AN URYAN INCIDENT.

Another English Official Arrested by Venezuelans.

LOUD DEMANDS FOR REPARATION.

The Governor General of British Guiana Defeated in the Legislative Body of the Colony.

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, June 22.—Mr. Harrison, the official who was in charge of the laborers who were opening a road from the Barima to the Cuyuni river, within the Schomburgk line, when they were stopped by a force of armed Venezuelans on June 15th, has been arrested by the Venezuelans under fresh orders from Caracas and carried to the Venezuelan station opposite Uruan, the Venezuelans claiming the right to arrest foreigners on the left bank of the Cuyuni. The arrest of Mr. Harrison has aroused the colony of British Guiana, and the population demands that Great Britain take immediate action in the case. When the Venezuelans first stopped the laborers from proceeding with the work, guards were sent from Georgetown to Mr. Harrison and he offer resistance, but to withdraw under protest.

LONDON, June 23.—The Chronicle says of the news from Guiana: "It is intolerable that while the United States and Great Britain are negotiating the Venezuelans should take such action. We must call the government at Caracas that they will have to release Harrison, apologize for his arrest and make amends.

"Venezuela could not have adopted a more unfortunate action in her own interest. It is only to see that an attempt will be at once made here to resume the Brazilian question from the region of argument and conciliation to the atmosphere of passion and prejudice.

"But the two questions must be kept apart. The boundary must be settled calmly, while the violence done to Harrison must be promptly undone."

The Graphic, commenting upon the advice from Georgetown as to the arrest by the Venezuelan authorities of Mr. Harrison, the British official in charge of the laborers, says:

"It seems that Venezuela overthrows the American arbitration and is desirous of settling with us by the sword of battle. The duty of the British government is clear. Reparation must be immediately demanded and issued."

BAD FOR THE GOVERNOR GENERAL.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Word reaches official quarters here that Sir Augustus Hemming, the governor general of British Guiana, is meeting with the same reverses which marked the administration of his predecessor, Sir Francis Lees, in executing the policy of Mr. Chamberlain to buy Making peace for the Venezuelan frontier. Sir Augustus recently had his first meeting with the high court of legislative body of British Guiana. He had been expected to succeed Sir Francis largely because of the defeat of Mr. Chamberlain's propositions for developing the interior in the neighborhood of the disputed boundary along the Cuyuni river and then fortifying it. It was believed the diplomacy of Sir Augustus would be more effective in dealing with the colonists. The mail just received here brings the details of his first meeting with the high court. In an address of welcome to the governor, Mr. Ingalls, speaking for the court, referred indirectly to the Venezuelan trouble. He said his excellency had arrived at a dark time in the history of the colony, but they hoped that the cloud overhanging them would soon pass and that the situation would appear. Sir Augustus expressed his thanks for the greeting and then promised to succeed by submitting a plan for the development of the interior along the lines proposed by Mr. Chamberlain last fall. It was in the form of a resolution recitng that as a survey had been authorized to a point on the Essequibo coast of the lower Cuyuni river, it was now expedient that an end the survey between the Cuyuni and Barima rivers. The resolution authorized the expenditure of $5,000 for the survey.

The government expressly explained that it was expected to have a railway or tramway built along its route. He urged its advantage to the gold fields, with a referring to the military and strategic value, to which Mr. Chamberlain had referred in heading the previous survey.

Opposition to the plan was developed in the court, but by Mr. Dayal. He said he understood the government already had made a contract with Mr. Dos Dirte, to build the railroad, adding that the government would pay for the survey. Other members of the court spoke in the same tone. The government secretary and the attorney-general endeavored to overcome the opposition. They were warmed, however, that if the resolution was put to a vote it would be defeated. Thereupon the new governor-general withdrew the resolution. As this was the first step after arriving in the developing policy of the British colonial office, the editorial writers of the localities were expected to see in it an omen upon the for Sir Augustus's administration of affairs connected with the Venezuela question.

EXCITEMENT IN MADRID.

NEW YORK, June 23.—A dispatch to the Herald from Madrid says: Twenty-thousand people had been excited twice by the news of the alleged capture of a report by United States Consul General Lee to President Cleveland on the state of affairs in Cuba, which report is said to be on the way from Havana to Washington. The effect of the intelligence is difficult to exaggerate. All classes of the community are greatly wrought up, but the commotion is especially great in parliamentary and political circles. The bulletins of the Havana were editorially animated but before Senator Cameron began an energetic anti-American speech, on moving an amendment to the address in reply to the speech from the throne, saying the government ought to avoid all treaties between Spain and the United States.

