How About This Letter?

AUBURN, OHIO, May 27.—Diligent search has failed to unearth the letter claimed to have been received here February last by Anna Nystrom of this city, from Acton Tennessee, one of the supposed victims of Pat. Francis Rennan. Miss Nystrom states positively that the letter was addressed in the handwriting of the minister and that the contents of the letter were in the handwriting of Miss Simonson. She cannot give the date of the letter or postmark on the envelope and is inclined to believe the letter was not mailed for several weeks after written by her friend. She now claims the letter has been destroyed.

Police Court.

Aaron Love and M. McCarthy were arraigned in the police court today for burglary, they having been arrested for breaking into and pilfering a confectionery stand located at 161 West Second South and the property of Frank Thomas. The county prosecutor moved their discharge and it was so ordered, as there was not sufficient evidence to make a case against them.

C. C. Van Horn, Phillip Spence and J. Russell each had the misfortune of being arrested for drunkenness and each made a forfeit of $5.

John Lundwirts for vagrancy in which he pleaded guilty, was sentenced imprisoned for five days, while J. L. Smith for disturbing the peace was discharged.

RETURNED MISSIONARIES.

Reports of Gospel Work In Tasmania and England—A Company of Saints.

Elder F. W. Ellis, whose home is in North Ogden, and who has for the past two and a half years been laboring as a missionary in Tasmania, arrived in this city this morning in charge of a company of emigrating saints from different parts of the antipodes.

Elder Ellis left home on Nov. 6, 1893, having been called to open up the Gospel work in Tasmania, after it had been closed for a period of nearly fifteen five years. He was accompanied by Elder L. C. Pond and wife, and the two brethren have labored assiduously during their absence in spreading the Gospel message to the people residing in that portion of country. On their arrival they found that those who had joined the Church so many years before had either passed to the other side or emigrated to this country, so that the work had to be begun anew. It took some time to break down the barriers of prejudice that were existing, but by persistent efforts and the help of the Lord they succeeded in accomplishing the desired end, until at present the prospects are bright for a good work being done there.

Elder Ellis spent some seven weeks in traveling through Victoria and Melbourne, and a short time in New Zealand. He returns in good health and feels that his labors have not been in vain. The personnel of the party, some of whom stopped off at their different residences in Idaho and elsewhere, is as follows:

F. W. Ellis, L. C. Pond and wife, Louie E., also two children born to them in Tasmania, Lucinda Tasma and Gladys May; O. W. Lewis, missionary from the Victoria conference, Australia; R. H. Reilly, missionary from the Queensland conference, Australia; E. O. Bat, missionary from Canterbury conference, New Zealand; Emigrating Saints—Mark and Mary Ann Menzies from New Zealand; W. J. Brooklyn, Victoria, Australia; Leah S. Holmes, Tasmania; George and Mary J. Wilson and family of six, and Thomas and Louie E. Jackson and family of two, all from New Zealand.

Elder Thomas A. Howard of Big Cottonwood arrived in this city this morning, returning from the British mission. He left home for his field of labor on March 16, 1894, and during his absence did duty as a traveling Elder in the Newcastle conference, England. The work, he says, is improving in that part of the Lord's vineyard and the missionaries are laying many warm friends. The prejudice of the times seem willing to investigate, and the prospects are that ere long many honest-hearted people in that vicinity will make application for baptism. Elder Howard sailed from Glasgow on the steamer Ethiopia April 8th and the voyage of four days in crossing the ocean on the steamer Anchoria was a very pleasant one. He spent some time in visiting friends in Brooklyn, N. Y., otherwise he should have arrived home much sooner than he did. His health has been splendid while away.

WEATHER AND TEMPERATURE.

The weather forecast for tomorrow is officially put forth by Observer Hurlbut today, is fair and temperature stationary. Today's temperature is shown in the lay made thermometer given below.

WHO IS J. F. FLANIGAN

Evidently a Salt Lake Man With a Mental Affliction.

RECORDS A VERITABLE MADMAN

At Hot Springs, Arkansas—Papers in His Pocket Indicate that He Was in This City Recently.

Special Correspondence to the NEWS.

