MAYOR CLARK'S MESSAGE READ.

City Executive's Second Annual Report Submitted to Council.

TO BE PRINTED IN PAMPHLET

Comprehensive Review of Municipal Matters Accompanied by Several Recommendations.

The second annual message of Mayor John Clark was submitted at last night's Council meeting and referred to the committee on enrollment with instructions to have the same printed in pamphlet form. The message was read by Recorder Burkman and was listened to with rapt attention by the Council members. It is as follows:

Mayor's Office, Salt Lake City, Utah, January 31, 1899.

To the Honorable City Council, Salt Lake City.—Gentlemen:—In accordance with the city ordinances and the usual custom, I have the honor to submit herewith my second annual message, giving a summary of municipal events during the year just closed, and a statement of the present condition of the various departments of the city government.

The past year has witnessed a measurable awakening of prosperity in the city as well as in the surrounding country. The steady influx of gold and silver from the mines of the State has produced results in the way of building and other improvements that must be most satisfactory and gratifying to our citizens. A feeling of enterprise seems to prevail, the result of which must be a continued growth and prosperity within the municipal limits.

It is a matter of congratulation to note that while the receipts from all sources of the city's revenue show an increase of $44,221.05 over that of 1897 the total expenditures were $18,398.21 less than those of that year, making a net gain to the city of $60,619.26. When it is considered that every department has been kept up to a high standard of efficiency, and that no effort has been made by the administration may indeed be proud of this substantial showing.

While making acknowledgment to the city Council for its full share of assistance in this work, it is a pleasure I wish to earnestly recommend a continuance of the same careful, painstaking supervision of expenditures by that body that has governed during the past year.

The conduct of the several departments has been efficient and satisfactory, the officers and their assistants having worked honestly and diligently in the interests of the city.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

Bonded Indebtedness.—In my annual message of last year I recommended the refunding at a lower rate of interest of the bond issue of $200,000, maturing in 1899. This suggestion was acted upon, and a new issue of 4 per cent bonds was disposed of at a premium of $7,000. This added to the discount, $3,000 per annum in interest makes a saving well worth the effort. The total bonded indebtedness of the city now is $1,140,000, most of which is still drawing 5 per cent interest. Such issue should be refunded at a lower rate of interest as soon as it matures.

City Treasurer.—The report of the city treasurer shows:

Balance on hand Jan. 1, 1898	$ 28,882.74
Receipts from all sources during the year	472,195.92
Total resources for year	$501,081.66
Disbursements for all purposes during year	478,294.87
Balance on hand December 31, 1898	$ 22,806.79

An increase of available funds at the commencement of the present year over that of last year of $5,413.54.

Income.—In this department the collections for the year amounted to $15,944.48 in excess of that of 1897, while the cost of operating this branch of the treasurer's office was $1,259.40 less than in 1897. This is an excellent record, showing a net gain of over $20,000 to the city in the operating of a single department.

City Auditor.—The report of the city auditor shows that during the year the total receipts from all sources were $492,195.92, an increase over the previous year of $44,221.01. The cost of maintaining the several departments of the city government for the year 1898 was $117,969.40, being a decrease of $18,398.21 as compared with 1897.

The report shows that the expense of maintaining almost every department of the municipality during the year 1898 was less than during the previous year, the exceptions being the street lighting department, which shows an increase of $11,967.26, and claims and damages, which gives an increase of $7,619.13. The latter being mostly the result of litigations against the city, commenced several year ago.

CITY RECORDER.

Report of Recorder.—The report of the city recorder shows that the number of licenses issued in 1898 was 3,849, an increase of 1,086 over that of 1897. The receipts from license collections amounted to $3,861 or $748 over that of the previous year.

WATERWORKS DEPARTMENT.

Expenditures.—The superintendent's report shows the total expenditures in this department for the year just ended have been $98,744.56, a decrease of $3,449 under that of the year 1897. The expenditure was distributed as follows:

Maintenance	$35,314.66
Construction	4,865.10
Improvements	1,301.54
Department accounts	3,581.33
Individual and companies	1,160.79
Miscellaneous items	8,762.59
Total	$98,944.56

There was laid during the year 1,133½ feet of six-inch mains and 1,668 feet of four-inch mains. The entire waterworks plant now in the city consists of 127 miles, 1,622½ feet. There were 102 new services added to the system during the year, representing that number of new water-takers.

Revenue.—The water account for the year amounted to $97,181.15, deducting the amount of abatements already made and estimated for those which properly will be made before June 30th, when the water commenced year ends. The total revenue collected amounted to $75,228.56, an increase of $3,414.33 over the previous year.

