

Logan.

Wm. Thorpe; Jemima, John, Jemima, Elizabeth and James Stevens.

Utah.

Rebecca and Clara Ellen Thorpe.

Spanish Fork.

Frederick Cox.

Milford.

Flora Harvey; Mary E., Edith Anne and Amos Sidwell.

New York.

Ann Jane, Arthur Stanley and Ellen Sherwood; Thos. J. and John H. Stevenson; David Wailes; Richard Downes; John Measures; Mary Ann Matthews; Rowland and Brigham Williams; Alice Hackwell; John and Wilson, Hannah, Jane Ann and John Mabey Foster; Annie Wells; Jos. Benwell Jane Bond; Elizabeth, Wm. L. Susanna, and Sylvia Williams; Thos. E. Bennett.

RETURNING MISSIONARIES.

J. Alma Smith, John A. Druce, Angus McKay, Wm. Jex, John Cartwright, Leo H. Clawson, Wm. B. Bennett, Geo. Goddard, Llewellyn J. Mantle, Andrew Villet.

STRENGTH OF THE COMPANY.

British Emigrants,	153.
Missionaries,	10.
Total,	163.

LOCAL NEWS

FROM THURSDAY'S DAILY, NOV. 13.

New Law Firm.—Henry H. Rolapp, Esq., formerly of this city and lately of Montpelier, Idaho, has taken up his permanent abode in Ogden, where he has entered into a law partnership with C. C. Richards, Esq. These two gentlemen will make a full team in the legal profession, and we wish the new firm of Richards & Rolapp prosperity and success.

Baptisms in Sussex.—Elder James W. Paxman, son of President Wm. Paxman, of Juab Stake, writes to his father from Uckfield, Sussex, England, September, 26th, that he has lately added four members to the Church by baptism, and has a good prospect of baptizing three more in the near future. The young man is enjoying his mission and is full of the spirit of his calling.

Robbery at Ogden.—About eight o'clock last night, in the neighborhood of the railroad depot at Ogden, Mr. S. S. Gates, a book agent, while on his way to the Central Hotel, was attacked by a couple of highwaymen. One seized him by the throat and the other held a pistol close to his face. They went through his pockets and relieved him of a pocket-book containing $35. A ten dollar bill which was in his vest pocket, escaped the notice of the robbers. The ruffians tore Mr. Gates' clothing in the struggle incidental to the robbery. He communicated the facts of the affair to the Ogden police who are on the lookout for the highwaymen. Mr. Gates came to this city this morning.

PARIS POINTS.

EARTHQUAKE INCIDENTS AND OTHER JOTTINGS.

Brother Richard G. Lambert, of this office, who is traveling through the "north country" in the interests of the News, sends us a few interesting fragments picked up in Paris, Bear Lake County, Idaho. He begins with last Monday's earthquake of which we have already heard something.

Says he: "This quiet town was startled this morning at ten minutes to two o'clock by an earthquake. The shock lasting at least half a minute. It was quite severe, causing ornaments to be thrown from shelves and a rattling among dishes. It was preceded by a rumbling sound resembling, as much as anything, a runaway team with a heavy wagon, or a heavy train of cars. It cracked the walls of houses and the first shock was followed by four lighter ones.

The town was thoroughly startled, some thinking that the end had come. One young man who drives a team, imagining it was running away, awoke calling out "Whoa! Whoa!"

In the office of Woolley Bros., a heavy clock was thrown from the top of a safe to the floor and broken. Sundry articles were cast from the shelves in their store.

The shock seemingly passed from north-west to south-east, and was felt at Evanston and north of here along the Oregon Short Line. At Soda Springs and Pocatello the shock was heavy and was felt at other places as well.

The Stake Conference convened on Saturday and was concluded last night. The Saints had an enjoyable time and the instructions were very timely and seasoned with the spirit of God.

The weather is very pleasant and favorable for this altitude.

Business remains quiet, though there is a good market for stock. At present there is very little demand for other products of the country.

The health of the community is good except with those who got scared at the earthquake.

EAST INDIAN MISSION.

INTERESTING NOTES FROM ELDER WILLIAM WILLES.