HOT SPRINGS, Arkansas, May 24.—The object of this writing is to notify the friends and relatives of Joseph F. Flanigan that he was at Hot Springs, Arkansas, yesterday (having met—as story is told to me). He arrived there about a week ago and hired to the people who keep the hotel to work in the garden. On the night of the 21st they say he got into his mind. Some young men told me they had examined his pockets to find out where he came from as he had never told where, and that he had a receipt showing that he had paid taxes in Salt Lake City May the 5th, 1896. He went out of the town in a southeasterly direction alone and through the woods. This is about all I know of the case.

Pomona, Missouri, is my home and should any of his friends desire to write me they can address me at my home office.

JOHNSON WARDS.

The question that arises is, who is Joseph Flanigan? The latest city directory gives the name of Joseph Flanigan and his occupation as that of a waiter at 20 east Second South street. A NEWS man today called at the restaurant that is conducted at that number, and from the proprietor, H. B. Anderson, learned that the Joseph Flanigan referred to in the directory was Joseph F. Flanigan, who worked for him until he was obliged to discharge him on account of temperamental at intervals, caused, he claims, through domestic troubles. The man was about 35 years of age and had a very large nose. He was discharged in November last after an attempt to carve the night man up with a butcher knife. Subsequent to this Flanigan went to Mercur to wait on a table there. He sent out his situation, however, and was at different times employed as an "extra" while in his lucid intervals. But finally he went away and Mr. Anderson, who thinks he is the same man described in the letter to the NEWS, lost sight of him. A little later, on account of his mother-in-law, he was arrested at Oregon and sent to jail. However, through the efforts of Mr. Schettler, the banker, who had a mortgage on a piece of his property, his person was granted by Mayor Goodfellow. Then he left for Florence, Colorado, from which point he about a month ago sent the interest on his mortgage. Since that he has not been heard from so far as known. His wife is said to be in Denver.

Different inquiry at the various tax collecting offices today resulted in ascertaining that no receipt was issued on May 5th of this year, to Joseph F. Flanigan or any other person, as contained in the above letter to the NEWS. It is possible that the receipt was not a tax receipt at all, but a paper notifying to the payment of money for an altogether different purpose.

DEFENDS THE "MUDDY."

Straight Denial of Disadvantages Recently Charged Against That Valley.

To the Editor:

Having read a communication in your issue of May 22nd, entitled "The Muddy Valley," by O. H. Barnes, and regarding said communication as unfair, misleading, inaccurate, and being in every way calculated to discourage prospective settlers from locating in said valley, I beg you will allow me space in your valuable columns to answer the same, and to give my version of the Muddy valley.

I have resided at Overton during the past eight months, and expect to make my home there. I am in every way pleased with said country and can conscientiously recommend it to all who are looking for a location, and I believe the majority of people who have located there are well satisfied with their location.

The climate is healthy, and I have not seen a case of sickness since I have been here, and I believe there is less sickness here than in any place I have lived in for years. The nights are always cool, and we have had no hot weather to speak of, and I believe we will be free from the malaria so prevalent in other places.

The soil is very productive, and will produce all kinds of fruit and vegetables in great abundance. The fruit in the valley this year is unlimited. July and August are quite hot. Fruit of all kinds has to ripen in August. Vegetables and garden stuff do well. Grapes of all kind yield heavily, producing from forty to seventy bushels per acre. Corn, oats and cotton are also good crops.

The Muddy valley proper runs in a northwesterly and southeasterly direction and average four or five miles in width, by about twenty in length. A large per cent of the land can be profitably cultivated. There is considerable mineral in the valley, but much of this I am confident can be extracted by a proper system of oil flotation and lixiviation. There is sufficient water to irrigate all the tillable land provided it is properly used and an economical scientific system adopted. So far there has been sufficient water for the settlers that no claims has been in vogue, each one having free access to the streams whenever he desires; but last summer the Muddy Valley Irrigation company was organized and the various holdings of land and water by said company. The subscribers have as well transfer their rights to the company, and the by-laws provide that all coming into the company during a reasonable time shall share equally in the waters of the Muddy stream.