The impression is general among politicians and military men that the government will be forbidden to withdraw General Lee's report, inasmuch if he really has expressed opinions or information to Spanish rule in Cuba as report credits him with having done.

BURIED IN THE RUINS.

A Three Story Building in San Francisco Collapses.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—The three story building at the corner of Fifth street and Mint avenue, in which the Brighton house and the Pioneer coffee house were situated, collapsed at 4:30 this afternoon, burying over twenty persons in the ruins. Five bodies have been recovered and seventeen of the injured rescued. The dead:

Unknown woman; Jesse May, laborer, three unknown laborers.

The injured: E. L. Davis, leg broken and internal injuries, will die; E. Jewett, shoulder dislocated and internal injuries; Mrs. Paul Woodward, badly bruised; Stephen Keeling; Byron Exley; —— Uncategorized; internally injured; J. C. Mahoney; Miss Bessie Wilson; Simeon Dean; John Lynn, seriously injured internally; Dennis Griffin, internally injured; well dig; Mrs. Joseph Byrne; Miss Sarah Byrne; A. Lowenberg, proprietor of the lodging house, badly hurt; H. Shepard, badly hurt internally; Patrick McKeown, internally injured; Richard Keeling.

The morning came down with an awful crash and the structure was in a moment a mass of shining wreck.

There were a large number of people in the building at the time.

Two laborers, Michael Howard and James Daly, at work on the building, state that the accident was caused by the fact that the jackscrews supporting the building were much lighter on the south side than on the north.

In the front of the ruins, plainly visible, lay a man. Action for only five or six hours. He cried piteously for help. After twenty half an hour the rescuers rescued him and he was taken to the receiving hospital.

The wave of the debris greatly retarded the work of the rescuer. To add to the horror, the entire single fire at the rear and a dense volume of smoke issued the ruins. The engine commenced to play a stream on the fire. This added a new horror, as the wind threatened the lives of those under the ruins.

FOR DISCRETION.

Resolutions Adopted by an Interna-tional Commission.

LONDON, June 23.—A dispatch from Paris to the Daily News says an international commission of inquiry, including delegates from France, Belgium, Austria, Sweden and Switzerland, met at the ministry of industry and adopted a number of resolutions. The resolution called upon the French government to prepare the subject to the other countries in the international convention.

The Daily News correspondent says he thinks that the French government proposed at the meeting, Great Britain is likely to hear shortly from the French government on the subject.

DEAD ON CUBA.

An American General Fighting for the Island.

KINGSTON, JAMAICA, June 22.—Advices brought here by passengers from the island of Cuba report the death of General W. W. Wilson, the leader of an American expedition which landed in Cuba on December 8th, to assist in aid the insurgents. Gen. Wilson is said to have been killed in battle near Guantanamo.

General Wilson with about eighteen men, four of whom were graduates of West Point, landed in Cuba early in December but with 200 rifles, 50,000 rounds of ammunition, a supply of provisions, etc. The expedition was fitted out at New York by Americans who are interested in Cuba. General Wilson had been active in Central and South America and was with Gen. Gomez on the Mexican border some years ago.

Hunting for a Bank Robber.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 22.—A masked man entered the Sheets' tank street south today, covered Cashier Bennett with a revolver, snatched all the bills in the money drawer, and rolling it about $7,000 was escaped. It is thought the robber is hiding in the town and a large posse is hunting for him.

"ILL-ADVISED" REMARK.

Was Regarded Not Was Loyal to an Infamous Cause.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., June 22.—There was a tumultuous meeting in the Yale campus this afternoon, called by an unsigned notice. Rev. Dr. Joseph Twichell of Hartford, being unanimous as the designation of the Woolsey memorial statue.

It arose from the fact that the ivy planted this afternoon was from the grave of Gen. Robert E. Lee. Mr. Twichell took a position among the Yale alumni second only to that of Chauncey M. Depew, and his words are always given great weight.

In the course of his address, referring to the name of his address, referring to the "ill-advised" remark of Gen. Lee was a good man, but he was loyal to an infamous cause."

The utterance came like a thunderclap, but there was no demonstration more no hot hissing, and then the condemnatory words were freely criticised. The consensus of opinion among the professors and students was that the remarks were at least ill-advised.

Immediately after the memorial exercises the ivy committee met and the proposition was made to change the ivy, but it was voted down and it was planted with the usual ceremonies.

A New Paper Enterprised.

ROME, June 22.—In the course of an address to the Eastern churches, the pontiff the secret consistory today, the Pope reiterated the fact of his invitation for the unity of the churches, which has been addressed not only to the Eastern but to all dissentient Christians. He alluded to the given to intimations that the latter were inclined to look to the Pope with sympathy and a desire for union. He also announced that he would shortly publish an encyclical on the insular social constitution of the church.