The Elder named above, in a letter to Elders George Goddard and Robert Campbell, dated September 18th and written from Wellesly Street, Calcutta, Hindoostan, says:

"Since our arrival (seven weeks ago) we have distributed a sugar-sack-full of tracts we brought with us, to the people here; and in every one of them I have written my name and address. But we have not had a dozen enquirers call at the house, and not one has yet asked for baptism.

"The Indian Daily News has inserted long and favorable articles from me, and also the Statesman and Friend of India.

"We have preached in the open air to large congregations of natives and whites, and a few meet us and shake hands, but alas they have not yet broken the ice.

"We have only had two invitations to eat; one from Brother George Meik, son of the late Dr. Meik, and the other from Mr. Owen Aratoon, son of a deceased member of the Church, who died about two years ago.

"Yesterday I wrote a four-column article on Utah, by request of the editor of Gup and Gossip, a learned Hindoo, who has no affinity with the pious "Christians" and caters to liberal thinking people of all kinds.

"Since our arrival we have had a letter from a sister, three days' journey by rail; also from a young brother, chief steward of an ocean steamer, who visited us at Brother Booth's and gave us dinner on board his ship. Day before yesterday a young German brother from Kiel, named B. Dahlen, came from Burma (Rangoon); he is slightly acquainted with a gentleman, a German also, in good circumstances, who sent us a very kind letter of enquiry, which I answered, informing him of my willingness to go there provided he would pay my passage; we are daily expecting his reply.

We assemble with Dr. Booth and his family for prayer, reading the scriptures and singing, with short teachings from us in turn. As yet we have no place for public preaching, but the editor of Gup and Gossip has promised to get us the Star Theatre in a short time.

Last week I lectured for nearly an hour in Albert Hall, belonging to the Brahma Samaj, the reformed Hindoos, who have stolen the Bible and make it their text book, but will not affiliate with the Christians; they want to "paddle their own canoe," but there is a near prospect of a split among them, for they are on the keen reach for something new all the time. The hall would accommodate 500, and we had about 20, and two of them read newspapers the whole time.

Last night a half-drunken grandson of Brunel, who built the Thames tunnel, and son of the builder of the Great Eastern, having read our tracts, shook hands several times when I had finished speaking, and said: 'Brother Willes, if you will pay my passage to Utah I will go there right away. I have read your books and believe they are true.' He then mounted the bench, and told the audience that we were a much-abused and innocent people, and wound up by saying: 'I would rather go to Utah than to the workhouse, and got down amid roars of laughter. I then gave a tract to a fine looking, educated Mahomedan, who accepted an invitation to my room, as I spoke well of his prophet. He let out that, as soon as the Russians set foot down in the British Indian dominion, his associates would join them and take the country from the British; he said that the British and Hindoos were combined, and were robbing the poor working men of the country. I believe, in a little over two years, or, if the Empress should die before that time, there will be a worse time here than when the Sepoys mutinied in 1857.

Part of my audience last night had been listening with thousands of others to a Mohamedan preacher. They assemble every evening before sundown and listen with great attention to their preachers.

If the honest in heart wish to gather to Zion, they will have to hurry up. Ever since our arrival, the spirit of prophecy has pointed out a terrible and early calamity for India. If this should be in the near future, our faith is that the Lord will give us timely warnings so that we can make good our escape. We are under no fears on the subject, for when we shall have finished our work, the Lord will do His part.

"My whole soul is in the work and the boys all feel the same. My health is amazingly improved. We all observe the Word of Wisdom, and are united. All join in love.

FROM FRIDAY'S DAILY, NOV. 14.

Recovering.—Stephen Smith, of Midway, Wasatch County, son of Mark Smith, who accidentally shot himself in the abdomen a short time ago, is progressing favorably toward recovery.

Wanted Immediately.—Two skillful and experienced—girls or women—power loom silk weavers, and one man, a hand loom silk weaver, can find employment by applying at the silk factory on City Creek.

Burglary in Farmington.—The Co-operative Store at Farmington was burglarized on Wednesday night, and between $200 and $300 in cash taken from the safe, which was broken open, besides some canned goods abstracted from the shelves. The thieves then took a hand-car on the railroad and rode on it towards this city as far as the Hot Springs Lake, where they dumped the car off into the mud and took to the road. No clue has yet been obtained. The tools with which they broke open the safe were taken from the railroad section house at the Farmington depot.