The land is all taken up, but there is plenty of good land for sale on reasonable terms, ranging from five to ten dollars per acre, while improved land is held at twenty-five and thirty dollars per acre, though at the latter there is perhaps but little or none for sale. Since the greater portion of land in the valley is subscribed to the irrigation company, unless purchasing land square without subscribed cost their water right also. Mr. Charles Cone, formerly of Los Angeles, is president of the M. V. I. Co. and the owner of a large tract of land. He also holds in trust as legal representative quite an amount belonging to other parties, which can be purchased on reasonable terms. Mr. Charles S. H. Morris is establishing an extensive nursery and in a year or two will be able to supply fruit, shade and ornamental trees, grape and berry vines, bulbs, plants and flowers, at a reasonable cost.

The Muddy valley, in my opinion, has a tangible future before it, and offers many more advantages for home making than other climates do. Last summer Elder Francis M. Lyman visited the valley and blessed the land and the elements for the good of the Saints, and it is my firm belief that it will be blessed. Many young men in our country are growing up, we are raising families and using out an almost miserable existence, would do far better to my opinion to locate on the Muddy, decide for themselves a little farm on which they could make a home for themselves and by diligent labor and by the blessings of a kind providence, peace and plenty would smile down upon them.

The whole valley at present belongs to one ward, presided over by Bishop Andrus, who resides at Overton. There are, however, two branches, one at St. Thomas, presided over by George Whitney, counselor to Bishop Jones, and one at St. Joe, presided over by Joseph Hunsaker. I know that the settlers in the Muddy are kind, sober and industrious settlers will be received with open arms and made truly welcome.

And now, Mr. Editor, before closing allow me to correct some of the inaccuracies contained in Mr. Barnes' letter.

First—As to the population of Overton, he says there are eight or ten families, while to my certain knowledge there are twenty or more.

Second.—St. Thomas also has more families than the gentleman names, and Harry Cooley is the postmaster, not David Cox.

Third.—The gentleman says there is neither church nor school in the valley. While there is no church and school building, other than tents, yet services are held regularly every morning, and three schools are supported five or six months in the year. A school house is under way at Overton, and it is hoped will be completed this fall.

Fourth.—He says it is the most dusty country in the West, while my experience has proved it to be the contrary. I have not enjoyed the best of health for a number of years, but I can truly say that since my sickness into the Muddy Valley to the day I left it, I never enjoyed better health, and excepting a slight cold I did not experience a sick day. The people and children are as a rule healthy, and say Mr. Barnes should say to the contrary I cannot imagine. There has never been a case of any kind of contagious disease in the valley other than whooping cough, and the cases that I am aware could not be contracted by the same disease of sickness in any place in the West. Not ever six deaths have occurred during the past ten years, and the greater portion of these were totally disabled upon their arrival in the valley. There has been and is lots of talk about the diseased souls and swamp, but they are not near so bad as represented. New settlers coming in generally have a turn at them during the first summer, but after becoming seasoned they are relieved with them no more, and even new comers, by following hygienic rules, could prevent to a great extent the chills and fever.

Fifth.—That Dixie or Dixie land do not know more of the land, and do they hold a monopoly of the water stock, are so far and encouraging settlement, Mr. Barnes is mistaken. I am sure that the large land holders and the people in general are anxious for the valley to become settled and will do all they can to encourage it.

Sixth.—The production of grass is so trifling that livestock cannot live in the winter, so he is way off. I bought hay on the 2nd day of last month for 11 cents per pound and coffee for 20 cents. Hay has sold for $9 and $10 per ton. Dry goods are higher than they are on a railroad line. But I can say to the prospective, Mr. Whitmore and Mr. Cook, that their prices are not a cent than the place in many settlements in southern Utah that are much nearer the railroad line.

The Muddy valley has received and always must still receive a little rubbish in travelers and roving wanderers who are never contented anywhere, and who take delight in blowing newspaper journals they happen to patronize. As one of the readers of the DESERET NEWS who may desire to obtain information about the Muddy country, I refer to T. J. Jones, Chancellor, Cone & H. Morris, Bishop Andrus, Hyrum C. Hoopy and George Angell, all of Overton, Logan county, Nev., and George Whitney and Harry Cooley of St. Thomas, and Joseph Hunsaker and Henry Hall of Logan, Nevada; and I, also, I believe will gladly furnish any information that may be desired.

Boils

It is often difficult to convince people that their blood is impure, and that the eruptions, blotches, boils, scrofula sores or salt rheum are merely proof of the fact. It is wonderful how, in almost every case, Hood's Sarsaparilla does the work.

