A LONDON BUDGET.

The Political Situation Causing Apprehension in England.

TURKEY CAUSING THE TROUBLE.

Portugal's King Visits the Queen—Barney Barnato, King of Kaffirs—The Duke of Marlborough.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—Copyrighted 1895 by the Associated Press.—The diplomats of Europe are still tossing upon a sea of uncertainty. Throughout the week the political outlook has been murky and threatening to a degree not experienced for such a length of time in years past. Then again the atmospheric conditions which have prevailed here continues, fogs and rains have added to the feeling of depression, giving London the gloomiest week for a long time. And as if it were not enough to give anybody the blues, the speeches which several of the cabinet ministers have made during the week in various parts of the country have not been calculated to enliven the decreasing spirits of the average Britisher. The ministerial utterances have been pessimistic in the extreme, no glint of sunlight having streamed through the clouds.

The gravity of the political situation is recognized on all sides and therefore the speech which the Marquis of Salisbury is to deliver at the lord mayor's banquet at the mansion house this evening is awaited with the greatest anxiety.

The feeling of apprehension is not decreased by the fact that it is known that the naval estimates which will be presented to the House of Commons when that body reassembles will be unprecedented in magnitude and importance.

The Times in a leading article on the subject yesterday, which is attracting much attention, said: "England can brook no rivalry in naval armament."

The above remark to a certain degree sums up a situation which for Great Britain is perplexing and dangerous beyond any exaggeration.

CURZON'S INDISCRETION.

The apparently rather indiscreet speech which the Hon. George N. Curzon, under secretary for the foreign office, delivered at Derby, in which he alluded to the evident break-up of Turkey, has created much of a sensation abroad, and especially in Berlin, where much significance has been attached to it, as if it had been delivered by the marquis of Salisbury himself. That something will soon have to be done by Turkey or for Turkey, in order to restore order in Armenia where anarchy prevails, nobody for a moment doubts. Between this and the partitioning of the Turks, which are among the powers is the wide gap. The Turk is indolent, cruel and poor, and fond of pitting one power against another while carrying on his alleged policy, but the Turk is capable of doing some hard fighting against the best troops of Europe if the religious fanaticism of the Mohammedan is aroused.

THE KING OF PORTUGAL.

King Khama, of Southern Africa, after supplanting Nasrulah Khan, of Afghanistan, as the lion of the hour, has in turn taken a back seat and King Carlos, of Portugal, now has the lead in attraction in the royal and other circles. His majesty was the guest of the prince and princess of Wales at Sandringham, where they are entertaining a large party. Since shortly after arriving in London from Germany on Tuesday last until yesterday evening when, after enjoying a day's shooting on Thursday, King Carlos started for Balmoral in order to visit the queen.

SNUBBING THE KAFFIR KING.

There has been much adverse criticism over the dinner which the retiring lord mayor, Sir Joseph Renals, Bart., gave in his official capacity at the Mansion house on Thursday last in honor of Barney Barnato, the lucky ex-circus man who is just now running a financial circus of his own with the bulls and bears of the London stock exchange, as the "leading attraction." The invitations of Sir Joseph Renals's banquet read that he was anxious to felicitate the Kaffir king on his "recent courageous, honorable and successful efforts to avert what might have been a serious financial panic."

Barney's efforts consisted in bolstering up his own securities, different grades of "Kaffirs" as the African mining and banking shares are known. The former lord mayor's action was naturally generally resented and the prominent members of the banking and mercantile community who were invited to the feast politely declined for various reasons to be present.

The Times, and indeed all the leading newspapers, severely criticise the retiring lord mayor, whose connection with public companies aroused such a storm of protest when he was elected and which it is supposed will continue his speculations when relieved of office.

The Westminster Gazette yesterday afternoon devoted its principal leader to the subject, and said: "There is one Englishman who successfully combines in his own person the two attractions which appeal the strongest to the English—dollars and a peerage, and when the duke of Marlborough returns, bringing his sheaves with him, the new lord mayor should publicly receive him to the streets of London."

The Alaska Surveys.