From the Sandwich Islands.—This morning we received a visit from Elders F.W. Marchant, of Peoa, and J.B. Rhead, of Coalville, Summit County, who returned this morning from a mission to the Sandwich Islands. Both left here for that part of the world three years ago to-day, November 14th. The first named spent about half the time on the Laie plantation and the other half in preaching on the several islands of the group. Brother Rhead was almost wholly engaged in the traveling ministry among the people. Both had good success, having made a goodly number of additions to the Church by baptism. They enjoyed good health while on the Islands, and return in that condition as well as high spirits on account of being once more at home. They left all well in the mission, which is in a condition of prosperity. The voyage from Honolulu to San Francisco, per steamship Alameda, was quick and prosperous, lasting six days and twenty-one hours. They remained a few days on the Coast sight-seeing before starting overland for this point. Elders Marchant and Rhead expect to remain in the city till Monday, when they will leave for Summit County.

The Abortion Case.—The examination in the Irons-Fowler-Evans abortion case adjourned last evening, shortly before 6 o'clock, until 10 o'clock Saturday morning. As stated yesterday, the witnesses put on the stand were the Pratt family and Lizzie Evans Irons. The examination of the latter lasted until 1 p. m., and was noted for the apparent effort put forth to shield the defendants Irons and Fowler from the consequences of the terrible crime with which they are accused. When shown the affidavit, signed by herself, in which before her marriage with Mr. Irons she charged him and Dr. Fowler with procuring the abortion upon herself, she acknowledged it as her signature but claimed that she did not know what she was doing when she signed it, being sick and delirious at the time. It is said, however, that she showed remarkable clearness of mind and memory on all points that might be construed favorably to the defense.

No point was made by the defense as to the ineligibility of the witness to testify against her husband, and indeed there was no need of it, in view of her sudden change of attitude in the premises. The entire afternoon was used up in an ineffectual attempt to break down the testimony of Mr. Milando Pratt, with which our readers are familiar. The cross-examination to this end was conducted by Mr. J. L. Rawlins. The examination adjourned over to-day, to permit a number of the lawyers engaged in it to attend to pressing business in the Supreme Court, which continued its session this morning.

HABEAS CORPUS.

RUDGER CLAWSON BROUGHT BEFORE THE SUPREME COURT.

Rudger Clawson, the defendant in the case of the United States vs. Clawson, tried and convicted of polygamy and unlawful cohabitation in the District Court, sentenced on both counts of the indictment to four years' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $800, and then remanded to the custody of the Marshal pending his appeal to the Supreme Court, was brought before that tribunal this morning on a writ of habeas corpus, issued on application of the defendant's attorneys last Monday, and made returnable at 10 a. m. to-day.

The object of the writ was to bring the matter of the defendant's right to be admitted to bail before the full bench of the Territory, and have it decided by that tribunal whether Judge Zane did right or not in refusing to release Mr. Clawson on security, pending the action of the higher court.

Judge Emerson, who was too ill to be present on Monday, had sufficiently recovered to be in attendance this morning, and the writ having been returned and Mr. Clawson brought from the Penitentiary before the court, the arguments were commenced. They are substantially the same as made a week ago yesterday before Judge Zane, on the question of admitting Rudger Clawson to bail.

Mr. Kirkpatrick opened for the defense and spoke from 11 a. m. till 12:30 p. m., at which time recess was taken till 2 o'clock. Mr. Dickson for the prosecution will follow Mr. Kirkpatrick this afternoon, the latter not having quite concluded his argument before recess.

Mr. Rawlins, of the counsel for defendant, in the case of the United States vs. Joseph H. Evans, also convicted of polygamy and remanded without bail, will be the last speaker, it having been agreed by counsel in both cases to argue the two together and let the decision of the court in one case apply equally to the other.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY, NOV. 15

The Immigrants.—The company of immigrants in charge of Elder J. Alma Smith, passed through Chicago a hal-past 8 o'clock last night. All well. Elder George Goddard is with the company.