The report of the city auditor shows the net cash revenue derived from the waterworks department to be $35,-761.81.

The special attention of the Council is called to the suggestions and recommendations of the superintendent, the construction of new settling tanks on the high line of the City Creek system, to take the place of the present dilapidated wooden ones, which through age and decay are liable to collapse at any time, and deprive a large number of water takers of their water supply. An increase of the water supply either from new sources or by the construction of reservoirs for storing the spring and early summer flow, improvement of the distribution of the water by putting in larger mains and abolishing the numerous dead ends in the present pipe lines, thus securing a better pressure throughout and hence a purer and more healthful water; preservation of stand pipes and connection to the city canal by which to obtain water for street sprinkling and thus relieve the waterworks system from the severe draught made upon it during the summer months for street sprinkling, the curtailment of the useless waste of water in large establishments by requiring the abolishment of the open flow into building, livery stables, manufacturing establishments, and many private houses, to supply and provide with water meters and pay for their supply of water by measurement; having the waste water so let into necessarily sprinkling of lawns, by taking a definite time in which to do such work and requiring the same private that irrigation water is now allowed. These suggestions, the result of the past year's experience in the department, are entitled to fair consideration.

STREET AND IRRIGATION DEPARTMENT.

In February, 1898, the Council consolidated the street and irrigation departments and the duties of superintendent of streets and watermaster are now performed by one officer instead of two. While at the time this was an experiment, the results have been quite satisfactory and beneficial that the wisdom of the movement is apparent to all.

Cost of Maintenance.—The report of the superintendent shows the cost of maintenance for the year have been $41,371.35, of which amount $11,309 was reported by police labor and $2,000 by police teams, leaving a net cash cost of $28,062.35. This shows a saving of $11,938.65 as compared with the cost of maintenance of the street department during the year 1897. This saving alone, for one year, seems to justify the adoption of the new system.

Poll-Tax Collections.—A large increase in the collection of poll-tax is shown. The amount collected in labor and cash during the year being $11,-000, an increase of $4,906.25 over the collections of 1897. Forty-one hundred and eight suits for the collection of poll-tax were instituted, and 22 yet remain to be filed, the balance being a small number of poll-tax delinquents to be $,731.

ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT.

Cost of Maintenance.—The report of the city engineer shows the cost of maintaining this department for the year to have been $12,837.57, deducting the receipts, which amounted to $2,-[illegible]60.61 leaves the net cost at $10,076.96, a decrease of expenditure as compared with the previous year of $2,652.[illegible].

Investigations and Surveys.—Considerable work has been done in this department in efforts to solve the water problem for the city. Surveys and investigations have been made with a view to remedying debris in the waterworks system, also looking to securing an additional supply of water, a necessity which becomes more apparent as the demand for it increases. The engineer's work on these lines is not yet completed, but I understand he intends at an early day to make a special report on the subject to the City Council.

In this connection it might be well to consider, if in the future it may not be necessary, in order to secure an ample supply of water for the city, to raise more money than is now in its power to do so, by issuing bonds to the limitations upon the borrowing power. Would it not be well, while the State Legislature is in session, to take the necessary steps to secure a change in the law, or the Constitution of the State, removing the debt-incurring prohibition, so far as to enable the people, in case the people hope, should they at any time so desire, of voting to incur an additional indebtedness of a limited amount, the money to be used exclusively for securing an adequate supply of water? I believe the voters of this city could be safely trusted with the power without any apprehension that they would abuse it or use it to their own detriment.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

Arrests.—The report of the chief of police shows that 2,676 arrests were made during the year 1898, which were disposed of as follows: 1,473 were convicted of various offenses; 94 had sentences suspended; 32 were cases pending at the end of the year; 740 were discharged and discharged, and 15 cases are still pending. In addition to the arrests, 56 children were restored.

Maintenance.—The cost of maintaining the department for the year amounted to $74,379.56, being a decrease of $1,345.36 from the year 1897. In the cost of maintenance is included the amount of a judgment against the city, obtained by T. J. Evett in the sum of $1,000, and costs from fines during the year was $14,-[illegible].

Number of Force.—The present police force consists of thirty-two men, including two detectives and six desk sergeants. The chief calls attention to the amount of work performed by this limited force, and expresses the belief that it would be impossible to secure the same results if the force were not composed of men who have been accomplished by hearty association and serious industry, vigilance and faithfulness.