Impure

Blood, so long as it remains impure, will produce such eruptions and suffering.

"I had a special outbreak which appeared on my face and neck. The doctor said it was an impure condition of the blood. When the eruption came on I was very weak. I thought I would try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles and it cured me. I recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all who have impure blood." MRS. ANNIE ROSSER, Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

Blood

Will be set free from all impurities by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best blood purifier. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a concentrated extract of the best medicinal roots and herbs, and is the most economical blood purifier to buy. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which it can be truly said, "One dollar bottle contains more than two fifty cent bottles."

Hood's Sarsaparilla

NEWS OF THE MINES.

A Statement of Mining Affairs in Central Arizona.

THE VERDE COPPER COMPANY.

A Mine Which Shows Ore to the Value of $50,000,000—Trading on Change.

Mr. C. J. Obert, a prominent mining engineer of this city, has just returned from Jerome, Arizona, where he has been inspecting the properties of the Verde Copper company, which owns the richest copper mine in the United States.

The gentleman has nothing but words of the highest praise for the properties he has been exploring and states that at present the company has over $50,000,000 worth of ore in sight. Last year the mine yielded over eight million dollars in ore, while this year will witness the taking out of double that quantity, for which purpose the smelter has been enlarged and its capacity doubled. On its payrolls the company has 350 men—sufficient alone to conduct quite a settlement—and all are kept constantly employed in extracting and working the vast deposits of wealth-bearing rock.

Speaking of mining in general, Mr. Obert says that in and about Central Arizona, where the Verde company's properties are located, new camps are being pushed up and mine yielding highly in copper, gold and silver are being developed and registered daily. The country abounds in mineral bearing lands and many people are becoming well-to-do in being interested in mines and mining.

TRADING ON 'CHANGE.

Gentlemen Still Bull with the Bulls and Bears.

Dullness still exists on the stock exchange. Today was as it has been during the week—the stocks failed to bring out any material degree of interest, and, in use a backneyed expression, sales were almost as scarce as hen's teeth. Homestake, a property located in the Tintic district, gave what little there was to the day's proceedings in two sales aggregating 7,000 shares, the stock bringing a figure of 5 cents per share. The listed stocks gave in the trading a transfer of 100 shares of Iles at $2.10. Mammoth still maintains its lofty position, while Mercur shows a slight revival in the bidding, but holders of it make a demand of $7.10 for the stock. The remaining stocks of both classes stand practically unchanged.

The closing figures were as follows:

AMERICAN FORK NOTES.

Most Satisfactory Issue of the World Sure of the Silver Block.

A. H. Bowman of the Will Dutchman Mine has returned today from a business trip to Salt Lake, where he has been looking after some new machinery for the mines.

In management of the Will Dutchman property has received twenty-five letters of inquiry during the past few days, all concerning the prospects for American Fork canyon.

A mineral wealth syndicate of Ogden people is in the field in American Fork canyon. They have purchased the Silver Bell property and want the gold and pick will be used with much vehemence.

So much boom is being experienced in the mining line in American Fork that the people up that way have concluded they want a mail route and a petition is soon to be circulated asking for one.

It is stated that many years ago ex-Mayor Baskin of Salt Lake and other gentlemen with him prospected very much in the entire body to a gulch leading out of American Fork canyon. They did not succeed in finding any ore that was valuable enough to justify any activity in that locality, the best ore only assaying $9 per ton in gold. There was no way of handling ores of that value at a profit, and so work was suspended and the locations abandoned. Last spring this ground was relocated by the North Consolidation Mining company, of which E. B. Jones is one of the prominent men, and on Monday a force of men will be put to work on the property. A tunnel will be driven into it and the company expresses the belief that in a short time its property will be added to the list of producers in American Fork canyon. Bowman assays obtained by the management showed the presence of gold to the value of $8 and $9 in the crushed material, while after concentrating a valuation of $14 in gold was obtained. In another vein in which Bishop is a spotted quartz, that is confined to spots assays show a valuation of $5.80 in gold. The property adjoins the Live Yankee, at which property the ore carries as much as $40 in gold, together with some silver and lead. Senator Jones is of the opinion that with development the same quality of ore will be found in the Nora, and to that end work is to be actively prosecuted.