BULLETIN, New York, Nov. 9.—A special to the World from Washington says: The state department will today (Saturday) receive from General Duffield, chief of the coast and geodetic survey, a report of the surveys in Alaska which are the basis of the boundary line claim of this government. The report will show that the Canadian line encroaches on American territory twenty-two and one-half feet at the Forty Mile creek and twenty-two feet at the marking point on the Yukon river. Mr. Ogilvie the Canadian engineer, who made the survey for the government, it is claimed was too far west by these distances in his calculations of the 141st meridian.

Mr. Ogilvie, who is a deputy land surveyor of Canada, made his calculations as to the points at which the 141st meridian, which is the boundary line, crosses the Yukon, and Forty Mile creek solely by astronomical observations. The United States surveys used both the sextant and the theodolite, and the result of both calculations was the same.

The report will be used in the diplomatic correspondence that will probably be had with a view to determining the exact boundary line.

Ezeta Issues a Circular.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—A special to the World from San Salvador says: General Carlos Ezeta has issued a circular denying the government's charges against him. He complains that it was unjust to confiscate his properties.

TRAFFIC IN HEIRESSES.

American Girls Regarded as a Commercial Commodity.

Ten Thousand Dollars Offered for the Right Article by a French Prince.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—An American heiress with $2,000,000 and a desire for the title of princess may communicate with Pastor J. Berger of the Roman Catholic church of Leopold, Perry county, Indiana. The $2,000,000 must be in cold cash or convertible securities.

Lawyer Albert S. Warner, of this city, a couple of days ago received the subjoined letter written in French on the official note paper of the church in question:

"Sir—Hearing that you take charge of affairs of all kinds, I would like you to undertake to bring about a marriage in regard to which I beg to make the following proposition: A young French prince, a friend of mine, desires to contract a marriage in America with a young person (jeune personne) who has at least $2,000,000. Can you secure such an individual for him? If you can you will be paid after the marriage through me $10,000 as commission, which will be guaranteed to you. If you carry the matter through on or before December 1 you will receive an extra compensation of $5,000 as the need is urgent.

"The young prince in question belongs to the most illustrious family of the French nobility. His title dates back to time of the crusades. He is 19 years of age and a Catholic; a very extreme Catholic; he desires that the young person should also be a Catholic, but the religious question will not necessarily be an obstacle to an otherwise satisfactory marriage.

"If you will undertake this affair of the heart, please let me hear from you at once. If, however, you cannot, will you kindly give me the address of some company who does this class of business. Receive, I beg of you, my respectful salutation.

J. BERGER,
Pastor, The Church of Leopold."

Mr. Warner replied to the effect that he would attend to the matter forthwith. He now proposes to send the application blanks to all marriageable females who are possessed of the required number of dollars. It is his opinion that the prince will not be particular about the age or the physical attributes of eligible candidates.

Favors Morton for President.

NEW YORK, No. 9.—Mayor Strong publicly announces that he favors the nomination of Gov. Morton for the Presidency in 1896. "If the governor cannot get it," said the mayor, "then I am for my old friend, Major McKinley."

Another Issue of Bonds.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—In speaking of the probable financial legislation at the next session of Congress, President A. B. Hepburn, of the Third National bank, and former comptroller of the treasury, said:

"From talks with Representative Reed, Senator Carter and others, the general idea seems to be to pass a revenue bill covering lumber, wool and beer, so as to furnish the required revenue. Then, if the bill is vetoed by the President, they will be able to throw the reasons for its failure upon him.

"In the meantime we may have to have another issue of bonds. Secretary Carlisle, I understand, is going to propose specific legislation in order to place the responsibility upon Congress."

Mutiny Among Chinese Soldiers.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 9.—The Mercury reports that mutiny has broken out among the soldiers of Kin Kiang and that they are defying the officials who seem powerless as they refuse to surrender their arms. Affairs are in a very critical state and panic exists among the natives, and the wealthier classes are leaving. The foreign representatives are armed, having been warned and prepared for any emergency.

Prospective Work of Congress.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—Congressman Joseph G. Cannon, of the Danville district, who has been spending several days in Chicago, left for Washington today. Before leaving the Congressman talked of the prospective work of Congress.

"I do not think," he said, "that there will be any general revision of the tariff. In fact, I do not see how it can be expected with the House Republican, the Senate having neither party in the majority, and the executive Democratic. I think if we can get through our work and have Congress adjourn by June 1, it will be doing the country a service which business men will appreciate."

