MINING, BUSINESS AND STOCKS

DULL DAY FOR MINING STOCKS.

With Few Exceptions Prices Were Inclined to be Lower During The Forenoon Calls.

DALY-JUDGE HOLDS ITS OWN.

New York Bonanza Weakened—Ingot Suffers Reaction—Closing Quotations and Sales.

The market for mining stocks was depressed today and, with few exceptions, the trend of prices was lower. During regular call only Beck Tunnel and New York Bonanza sold, the former at 8 cents, and the latter sank from 47¾ to 46¼ cents. Grand Central held its own in the bidding, but the stock had no demand. Daly-Judge improved some and one broker paid 6.75 for it on the open board. Daly-West, offered at 17.12½, found no takers. Ingot suffered a slight reaction, and dropped from 4 to 3⅞ cents. Reports from Mercur intimate that the strike in the Con. Mercur is holding out and that the Ingot will undoubtedly be benefited. But Ingot has never displayed very good staying qualities, and investors are a little inclined to be skeptical. Naildriver was active at 55 cents.

SHEBA CONDITIONS.

Directors Make a Statement to Shareholders of Corporation.

Notice of the initial assessment on the capital stock of the Sheba Mining & Milling company, operating in Humboldt county, Nevada, reached local shareholders during the day. Accompanying the notice was a letter from the board of directors, containing information relative to the physical condition of the mine. The letter says:

"The treasury stock has all been exhausted. The property has been operated as economically as possible. We now have about 4,000 feet of trackage, with cars and appliances, necessary for mining operations. We also have teams and facilities for hauling ore and material. We have constructed a dam to increase our water supply, and have over 5,000 feet of pipe line, a new air compressor and air drill. The new tunnel is in 1,100 feet, and is through the foot-wall of the vein, but has not reached the lime contact. We have cut, in the foot-wall, several fissure veins, the largest one being 28 feet thick, consisting of quartz, which is almost barren where it is cut. Another, 3½ feet thick, contains good ore where it is cut by the new tunnel.

"We are now prospecting for ore, and have run south and west to the cross fissure, where we have made an upraise to the 50-foot level, which runs from the old shaft. On that level there have been large bodies of milling ore exposed, through the draining of the water from the shaft, by the new tunnel. We are, at present, taking out milling ore and opening up that level so as to have access to shipping ore, which also is exposed there. We are also drifting on the vein south of the cross fissure, in virgin ground, where we have just struck a chute of good milling ore, which may at any time change into high-grade shipping ore. In fact, the dead work is now about completed, and hereafter our efforts will be to develop ore bodies. The tunnel on the Mammoth has been extended to within a short distance of the vein.

"We have had large amounts of milling ore exposed for a considerable length of time, but we have been unfortunate in getting our mill in shape to save the values. This was because we were unable, until recently, to secure a mill foreman, who understood the proper method of concentrating the ores. Recently, however, we secured the services of an expert, who, we believe, is thoroughly competent to save the values, and the mill is about ready for operation.

"The property is in such condition that it can be made to pay its way in a short time after the mill is in operation, and to accomplish this, at the earliest time possible, we have determined to levy this assessment, our other available means to continue operations having been exhausted. That we will be able, in the near future, to develop an excellent mine, we have no doubt, and, therefore, hope that all our stockholders will respond cheerfully to this assessment, and we desire to embrace this opportunity to invite every stockholder, who can possibly do so, to visit the property and see for himself what we have and what we have done."

KILLED IN OLD HICKORY.

Foreman Sam Potts Seriously Injured in An Accident Yesterday.

Special Correspondence.

Milford, Utah, Jan. 18.—A miner by the name of Clyde Baxter was killed in the Old Hickory copper mine this afternoon by being knocked from a bucket which was being hoisted just before firing a set of holes. Foreman Sam Potts and another miner, Frank Gulley, were with him and fell to the bottom of the shaft. Potts received serious injury, being badly bruised in addition to a crushed arm and broken shoulder. He was taken to the hospital in Salt Lake tonight. Gulley escaped with only slight injuries. Supt. Freudenthal was in Salt Lake at the time of accident having been called there to confer with President Mucklow. This is the first accident of serious consequence that has occurred in the Majestic properties under the present management.