The Manti Murder.—A special to the News, received at 3:15 p. m. to-day states that the examination of John Farmer and John Follett, charged with the murder of Hans Ottosen, had just been completed in the justice's court, and they were bound over to await the action of the grand jury. Bail was fixed at $5,000 each.

Self and Pelf.—A case is before the Police Court this afternoon, in which a boy named Fred. Self, of the Eighth Ward, is accused of stealing a cow belonging to Louis Oviatt, of the Nineteenth Ward, and selling her to May & Guiver, butchers, who killed her for beef, without knowing that the "critter" had been stolen. The boy, it seems, took the cow to them with the representation that his mother had sent him to sell it for the purpose of raising enough money to pay her taxes. The tale was so simply told and seemed so probable that the butchers were completely deceived and so paying the boy his price, $25, they had the cow slaughtered.

Mr. Oviatt, in the meantime, had missed his cow and began seeking her. He first looked through all the streets and stray-pens and finally came upon a hide and pair of horns at Knight's slaughter house, which he recognized as those once worn by his young bovine. Mr. May, on being spoken to, at once went with Mr. Oviatt to the Police Office and reported the matter, and the result was young Self's arrest. It transpired that the tale about his mother's taxes was a falsehood, as she, poor woman, knew nothing of the affair, the young reprobate having spent the money entirely upon himself, and his sorrowing parent not dreaming till now that her son was dishonest. He bought a watch, a valise and some books with the money, which articles were taken from him by the officers who arrested him.

Death of William Parkinson.—The name of William Parkinson, of Dunster Farm, near Bury, Lancashire, is familiar to many of our readers. He was the husband of Mother Elizabeth Parkinson, who died some time ago, and though not, like her, a member of the Church, he was always a kind friend to the Elders who traveled that way. The following is from the Millennial Star of October 27th, being an excerpt of correspondence by Elder E. T. Woolley at Dunster Farm, and dated October 12th:

"I learned to-day of the death of William Parkinson, which event took place at Chatburn, Lancashire, October 3rd. He was 77 years of age, and was actively employed in his farm duties until a short time before his death, which occurred while he was on a visit at the home of one of his daughters. He possessed many good traits of character, among others that of hospitality being prominent; he has also been honest and upright.

He never embraced the Gospel, but he has ever well treated and administered to the wants of the servants of God who have been in his house. From the time that Apostles H. C. Kimball and Orson Hyde were preaching the Gospel here until now, has this worthy man extended a welcome hand to the Elders who visited him. He is the father of five children, who are now living—three sons and two daughters. One daughter, the wife of Brother Jesse Hopkinson, has lived with him during late years on the Dunster Farm, and has been a comfort and solace to him in his declining years, also rendering great aid to him. He was very much attached to his family, and particularly this daughter last mentioned. He first resided in Chatburn, afterwards at Tottington, then at Ramsbottom, and finally at this farm, at all of which places he has kindly made provision for the lodging of the Elders from Utah. Although not possessed of sufficient faith himself to embrace the Gospel, he will certainly reap the reward of those who minister to the prophets and disciples of Jesus. His wife, Elizabeth, was a faithful member of the Church, well known and spoken of by many prominent Elders. He was buried at All Saints Church, Elton, with the wife he so much loved and respected.

BAIL DENIED.

END OF THE HABEAS CORPUS PROCEEDINGS IN THE CLAWSON, EVANS AND EVANS CASES.

The arguments in the habeas corpus matter, affecting the case of the United States vs. Rudger Clawson, and that of the same plaintiff vs. Joseph H. Evans, closed last evening. The powerful argument of Mr. Kirkpatrick, of the counsel for Mr. Clawson, extended, as before stated, into the early part of the afternoon session. He quoted numerous authorities upon the position of his side that the defendant could not legally be punished before his case had been heard in the higher court on its appeal, and pointed out that the imprisonment Mr. Clawson was now undergoing differed in little or nothing from that which he would suffer when his sentence was finally affirmed, if such should be the case. He referred also to the great delay consequent in reaching the Supreme Court at Washington, and said his client might remain in prison for three or four years before his case could be taken up.