City Jail.—Recommendations for a new jail have been made from time to time for many years past. There can be no doubt as to the necessity of such an improvement. The present jail is no credit to the city. I would again recommend a new structure, but, for the fact that our present financial conditions will not justify the construction of such a building as we should have, pending the time when we can spare of a small addition to the present jail, to cost not to exceed five or six thousand dollars, to be used for confining boys, females and others charged with minor offenses, who should not be huddled with and compelled to associate with the rough criminal class. The object for imposing fine and imprisonment for minor offenses should be with a view to reformation as well as punishment. The object can be better attained in the case of young people and those who are under arrest for the first time, by keeping such a place they to keep separate and apart from hardened criminals. I see that this important matter is also recommended itself to your honorable judgment, receive early consideration.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Losses by Fire.—The report of the chief of the fire department shows the number of fire alarms during the year to have been 212, the losses by which amounted to $[illegible]. The total insurance on the property burned was $41,[illegible] less than in 1897. The cost of maintenance for the year was $[illegible].

The following recommendations, submitted by the chief are here presented for your consideration:

The erection and enlargement of an engine house on I street, in the Fourth ward, and the purchase of 2,000 feet of 2½ inch fire hose.

The construction of three or more cisterns on Main street, to hold a supply of water for use in most emergencies, which may occur during the scarcity of water in the mains.

The purchase of waterproofs that can be worn by firemen and except in special cases.

LAW DEPARTMENT.

Suits for Damages.—The report of the city attorney shows the year 1898 shows that at the beginning of the year there were pending against the city 35 which have been instituted and commenced in 1898, 27, aggregating $[illegible]. During the year there were five tried, claiming damages amounting to $13,[illegible] and the city prevailed in three of the cases, the amount recovered amounted $[illegible]. Fifty cases were tried during the year, in which the city prevailed and were dismissed.

The Pacific Paving company obtained a judgment against the city for $7,-[illegible] and J. H. Smith at a judgment for $[illegible].

In the case of the Pacific Paving company the amount of the judgment was paid. The money to pay the same was collected by special tax, and the claim against the city was set at rest. The payment, so that the judgment in the case cannot rightly be termed a judgment against the city.

The other judgments had against the city amounted to $[illegible] from a total of fifteen suits, and the total amount of judgments against the city, including interest, amounting to $[illegible].

There are now thirty-eight cases pending in which the amount claimed is $[illegible], as well as the title to several parcels of land, which the city claims by prescription. Two cases are pending in which the city claims the water rights in Parley's Canyon creek. The city attorney's office makes a favorable showing of the work of the business of the city committee in it.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

Health Commissioner.—The report of the health commissioner shows that the city is in a very healthy condition. Reference is made to the condition of the sewers, from which our citizens are supplied with air. The commissioner suggests that section 5 of chapter 18 of the revised ordinances, requiring the removal of scale, ashes and other dirt more stringent, so that a better quality of ice may be furnished to the people, to secure more reasonably sure that no impure ice is offered for sale. In my opinion the ice in question is wholesome, and the recommendation of the commissioner should receive prompt attention. I would also call attention to matters pointed to attention as he suggests. Other important suggestions are embodied by the commissioner which I commend to your favorable consideration.

Cost of Department.—The cost of operating the health department during the year 1898 was $12,986, being $46.72 less than the amount allowed by the Council.

Sanitary.—The report of the sanitary inspector shows that the nuisance complaints for the past year were 978, a decrease of 399 from the previous year, which shows that the work of the sanitary department of the city has greatly improved. The cost of maintaining the sanitary branch of the health department was $4,811.21.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.

In my first message to the Council I expressed the opinion that there was very little work in this city of a character of public works, and I have seen no reason since to change my opinion. Whatever work of this character needed for such a board at the time of its creation, this is recently lost, in my opinion, owing to work done by the board, or caused to be done, by authority of the City Council. The work necessary under the supervision of the Mayor or Council committees, can attend to all the business of the city as well as it can be done under the supervision of a board. In order, therefore, that all city work may be performed by the superintendent of the several departments, I recommend the Council memorialize the present State Legislature to abolish the board of public works in all cities of the first class.

DEPARTMENT OF PARKS.

Cost of Maintenance.—The cost of maintaining this department during the year 1898 was $4,595.23, a reduction in expenses of $1,404.77 under that of 1897. The receipts for the year were $119.25, as against $[illegible] for the previous year, an increase of $[illegible].

Pioneer Park.—In my former message I recommended that Pioneer square be permanently dedicated to the public park. This suggestion was carried into effect. The city authorities, with appropriate ceremonies and named Pioneer park. This will be preserved for all time for the use and benefit of the people, that end of round where ever fifty years ago the hardy pioneers commenced to build Salt Lake City.

CITY CEMETERY.

