FOR AND AGAINST.

Additional Communications on the Anti-Sheep Measure.

THE GOVERNOR'S VETO ASKED

By a Long List of Citizens Who Oppose the Bill.—A Compromise Suggested.

The following additional communications on the anti-sheep measure have been received by Governor Thomas:

FROM THE CORN RAISERS.

To the Honorable the Governor of the Territory of Utah:

A bill having recently passed both houses of the Legislature of Utah Territory now in session, the same being designed to effect the Fifth section of the organic act, by the amendment to the sheep law, prohibiting the herding of sheep, cattle and horses within one mile of any stream that flows through a town or settlement in this Territory.

We, the undersigned, business or farm men, Utah, respectfully request and petition that you veto said bill, for the reason that we are satisfied that the passage of said bill will be the means of driving the sheep industry of this Territory, and also the industries of the Territory, all that its effects will be to destroy the sheep industry.

We respectfully represent that the sheep industry in this Territory which is the Territory each year foreign capital in the neighborhood of five million dollars, and that the same is one of our largest producing industry in the Territory. That the money brought in by sheep, contributes largely to the prosperity, and is the way of bringing money here to pay produces more than all other industries in the Territory.

We consider that if this legislation stands upon the books it will reduce our revenue, and all of the revenue based upon wealth in the Territory, besides withdrawing from the channels of trade great sums of money, and would place a chattel mortgage.

We further represent that we are satisfied that no good results or benefit of any kind or character can result from the enforcement of such a law.

SIGNS AT THE GROUND.

To His Excellency, Arthur L. Thomas:

Dear Sir.—I herein inclose you the H. F. No. 10 as passed both Houses and then presented to the Council. It is because a law is in force which would work a great hardship to the sheep industry of southern Utah. Most of our valleys are so wide enough to pen our sheep and make a safe fence for the animals. Cannot be anyone where the water are scarce (usually), but just one or two in this country. I look upon this as a business and directly of the sheep industry, knowing that such a law would drive much of the herds from the Territory, and the cattle and horses have been driven out late in the season rapidly enough. I have when sold in all, and about as much in one as another. It would be a great loss to us, and I would not be surprised if, knowing that there will be the bill with all grounds heard, I should be in the minority. I would not be in a position, but
