TRUMBULL IS DEAD.

A Life of Ceaseless Activity for the People Ended.

HE WAS A REPUBLICAN PIONEER

But Parted Company With that Party and Became Independent in Politics.

CHICAGO, June 25.—Ex-United States Senator Lyman Trumbull died at 8 o'clock this morning at his home in this city. He had been ill a long time, but rallied at intervals, causing a hope that he might eventually recover. His last relapse, however, settled his life in the minds of his physicians and the end has been expected daily for the past week.

Judge Trumbull was born at Colchester, New London county, Conn., in 1813. A career like that of Lyman Trumbull's comes to but few men. For more than 60 years he has been a life of ceaseless activity and it is not a hyperbole to say that in all those years his work has belonged to the nation. He has been a school teacher, lawyer and judge. He has played his part in politics—in the county, in the halls of Congress, in the deliberations of parties and as a non-combatant counselor. In public life he has been one of those rare men who lead and teach political parties, yet are never bound by tradition or association to follow their party lids in divergence from the lines laid down by their own schemes. In the beginning he was an anti-slavery Democrat. As a Republican he fought side by side with the immortal Lincoln and the men who founded the Republican party of today. Then his party, as he thought, departed from its true mission and followed a line his conscience would not indorse. Resolutely he turned his back on his former associates and became a Democrat. In later years he parted company with that party. He took such a ground against the extension of power of the United States courts that he became the hope of the Populists and in a sense their counselor. And all the time men of both parties respected him. His last appearance in a court in this was as counsel for the American Railway Union clients before the Supreme Court at Washington.

Only once since then has he appeared in public and that appearance gave added point to the stance of the reputation upon him. It was at a mass meeting in Central Music hall, where he spoke at length upon the causes of discontent among the industrial classes. He spoke of the encroachments of the federal courts upon the constitutional rights of the people and emphasized the point that deliverance from the oppression of privileged monopolies could only be had through the ballot.

Judge Trumbull was somewhat feeble in appearance, his voice lacking the strong ring of other days, but his mind was as clear and his judgment as sound as ever. He was entertaining by his family and physicians. The death came like a quiet sleep.

Trumbull's first political work was the result of a mistake committed while attending the funeral of ex-Governor Kercher.

THE CANADIAN ELECTIONS.

The Liberals Overjoyed at the Defeat of the Government.

SHERBROOKE, Mass., June 25.—A special to the Tribune from Winnipeg says:

The defeat of the Tupper government whose platform was the remunerative grant of Catholic parochial schools to Manitoba, has come. The well-known Dominion previews in Western Canada did no such wild scenes have ever been witnessed here.

While the liberals were sanguine of electing sufficient members in the Dominion Parliament to block the government school measure, they never dared to hope of completely ousting the Tupper government so long have done. The liberals for the first time in nearly twenty years have with and are about to sit in Laurier's success, while the conservative to whom the minister was delegated work period are in a dazed condition. The liberal night now unanimously declare that Manitoba's national school system is absolutely safe from interference. However, conservative are quite so positive that now that Laurier, who is a Frenchman and a Roman Catholic, has come into power, he will demand that Catholic schools be restored. There will be a great deal of suffering until it is shown what Laurier's policy in the respect will be. And are agreed, however, that one of the first moves will be to treat with Washington for reciprocity of trade between Canada and the states and the result of the liberal victory in Canada will be fraught with the most important results to the business interests of United States.

Western Support for McKinley.

CANTON, O., June 25.—Governor McKinley jealously receiving assurances from Colorado and other Western states of the hearty support at the polls and assurances that there is no disposition in that territory on account of the Sonntal plank.

To Break a Record.

CHICAGO, June 25.—Lotter Carter Fitzsimmons Tuesday morning to break the Chicago-New York road record, but when 75 miles out was caught in a storm and had to return. He left again at 5:30 this morning.

DIED IN PRISON

One of Helena's Corporations Served Off by Consumption.

CHICAGO, June 25.—Edward A. Trask, who was sentenced from Chicago to the Joliet penitentiary in 1892, for eighteen years, for his gigantic real estate swindles, is dead. He succumbed to consumption Tuesday night. Trask was committed for the during of his sentence.