NEW DISTRICT LOCATED.

Two Discoveries Made in Panament Mountains.

Several strikes of more than transient importance have been reported from the country to the southwest of Bullfrog, in the Panamint range of mountains, says the Goldfield News. A. V. Carpenter, one of the best known prospectors of this section, arrived in camp from there the early part of last week and reports two discoveries that promise to create a genuine excitement and development into producing mines. The first one was made on Dec. 15 by Paggett and Harris, who have opened up three ledges of quartz from two to six feet in width that show considerable quantities of iron oxides and some copper stains. Twenty-four assays taken from different points on these ledges gave returns ranging from $8 to $176 in gold in addition to some values in silver and the baser metals.

Mr. Carpenter arrived in the district a short time after the Paggett and Harris strikes and located a group of claims upon which he has opened up some very good ore. The values are about the same as on the original discovery and there is every indication of permanency. He has opened up two ledges along their strike at different places and in each instance very satisfactory values were encountered.

The general formation of the district is granite and porphyry, with occasional dykes of lime. Some of the ledges are contacts while others appear to be intrusive, cutting clearly through the formation. All of the oxide ores pan well.

A district has been formed and named the Gold Belt Mining district. Mr. Carpenter has been chosen district recorder. The scene of the discoveries is about 35 miles from Keeler. There is a good wagon road within six miles of the camp and an abundance of water and timber near at hand, two very important features in mining.

Mr. Carpenter left Goldfield last week Wednesday for the new district to more extensively open up his holdings. Just before leaving he informed the News that he had received reports that picked samples from the Paggett and Harris property had been brought into Beatty and assayed, showing values of from $18,000 to $22,000 per ton. He states there were about 70 locations in the new district before he left.

NEW OGDEN COMPANY.

Will Operate a Mine in Nye, County, Nevada.

Special Correspondence.

Ogden, June 18.—A new mining company, with $100,000 capital stock, has been incorporated here and the articles of incorporation filed with the county clerk. The name o fthe company is the Little Franklin Gold Mining & Milling company. Its principal place of business will be Ogden City. The company is formed principally to work a number of mining claims situated in Cloverdale canyon, Nye county, Nevada, and known as the Little Franklin, Irene, Gold Standard and United Gold claims. The $100,000 capital stock is divided into 1,000 shares of the par value of $100 each. The officers elected to serve until the first annual meeting are John F. Smith, president; James C. Gasburg, vice president; Emory A. Smith, secretary and treasurer.

CAPT. LAWRENCE ON SEVIER CON.

Says Excellent Results Are Being Obtained At This Gold Mountain Mine.

MILL IS NOT LARGE ENOUGH.

But Present Plant Was Put Up for Experimental Purposes—Machine Drill Ordered.

Capt. H. C. Lawrence, manager of the Sevier Consolidated mine in the Gold Mountain mining district, is preparing to leave for camp again.

To a "News" representative today, Mr. Lawrence stated he is in daily communication with the mine, and that everything is running along smoothly there. The mill, which is a combination plant—cyanide, concentration and amalagamation—is behaving splendidly and he has no complaint to make about the results being obtained. "The only trouble is," said he, "the mill is not large enough. But the present plant was put up as an experiment." Now that it has demonstrated that it is a success, the company will probably figure on the erection of a larger one at no distant day.

The Sevier ores carry values to the extent of anywhere from $6 to $25 to the ton, and when asked if the whole would average $10 to the ton the captain replied that it would do fully as well as that.

Capt. Lawrence has ordered an automatic gasoline drill, which is due to arrive from the factory some time next week. The machine is something new, but the captain believes it will meet every requirement.

SUED UTAH CON.

Nils E. Erickson Asks for a $10,000 Judgment.