"Will not the government need more revenue?"

"Yes, sir, and will have to get those revenues through protective duties.

"If there was any probability," continued the Congressman, "that we could get laws on the statute books which would raise revenues enough to meet the expenses of the government through increased customs duties, giving discriminating protection, I think the house ought to pass such laws. But with the political chaos which exists, it is a serious question whether we ought to prolong the uncertainty for months."

"How, then, would you meet the needs of the government?"

"By giving the administration power to issue short time treasury warrants. This would be practicable and would provide all the revenues that are needed.

Shot at a Dance.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., Oct. 9.—Last night at 1:30, Tom Maher, a well known character about town, shot and fatally wounded Miss Maud Fessler, at a dance. Maher was enraged at the sight of Maud Fessler preparing to go home under the escort of another man. Fred Plattner received two bullets in his cheek, while attempting to disarm Maher.

A Steamer Ashore.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Nov. 9.—The steamer Puritan of the Fall River line, with 250 passengers and a large quantity of freight went ashore on Big Gull Island this morning. The information was brought to New London by a mate who rowed over from the steamer with the boat's crew. The steamer lies hard and fast on the rocks. The wrecker Scott proceeded at once to the steamer's assistance with two tugs.

VENEZUELAN PATRIOTISM.

The English Will Be Expelled From the Disputed Territory.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The first intimation of an excited public feeling in Venezuela, resulting from the British demands, reached here today in Caracas papers up to November 1. The prevailing sentiment is for immediate war preparations, although some conservative journals urge moderation. The British ultimatum had not been received, but the publication of its substance aroused an outburst of patriotism.

Dario de Caracas, the semi-official government organ, says: "In case an emergency should arise, and the government of Venezuela is obliged to resort to arms, the English will be expelled from the disputed territory. The public may rest assured that it will be necessary only for the government to send a telegraphic dispatch to the frontier, in order to have this expulsion carried out."

A Failure Announced.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 9.—The failure of T. J. Majors & Co. was announced on the Cotton Exchange today. They were heavy bulls. The cause of the failure was a drop of 25 points in futures this morning. The firm, it is said, is carrying 30,000 bales of spot cotton.

THE CUBAN REBELLION.

The Insurgents Threatening to Destroy Plantations.

MADRID, Nov. 9.—A dispatch from Havanna says the insurgent leader, Maximo Gomez, has sent a circular to all insurgent leaders, directing them to destroy the property of persons who do not contribute to the Insurrection Fund. Maceo is also said to be exacting enormous sums from landed proprietors under threat of destroying their plantations. The insurgents are said to have disappeared from the province of Havana, but it is admitted the rebellion is gaining ground in Matanzas.

For Protection of Wool.

SAN ANGELO, Tex., Nov. 9.—At the annual meeting of the Texas Wool Growers Association, strong resolutions declaring for a protective tariff on wool were adopted unanimously.

Hanged on Circumstantial Evidence.

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 9.—William Newman, a prominent farmer, was hanged at Clinton, Van Buren county, yesterday, for the murder of his wife, on August 13 last. At his wife's funeral, standing by the grave, surrounded by mourners, Newman exclaimed:

"Before God I never murdered my wife."

This led to his arrest and conviction on circumstantial evidence, it being shown that Newman wanted to get rid of his wife in order to marry another woman.

REBELLION IN CHINA.

Sixty Thousand Troops Ready to March on Pekin.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—Special dispatches from Shanghai say: The rebels in the northwest of China are mostly armed with rifles of Russian manufacture. It is added their leader, while maintaining strict discipline among his followers, accords foreigners benevolent protection. He has sent a sort of ultimatum to the imperial government announcing his intention to advance on Pekin, should the answer prove unfavorable. The rebels are now said to number over 60,000, and the imperial forces, utterly incapable of resistance, are committing excesses in the territory under their control. Whole towns and villages are said to have been subjected to rapine and the fields in the neighborhood are littered with corpses.

Chicago Southern States Association.