After he had been sentenced and was serving his term, his methods were called to mind again by the sensational arrest of the minister Holmes. Trask and Holmes had been partners to several cases for the floating of wealthy strangers in Chicago, under the pretense of conducting a real estate sale. After Holmes's execution in Philadelphia, Trask fell into easy memorabilia and it is said he never realized after hearing of his old companion's death. Trask was 41 years old.

Women to the Sunnyside.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 25.—At Tuesday morning's session of the North American Turnverband, Mr. Geisinger stated that the question relating to the attendance of women to the bund would be taken up where it was left off Tuesday afternoon. He answered that there was 55 amendments to be made on the subject. The convention will adjourn week the matter is settled. Among those who spoke in favor of the motion were Mr. Curtis of San Francisco and Mr. Schwab of Chicago.

Indiana Figures.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 25.—At the Indiana Democratic state convention yesterday the Hon. Benjamin Harrison of St. Joseph county, was nominated for governor, Joseph Leer out of a list of 1,744. Ex-Congressman Cooper, the ex-dollar of the gold standard men, received the remaining 107 votes.

Suits Against Railroads.

CHICAGO, June 25.—A batch of things of some sixteen various railroad companies have been filed in the circuit court. Each of the suits seek to 20,000 damages from the railroad companies and the plaintiffs are all railroad men, who say that the railroads have prevented them from obtaining work ever since the American Railway union strike of 1894.

Pugilists Matched.

CHICAGO, June 25.—Dan Creedon, who was the last heavyweight champion of England by knocking the "Duffer Count" and Jem Smith and Joe Choynski, now in California, have been virtually matched. Arrangements to meet, although not actually agreement have been signed, call on the men to battle at 152 pounds, for the largest purse that can be secured.

FROM CONTOWN.

An African "Dude" Killed by an American Negro.

LONDON, June 25.—A Capetown dispatch to the Times says John Hays Hammond will not be released from his home today. The dispatch also says "A telegram from Salisbury says the white country about that point has been and that it is entirely awaiting some outbreak. Hammond is still in the hands of the Boers, the whole country being swarming with armed men.

"Rhodes along the Uitlandt and Salisbury road have been attacked and Gaborone's store has been looted and all of its occupants killed. A number of isolated men along the road have also been killed. It is feared 20,000 Martini cartridges fell into the hands of the rebels.

"A telegram from Fort Chester announces that that point is surrounded by rebels and that the natives have dispersed. All their cattle have been captured by the rebels, who attend the native kraals. There is an African dude, Julian Pauncefote, the British ambassador, a request from the British government to see his good offices with Venezuela to assist the release from imprisonment of the Venezuelan people who engaged in constructing a road connecting the Orinoco and Cayoni river in the disputed territory. No official knowledge of the affair has yet been received at the Venezuelan legation.

With no more rain the track will be fairly good for speed. Conditions are favorable to Ben Brush. Sheet betting may be now be very good to win for the two high odds, Lelo and Semper Eros, are fine one ago. The betting recently ran a mile and a quarter in 2:09 and the fellow worked a mile and a half with 111 pounds and in 2:34 he worked out a mile farther rate in 1:49. Lelo has worked a mile and a half in 2:36.

Gates Ham ran the distance in a race with 86 pounds in the same time and Semper and Byron McClelland have been specially prepared for this race. It is no easy thing for Ben Brush. The state will be worth not $14,400, with $1,000 to second and $500 to third.

Side bets of the state are in the Mutuals at twenty.

John R. McLean is proprietor of the Morning Post, Dayton and the Evening Post at Cincinnati and has also been an active advocate of free silver. Mrs. E. B. Finley, while in Colorado was an ardent silver man, as was Gen. A. J. Warner, who presided over the convention. The champion of free silver in the state in recent years has been Allen W. Thurman, who first up a silver organization in Ohio when that element was in the minority at Democratic conventions. He was a son of the late Allen G. Thurman, who was on the ticket with President Cleveland in 1888 and was for twelve years senator from Ohio.

The letters of Thurman and McLean with other political remarks during their lives and the sons never got to extent until the present silver campaign.

Clifton A. White, who heads the ticket for secretary of state, served in Congress during Lincoln's administration and was a close political friend of Clement L. Vallandingham. He has not participated in politics since the Civil War till recently, when he has an active part in advocating free silver.

PHOTOGRAPHY IN COLORS.