Nils E. Erickson, a former employe of the Utah consolidated smelter, has brought suit against the company for personal injuries and ask the court to give him judgment for $10,000 damages. He states in his complaint that he fell down the coal chutes at the smelter. He was standing on a car unloading the coal, when another car collided with the one on which he was standing. He was knocked off the car and fell down the hole. He says that his ribs were broken, his right arm was crushed, and that he suffered, as he believes, permanent injury.

RICH GULCH COMPANY.

Articles of Incorporation Filed in Office Of Secretary of State.

The articles of incorporation of the Rich Gulch Mining company, formed to operate a group of claims at Silver City, Ida., were filed in the office of the secretary of state late yesterday afternoon. The capital stock is 500,000 shares, of a par value of one cent each. The officers and incorporators are: Donald McDonald, president; Hadsell Dye, vice president; Fred H. Perkins, secretary and treasurer, who, with A. F. Stevens and Dean West, constitute the board of directors. Messrs. Hadsell and Dye, reside at Silver City; Dean West at Boise. The other officials are residents of Salt Lake.

Suit to Quiet Title.

Former Governor Heber M. Wells, Rulon S. Wells and Mary Ann M. Case, are named as plaintiffs in a mining suit which was commenced in the district court yeterday. The defendant is one A. G. Green.

The suit is to quiet title to a claim called the Tulare lode claim, in West Mountain district. The complaint says that the defendant is the owner of the Highland Boy fraction and claims for it a portion o fthe Tulare Lode, owned by the plaintiffs. They ask for an injunction to restrain Green from interfering with the ground or taking out any ore pending the decision of the suit.

CONCENTRATES.

The Grand Central has some ore on today's market.

Manager D. C. Jackling of the Utah Copper company is in Bingham today.

President John Dern of the Consolidated Mercur Gold Mines company returned from a trip to Cripple Creek yesterday.

The ore and bullion settlements reported late yeterday were as follows: Crude ore and concentrates, $105,000; base bullion, $79,000.

Local officials of the Bingham Con. are busy making up their annual reports, which are to be forwarded to the Boston officers of the company.

Capt. E. E. Rogers, manager of the Pearl Mining company's properties at Pearl, Ida., was in the city yesterday en route to Chicago, after an inspection trip to the mines.

President DuBois of the Yankee Con. Mining company is expected to reach the city next Sunday, to be in attendance at the annual shareholders' meeting on the following day.

Reports from Ogden convey the information that a reorganization of the La Plata Mining company has been affected. Dr. Withee has retired from the management.

M. J. Owens, better known as Mike Owens, a noted mining man in Nevada for about 25 years, passed away last Saturday night at 11 o'clock in the Miners' hospital. Mr. Owens was an old-time miner in Virginia City, and about 15 years ago was president of the Virginia Miners' union, during which time and after he did valiant service in the cause of unionism.—Goldfield News.

READING THE CHIEF FEATURE.

Misgivings Over Its Feverish Movements Undermined Feeling of Confidence

PENNSYLVANIA WAS A FACTOR

Threats of a Strike Affected it Adversely—Railroad Stocks Generally Strong.

New York, Jan. 19.—Stocks opened active and higher today except Pennsylvania, which fell ⅝ on the threat of labor troubles, and its affiliated stock, Baltimore & Ohio, which lost a small fraction.

Misgivings over the feverish movements in Reading, which advanced 3¼ to 89⅝, undermined the feeling of confidence at the opening and the market reacted. Some of the favorites were depressed half or more below last night, and Amalgamated Copper, which had risen to 76, fell off to 75. The subsequent erratic fluctuation of Reading which covered a range of 2⅝, disturbed sentiment, and the market made but little headway upward when support appeared. Ontario & Western made a rapid rise to 45⅝ before 11 o'clock, but the list generally remained heavy.

A rise of a point in Erie arrested the decline for the time.

Reading continued to fluctuate between 88 and 89. Stocks generally displayed a better tone, the continued demand for the Eries having a strengthening effect. Erie touch 41½ while the first preferred rose 1⅜. Northwestern also moved up 2½ and Steel Foundries 2 and the preferred 3. Reading rallied 1¾. There were gains of a point in Erie second preferred, American Express, Pacific Mail and Steel Foundries, 2 in Pere Marquette and 6¼ in Federal Mining. The selling on the Erie strength forced down Union Pacific, Baltimore & Ohio, the Chicago Terminal stocks, Republic Steel preferred, Pressed Steel Car and Linseed preferred a point. The market was dull and steady at noon.

