel, her sister and her maid were secured by Yuengling. When he came to settle the bill, however, his money had suddenly run short, but that did not matter, it was merely temporary. He drew a check on the Knickerbocker Trust company of New York, his fabulously banking place, for $100. Would Mr. Locke cash the check and give him the difference in money? Certainly, considering the importance of his guests.

Mr. Locke's surprise can better be imagined than described when the week he received the check back from New York with the fatal words, "No funds" written across its face. He was not long in acting, and as the grand jury did its part an indictment was found, the charge being obtaining money under false pretenses.

On Wednesday Deputy Belcher telegraphed a warrant of arrest to Chief of Police Crowley of San Francisco, and after considerable delay received in answer to the effect that Yuengling had left the city. As tonight, word to the United States marshal brought back the reply that Yuengling had been arrested and was held awaiting further orders. Saturday evening Mr. Locke received a telegraphic money order for the full amount of the check and an apology from Yuengling in which he states that the entire matter was a mistake and was not due to his desire to act dishonorably.

The second annual meeting of the Inter-Mountain Cattle Growers' Association is called to meet in the Grand Opera House in Ogden on the 20th, 21st and 22nd of next month. Indications point to a great gathering these days of cattle owners from the state and territories west of the Missouri river. Several hundred letters daily receiving communications from customers in the Westinquiring about the coming congress. Many have pledged themselves to be here and participate in the deliberations of the meeting. Their intention is to aid in the advancement of the cattle interests of the great West. They seem to feel that notwithstanding every thing points to an increase in the price of beef in the near future, it is not time to drop all interest in the matter, but on the other hand, as Secretary Armstrong expressed it, "They want legislation," and while the time is but the cattlemen propose to organized to get it if it lies in the Cattle Growers' association, so that its strength will be recognized by state legislators and the national Congress."

The members of the board of education made an official inspection of the new Grant avenue school building Saturday. The structure, which has been erected at a cost of nearly $30,000, is practically completed, and by Monday night everything will be in readiness except the placing of seats. The building is equipped with all the modern appliances and is entirely satisfactory to the members of the board. It will be formally accepted at the meeting of the board on Tuesday evening.

Hon. Don Maguire returned last evening from Salt Lake, where he has been superintending the preparation for shipment to Chicago of his department of Utah's exhibit for the World's Fair. Everything will be in readiness for shipping within a few days. There has been some delay in the preparation of the mineral and archæological departments on account of the late arrival of the exhibit which has been gathered in San Juan county.

The Young Men's Democratic club of Ogden celebrated the inauguration of President Cleveland Saturday evening. The meeting was held in the city hall, and although the attendance was small, owing probably to the threatening weather, it was very enthusiastic.

Hong Sling returned yesterday from a business trip to Pendleton. He will leave in a few days for Chicago to arrange for the placing of exhibit the Chinese society will make at the World's Fair, of which department he is manager.

On Tuesday night the Business Men's association will hold its third meeting and get down to business in earnest. The organization has been fully perfected and is now ready for work.

Sanitary Congress.

The date of holding the sanitary congress in this city has been fixed for May 22rd to 25th inclusive. Invitations will be sent to all the health officers of cities west of the Missouri river having a population over 10,000, to be present.

WHERE IS LAURA RICK?

She is Wanted by Mr. Bader to Attend the Funeral of His Sister Laura.

William Bader, who resides on Seventh south and Twelfth West streets, called at the NEWS office today and stated that he was very anxious to ascertain the whereabouts of Dora Rick, who was recently employed as a waiter at Bauer's restaurant on Second South street. Miss Dora's sister Laura, aged 23, died at Mr. Bader's home on Saturday morning last from consumption of the heart. Mr. Bader is very anxious that Dora, whom he believes is employed as a domestic somewhere in the city, should be present at the funeral. Anyone seeing this notice who is acquainted of her whereabouts will render a great favor Mr. Bader by communicating with him.

A Coincidence.

On inauguration day eight years ago, the wife of Angus M. Cannon, Jr., of this city presented him with twins—boys—who were forthwith named for Cleveland and Hendricks. On last Saturday, while Cleveland was again being inaugurated, the twins were baptized into the Church by their grandfather. Those who like coincidences will find something in the foregoing that will be pleasant to.
