DESERET EVENING NEWS.

Thursday, July 18, 1895.

Saturday Half Holidays.

The Clearing House associations held a meeting at the Alta club rooms last evening, with Hon. W. S. McCormick presiding.

The meeting was called mainly for the purpose of taking action on the resignation of Vice President M. H. Cummings, who resigned some time ago, for the reason that he was going out of the banking business entirely.

The resignation of Mr. Cummings was accepted and Mr. James E. Jennings appointed to succeed him; after which a petition presented by the bank clerks some time ago, asking that the banks be closed on Saturdays, at 1 p. m., until October, was taken up, with the result that no earlier process wishing to do business with the banks on Saturday, must do so prior to 1 o'clock p. m. The petitioners received more than a victory, because of the change being made to extend all the year round. The change, however, will not take effect for thirty days, in order to allow the business men a chance to become acquainted with the new order of things.

Circus Will Be Here Tomorrow.

The second circus of the season will arrive in Salt Lake tonight, and will begin a two days exhibition on the lot adjacent to the Ninth ward meeting house. It is under the management of the Wallace show people, who make the claim that they spread less acres of canvas, that they can seat 20,000 people at one performance, have a collection of animals worth a million dollars, three rings, two elevated stages, half mile race track, the finest horses of any show on earth, the largest circus employes, performers who stand at the head of their class in equestrianism, acrobatic feats and the other innumerable acts that go to make up a great circus.

The Toronto Free pays this compliment to the great Wallace shows: "The tone of the show is decorous; there is a most pleasing absence from the mind approach to vulgarity either in the acts or the attire or language of the women. The closest vigilance is observed by the employes towards keeping order in the audience, and the comfort and pleasure of the patrons are looked to with commendable care."

Slept While Mamma "Shopped."

A tired little lad was sitting in a buggy in front of the "co-op." yesterday waiting for his mother who was spending considerable time shopping. It was in the afternoon and the sweltering rays of the sun came down with fearful intensity. The boy was evidently from the country and had probably come a long distance and as the afternoon wore on he grew drowsy, and sliding down into the bottom of the buggy with his head resting upon his arm on the seat he became temporarily oblivious of the cares of this world. The flies bit and worried the old horse and step by step the animal backed from the curb until the buggy stood in the middle of the street, and there it remained with its sleeping occupant until the hours for doing business at the stores had passed, when the mother came out with her arms full of bundles, awoke her boy and jogged off for home.

LITERARY SOCIETY.

Cannesville, Wayne County, Comes to the Front in Good Work.

CANNESVILLE, Wayne County, Utah, July 13, 1895.

Editor Deseret News.

An event of no little significance has transpired in connection with our little rural settlement of Cannesville, Wayne county.

For a long time the establishment of winter evening classes has been a cherished idea with the leading minds of this place as has also been the formation of a literary society to enable them to keep pace somewhat with the progress of scientific knowledge.

These schemes have lately received strong impulse through the courtesy of the Smithsonian Institute granting them a loan of books, etc. Their yearly expense—and the carrying out of these ideas—with a public reference library as a center, has been resolved upon.

Through the kind cooperation of Hon. F. J. Cannon we hope the enterprise will very shortly materialize and by the aid already promised and given by the Legislature of the state be a useful success during the coming winter. We hail it as a happy omen that the Cannesville Literary society and the State of Utah will enter upon the career of usefulness pretty much about the same time. Long may it live!

Political Pointers.

H. G. Sutton, the newly elected chairman of the Republican city committee has signified his intention of resigning from the chairmanship of the Second Precinct committee. He says he has no desire to hold both offices. The resignation will be presented at a meeting to be held at the office of Jennie Harvey on Tuesday evening next.

There will be a meeting of the Territorial Republican committee in the Westerfelt building on the afternoon of the 29th inst., beginning at two o'clock. It is expected that the date of holding the Territorial convention will be determined upon at that time.

Henry and Dick Will Fight.

The long talked of match between Henry Williams and Dick Case was made last night, and barring unforeseen obstacles the men will meet at the Salt Lake Athletic club rooms on Tuesday night next in a fight-to-the-finish contest. The men are evenly matched as to size and weight, and while Williams is known to be determined and plucky he will for the first time go up against an actual scientific fighting professional and it is barely possible that his string of victories will be reversed. However, he will endeavor not to disappoint his many sporting friends.

Bench Show.

A meeting was held last night by the members of the Inter-Mountain Kennel club in which they decided, after a long discussion, to hold a bench exhibition in October. The management will be given to Major Dave Lavey, an old enthusiast in canine matters. The quarters will be somewhere in the center of town, and prizes will be offered for the best specimens of thoroughbreds.

Marriage License.

A marriage license was issued yesterday by the county clerk to Alexander M. Smith, aged 39, and Melissa A. Tucker, aged 26, both of Salt Lake City.

Taken Back to Ogden.

Golden Brown, the alleged Junction city burglar, was taken back to that city by Chief of Police Davenport on the 7 o'clock train last night. Brown must face the charge of breaking into Darling & Ives' clothing store and taking a large amount of clothing therefrom.

A Dangerous Practice.

Notwithstanding the fact that so many accidents have occurred by children riding down the State street incline, the practice still goes on unabated. In the winter time coasting is indulged in to a great extent, while in the summer small express wagons may be seen wheeling along at a dangerous rate of speed. Last evening two small boys were riding down the Theater hill, and when at the corner of First South, the car came along and the boys used every effort to stop their wagon, but to no avail. Just as the wagon was about to collide with the car it tipped over, and fortunately the boys were thrown off to one side. Had it not been for the overturning of the wagon, perhaps the youngsters might have shared an unhappy fate.
