CHASTISE CHINESE MASSES.

May Prove an Obstacle to Negotiations—State Department Feels Gratified at Present Prospects.

Washington, Oct. 30.—The reported decision of the ministers at Pekin to add two more Chinese leaders to those who shall be executed, namely Prince Li and Yang Nie, appear to be first indication that the ministers themselves do not accept as sufficient the edict of the Chinese emperor, that he will punish the individuals as they were specifically named by China as among those to be punished.

Prince Li is one of the first princes of China. In the edict of September 25th, it was ordered that he be stripped of his rank and office. Yang Nie is president of the board of censors and in this same edict, which was ordered to consult and decide upon a severe penalty.

New York, Oct. 30.—While there is a feeling of gratification at the state department over the preliminary negotiations for the restitution of order in China, it is pointed out in a Washington dispatch to the Journal of Commerce, there are several difficulties in the path of final settlement which will soon receive serious consideration. The question of further chastisement upon the Chinese masses. It is felt at the state department that the practical destruction of life and property in China is a sufficient form of punishment of the military types, and that some of the executions now being prosecuted by the powers may prove an obstacle to a settlement. It is recognized the probability that some points in the negotiations will be found impossible of prompt adjustment. The question of the indemnity to be paid the several powers. The United States have signified their willingness to refer the matter to a joint commission, but there are many types and that some of the executions now being prosecuted by the powers may prove an obstacle to a settlement. LOOTING OF PEKIN.

Gen'l Heywood Tells of the Taking of Silver Bullion.

Washington, Oct. 30.—The report of Brig. Gen. Heywood, commanding the United States marine corps, has been made public by the navy department. Its most interesting features are those concerning the operations of the United States marines in the defense of the United States legation and the march of the marines on Pekin. The report has been fully discussed before.

Gen. Heywood submits the following account of the taking of a considerable amount of bullion in the siege of Pekin:

"In a communication, dated July 18, 1900, Col. Meade refers to the looting of the Imperial Treasury, which had been ransacked, but that all the vaults were not looted, and Major Waller with a force is searching for the treasure. The treasury is a building in the form of a silver bullion, fused with brick, mortar and other debris, was recovered from time, which had been buried in the court before the marines arrived on the ground. A board consisting of Major Waller and M. J. Shi, Paymaster Richards, Captain Meyer, U. S. A., and Mr. Bryan, an American agent in the Tien Tsin office, was appointed to appraise the value of the bullion, which was estimated by the board, which estimated its value at $378,500 United States currency. It had been the intention to deposit the bullion in the Russo-Chinese bank, Hongkong and Shanghai bank, but the vaults of this bank would not accommodate it, and it was therefore removed to the British legation, where it was under supervision of the officers of the First Regiment of marines and placed under guard there.

Gen. Heywood says that the bullion was exchanged for three New York drafts, which have been forwarded by Paymaster Bryan of the navy, to the Treasury Department.

The balance of the report deals with the work of the corps during the past year, and with the conditions of its service in the various parts of the country and in foreign stations.

PORTO RICAN TARIFF LAW.

Case is Advanced and Assigned for Argument January 7.

Washington, Oct. 29.—The Supreme court today, on motion of Mr. Carlisle, advanced and assigned for argument the 7th of January next the case of Bidwell vs. Pearsons, a writ of error, on the collector of customs for the port of New York. The question involved in the case is whether the duties on imports from Porto Rico under regulations prepared by the treasury department, and in accordance with the prescribing the rates to be imposed, were proper. There are several cases now pending before the courts at New York brought up, and it was thought desirable that the complainants the intention of the Supreme court to hear them on the 7th of January.

Another case before the Supreme court today, on motion of Mr. Carlisle, advanced and assigned for argument the 5th of November, is a suit against the collector of Buffalo, N. Y., involving the collection of duties on imports. This is set for hearing on the 5th of November. It is possible this case may be heard at the same time with the cases involving the duties on imports of the Porto Rican tariff in its several phases heard together.