NASHVILLE, Nov. 9.—The Chicago Southern States association excursion came into Nashville an hour and a half to five hours late, owing to slight accidents to some of the locomotives. The tourists were awakened by the booming of cannon and after a hurried breakfast they were escorted to the theater Vendome, where only the ceremonious part of the program permitted by rainy weather was carried out. Gov. Turney was ill at his home at Winchester, and the welcoming address was delivered by Ernest Pillow, speaker of the state senate and acting governor, who paid a fine tribute to Chicago and the northwest. William McCarthy, mayor of Nashville followed. Ferdinand W. Peck, president of the Southern States association, responded. Gov. Altgeld acknowledged the welcome on behalf of the state of Illinois. Mayor George B. Swift spoke for Chicago, Major W. Thomas, president of the Tennessee Centennial association, and Judge C. C. Kohlsaat, Chicago, finished the oratorical program.

SULTAN IS DEFIANT.

He Decorates Officials Discharged for Cruelty to Armenians

AS A REWARD FOR "GOOD SERVICE"

American Citizen Imprisoned for Life.—The Slayers of Lenz to be Tried.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 9.—The Official Gazette announces that Bahri Pasha, dismissed from the official position in pursuance of a representation by the British ambassador, Sir Philip Currie, owing to his ill-treatment of Armenians, has been decorated with grand the cordon of the Osmanieh order "as a reward for good services." This step is considered not only an open and distinct mark of approval of the ill-treatment of the Armenians, but a deliberate snub to Great Britain, particularly as in addition to the decoration bestowed upon Bahri Pasha, the Official Gazette publishes a long list of names of Turkish officials in Armenia, decorated by the sultan for their "good services" in fact it almost seems as if the sultan is openly defying the powers.

It is understood that the Vali of Aleppo, who is to be succeeded by the ex-grand vizier, Kiamil Pasha, was dismissed in consequence of the representation of United States Minister Alexander W. Terrill, because the vali refused to permit the U. S. consular agent at Aleppo to visit the naturalized American citizen, Gueudjian, of Armenian origin, imprisoned for life. Terrell obtained permission from the new grand vizier for the consular agent to visit Gueudjian; but the vali persisted in his refusal to permit the prisoner to be seen. Terrill made the strongest representations to the Porte, and succeeded in obtaining the dismissal of the vali. Gueudjian is now on his way to Constantinople to be tried before Mr. Terrell.

Eleven Kurds charged with the murder of Frank G. Lenz, Pittsburg, Pa., the bicyclist, have been arrested and taken to Erzeroum to be tried in the presence of the British consul, there being no American consul.

Over a hundred Armenians were arrested yesterday at Stamboul. Inquiries made as to the cause failed to obtain any satisfactory answer.

Not Expected to Live.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Gen. Thomas Jordan is not expected to live beyond the day.

Thurman Much Better.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 9.—Allen Thurman says of ex-Senator Thurman's condition:

"Father is much better today. If he does not have a relapse, I would not be surprised to see him get up." Mr. Thurman will be 82 years old next Wednesday.

Fears for a Steamer.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 9.—There are grave fear that the steam barge Planet is either floating helplessly on Lake Erie, or gone to the bottom. She is loaded with 1,000 tons of ore and on board are Capt. Parsons, of this city, four sailors and the cook. The Planet was last night towed down by the steamer Edward S. Pease. Her master reports that within twenty miles of this harbor, the line parted and in the fog he lost sight of the barge.

Fatally Burned.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—An explosion occurred this afternoon in the works of the Iroquois Furnace company at South Chicago, by which four workmen were fatally burned and three others badly hurt. The men were transferring some boiler plates when the blast was overthrown and all were caught in a hot shower of cinders and a mass of heated iron.

The members of the guild have been wise in the selection of wares, substantial garments, and generous both as to quantity and quality. Mr. Pyler sent a very acceptable donation of wrappers, and Mr. Cohn another of flannel. Mr. Dooly kindly gave the room where the garments were received. To all the officers of the guild wish to extend their sincere thanks, and hope that with their continual generosity and co-operation the guild may enjoy a long life of constantly increasing usefulness.

CITY TEACHERS MEET.

An Interesting Discussion at Today's Session of the Public Pedagogues.

The second general meeting of the teachers of the city schools occurred at the High School building this morning, and was attended by nearly the full corps in the employ of the board.

The subject chosen for discussion was fruitful in interest, attention being closely held throughout the session. The subject was, "Where shall the line be drawn between self-culture and one's duty to his school."