P. J. Brittain from St. Joseph, Mo., and head man of the Live Yankee mine, is expected to arrive here today. He has about decided to locate his new office here as he will be near the mines, besides he likes the town and the people.

The Park City parties who were endeavoring to get a lease on the Miller mine did not succeed. It has been turned over to Wing & Chearwick, however, and they will work the property this summer for all it is worth.

Parties interested in a strike of unusual magnitude, with the ore running high in silver and lead, together with a small amount of gold, were brought in from American Fork canyon last night by A. H. Bowman, manager of the Will Dutchman. The new find was discovered from some portions of the group, Manager Bowman who with his company has a lease on the group, succeeded in prospecting in new ground. Accordingly a hole was started and a few feet below the grass roots a small seam of ore made its appearance. The seam followed up and when he left the ground yesterday several tons of ore were upon the surface identical with that in the rich ore stringers of the Will Dutchman, that yields $100 per ton. Some of this ore was brought in by Manager Bowman whose company is composed of Mr. Joe Jones and assays will be had before he departs for the canyon again.

A five-foot body of ore, carrying from 30 to 50 per cent manganese, 7 per cent iron, 27.5 per cent silicon and from $4 to $8 in gold to the ton, is reported to have been discovered in the King lode, one of the Star Gem Mining company's possessions in the Tooele district.

"ABATE THE NUISANCE."

Chief Devine So Ordered by Sanitary Inspector Greenewald.

Sanitary Inspector J. J. Greenewald has issued a pronunciamento to the effect that Chief Devine must abate the nuisance of allowing his men to sleep in, or in any way occupy the west portion of Fire House No. 1, for as the official document reads, "it is unfit for man or beast to sleep in"—that is in sanitary condition. The chief is given fourteen days in which to remedy the existing defect and if he fails to comply, he will be handled as the law directs in such cases.

When asked by a NEWS reporter as to what they thought of the mandate, some of the members of the department were emphatic in pronouncing it a step in the right direction. "I give you this 'confidentially,'" says one, "but it is a fact that our sleeping apartments are even worse than the city jail, which is often termed 'the bughouse.' There is not a night that passes but what the little creatures array themselves in all positions and begin a merry game of football with the Frenchmen as the pigskin sphere. I tell you we're in a bad fix and it is all due to the sad condition of the building to which we are allowed to sleep."

The NEWS may suggested that a little sure-pop might be used with good effect, but it only brought "way blue your soul! Shall we stay well, they live in luxury and get fat on it."

OGDEN.

OGDEN, UTAH, MAY 27, 1896.

The Ninth Man Killed.

Yesterday during the noon hour a man who had just started to work for the Power company in Ogden canyon was struck on the head by a large rock from a blast which caused his death in a few moments. The man was unknown. He was inside a tent and had started to leave when the rock crashed through the canvas and struck his head. The name of John Mollens was found on the leaf of a pass book which was in his pocket, and on the inside of his right trousers were tattooed the initials J. W. Nine men have already lost their lives at the Power Dam works.

Notes.

Yesterday was letter day at the Weber club. A most enjoyable time was spent. About 250 guests were entertained at Mr. Allison's and Ben Holt, Presidents Willard Woodruff, Geo. Q. Cannon and Joseph F. Smith, Bishop John R. Winder and M. A. Woodruff, who were in town on a visit of inspection to the Plain City irrigation ditch, Dutchman, Ben Holt and others, also and also held a business meeting.

Mr. Walker West, while shooting on Twenty-fourth street, high-seed a double team coming in from the country. His wheel was caught by the runaways and completely demolished. Mr. West was not seriously hurt.

Low Vitality

means a condition of health very susceptible to disease. If there is a hereditary tendency to Consumption or Scrofula it will manifest itself at that time.

Scott's Emulsion

stands for strength, for vitality, richer blood, stronger nerve power. The time to take it is when you feel you are losing flesh, when you feel "weak," run down. It never fails to arrest wasting and fortify against disease.

Complete Recovery by the Use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of the close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, and unable to look after my interests, and experienced all the symptoms of a disease. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to one hundred pounds. Since then, I and my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I believe this drug would have been introduced long ago if it had been for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, of which preparation I cannot say too much."—H. O. HUNGE, Proprietor and Planter, Kinard's, S. C.
