PROVO.

PROVO, UTAH, JAN. 24, 1895.

A Depraved Old Man.

Yesterday afternoon George Hartley, of Springville, an old man about 60 years of age, was brought before Justice De Mulsey on a charge of rape. The evidence of Billie Pearl Hoots, a ten-year-old child, was to the effect that in May last she was induced by defendant to go with him into a back room of his jewelry store, and that he there made a vile attempt upon her. The mother of the girl testified that the child came home sick and was given a bath and put to bed, and she was all right next day.

About two weeks ago some other little girls reported that Hartley had taken improper liberties with them. Then Billie Pearl told of her experience, and the arrest of Hartley was the result.

He was bound over to await the action of the grand jury in $1,000 bonds. It is not believed he will be able to give bail and is now in the county jail.

Miss Cousins' Lecture.

Miss Fannie Cousins lectured last evening at the opera house on the "Silver Conspiracy." On account of the stormy weather, and for the reason that several parties were in progress in various parts of the city, the lady had a very small audience. She gave a very eloquent and instructive lecture upon financial questions, showing that the present financial stringency was a result of the demonetization of silver, and the determined effort of capitalists to compel the people to continually pay them interest on the gold. The lecture was interspersed with illustrations of women's patriotism and ability, and closed with an appeal to let women have chance to help straighten out the financial wrangle, especially as each has shown himself totally lacking in the requisite qualifications to do so.

OBITUARY NOTES.

JOHN COLLINS.

OGDEN, Jan. 22, 1895.—Elder John Collins was called away to a brighter life January 12, 1895, from the infirmities of age, increased during the last five years by the pains of an old wound.

He was born in the city of Bath, Somersetshire, England, October 31, 1808. During his childhood he exhibited a remarkable talent for music, and at the age of fourteen years he joined the band of the North Somerset militia, as a drummer-boy, remaining in the regiment for about fifty years. He filled the offices of sergeant-major and adjutant, and was also appointed sergeant-at-arms to the 16th lodge, which position he held with the lodge of his religious belief, I. O. O. F. He was led to investigate the Gospel through the labors of Elder Thomas Brown, of North Ogden, and was brought into the work and baptized by Jedediah M. Grant, in the year 1856. He was baptized twice in his life, once together with his wife, his children and his sister, by the late Bishop Abraham Hatch, of Provo.

He was ordained a priest in Utah, traveling in the company under Elder Lorenzo Snow, of Ogden, and settled in Weber County, where he resided both after Brigham's death and before the death of his first wife, which occurred in Ogden, living in the Fifth ward, quite comfortably, passed the usual trials and painful sensations arising from the outlaw of his polygamous wives.

Numerous friends and relatives of the deceased assembled on the 15th inst. in the Fifth ward meeting house, Ogden, to pay the last respects to the remains of the departed. Among the speakers were Bishops M. T. Brown and Hutchinson, Elders George F. Hunter, John Henning, Thos. Tippetts and W. H. Wallace, President Elder C. F. Middleton of the Weber Stake Presidency. A local testimony was borne to the unblemished character of the deceased, in quiet music, and an amazing wave of sympathy, tinctured with sorrow, was felt by the assembled throng. The spirit was full of harmony, and all who sought for solving consolation had no reason to feel that their hopes were deceived. The hymn was opening and close, by request, "Oh, my soul, be joyful, for the Lord has done wonders for thee." Interment followed in the Ogden City cemetery, the grave being made by the sexton, Mr. Wm. Hyde, and the pall bearers were Messrs. Wm. Hyde, Jr., Wm. Hyde, Thos. Hyde, Jos. Hyde, Jas. Hyde and Alexander Hyde, sons of the deceased, who lived with their father, and who had been faithful to the last in ministering to his comfort and administering to his needs. The deceased was married to Miss Sarah Ann Hyde, who survives him, and who has been a faithful companion for over 50 years. She died on the 15th of January, 1895, at Ogden, aged 63 years, 1 month and 17 days.