Mrs. E. E. Shepard read a well prepared paper upon the duty of "Self-culture," making this the foundation for successful work as a teacher. Miss Louise A. Sulell read a paper on the duty of making thorough preparation for the every-day duties of the school room, dwelling upon the fact that only by thorough preparation can the teacher of today be fully abreast of the times.

Following the reading of the papers came a discussion of the subject, which was participated in by Principal W. J. McCoy, Mrs. A. J. Gaylam, Mrs. Mary G. Major and Mrs. E. V. Fritz.

After the meeting, Clerk Moreton stated that he was in readiness to issue the checks for monthly salaries upon teachers signing the pay roll, this part of the program being acceded to with wonderful celerity. The meeting was an unusually interesting one.

THIRD DISTRICT JUDGES.

The Result Between Young and Thompson Still in Doubt.

The latest returns with regard to the election for judges in the Third district, comprised of Salt Lake, Summit, and Tooele counties, still leaves the election in doubt as between Le Grand Young, Democrat, and E. D. R. Thompson, Republican. A revised statement of the Park City vote shows 25 more for Thompson than previously reported; while a statement from all the precincts in the district reveals a few discrepancies which will require the official count to determine. By a careful figuring on one set of reports, Young has a majority of three in the district; while by the summing up from another set Thompson's majority is placed at five. Under these circumstances those interested must wait till the official canvass, which is expected in a few days.

KINDERGARTEN SOCIAL.

Beautiful Display of Flowers—Musical Program, Refreshments and Dancing.

The Kindergarten association will give a social next Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock, in the Social hall in this city. The entertainment will begin with a musical program, followed by the serving of refreshments, and closing with the merry dance. There will be a grand display of chrysanthemums in the hall, and a most enjoyable time is promised all who attend. The admission for the whole evening is twenty-five cents.

The Ball Nozzle.

A very ingenious device was that shown to a NEWS reporter this morning, by Fire Chief Devine. It is called a Ball Nozzle and is a contrivance invented by a man named Pollock, of Iowa. At the end of the nozzle, which can be attached to the hose, is a large hard-rubber ball, which revolves as the pressure of the water is brought to bear on it, thus making a spray, which is thrown in all directions.

The ball nozzle is for use in burning buildings and acts as a protector to the fireman in keeping back the smoke and flames. When the spray is not required, a sharp turn of the valve will direct the stream to a pipe which throws it out straight. It has been used in larger cities to great advantage, and is being very extensively advertised by the American Ball Nozzle company, of New York, who carry the device exclusively. The chief intends to make a public test of the appliance in a few days.

John Cushing's Funeral.

The funeral services of the late John Cushing were held in Sandy on Thursday, Nov. 7, at 2 p.m. A large number of his friends and relatives assembled at his late residence and accompanied the remains to the meeting house, where the services were held, under the direction of Bishop James Jensen. After an appropriate selection from the choir, Emil Hartvinsen, leader, prayer was offered by John Sharp, of Union, an old friend of the family. After another selection by the choir, addresses were delivered by Bishop James Jensen and W. D. Kuhre of Sandy, S. W. Sears of Salt Lake, and George Webb of Lehi, both sons-in-law of the deceased, James A. Cushing and Robert F. Neslen of Salt Lake. The choir rendered another selection, after which the benediction was pronounced by E. Holman. The many floral gifts were very beautiful. The remains were then accompanied to the cemetery by a long line of carriages, and having deposited the body in the grave the dedicatory prayer was offered by Wm. W. Wilson.

Thus was consigned to mother earth the mortal tabernacle of one who for many years has been a familiar figure among the people of Sandy, and who was respected and honored for his uprightness and integrity.

John Cushing left his native town, Shipham, county of Norfolk, England, to make his home in Utah with his son, A. J. Cushing, arriving in Salt Lake City September 25, 1874. He remained in Salt Lake six years, when he removed to Sandy, where he resided until his death. He leaves a widow one day older than himself, in very comfortable circumstances, also a son and a daughter. In England he was always a very active and prominent business man, having been a contractor and builder for thirty years, overseer in his native town twenty-five years, postmaster for fifteen years, and was highly respected by all. His age was 80 years and 14 days.