He was replied to by Mr. Dickson, who spoke for about an hour. The gentleman was suffering from a severe headache, and it evidently affected his diction, which was less forcible and clear than usual. He said that the case might be heard in Washington within the next six months, a provision being in existence in the United States Supreme Court rules by which criminal cases could be advanced under certain circumstances. He held that it was a great temptation to a man who had received such a sentence as Mr. Clawson's to avoid the law by decamping, and reiterated that the question of bail was entirely within the discretion of the court, and that if the defendant were allowed to go on bail the Court would surely make an abuse of its discretion.

Mr. Rawlins, in behalf of the defendant Evans, addressed the Court for about thirty minutes, reviewing the evidence and principal features of the case.

The court then adjourned until 2 o'clock to-day, with the understanding that the Judges would ponder upon the matter over night, consult the authorities cited by counsel, and render a decision at that hour.

Shortly after two o'clock to-day the court re-opened and Chief Justice Zane rendered a decision, most of which was written, wherein he stated that it was the ruling of the full bench of the Supreme Court of Utah Territory, that the defendants Rudger Clawson and Joseph H. Evans be not admitted to bail, and that they remain in the Marshal's custody pending the hearing of their cases on appeal. Mr. Clawson, who has been in court while the matter was being argued, was then taken back to the Penitentiary.

EXAMINATION ENDED.

THE ABORTION CASE SUBMITTED—THE ACCUSED PARTIES HELD TO ANSWER.

The preliminary examination in the Irons-Fowler-Evans abortion case, which has occupied the time and attention of Justice Spiers' court for the past four or five days, closed at twenty minutes to 12 o'clock this forenoon. It had been resumed at 10 a. m., from Thursday evening.

The first witness placed upon the stand this morning was Mrs. Milando Pratt. This lady was recalled for purposes of additional examination by the prosecution, but was not interrogated more than two or three minutes, and was then excused.

Dr. Hamilton was then sworn for the prosecution. His testimony was of a damaging character to the defense. Lizzie Evans, as has already been seen, had admitted the use of certain instruments upon her person by Dr. Fowler, shortly before the alleged abortion was consummated. Dr. Hamilton was called on to testify as to the nature of said instruments and the object of their use in the surgical profession. The witness stated that the use of such instruments would be very dangerous in a case where there was any reason to believe the patient was pregnant; and the use of any instruments at all in such a case would be considered bad practice.

He was also asked as to the condition he found the patient in himself when he made an examination of her last Tuesday. This was objected to on the ground of confidential communications between doctor and patient. Mr. Dickson claimed that there were exceptions to the rule referred to, and that this was one of them. But the Court held that the question was inadmissible, as it would violate the confidence existing between the physician and the patient under his examination.

This closed the investigation, the defense offering no evidence, and the matter was submitted without argument. Judge Spiers decided to hold John W. Irons and Dr. Allen Fowler in bonds of $5,000 each, to await the action of the Grand Jury. Sureties were furnished, and the accused persons were given their liberty.

Whether the present Grand Jury will take the matter up remains to be seen. Mr. Dickson, in objecting to a continuance of the examination last Tuesday gave as one reason, that the Grand Jury was then in session, and the prosecution wished the matter to be put right through, so it could go before that body before they adjourned. The testimony is now being transcribed by the reporter, A. H. Winn, with that object presumably in view. It will be several days before it is completed, however, and it is doubtful that the matter will get before the jury before the middle of next week, unless they take it up independent of the testimony and subpoena the witnesses on their own account. The latter is the usual mode of procedure with our Grand Juries.

Neal Murphy, the horse thief confined in the Helena jail, M.T., made his escape on Thursday of last week.

At Butte, M. T., Frank White is out in a challenge to fight any man in the Territory, Jack Waite preferred, under any set of rules, for a purse of $250.

The reported disease among calves and yearlings on the Montana ranges was greatly exaggerated. It is believed that the stock was poisoned by wild parsnips.

John Lloyd, a railroad engineer on the Montana division of the Northern Pacific, who had been sick for some time at St. John's Hospital, Helena, died on last Sunday evening.

R. B. Wilson, special live stock agent of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, says that the cattle on the Montana ranges are in an exceedingly fine condition and promise to winter well.