A LETTER FROM LEE.

The Consul General Writes About Cuban Affairs.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The Post tomorrow morning: A very interesting letter was received today by a relative from General Lee. It was written on the 12th, and deals pretty fully with Cuban affairs. The Spanish authorities, the general says, have treated him with great courtesy, and Captain General Weyler has granted every request that he preferred, even allowing him to visit the places where the captured Americans are confined. The Spaniards, he says, are fairly well drilled, but under a system of tactics and manual totally different from anything the general had ever seen. As to the insurgents, they practically had control of the island. Their numbers seem to and go out of the towns and cities as they will, and he believes the native population is in sympathy with them. As to the inhumanity of the Spanish commander, General Lee expressed himself in the plainest terms.

"They do not regard the laws of nations war for the simple reason that among civilized nations as all," he says. "From what I have quoted there is the same testimony to the inhuman barbarities of the Spanish officers. Most of the witnesses I have to see would be injured had I let know it to be that I obtained it."

Yesterday at Wilmington a gathering of indignation citizens, including Mayor Bellamy, have passed resolutions and resolutions to Spanish rule in Cuba as report credits him with having done.

CHEFAN AFFAIRS.

Honors of Christians Marked by Turks—A Massacre Feared.

NEW YORK, June 23.—A dispatch to the Herald from Athens says: A letter from a trustworthy official source brought by special messenger from Canea states that on June 19 the French officials from the Seglaner, in company with the chancellor of the French consulate, were walking on the quay, when a group of Turkish soldiers began to curse them in Greek and indulged in other insulting remarks.

One of the Turkish soldiers then drew a sword but was seized by other persons who then prevented his from carrying out his threats. The French consul protested to the governor general, but up to the present it is not known if satisfactory answer has been made to the French officers.

From the same source reliable news is to hand that the Turks are marking the shops of Christians with the sign of the cross. The American consul having noticed that the Italian and the Austrian consuls had hoisted their flags on a protest to the governor general. This morning at the houses of Christians he caused further excitement among the people, who fear that measures are intended for Canea.

M. Delyannis has been very active in the most interest of the newspapers to stop the personal violence of Turkish troops. Under the firm stand taken by the government backed by the kings, the public excitement is now quiet. The consuls are of the opinion that the interesting to the Cretan question is drawing near upon the most critical period, and they see the force of Gladstone's position if the remedies speed, as she will do unless the government is overthrown.

REPORTS FOR PEACE.

A dispatch to the Herald from Athens says: The Italian consul at Canea has received orders to be silent and to evidence to reciprocate with the other consuls in interfere towards the restoration of peace. At the same moment, confirming which the accompanying remarks of my colleague dispatch news which is absolutely authentic reaches here directly from Sagrera, to the effect that Chakir Pacha, who was announced yesterday as going to Crete, has been directed to go to Bagdad instead, with the four battalions of troops.

Twenty-four hundred troopers are to go to Crete from Smyrna, and 2,000 infantry from the interior. New troops are large in Smyrna.

A New Judge.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—A judge has been nominated to the office and enjoyment added therein for a fine uniform is to wear by the admirals in the free silver plan. The uniform is to be form of a Colorado field dollar with inlaid pearls, each dollar and the lip line, and to extend to the yellow metal inlaid with a figure. The designer claims that the energy exposes the face of the silver dollar's front—but of 16 to 1—this uniform. The adoption of the uniform under consideration by the leading silver men now in Washington.

A Remarkable Cure for Rheumatism.

WESTMINSTER, Cal., March 23, 1894.—Some time ago, on awakening one morning, I found that I had rheumatism in my knee so badly that I was obliged to my wife, I would be unpossible for me to attend to business that day. Remembering that I had some of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in my store, I sent for a bottle, and rubbed the affected parts thoroughly with it, adhering to directions, and retiring to bed early. I was completely relieved. One application was all the treatment. It is the best liniment on the market, and I sell it under a positive guarantee. H. T. HAMES. For sale by druggists.

Some time ago I was taken sick with a cramp in the stomach, followed by diarrhoea. I took a couple of doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy, and was immediately relieved. I consider it the best medicine in the market for such complaints. I have sold the remedy to others and every one who uses it speaks highly of it. J. W. HUNTSMAN, Valley Center, Cal. For sale by druggists.

It takes a great deal of public sentiment to stop an evil. We are too "busy."

Once upon a time there were no sewers to carry away foul and stagnant water; there was no Board of Health to check disease by vaccination, etc., etc.; and disease ran wild. Then people made up their minds to circumvent these diseases, and they built sewers and hospitals and elected a Board of Health and sanitary inspectors.