Missionary Reception.

The reception given last evening in the Seventeenth ward assembly hall, in honor of Elders Wm. N. Davis and Elias Woodruff, (the latter a grandson of President Woodruff) who have been called to go on missions, was a very pleasing entertainment.

The singing by Master Charles Pike, Nellie Druce Pugsley, Andrew Peterson, Edna Dwyer, Alice Bowring, and Messrs. Pyper, Whitney, Patrick and Spencer, was artistic and beautiful. Prof. Evan Stephens aided their success by the excellence of his accompaniments. A nice diversity was given by guitar and mandolin selections by Messrs. Campbell, Davis and Wallace, and by the humorous recitations and readings of E. H. Pierce, R. M. Young and W. B. Dougall Jr.; also by amusing selections on the wonderful graphophone by Mr. D. O. Calder.

There was no charge for admission, but a substantial sum was voluntarily contributed for the benefit of the missionaries, by their numerous friends present. The hall was crowded to excess. We join in the sentiment expressed, "God speed the missionaries."

THE LEGAL ARENA.

Attorney M. Marcellus Nelson is Disbarred.

COALTER REFUSED A RECEIVER.

Judge Merritt Will Go to Nephi to Try the Hague Cases—General Court Business.

Judge Merritt opened the proceedings in the Third district court today by rendering a decision in the litigation of Fergus Coalter against the Coalter & Snelgrove company. The court's decision effectually disposes of the case in its present form, inasmuch as it denies Mr. Coalter's application for a receiver, on the ground that there is no occasion for such appointment.

Disbarment proceedings against Marcellus M. Nelson, an attorney now under indictment, were pressed by District Attorney Judd. Objection was made on behalf of Mr. Nelson by Judge Cherry, who wanted the disbarment proceeding postponed till after Nelson's trial, which is set for next week. The court thought this unnecessary, as the matter had been fully gone into, and entered an order disbarring the attorney for unprofessional conduct.

The divorce case of Mrs. Herrietta Yeadon vs Geo. E. Yeadon then came on before the court. Mrs. Yeadon wanted to be free from her husband, alleging as good grounds for the court's action that Mr. Yeadon had deserted her and failed to provide for her. They were married in Yorkshire, England, and came to Salt Lake twelve years ago. He deserted her a year ago last June, leaving her without cause. He had provided no support since then. They had one child, thirteen years of age. Mrs. Yeadon's testimony regarding the desertion and failure to support was corroborated, and the divorce was granted, the custody of the child being awarded to the mother.

The contempt case of Charles Cooper, who had been ordered to pay alimony to his wife Ellen S. Cooper, who is suing for divorce came up. Judge Merritt suggested that as this identical question was before the Supreme court, which would pass on it December 9th, the case might be deferred to that time. By agreement of the attorneys the hearing was postponed until November 18th. In the meantime defendant would pay costs, doctor's bill, and other expenses, if his money was released. The release was granted on these conditions.

Nephi Matthews was brought up on an indictment charging him with burglary and grand larceny, in having broken into the Anheuser-Busch Brewing company's warehouse and stolen a case of beer. The defendant pleaded guilty to the larceny charge, and the other count was dismissed. Attorney H. E. Booth then stated in Matthews' behalf that the latter was drunk when the offense was committed, otherwise it would not have happened. The defendant had borne a good character heretofore, and the offense was the result of too much spreeing. J. H. Moyle also spoke of the former good reputation of the defendant, and Assistant District Attorney Hewat recommended that a fine only be imposed. Judge Merritt fined Matthews $30, and gave him till Monday to pay it, or be committed to jail.

In the case of the People vs M. Hayhen et al, indicted in connection with the city and county building scandals, a demurrer having been filed, the time for defendants' arraignment was postponed till Monday at 10 a.m.

In the progress of business, Judge Merritt informed the members of the bar that next week he would be required to go to Nephi, while Judge King would hold court here. Judge Merritt is to preside at the trial of Mr. Hague, who has charges of embezzlement against him. In the Hague matter, it is the avowed intention of the government that if a conviction is not had in the opening case, either through a hung jury or a verdict in favor of the defendant, to press each of the other cases for all there is in them, and in that event Judge Merritt could give no definite assurance when he would be back for business here.