Maintenance and Receipts.—The report of the city sexton shows the cost of maintaining the cemetery for the year to have been $[illegible], a reduction of $1,[illegible] from that of the previous year. The receipts during the same period were $[illegible], showing a net gain to the city of $[illegible], while for the year 1897 the net gain to the city for maintaining the cemetery was $1,[illegible] over and above the receipts.

OIL INSPECTOR.

Report of Inspector.—The oil inspector reports that 57,[illegible] gallons of oil in bulk, 25,[illegible] gallons in cases, 2,[illegible] gallons in tin barrels were inspected and tested, 1,[illegible] gallons of illuminating oil were rejected, and the amount of fees collected and converted into the city treasury from April 5th to December 31st, 1898, was $[illegible].

BUILDING INSPECTOR.

Inspector's Report.—The report of the inspector of buildings shows that 38 [illegible] were erected during the year. The estimated cost of the new buildings erected and the improvements made was $[illegible]. Twenty-[illegible] buildings were condemned and ordered to be strengthened and repaired.

PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Opening Books.—The public library of Salt Lake City, as established by law was opened to the public, in one of the large rooms on the main floor of the city hall on January 1, 1896, with appropriate ceremonies, which were participated in by many prominent citizens. At the opening the library contained about 2,000 volumes. Since then there has been added by purchase and donation about 2,000 volumes.

Cost of Maintenance.—The expenses of the library for the year for purchase of books, maps, papers, binding, salaries, etc., amounted to about $[illegible]. The large number of citizens who patronize the library are compelled to some extent, to pay for the reading room daily delinquent fees nightly these convenience are appreciated.

ILLEGAL COLLECTION OF FEES.

In my annual message last year I called attention to the action of the State Constitution which prohibits the collection of fees as compensation for official services. While the City Council has partially remedied this illegal action there are still some officers to whom the provision of the statute have been fixed, namely the building inspector, the sealer of weights and measures and the dog-tax collector. Outside of the constitutional prohibition I also call attention to the fact that if any officers were paid fixed salaries it would be independent of fees. The city would be benefited by the change, and the public would be better subserved. The injustice not to say absurdity of the system of fees is illustrated by requiring the building inspector to examine a building and then demand fifteen cents, which he will pay for the privilege. I again recommend that salaries be fixed for all officers, and that all fees be covered into the city treasury.

STREET SPRINKLING.

I had contemplated making some extended suggestions upon the important subject of street sprinkling but having learned that your committee on street sprinkling will report upon the same subject, I will refer you to it for consideration. I only refer to it briefly.

The contract system under which we have sprinkled our streets during the past year has proved but only very expensive, but very far from satisfactory. That there have been times when the city has paid for work and greater economy in the expenditure admits of no argument.

The amount paid for sprinkling during the year just [illegible] of this large amount $14,[illegible] or $1,[illegible] was paid to the firm of Ferguson and J. H. Griffin under a contract entered into by the previous City Council. The balance of the amount was expended under the provisions of special contracts for sprinkling during the dry season of the year. I am of opinion that better service can be secured for much less money by the performance of the work under the direct supervision of the sprinkling committee and under the immediate supervision of the street commissioner.

CITY AND COUNTY OF SALT LAKE

I beg to call your attention to the fact that the business of the county of Salt Lake and the business of the City are so blended that it is the nature of things to a large extent almost inseparably commingled and still we have two governments, two sets of officers with full sets of officers employed to carry on the affairs of the respective governments, which is a source of a great unnecessary expense, and works great hardships upon the taxpayers of the city. The citizens of the city are forced to pay a very large proportion of the taxes of the county, about 60 per cent, amounting this year to over $[illegible], and receive in return but little more than one-third of the money expended within the limits of the city, and with the large amount of taxes collected.

In some other places consolidation of city and county governments has been made with mutual benefit to both. Would it not be well for us to begin by the direction of consolidation. Why can it not be done here? I offer the question for your consideration, for the members of the County, and other citizens to consider, with the hope that in the near future a consolidation may be reached and a plan established through which a consolidation may be effected that will be found to be beneficial, under the title of the city and county of Salt Lake. If this suggestion finds your approval it may be possible that the work can be formatured so to justify asking the assistance of the Legislature to consummate the consolidation, to take effect when the terms of the present county officers shall expire.

The annual reports for the year 1898 of the heads of the several departments of the city government are here with submitted, which show in detail the working of their respective offices. I respectfully recommend that these be printed for the benefit of those who desire more particulars than are given in this message of the business statement. Respectfully submitted,

JOHN CLARK, Mayor.
