Josiah Thaw. Justice Fitzgerald was a few minutes Jate in taking the bench. When he did so and before the jury had been brought into the room. Dist. Atty. Jerome arose and said he would formally ask that the report of the commission in lunacy, which declared Thaw same, be not comwhich declared Thaw same, be not con-firmed. He had no argument to offer. Justice Fitzgerald reached for the commission's report, which lay on his desk, and signed his name across it. "The trial will proceed." he ordered. The jury filed into the box and Harry They was called to the bar.

The jury need into the box and that? Thaw was called to the box. Mr. Delmas, of counsel for the de-fense, asked the clerk to call Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton, the alienist, who was upon the stand when the trial was interrupted more than two weeks ago. Mr. Delmas wanted to get from Dr. Hamilton the option that Thay was Mr. Deimas wanted to get from Dr. Hamilton the opinion that Thaw was insame when he killed Stanford White. As soon as Dr. Hamilton was seated in the witness chair, Dist. Atty. Je-rome objected. He said Dr. Hamilton should have been called as a witness by the defense in its direct case. To call him in sur-rebuttal, he declared, meant the reopening of the entire case. Justice Flizgerald sustained the ob-fection.

and G. Wesley Browning, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Young has just completed a day model of a design suitable for a drink-ing rountain or to decorate some big building's entrance. It is a marine sketch with Neptune shown in combat with a powerful sea horse, as the prin-cipal group. The sketch is a typical one for Mr. Young, in which the power of muscular force is visibly portrayed. It was not made in response to any order, but will probably find a sale in the growing demand for art creations in the west. The principal work to which Mr. Young will devote himself during the coming year will be the statue of the Prophet Joseph Smith, for which he re-cently received a commission.