The Fact Now said to be Accomplished—The Process.

NEW YORK, June 25.—The World this morning says:

The World is able to announce that photography in colors is assured.

James W. Mulholland, of Chicago, and Prof. Jolly, of Dublin, who were attempting to secure patents agreed that the successful one should pay the other a fee and the expenses to the undertaking would support the enterprise. Mr. Mulholland was after a time induced to engage the National Color Photographing and Printing company was incorporated at Rochester, Va., with a capital of $500,000 with right to increase it to $3,000,000. E. D. Schuyler, head of the New York Blue and Blue Marine Power and Improvement company, and R. M. Dickerson, a wealthy lawyer, are of this city are the owners of the company.

Mr. Schuyler said last night: "It is well understood that photographing should be said now, but to the World for the fact, it is believed to may the matter."

The process requires a specially ruled screen and paper. A number of other novelties are used. The details of how or when parties to employed. The screen is ruled with lines in these colors about 300 to the inch. The screen is placed in front and in close contact with an orthochromatic plate which is then exposed to the camera in the object to be photographed. The exposed plate is then developed in the usual way and a negative is thus obtained in three colors corresponding to the screen to colors. From the negative a positive is made in the ordinary way on glass or paper. If now the screen, or a similarly ruled one be laid on the positive, and moved until the colors and screen are in register the pictures appear in original colors.

IN BEHALF OF HARRISON.

Our Government Will Be Asked to Intervene in a Friendly Way.

NEW YORK, June 25.—A dispatch to the Herald from Washington says:

Secretary Olney, when he returns to this city in October will receive from Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British ambassador, a request from the British government to use his good offices with Venezuela to secure the release from imprisonment of the three men who were arrested by Venezuelan police while engaged in constructing a road connecting the Orinoco and Cayoni river in the disputed territory. No official knowledge of the affair has yet been received at the Venezuelan legation.

CALLED ON OLNEY.

Sir Julian Pauncefote and Minister Andrade of Venezuela.

INTERVENTION ASKED FOR

In Behalf of the British Officer Harrison, Arrested by the Venezuelan Soldiers.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Secretary Olney received calls today from Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British minister, and Minister Andrade of Venezuela, both of whom he received separately concerning the arrest by Venezuelan troops of the British Crown Surveyor Harrison, on the British-Venezuelan boundary. It is understood that Sir Julian, acting under instructions from the British foreign office requested the friendly intervention of the United States towards securing the release of Harrison, as was done by the British minister to Texas at the American Jose Hays Hammond during the Transvaal uprising. A request was not in the direction, coming before the notes had made the officials quite sure that the Harrison incident. The minister said the affair had been reported and was looking to Washington for some friendly offering. He said he had not received any instructions from his government to make a formal request for the intervention of the United States, but he expected to receive such a request. He said he was sure the British government would be glad to have the United States, the Harrison case was not made public, but the personal interest was a matter for friendly intervention by the United States. Going on the British-Venezuelan frontier, the Britons have no interest at stake in Venezuela. It is believed that Sir Olney already has taken steps in communicate with the Venezuelan government through the minister of the United States minister at Caracas. Venezuela is not expected to make any trouble in the matter, the minister said, but in view of the political relations of the parties it might be expected that from the ordinary methods of diplomacy would be used. While it is not clear that Harrison is in custody and that status quo in those parts is to be maintained, it is believed that the affair, if it is as reported, will not therefore lead to any serious complication.

Colorado Silver Convention.

DENVER, June 25.—The state silver convention was called to order at 12:15 a.m. by I. N. Stevens, a member of the national silver committee. There were 110 delegates. Prayer was offered by Rev. Thomas Uzzell, who asked his blessing "on this convention, and the coming silver convention at St. Louis, and especially on the convention that is to meet at Chicago."

Stevens congratulated the conventions on sending no formal delegates to a meeting "at which there was no platform in sight." He expressed his hope that the Chicago convention would nominate a man whose position on silver was unquestionably sound. Teller was the first name mentioned. The mention of Teller at the convention was and the enthusiasm manifested over the names of Bailey, Bland, Blackburn, Morgan and the Southern silver senators.

The committee on resolutions selected H. A. W. Tabor temporary chairman.

After appointing committees the convention took recess until 2 o'clock.

The convention will send Teller delegates to St. Louis.
