M. I. A. LEAGUE CHANGE.

New Board of Directors to Conduct the Affairs of the Institution.

The M. I. A. League, which was established by the Mutual Improvement associations of this city a couple of years ago, and placed in the hands of an independent board of directors has been transferred to a new management.

The old board of directors have been under the impression for a considerable time that the interests of the institution could be best conserved by having it under the direct control of the ward associations of this city. To carry into effect a meeting was held on Tuesday evening last, at which the proposition was advanced. As a result a transfer of the institution with all of its assets and liabilities was made to the M. I. A. officers, who met the following evening and elected an executive committee to manage the affairs of the League in the future. The committee is composed of George A. Smith, chairman; A. S. Bonar, secretary; Angie Campbell, Max Taylor and John D. Spencer.

THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE OF UTAH.

Experiment Station—Press Bulletin.

Bulletin No. 52 of the Utah Experiment Station, by J. A. Widtsoe, has just been issued. Among other subjects it considers Dates. What makes well dates, and looks especially to plant growth; the chemical composition of dates from Arizona and California; some suggestions for inoculation and increasing the fertility of Utah soils.

Subject to the above, the results are the following: Not all substances found in soils are necessary to plant growth; some are necessary to animal life; many are useless; of Utah, were formerly under water; some formerly lived in the mountains, contain most clay. The soils along the middle of the valley are more sandy, although occasionally tracts of clay occur.

Cache valley soils do not differ much in composition from the majority of the soils of the arid part of America. They are abundantly supplied with all the essential plant foods, and, with proper tillage, will produce large or indefinite period. Phosphoric acid is generally most abundant.

There is less time in Cache valley soils than in any other, and district within the Bonneville basin. This is due to the freshing influence of Bear river, during the time of Lake Bonneville, which produced a precipitation so high from the level of the valley.

Bannock valley was not submerged at the time of Lake Bonneville. It was, however, filled with water at an earlier period.

The soils of Sanpete valley have been formed chiefly from the calcareous shales of the blue plateau of Utah, on the northern edge of which the valley is situated.

The general nature of Sanpete valley soils is that of a rather clayey soil mixed with an extraordinarily large amount of lime. The excess of lime changes the properties of the clay.

In comparison, the soils of Sanpete valley differ from recently analyzed soils of soils from other portions of the West Utah, in that they contain more clay, adhesive; they are not stiff, stickly different. They are extremely fertile soils that "cake" if not worked into perfect. As in Cache valley soils, the phosphoric acid is least abundant.

The large amount of lime in the soils of Sanpete county is due chiefly, to the calcareous nature of the mountains from which the soils have been made, and partly to the precipitation of lime from the water which once filled the valley.

Utah soils are remarkable from the abundance of Bitter Root. Their composition, especially of lime.

Utah soils, if treated properly, will last a long time without manure.

Utah soils are occasionally deficient in nitrogen. This should be added by growing leguminous crops, such as beans, peas, beans, etc.

Heed crops should be grown occasionally to make the plant food in soils more available for plants. Following serves the same purpose.

To keep up the fertility of Utah soils a rational system of crop rotation should be followed by the farmers.

Commercial fertilizers are not needed on Utah soils. Money spent on them is, as a rule, money wasted.

A copy of the bulletin may be obtained free on application to the director of the Experiment Station, Logan, Utah.

Relief Society Conference.

The general conference of the Relief Society will be held on Tuesday, April 5, 1898, in the Salt Lake Assembly Hall, in this city, meeting commencing at 10 o'clock a.m. and 2 p. m. as usual. It is very desirable that there shall be a representative from each Stake organization of the society, either the president or one of her counselors, should attend or appoint some one to act for the board. All members of the society are cordially invited, also the M. M. I. A. and Primary Association presidents, bishops, and brethren who can attend will be most welcome.

There will be an officers' meeting on Saturday, April 9th, at the same place, commencing at 10 o'clock a. m., and all officers of the society are urgently requested to attend.

By order of the presidency.

ZINA D. H. YOUNG, President.
JANE S. RICHARDS,
BATHSHEBA W. SMITH, Counselors.

From the Mission Field.

Elders W. F. Talley of Nephi, Juab county, and Byron Christensen of Mayfield, Sanpete county, have returned home from missions. The former left home January 11, 1896, and went to Southern Indiana where he labored with good results and enjoyed good health. He left for home with Elder Smith, on March 1898, and went to Wisconsin where he labored during the whole of his mission.

Among those who have recently returned from missions is Elder J. B. Moss of South Bountiful who has been laboring in the Southern States mission. Elder Moss reports progress in that section of the vineyard. He enjoyed good health and returns home in excellent spirits.

Elder John J. Gallacher of the Second ward of this city, who departed for the Indian Territory mission March 29, 1896, to labor in Oklahoma and Chickasaw returned home on the 16th inst. The prospects in those districts for effective missionary work are very promising. Elder Gallacher was compelled to return home on account of ill health.

Elder John F. Wright of Mill Creek, Salt Lake county, returned from a mission to Great Britain on Saturday last. He labored in the Welsh conference which he reports as being in a flourishing condition.

Elder James S. W. Frame of Taylorville, Salt Lake county, returned last week from a mission to Norway. He left home in Nov. 1897, is home again having returned on March 12. He enjoyed very satisfactory health while in Scotland.

Elder W. J. Hill of East Bountiful has returned home after an absence of eighteen months during that period he labored as a missionary in the Liverpool conference.

Elder Foster W. Jones of Nephi, returned from the Northern States mission, field of his labors, on Saturday, Jan. 15, 1898, and labored while away in the states of Indiana and Illinois, where he reports good work is progressing many of the people investigating the principles of the Gospel. Generally are conditions favorable in Indiana where an amicable conference was held recently. The Elders, as a rule, enjoy good health generally speaking and Elder Jones has little room for complaint on this score. He leaves for home Monday.

Heavy Cattle Purchases.

Fred Carroll, of Grand Junction, Colorado, purchased one hundred and thirty head of steers in this city last week and took them to Lexington from which place they are shipped to the great stockyards, Stockyards Station of Holden, and Mt. Lake, of Nephi, were also in town last week buying up cattle which they found to be different. We wish we could better supply the wants of our friends but it is great as it grows.—Millard County Progress.