Railroad stocks showed more strength, especially St. Paul and New York Central, which were lifted a point. Pere Marquette preferred sold 2 points higher and Pullman similar amount lower. The coal stocks were quiet and responsive to the Reading fluctuations, which were narrow during the past hour. Kansas City Southern preferred advanced 2½.

WESTERN MARKET LETTER.

Special Correspondence.

Kansas City, Mo., Monday, Jan. 16.—Fed steers broke 15 to 25 cents last week, presumably on account of too large a supply of them, but really because too many were centered at Chicago Monday and Wednesday, thereby giving buyers at all points an excuse to bid lower. The week closed strong, but with a net loss as indicated above. Cows and heifers sold strong all week, and gained a little, stockers and feeders about steady. As usual, most of the branded stuff was fed steers, which sold at $4 to $5. Some steers fed at sugar mills in Wyoming sold on Tuesday, the low day of the week, at $4.05, average 1,164 pounds. Some Texas steers, fed nearby here, sold at $5, 1,400 pounds. The top natives sold at $5.50, and sales above $5 were scattered. Fat Oklahoma heifers sold at $4, and cows at $3.40. Range stockers and feeders ranged from $2.80 to $3.85, the latter price for 850 pound Panhandles. Supply today is 5,000 cattle, market strong to 10 cents higher, in spite of the fact that Chicago has another big Monday run of 32,000, and lower prices. Buyers had the same excuse today as last Monday for bidding lower, but there was too much competition, showing that market is healthy and indicating strong future prices.

The short number of sheep and lambs on feed in this territory is being felt in the reduced supplies. Run last week 15,500 head, about three-fourths of same week last year, and not enough for the demand. The first really good lambs of the season came in today, and sold quickly at $7.40. They were 89-pound lambs from Monte Vista, Colo. Other lambs from same place today sold at $7 to $7.25, 68 to 75 pounds. The best yearlings last week sold at $6.50, western wethers sold at $5.50 today, ewes bring $4.60 to $5. The opening of the Nelson Morris packing plant here last week has added 15 per cent to the buying force here, for all classes of live stock.

DAILY GRAIN LETTER.

Messrs. Logan-Bryan of Chicago telegraph their local correspondents, James A. Pollock & Co., over their private wire, on the grain and provision situation, as follows:

Salt Lake City, Jan. 18.—Chicago—Wheat—Outside markets continue to send discouraging news on the cash situation reporting markets dull with no demand. Market opened fractionally higher and though nervous through most of the session, seemed to hold a fairly firm undertone. Trade continues extremely light with absolutely no significance on either side. The weakness in outside markets had a depressing effect and holding in check what little bullish enthusiasm traders in this market seemed to have. Nothing in the action of the market today or the news received would warrant us in changing our ideas on the market. We still feel the short interest is large and scattered while the long holdings are concentrated and well held.

Corn—Moderate short covering induced by persistent buying by prominent cash and elevator concerns was the feature. Trade is quiet with very little outside business. We continue to feel that the future course of the market will be determined by receipts which just now are extremely light. At the moment it looks like a scalping market to us.

Oats—This market ruled firm in sympathy with corn and influenced somewhat by small receipts. We are unable to see any improvement in this market.

Provisions—This market continues to be a scalping affair and we look for nothing better than a scalping market pending the change in the hog situation.

LOCAL MARKETS.

There is a scarcity of fish in the local market on account of the heavy gales blowing off the Californian coast, but in a few days there is no known reason now why the market should not be replenished. Contrary to expectations, there are no changes in the grain and flour markets. There is a slight rise in poultry, and pork and veal are up a point, wholesale, and eastern eggs are down a quarter per case. Utah rhubarb is the only thing new in the vegetable market, and is selling at 20 cents per pound. Prices obtaining today, in the markets are as follows:
