The Wool Market.

BOSTON, 26.—The wool market maintains the improved tone noticed last week, and desirable lots, fine fleece, are still sought after by manufacturers. Holders in several instances have refused to accept the prices previously current, and great confidence is expressed in the future of the market. London telegrams have had a favorable effect all around, and we see no prospect of getting cheaper wool from any quarter. Sales of California spring have been at full prices, rating mostly from 30 @ 43, as to quality.

Don't want a Third Term.

COLUMBUS, O., 26.—One of the resolutions passed at the Democratic State convention, yesterday, viewed with alarm the proposition to elect a President of the U. S. for a third term, and favored a constitutional amendment limiting the presidency to one term. Governor Allen briefly addressed the convention, and at the close was cheered as the next president of the U. S.

Fatal Duel—Suspended.

NEW YORK, 26.—It is stated that a duel occurred at Paris this morning, between the Cuban General Rosado, and Deconto, of the Spanish paper here, resulting in a fatal wound to Deconto.

Somaeborne & Co., German exporters, suspended to-day. Their liabilities are estimated at half a million, their assets at a quarter of a million.

A "Reign of Terror."

MEMPHIS, 26.—Dispatches from Humboldt and other offices along the line of the Memphis and Louisville railway, in Gibson Co., near the scene of the disturbance on Saturday, say that a perfect reign of terror exists in consequence of the excitement growing out of a mob taking six negroes out of the Trenton jail last night and killing them; the blacks and the whites are armed, and there is such dread of a conflict ensuing that the railroad officials find it difficult to prevent the employes leaving the road. Further news is anxiously expected.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., 26.—The following are specials to the Union and American:

"Trenton, 6 p.m.

"Armed men are pouring in from the country to find all quiet; scouts say they can't find an armed negro. Two of the six negroes found shot last night are still alive.

"Humboldt, 5 p.m.

"All quiet.

"Rickettsville, 6 p.m.

"The men are resting on their arms. All reports of armed negro bands and fighting in the country are believed to be false."

WESTERN.

Two Executions.

SAN FRANCISCO, 26.—At Shasta, to-day, John E. Baker, aged twenty-six, and Charles Crouch, aged eighteen, were hanged, the former for the murder of George Kline, a mail rider, in December last, the latter for the murder of Mrs. Radler, in January. On the scaffold Crouch said he had no statement to make; Baker said he had repented of all his sins, and hoped for forgiveness. Each exhibited great firmness, neither made any confession.

FOREIGN.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Russia Will Not Recede.

LONDON, 26.—Russia has again informed Germany that she sees no cause to modify her attitude towards Spain.

IRELAND.

Ireland Beaten.

DUBLIN, 26.—In the base ball match between America and Ireland, nine Americans taken from both clubs, played against six Irishmen assisted by three Americans. The Earl of Kendington was one of the players. The Irish were allowed five outs each innings. The Americans won 12 to 6. The clubs leave for Queenstown this evening en route for America.

FRANCE:

At Angers.

PARIS, 26.—President MacMahon has arrived at Angers.

Arrested.

The Carlist leaders Sparra and the Viscount de Latorre have been arrested by the French authorities at Port Vendres, on the frontier; they showed false passports, and have been taken to Perugueux, where they are now interned. The authorities keep a close watch on the frontier, and the Carlists are consequently straightened for provisions.

MacMahon Returned to Paris—Singular Discovery.

President MacMahon arrived in the city at midnight.

It is reported that during recent excavations at Amboise, the body of Leonardo da Vincia was discovered in perfect preservation.

The Congress—Going to Berlin.

BRUSSELS, 26.—In the International Congress the protocols of its proceedings have been read and approved.

The Prince of Wales has arrived in this city, on his way to Berlin.

PIOCHE NOTES.

From the Record of Aug. 22—

Last night war was declared among our colored citizens. About 7 o'clock p.m., two men named Steve Williams and Wilson Hankins became involved in a dispute about a delicate matter—something in the Ward Beecher line. The wife of one had forsaken her lord and flown to the arms of a more congenial affinity. The result of this impudent proceeding was a row between the deserted one and the Lothario who had superseded him in the affections of his charmer. Words brought on blows, blows caused weapons to be produced and used. We regret to say Steve Williams was shot in the face, inflicting quite a dangerous injury. Hankins, the antagonist of Stevens, gave himself up and is now in jail.

Yesterday we visited the Raymond & Ely works and found that preparations were being pushed forward with much vigor, for the reception and placing of the pumping machinery. Four gangs of men are engaged in enlarging the pump shaft, and they are making good progress. Three hundred and fifty feet of the shaft has been enlarged and is newly timbered. The timbering is being executed by R. P. Andrews, who is a most competent hand at that business. The work of preparing the timber is not slight and keeps four good carpenters busily engaged in getting them out. Considerable mechanical skill has been shown in planning and building a truss fifty-eight feet in length, intended to support the roof over the engines. It is the work of Mr. Lindsay. The operations are making as rapid progress as possible consistent with good workmanship, and under the intelligent and careful supervision of Capt. Day, Superintendent, and T. J. Andrews, Foreman, will be brought to a speedy and successful conclusion. From the mine no ore whatever is being raised.

Our Country Contemporaries.

Ogden Junction, Aug. 25—

On the 19th inst., a haystack belonging to Mr. Thomas Daniels, of Malad city, Idaho, was found to be on fire. There was a high wind, and the fire spread rapidly. Numerous willing helpers, however, succeeded in staying the spread of the flames, the damage being the destruction of a portion of the stack and a dozen cheeses within it for winter use.

This morning a gentleman residing at Low's premises on Wall street, was removing some bedding. His wife, unknown to him, had put a pistol under his pillow, half-cocked. While taking away the mattrass the weapon was accidentally discharged, the ball slightly wounding his hand and grazing his arm, which was bent at the time.

Alderman Thompson fined Mr. Wiggins $20 and costs for striking Nat. Leavitt, Jr., on the head with a pistol, and making a serious scalp wound.

Last Saturday, at Evanston, a youth, seventeen years old, who had been employed by a jeweller there, the day before, on account of his destitute condition, stole a thousand dollars' worth of his employer's goods, and hid himself. The railway train for Almy was watched, as it was supposed he would try and make his escape by that means. Just as the train was starting the thief was observed to jump into the caboose, and on reaching Almy the brakesman discovered him. The young scoundrel drew a revolver and fired at the brakesman, but he shot himself in the hand; he was then secured, and the train was backed to Evanston, where the thief was placed in jail. He had the stolen property with him, in two cigar boxes.

Ogden Junction, Aug. 26.

On Monday last James Ririe, Jr., of West Weber, was riding a mare and driving a mule rapidly before him, when the mule fell immediately in front of the mare, which in turn stumbled over the fallen mule, throwing the lad headlong, some distance, to the ground. The boy got up, apparently unhurt, and told how the accident had happened, when he became insensible, and remained so for four hours, despite all the assistance rendered by Dr. Murphy, who was in attendance immediately after insensibility commenced. When consciousness returned the boy had no recollection of his fall, and strange to say, the only mark of his accident was a slight scratch near the right eye, not deep enough to draw blood.
