THE SCHOOL LAWS.

THE new school bill, which has passed the Houes and is now undericonsideration by the Council, appears to us to contain some crudities, and altogether is not muchfof an improvement upon the law as it now stands upon our

The abolition of the office of Territorial Superintendent is, in our opinion, not a wise measure, as much good can be accomplished by a competent officer in taking the oversight of educational affairs in the Territory and compiling statistics and other information of ganization of school districts and boards of trustees seem a little mixed and calculated to confuse. The second section provides that "on or before the first Monday in July annually the trustees shall meet and organize by the election from their number of a chairman and secretary." The fifth section provides that every school district shall be deemed duly organized when any of two of the trustees elected at the first meeting shall have all dethelr oath of office." The fourth section provides that a trustee shall be practical head of one of the most powelected "on the first Monday in May annually," and "on or before the first Monday in July thereafter the said political capital. The retaliation of Monday in July thereafter the said trustee shall qualify by taking and subscribing an oath of office which shall be filed with the County Clerk." The seventh section provides that "Within shall file their oath of office with the County Clerk and shall meet and organreas a board of trustees as provided as chapter. Tasse several provisious appear to be conflicting, and if there is, as there may be, a key to their harmonious solution it is not patent to the common eye. Something not so likely to confuse would be preferable in a legislative act.

But we doubt the wisdom of another provision in the same section, making the County Assessor and Collector the collector of school taxes. The money will go into the County Treasury to be drawn by warrants signed by the chairman and secretary of the board of trustees, as provided in the second and eleventh sections. This will, we believe, cripple the trustees where school buildings are being erected, and where the taxes are needed for immediate use. The same delays that occur in the payment of county and territorial taxes will attend the payment of spe-cial school taxes, and the trustees will be hampered for need of the funds. Where no buildings are in process of erection, and a small tax is assessed for current expenses, the trustees will be put to great inconvenience, and subject to delays for a few dollars to buy fuel or lighting material, or for any incidental expenses.

In our opinion the business of our school districts would be greatly facilitated, if the old tax of one fourth lof one per cent was restored, to be collected without any school meeting or vote, and to be used for general school purposes. As the law stands now not a cent can be obtained by the trustees for incidentals without the calling of a ers. In fact merchants in the east who meeting and the assessment of a tax, which is often very difficult of accomplishment, and as the regular school tax assessed under the territorial re-venue law can only be expended for the payment of teachers, the trustees are and buyers were always deceived in frequently left without any funds for their purchases. He was sure the principal their respective districts, giving them power, by local option, to choose whether they will have schools in their own districts entirely supported by taxation, or whether tuition fees shall prevail or a mixed policy be pursued.

We further suggest that the people who send their children to a district school ought to have a voice in the ed that it should embrace all foreign election of the school trustees. Let taxes be collected and made collectable by law in the district, taxes be collected and made collectable by law in the district, by district collectors, and used by the trustees, they giving full and detailed accounts, properly audited, to the taxpayers of all their doings, and there will be nothing to hinder the establishment and continuance of flourishing schools all over the Territory. The school law now presented does not seem to us to meet the present public requirements.

THE U. S. CONGRESS AND

THE resolution of regret passed by Congress on the death of the German Liberal, Eduard Lasker has, as might have been expected, soured upon the stomach of Bismarck, who has testified his nausea by returning it to the source from which it came. Here it is: Resolved, That this House has heard with deep regret of the death of the eminent German statesman, Eduard Lasker.

Lasker.

That his loss is not alone to be mourned by the people of his native land, where his firm and constant exposition of and devotion to free and liberal ideas have materially advanced the social, political and economic condition of the peoples, but by the lovers of liberty throughout the world.

That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the family of the deceased, as well as to the minister of the United States resident at the capital of the German empire, to be by him communicated through the legitimate channel to the presiding officer of the legislative body of which he was a member.

The effect upon the Imperial Chancellor might have been anticipated, as the deceased politician of Socialistic proclivities was one of his most decidgeneral benefit to the educational ed, able and unrelenting opponents. the way in Congress passing resolu-tions of condolence and regret at the death of Mr. Lasker, but to incorporate a clause to forward a copy to the presiding officer of the legislative body of which the deceased statesman was a member was a most injudicious step. It is probable that Congress passed the resolution as it stood thoughtless-

> The document was probably formulated by a politician who wished to curry favor with his German constituents. But to deliver an insult to the Otto Bismarck is more eloquent than would have been an oral or written denunciation of the action of Congress, which has no other recourse but to pocket his cutting though silent retort. He has brought the nose of Congress and through that representative body, the same facial organ of this Republic, close up to the snubbing post.

In another part of this paper will be found a letter by Joaquin Miller, the poet, on the subject of "Mormonism." We shall not attempt at present to criticise it at length. The intentions of the writer appear to be good. He deversity, which is all right as far as it precates the policy of force now advocated against a people whom

The nonsense uttered by Mr. Miller is not compatible with his encomium: every male member of the Church holding the priesthood and being part of what is termed the hierarchy.
