DESERET EVENING NEWS.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1895.

WAS A LONG BATTLE

Fought in the Thirty-second Round When the Lights Went Out—Preliminary Bouts.

Thirty-two rounds of an undecided battle were fought in the rooms of the Salt Lake Athletic club last night between Jack Smith and Harry Gatewood.

Both men had during the long struggle exhausted themselves. Gatewood was the weaker of the two when the end came but his opponent did not possess strength enough to put him to sleep and the lights went out just in time to prevent further work. Time was called and an effort made to restore the light. That failing, the contest was declared a draw and the gate-money ordered divided between the principals.

As a prelude to the regular battle the Hampton Brothers indulged in a four-round sparring contest as did also Gordon Collins and Dick Cass.

HE CREWED HIS NOSE.

Fred Hass Springs Upon Clerk Walker and Bites Him.

Fred Hass has long been in the employ of the Cliff House proprietors as a sort of a supernumerary and as such has come to the conclusion that discouraging him would be out of the question. A few days ago the house changed hands and Hass was given to understand that his term of employment in that establishment had come to a end. Here, however, couldn't see it that way, and has made himself somewhat obnoxious by still continuing to remain.

Last evening it is said he insulted one of the female guests, and Clerk Walker interfered and drove him off. A few minutes later he returned and springing upon Walker, he intended his teeth in the clerk's cheeks and bite off some of the outside covering. Mr. Walker was at once put under the care of a physician, while the patrol wagon was sound for and Hass conveyed to headquarters where a charge of mayhem was placed opposite his name.

THE WYOMING COAL MINES.

An Accident in the U. P. No. 7—Notes From Other Mines.

RED CANYON, UINTA,
October 3, 1895.

To the Editor:

The health of the people of Alma is far from being good. The malady is not confined to any one particular class, but covers to some extent, the old, middle aged and young.

We had a bad accident yesterday, the 2nd, at the U. P. No. 7 mine; Edwin Hacker, late county commissioner, was badly crushed internally, although no bones are fractured, by a fall of rock. The rock fell about twelve feet. He was very ill this morning and had been quite restless all night to make the matter worse his wife is away from home at their ranch in Star valley.

Preparations are progressing for reopening No. 5 C. P. mine, the property of the Rocky Mountain Coal and Iron company, where the disaster of March last occurred, in which sixty-one men and boys lost their lives. The fan, which is twenty feet in diameter and seven feet wide, with a lap of six feet seven inches pitch blades, will put in motion from one hundred feet of air per minute at the ordinary speed of twenty revolutions to that time, will be ready and the fan run in a few days.

Mr. Joseph Hill, mine foreman, and Mr. Joseph Martin, fireman, are making matters and things right in the mine so that in the course of a few weeks we may see the mine again in full operation.

The U. P. No. 7 mine is not doing as well as was expected. It is only working about four days a week. No. 6 mine is working full time and we think that the C. P. mines will work full time all through the winter, and there will be room for about forty or perhaps for sixty more men by the 1st of November.

Dr. Gamble's report of Elsaker this evening is that he finds the internal injuries sustained are not as serious as at first expected.

We have selected cloth this fall with the idea that we are to have an improvement in trade. And that we confidently will want better cloth than we have been buying for the past three years. Therefore we purchased from the most reliable manufacturers, and have some [illegible] new patterns, and good richness [illegible] extra two ounce pieces of fine [illegible] cassimere. We have also made [illegible] slight changes in our medium priced [illegible] garments. With regard to prices we still adhere to our motto of giving our customers the greatest value possible for their money. Being satisfied with very small profits.

We have also looked after the interests of our less fortunate customers, who do not feel that they can afford to spend $15.00 or more in a suit, but still likes a dress in well fitting, well made, tasteful appearing clothing, and for this trade we have purchased a very carefully selected line of American made goods. These goods are equal in texture of pattern and general appearance to those of foreign manufacture, and are of excellent wearing qualities and are represented by many merchants dealers as imported, and offered for sale by them as such at prices much lower than the imported goods can be sold for, but a much higher price than we are selling the same goods for. From these goods we are ready to fill orders at from $13.50 to $25.50 and give the customers the benefit of having them cut and made by the best skilled workmen in the city, a privilege we trust will be appreciated.
